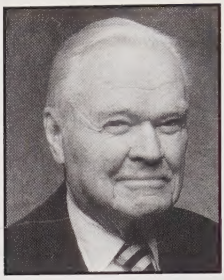
NEW YORK GIANTS ADMINISTRATION



WELLINGTON MARA
PRESIDENT & CO-CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

No one in the history of professional sports has enjoyed a career quite like that of Wellington T. Mara. This is the 79th consecutive season in which he is associated with the Giants. The city of New York was introduced to professional football on Oct. 18, 1925, when the New York Giants played their first home game against the Frankford Yellow Jackets. It was on that day that Mara, then nine years old, began a lifetime in football that has been dedicated to the Giants and the National Football League.

In 1930, Timothy J. Mara, who had purchased the franchise in 1925, turned over the ownership to his two sons, Jack, 22 and Wellington, who was then 14. Thus began a storied career in ownership that continues today. During that time Mara has been the foundation of the franchise, and for many years he was the chief decision-maker on all football matters. Although he now leaves most football decisions to others, he remains a strong and vital presence in the organization.

Because of his extensive background in the development and growth of the National Football League, Mara is recognized as one of the league's most respected and influential leaders. He has been instrumental in the outstanding accomplishments of the Giants: a record-tying 26 postseason appearances, including 18 NFL Divisional championships and six NFL championships, among them the Super Bowl XXI and Super Bowl XXV championship titles. Mara was elected into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1997. Mara and his father, who was a charter member of the Hall of Fame, were the first father and son to be accorded pro football's highest honor. They now share that mark of distinction with Art and Dan Rooney of the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Mara has been involved in every aspect of operating the Giants during almost eight decades with the team. His first job was a ballboy at training camp. In time he graduated to the on-the-field operations to scouting and general organization, and eventually to the front office executive capacity, where he now serves as President and Co-Chief Executive Officer. The only interruption in Mara's Giants career was during World War II, when he served with distinction for more than three years in the Navy, seeing action in both the Atlantic and Pacific theaters aboard aircraft carriers and emerging as a Lieutenant Commander.

In addition to serving the Giants admirably for so many years, Mara has also been an invaluable contributor to league efforts as a member of many ownership committees. Indeed, he has always put the league's interests ahead of what was best for the Giants. From 1971 until 1977, he was Chairman of the Executive Committee of the NFL Management Council, the labor arm of the NFL, and it was under his leadership that the league achieved five years of labor peace from 1977 to 1982. Mara was elected President of the National Football Conference in 1984, succeeding the late George Halas in that role. Mara is currently a member of the Hall of Fame committee, as well as the Executive Committee of the Management Council. He was a member of the Competition Committee, replacing Vince Lombardi after his death, for one year before leaving to join the Management Council. He also serves as President of the National Football Conference.

In 1925, Wellington's father, Tim, purchased the Giants franchise to establish a New York entry in the fledgling National Football League. The Mara family's presence has been constant with the Giants since then. Jack Mara, served as the club's President until his death in 1965. After Jack's death, his son Tim served as Vice President and Treasurer of the team until Bob Tisch purchased the Jack Mara holdings in 1991. Today, two of Wellington's sons are important members of the organization: John as Executive Vice President and General Counsel and Frank as Director of Promotions.

Until 1965, Wellington Mara was responsible for the franchise's football decisions, while Jack Mara handled the business operations of the team. The Giants played in five NFL Championship Games from 1958-63 and a key to that success were trades engineered by Mara that brought Y.A. Tittle, Andy Robustelli, Del Shofner, Dick Modzelewski, Pat Summerall, Joe Walton, Dick Lynch, Erich Barnes, Bill Svoboda, Harland Svare, Bob Schnelker, Herb Rich, Ed Hughes and Walt Yowarsky, among others, to the Giants. Draft choices Frank Gifford and Rosie Brown went on to become members of the Pro Football Hall of Fame, as did Tuffy Leemans, whom Wellington had recommended in 1936.

Wellington T. Mara, whose nickname is "Duke," was born on Aug. 14, 1916 in New York City. He graduated from Loyola High School before matriculating to Fordham University, where he earned his degree in 1937. His brother, Jack, preceded him to Fordham, where he earned a law degree. But Wellington was only interested in joining his father with the Giants and did so immediately after graduation. He has been with the organization ever since.

Wellington married the former Ann Mumm in 1954 and the Maras have 11 children: John Kevin, Susan Ann, Timothy Christopher, Stephen Vincent, Francis Xavier, Sheila Marie, Kathleen Mary, Maureen Elizabeth, Ann Marie, Meghan Ann, and Colleen Elizabeth. The Maras, who reside in Rye, N.Y., also have 37 grandchildren.

THE ORIGINAL GIANTS - THE 1925 TEAM

PRESTON ROBERT TISCH
CHAIRMAN & CO-CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

Preston Robert Tisch realized a longtime dream in 1991, when he became Co-Owner of one of New York City's and professional sports' premier franchises, the New York Giants. Soon after the Giants won Super Bowl XXV, Tisch completed negotiations with Tim Mara and his family for a 50% interest in the team. That commenced Tisch's career as an owner of a professional sports franchise, which is one of many careers he simultaneously pursues.

At Loews Corporation, one of the country's most successful financial companies, Mr. Tisch serves as Co-Chairman and Director. The Company, with 2002 revenues of $17.5 billion and assets exceeding $70 billion, owns and operates Loews Hotels; the Lorillard Tobacco Company; 87% of CNA Financial Corporation; 97% of Bulova Corporation; 52% of Diamond Offshore Drilling, Inc., and 100% of Texas Gas Transmission Corporation.

The company's history dates back to a summer camp in New Jersey run by Mr. Tisch and his brother Laurence, followed by the purchase of a hotel in Lakewood, N.J. and the formation of Tisch Hotels, Inc.

In 1959, the Tisch brothers bought controlling interest in Loews Theaters, Inc., a real estate-rich theatre chain. In 1971, after Loews acquired Lorillard Tobacco, its name was changed to Loews Corporation.

Mr. Tisch served as Postmaster General of the United States from August 1986 until returning to New York in March 1988. Prior to his appointment as Postmaster, he served as President and Chief Operating Officer of Loews Corporation and its corporate predecessor, Loews Theatres, Inc., a position held from 1960 until his appointment as Co-Chairman and Co-CEO.

Throughout his career, Tisch has been a tireless and influential participant in civic affairs. In February, 2000, he helped found Take the Field, Inc., a non-profit corporation dedicated to renovating and rebuilding the athletic fields at almost all of New York City's public schools. Tisch, a product of those schools, is Chairman of Take the Field, Inc. He helped launch the corporation with a $1 million donation, and has already raised over $90 million in public and private dollars for public high school athletic facilities.

Tisch served as Chairman of the New York Convention & Visitors Bureau for 19 years and currently serves as the Bureau's Chairman Emeritus. He was also founding Chairman of the New York City Convention and Exhibition Center Corporation and Chairman of the Citizens Committee for the Democratic National Conventions held in New York City in 1976 and 1980.

In May 1990, Mayor David Dinkins appointed Tisch New York City's Ambassador to Washington. Through 1993, he served as a liaison between the City of New York and his friends and colleagues in both the national government in Washington and the business community in New York City.

From 1990-1993, Tisch served as Chairman of the New York City Partnership, Inc. and the New York Chamber of Commerce and Industry, where he was instrumental in developing a campaign to enhance New York's position as an international business center. He remains an active member of both organizations, where he continues to serve on their Boards of Directors. A founding Co-Chairman of Citymeals-on-Wheels, he was President of the Board of Directors from 1993 to 2002, and now serves on the Board as Honorary Chairman. He also served as chairman of Public Private Initiative, a public private partnership that raises funds for important community programs from 1997-1998.

Tisch currently serves on the Board of Directors of Hasbro, Inc. He is also a Trustee of New York University. He also served on the organizing committee for the 1990 Economic Summit of Industrialized Nations held in Houston.

In addition to these involvements, Mr. Tisch makes considerable time for the Giants. In his role as Chairman and Co-Chief Executive Officer, he visits his office at Giants Stadium each week and attends every game, both home and away. As a member of the National Football League's Finance and Super Bowl Policy Committees, he's attained a prominence in the sports arena equal to his position in the world of business.

Mr. Tisch was born in New York City. He attended Bucknell University before entering the Army in 1944. After military service in World War II, he earned a B.A. degree in economics from the University of Michigan in 1948. Mr. Tisch is married to the former Joan Hyman, and they have three children: Steven, Laurie and Jonathan, who is Treasurer of the Giants. Mr. Tisch lives with his wife in New York City and Rye, New York.

THE 1933 TEAM

JOHN K. MARA
EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT & CHIEF OPERATING OFFICER

John K. Mara, the oldest son of team President Wellington Mara and the Giants' Executive Vice President and Chief Operating Officer, is in his thirteenth season with the franchise. In his present position, Mara, who joined the Giants in 1991, is responsible for all administrative, legal and financial aspects of the organization.

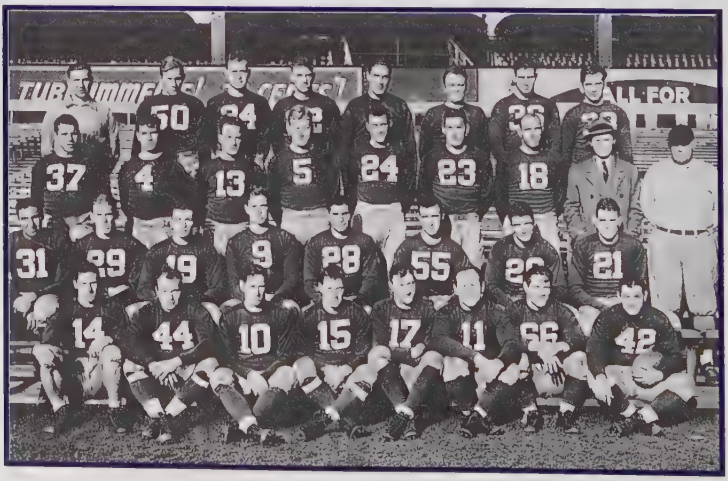
Mara also serves on the influential NFL Competition Committee, which studies all aspects of the game and recommends rules and policy changes to NFL clubs, as well as the league's Employee Benefits Committee.

Mara was born in New York City on Dec. 1, 1954, grew up in Westchester County in White Plains and graduated from Iona Prep High School in New Rochelle. He attended Boston College where he received a B.S. degree in Marketing, graduating with Cum Laude honors in 1976. Mara earned his Law Degree from Fordham University in 1979 and then began his career as an attorney with the New York law firm of Vedder, Price, Kaufman, Kammholz and Day, specializing in labor and employment law and litigation. Two years later he moved to the Manhattan firm of Shea & Gould, where he practiced until joining the Giants in 1991.

Mara serves on the Board of Directors of Saint Vincent's Hospital in Harrison, N.Y., The School of the Holy Child, also in Harrison, N.Y., and Catholic Community Services of Newark, N.J.

Away from the office, Mara has been actively involved for more than a dozen years in coaching youth basketball, baseball and softball.

John and his wife, the former Denise Walter, are the parents of five children: Lauren, 22; Courtney, 20; John Jr., 19; Christine, 17 and Erin, 13. The Mara family resides in Harrison, N.Y.



THE 1938 TEAM

JONATHAN M. TISCH
TREASURER

Jonathan M. Tisch joined the Giants in February 1991 and immediately began his role as treasurer. In addition to serving on the Giants Board of Directors, Tisch is Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Loews Hotels, and has been at the helm of the company since 1989. In addition, as part of a management succession plan that was announced in November 1998, Tisch was appointed to the newly created Office of the President for the Hotel's parent company, Loews Corporation. Tisch also serves on the Corporation's Board of Directors.

During his tenure, Tisch has been instrumental in overseeing Loews Hotels' largest expansion and its emergence as one of the country's leading luxury hotel chains. Blending a cutting edge approach to marketing and operations with a conservative development philosophy, he is recognized as one of the industry's leading authorities. Underscoring his role as an industry leader, Tisch has served since 1995 as Chairman of the Travel Business Roundtable, a prominent coalition of chief executives representing various sectors of the travel and tourism industry. Also since 1995, he has served as the Chairman of the Annual New York University International Hospitality Industry Investment Conference, considered to be one of the premier forums for the lodging industry's highest-ranking executives. Tisch also served a five-year term as an officer of the American Hotel & Lodging Association, culminating in his chairmanship of the organization in 1997.

In addition to focusing on the national industry, Tisch is committed to a vibrant tourism industry in New York City, where he serves Chairman of NYC & Company, the city's official tourism marketing agency and convention and visitors bureau. In recognition for his leadership and civic involvement, Tisch was named one of the top ten most influential business leaders by Crain's New York Business.

Continually seeking opportunities to promote New York City as the world's biggest stage, he spearheaded several efforts to bring the Grammy Awards to the City and has served as Chairman of the New York City Host Committee four times, most recently in 2002. In recognition of his commitment to New York City, Tisch recently received the "Leadership Award" from New York Cares. In previous years, he received the "New Yorker for New York" award from The Citizens Committee for New York City.

As a result of his leadership and dedication to the travel and tourism industry, as well as for his commitment to social responsibility and community outreach, Tisch has received numerous honors and accolades. He was recently inducted into the prestigious and exclusive "Hall of Leaders" by the Travel Industry Association of America, named "Hotel Person of the Year" by Travel Agent magazine and one of the Top 25 Travel Executives of 2001 by Business Travel News. Tisch has also been named one of the "Business Travel Industry's Most Influential Executives" by Business Travel News and one of Hospitality Design's "Industry 20".

Active in social, community and philanthropic causes, Tisch served on the Board of Directors of the Welfare to Work Partnership and most recently was its Vice-Chairman. He currently serves on the Board of Trustees for Tufts University, as well as the Board of Directors of the VH1 Save the Music Foundation and the Board of Advisors of the Elizabeth Glaser Pediatric AIDS Foundation, as well as the Business Council for the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

THE 1939 TEAM

ERNIE ACCORSI
SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT & GENERAL MANAGER

Ernie Accorsi begins his sixth season as head of the New York Giants football operation as the senior general manager in the National Football League. Accorsi joined the organization in 1994 as assistant general manager to George Young and became general manager on Jan. 8, 1998. He previously served as general manager for two other NFL clubs, the Baltimore Colts (1982-83) and Cleveland Browns (1985-92).

In his last 12 years as a general manager with the Browns and Giants, Accorsi has had seven playoff teams, including five division champions. He is one of only four general managers who have had teams play in four championship games, won a conference championship and had a team play in the Super Bowl. The others are the late Don Klosterman, Bobby Beathard and Bill Polian.

Accorsi passed the 100-victory mark as an NFL general manager in 2001. The Giants, Browns and Colts have won a combined 114 regular season and postseason games under his stewardship.

"I believe this job is a privilege," Accorsi said. "For someone who first saw the New York Giants play in my hometown of Hershey, Pa. in a preseason game against the Philadelphia Eagles, the dream that you could be in this position is really more than you could ever expect."

Under Accorsi, the Giants improved to 10-6 and earned an NFC Wild Card playoff berth last season, in large measure because of personnel moves made by the general manager. In the 2001 and 2002 drafts, Accorsi has engineered trades to move up in the first round to select the player he coveted. Last year, he chose Jeremy Shockey, who was selected to the Pro Bowl after setting team records for receptions by a rookie and a tight end with 74 and was named NFL Rookie of the Year. In 2001, Accorsi maneuvered to select Will Allen, one of the league's best young cornerbacks. Accorsi was also instrumental in the acquisition of many more of the Giants' key players, including Kerry Collins, Luke Petitgout, Mike Barrow, Shaun Williams and William Peterson. This offseason, he upgraded the Giants' special teams by signing return man Brian Mitchell, punter Jeff Feagles, kicker Mike Hollis and snapper Ryan Kuehl.

Accorsi's best season with the Giants was in 2000, when the Giants were 12-4 and NFC East champions in the regular season and defeated Philadelphia and Minnesota in the playoffs to reach the Super Bowl for the first time in a decade – with a roster in which 66 percent of the players were acquired by Accorsi after he succeeded Young.

Following the season Accorsi received many honors. He was named the winner of the Lamar Hunt Award as the Pro Football Executive of the Year, which is presented by the All-American Football Foundation. Accorsi was also named Football Executive of the Year by the New Jersey Sportswriters Association, which said Accorsi was the "unsung hero" of the Giants march to the Super Bowl.

Accorsi was the recipient of the first John Steadman Award presented by the Ed Block Courage Award Foundation, an award that honors an individual who "continually demonstrates professional excellence and epitomizes the values of courage, character, compassion, commitment and service to the community." Accorsi was a close friend of Steadman, the late, great and much-loved Baltimore sports columnist. Accorsi has been affiliated with the Ed Block Foundation since its inception in 1978.

In addition, Accorsi received the Jack Horrigan Award, which is presented by the Professional Football Writers Association of America to the NFL official who is most helpful and cooperative to reporters covering the league. Accorsi is widely known as one of the most accessible, candid and personable executives in professional sports.

ERNIE ACCORSI

Accorsi was Executive Vice President/Football Operations for the Cleveland Browns from 1985 until he resigned in 1992. During that time, the Browns made five straight playoff appearances, including four AFC Central titles and three appearances in the AFC Championship Game. With the Browns, Accorsi made the delicate and important supplemental draft trade that gave Cleveland the rights to then sophomore Bernie Kosar in the spring of 1985. Kosar joined the team in the summer, and the Browns went on to win four AFC Central titles and made the playoffs a fifth time as a Wild Card Team.

After leaving the Browns, Accorsi served as a special advisor to Maryland Governor William Donald Schaefer on NFL expansion. In that capacity, he was responsible for selling all 100 sky suites for the proposed NFL football stadium, as well as all 7,500 club seats. The sky suites were sold out in six weeks, while the club seating sold out in eight weeks. In addition, he also raised commitments of $51 million for Baltimore's Expansion Efforts Premium Seating Campaign. Immediately before joining the Giants, Accorsi was Executive Director of Business Affairs for the Baltimore Orioles of Major League Baseball.

Accorsi began his NFL career as the Baltimore Colts public relations director in 1970 and has since worked in virtually every phase of the football business. After working in Baltimore for five years, he moved to the NFL office, where he worked on Commissioner Pete Rozelle's staff as assistant to the president of the National Football Conference in 1975 and 1976. He returned to the Colts organization in 1977 as the team's assistant general manager. Accorsi later became the Colts last general manager in Baltimore for two years, 1982 and 1983, when he selected John Elway with the first pick in the draft. After learning of Elway's trade by ownership on television, he resigned and joined the Browns following the season.

Accorsi was born in Hershey, Pa., where he played baseball all the way to the American Legion level. A 1963 graduate of Wake Forest University, Accorsi worked as a sports writer for the Charlotte News, Baltimore Sun and Philadelphia Inquirer. One of his first assignments in Charlotte was to interview Archibald (Moonlight) Graham, then 86, a former Charlotte minor-leaguer who played in one major-league game in 1905. A quarter-century later, Graham achieved some measure of fame in the movie, "Field of Dreams" as the obscure player upon whom Burt Lancaster's character was based. Five years after writing about Graham, Accorsi broke the story of Wilt Chamberlain's trade to the Los Angeles Lakers.

After leaving the newspaper business, Accorsi worked in the athletic departments at St. Joseph's University in Philadelphia and Penn State University before joining the NFL.

Accorsi is a lifelong, passionate sports fan with a strong sense of history and an appreciation for the games themselves and the people who play them. In addition to football, his favorite sports are baseball, college basketball and golf. He relishes retelling stories of an event he attended 40 years ago or a nugget he heard on a sports highlights show hours earlier. His first NFL game was a preseason contest in Hershey between the Detroit Lions and New York Bulldogs. A year later he traveled to Philadelphia for his first major league baseball game, and saw Jackie Robinson steal home. He still regrets not being in Hershey the night Chamberlain scored 100 points there in 1962; Accorsi was away at college.

One of his most memorable moments as a sports fan occurred when he was with the Colts in 1982, and the producers of a film to be set in the city gave the Colts a quiz about the team that was to be used in the movie. A prospective bride had to answer the questions before her Colts fan boyfriend would marry her. Accorsi read the test, deemed it far too easy, then rewrote it. The quiz scene became the one of the most memorable in the hit movie, "Diner."

Accorsi has three children: Michael, a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh; Patrick, a graduate of the University of Maryland; and Sherlyn, a graduate of Penn State University. Accorsi has one granddaughter, Alexandra (born June 30, 1998).

KEVIN ABRAMS
ASSISTANT GENERAL MANAGER

Kevin Abrams begins his second season as the Giants Assistant General Manager after serving for three years as the team's salary cap analyst.

"Kevin Abrams brings this organization the expertise of the new wave of young NFL executives," general manager Ernie Accorsi said. "They were raised in their early years in the NFL with the salary cap and the technology that goes with it and he represents this valuable asset to the Giants."

Abrams' responsibilities include salary cap management and forecasting, contract negotiations and coordinating the Giants' compliance with the NFL's Collective Bargaining Agreement.

In July of 1999, Abrams was hired to fill the newly created position of Salary Cap Analyst. He came to the Giants from the NFL Management Council, where he helped to monitor the league-wide salary cap and analyzed all new player contracts with respect to the rules and regulations of the Collective Bargaining Agreement.

Abrams was born in Toronto on Aug. 18, 1971. He completed his undergraduate degree at the University of Western Ontario, and earned his Masters of Sports Administration from Ohio University.

HEAD COACH

Jim Fassel joined the Giants as a first-time NFL head coach on Jan. 15, 1997. Since then, he has become one of the most successful, respected and longest-tenured coaches in the league and in the long history of the Giants. Fassel has led the Giants to two NFC East titles, a conference championship and an appearance in Super Bowl XXXV and a Wild Card playoff berth, as well as a regular season record of 54-41-1.

Fassel will enter the 2003 season as one of just five coaches to remain with the same team for seven consecutive years. The others are Denver's Mike Shanahan, Tennessee's Jeff Fisher, Pittsburgh's Bill Cowher and Atlanta's Dan Reeves. Fassel and Reeves, his predecessor as the Giants head coach, have the longest stints with one team in the NFC.

The Giants coach has continually distinguished himself among his peers. Fifteen of the NFL's active head coaches have coached at least 80 games. Fassel is the only one of those 15 coaches that has never had a four-game losing streak. In addition, of those 15 coaches that have been at the helm for at least five full NFL seasons, only four - Fassel, Jeff Fisher, Jon Gruden and Marty Schottenheimer - have never had a double-digit loss season. Bill Belichick, Dom Capers, Bill Cowher, Tony Dungy, Mike Holmgren, Steve Mariucci, Bill Parcells, Dan Reeves, Mike Shanahan, Dick Vermeil and Dave Wannstedt all have had at least one, and most have had more.

Under Fassel, the Giants are 19-5 in regular-season December games, a .792 winning percentage that is the best in the NFL over that span.

Fassel is 31-14-1 in games against NFC East opponents, a .685 winning percentage in division games that is the third-highest among active coaches with at least 20 division games. Mike Martz and Mike Sherman (both 16-6, .727) have a higher winning percentage in division games.

Few teams have taken care of the football as well as the Giants have under Fassel. In his first six years on the sideline, the Giants turnover differential is +23, placing them third in the NFC and ninth in the NFL in that important category. In Fassel's 96 regular season games, the Giants have 155 giveaways. That's 1.61 a game, the fifth-lowest turnover-per-game average among all NFL head coaches who began their careers since 1970. Fassel trails only Steve Mariucci, Tom Coughlin, Barry Switzer and Wade Phillips.

The Giants have also been strong defensively under Fassel. From 1997-2002, the Giants had 267 sacks, the fifth-highest total in the NFL, behind New Orleans (309), St. Louis (281), Philadelphia (273) and Pittsburgh (272). During those same six seasons, the Giants allowed only 99.4 rushing yards per game, making them one of just seven teams with an average of less than 100 yards. The 99.4-yard figure was second in the NFC (Tampa Bay was first at 99.1) and seventh in the NFL.

The Giants seldom lose leads under Fassel. In the regular season, they are 41-5 when leading after three periods, 36-5 when leading at halftime and 32-9 when leading after the first period.

In addition to the mark he has made in the NFL, Fassel has established himself as one of the finest coaches in the 79-year history of the Giants. With 54 regular season victories, Fassel is the fourth-winningest coach in Giants history, trailing only Steve Owen (153), Bill Parcells (77) and Allie Sherman (57). With a 2-3 record in the playoffs, Fassel joins Owen, Parcells and Jim Lee Howell as the only Giants coaches to win more than one postseason game.

In 2002, the Giants enjoyed one of their most successful seasons under Fassel. They reached their bye week with a 3-4 record, an offense that had scored only seven touchdowns and a roster weakened by serious injuries to several key players. But Fassel assumed the play-calling duties, and the offense improved significantly. The Giants rallied to win their last four games – defeating Washington, Dallas, Indianapolis and Philadelphia – to finish 10-6 and capture an NFC Wild Card playoff berth. It was the third time in Fassel's six seasons that the Giants won at least 10 games. The Giants jumped out to a 38-14 lead in their Wild Card playoff game in San Francisco before succumbing to a 49ers rally and losing, 39-38.

Fassel will continue to call the offensive plays this season. In the seven games in which he did not call the plays, the Giants averaged 12.7 points, 332.9 total yards, 89.6 rushing yards, 243.3 passing yards and 17.7 first downs a game. With Fassel calling the plays, those numbers over the final 10 games (including the playoff game) improved to 26.9 points, 394.2 total yards, 136.7 rushing yards, 257.5 passing yards and 22.5 first downs a game.

The Giants began the season with a 16-13 loss to the San Francisco 49ers in a special Thursday night prime time opener. They then traveled to St. Louis, where they upset the defending NFC champion Rams, 26-21. A 9-6 home victory over the Seattle Seahawks the following week lifted the Giants above .500 for the first time. The Giants then lost to Arizona, 21-7, rallied to beat the Cowboys in Dallas, 21-17, before dropping to 3-4 with back-to-back losses to Atlanta and Philadelphia.

After the loss to the Eagles, Fassel assumed full command of the offense. The Giants responded with consecutive victories over Jacksonville, Minnesota and Washington. That streak was followed by successive disheartening defeats at Houston and at home to Tennessee that left the Giants at 6-6. But as they have done so many times before, Fassel's Giants responded to adversity with a winning streak. They played their best football of the season in the four-game winning streak in December that propelled them into the playoffs.

The 10 regular season victories in 2002 represented a three-game improvement over the 2001 season, when the Giants were 7-9 and finished third in the NFC East.

The Giants enjoyed their finest season under Fassel in 2000, when they finished the regular season with a 12-4 record, won the NFC East title and then the conference championship. That was also the season Fassel made one of the most famous guarantees in recent sports history. On Nov. 19, 2000, the Giants fell behind Detroit, 28-0, on their way to a 31-21 loss to the Lions. It was the Giants second home loss in as many weeks and left the team with a 7-4 record. The Giants were in danger of missing the playoffs. But three days after the Detroit game, Fassel stepped to the podium at his regular Wednesday news conference and made the startling announcement that turned the season around. Fassel guaranteed that the Giants would make the playoffs. That demonstration of faith in his team set the tone for the rest of the season. Imbued with greater confidence, the players responded by winning the final five games of the regular season to win their second NFC East championship under Fassel and earned them the top seed in the NFC Playoffs. The Giants then defeated Philadelphia and Minnesota to advance to Super Bowl XXXV against Baltimore.

The Giants suffered a 34-7 loss to the Ravens, a defeat Fassel says will always remain with him. But it also fuels his determination to bring another championship trophy to Giants Stadium.

In 1999, the Giants finished an injury-plagued season at 7-9. The Giants entered the final three weeks of that season with a 7-6 record, but dropped their last three games. A three-game winning streak in October, capped by a 23-17 overtime victory at Philadelphia, left the Giants 5-3 midway through the season and positioned them for a run at their second NFC East title in Fassel's three seasons.

After the bye week, however, the Giants lost three straight to fall to 5-6. Fassel improved his December head coaching record to a sparkling 9-0 after victories over the New York Jets and Buffalo Bills, but the season-ending three-game losing streak dashed the Giants postseason hopes.

In 1998, the Giants finished 8-8. After starting the campaign with a 3-7 record, Fassel's leadership was evident with a 5-1 finish, which included a 20-16 victory over the previously undefeated and eventual Super Bowl Champion Denver Broncos. The Giants entered the final week of the season needing a victory over the Philadelphia Eagles, combined with losses by Tampa Bay and Arizona, to qualify for the third Wild Card spot in the NFC playoff field. The Giants beat the Eagles at Veterans Stadium, but the Buccaneers and Cardinals were victorious, ending the Giants' playoff hopes.

Fassel is the 15th head coach in Giants history. In his rookie season of 1997, he led his squad to a 10-5-1 record and a berth in the playoffs while capturing the NFC East championship. He became only the 12th NFL head coach to win a division title in his first season since the 1970 merger. Although they suffered several key injuries (including Brian Williams' eye and Ike Hilliard's neck), the Giants overcame a 1-3 start and went 9-2-1 over the rest of the year. Fassel was named NFL Coach of the Year by numerous media outlets, including The Sporting News (as voted by NFL coaches), after helping the Giants improve from a 6-10 record and a last place finish in the division in 1996. Under Fassel's guidance, the Giants became the 15th team in NFL history to finish in first place in their division the season after finishing in last place. The worst-to-first turnaround has occurred 13 times, including the 1997 Giants, since the 1970 merger. Fassel's group finished with a 7-0-1 Division record and became the first team ever to go undefeated in NFC East Division play.

Since Jim Fassel became coach in 1997, the Giants are 19-5 in regular season games in December, the best record in the NFL.

COACHING HISTORY

The 1997 season marked Fassel's return to the Giants organization. He entered the NFL in 1991 as the Giants' quarterbacks coach. The following year, he was promoted to offensive coordinator. Following his service with the Giants, Fassel spent two campaigns as assistant head coach/offensive coordinator for the Denver Broncos in 1993 and 1994. He spent the 1995 season as quarterbacks coach for the Oakland Raiders and was offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach for the Arizona Cardinals in 1996.

Before joining the Giants as head coach, Fassel built a reputation for an ability to develop quarterbacks. Under Fassel's guidance, Broncos quarterback John Elway enjoyed his finest season as a pro in 1993, earning honors that included the AFC Player-of-the-Year and Most Valuable Player. Elway led the AFC in all six major passing categories. The Broncos offense ranked third in the AFC and fifth in the NFL and scored 373 points to rank first in the conference and third in the league. In 1996 with the Cardinals, Fassel tutored Kent Graham into a solid player and helped rejuvenate veteran Boomer Esiason. The Cardinals finished sixth in passing offense in 1996.

Fassel earned the label "quarterback guru," in his stops as an assistant, but he has proven with the Giants that he is a complete football coach.

"Anybody who's a first-time head coach in this league and gets the job from the assistant ranks - and primarily it's from a coordinator's job - you're on one side of the ball or the other, and you're labeled," Fassel said. "You're either the defensive guy or the offensive guru. You have to establish yourself beyond that."

Fassel has done exactly that. A former quarterback at Fullerton College, Fassel began coaching in 1973 at his alma mater, then was a player-coach for the Hawaii Hawaiians of the World Football League in 1974. He coached quarterbacks and receivers at Utah in 1976, then served seven seasons as offensive coordinator at both Weber State (1977-78) and Stanford (1979-83). At Stanford, Fassel was credited with recruiting and coaching Elway, who finished second in the balloting for the Heisman Trophy as a senior in 1982. It was also at Stanford that Fassel's offensive system began to take shape. Fassel adapted his offense from Stanford head coach Bill Walsh, who would later lead San Francisco to three Super Bowl titles.

Fassel's second stint in professional football was in 1984 as offensive coordinator for the New Orleans Breakers of the USFL. From there he returned to Utah as the school's head coach from 1985-89. In that capacity, he recruited and coached future NFL quarterback Scott Mitchell. En route to the NFL under Fassel's tutelage, Mitchell set 10 NCAA and five Western Athletic Conference records in addition to virtually every school passing record. Fassel's Utah experience taught him to be more hands-on in his approach to handling the team.

"The one thing I said when I took the Giants job that was very, very important to me was that I'm going to be around, and I'm going to coach this football team, and I'm not going to be an aloof head coach," Fassel said. "I'm going to be active on the field, I'm going to be active in the meetings. That gives me a better sense for them."

BACKGROUND

A native of Anaheim, California. Fassel was a standout quarterback at Anaheim High School before leading Fullerton College to a 25-1 record over two seasons and winning the junior college national championship in 1967. He also spent one season with Seattle Seahawks' head coach Mike Holmgren at the University of Southern California during the Trojans' 1969 Rose Bowl championship season. Holmgren did not play in any games that year due to a shoulder injury. Fassel was a junior backup behind Jimmy Jones after transferring from Fullerton College.

Fassel was drafted by Chicago in the seventh round of the 1972 NFL Draft and went to camp with the Chicago Bears, Houston Oilers and San Diego Chargers.

THE COACH AND HIS FAMILY

Fassel and his wife, Kitty, found themselves in the national spotlight this spring after revealing they had met the son they put up for adoption 34 years ago. The Fassels and their son – John Mathieson, who lives in a Denver suburb – first spoke by phone on Mother's Day (May 11) and three days later, the entire Fassel family met the Mathiesons in Colorado.

The Fassels put John up for adoption three days after he was born on April 5, 1969. Jim and Kitty were just 19 years old, not yet married and perhaps not yet ready for parenthood when John was born. They were married in 1971 and have four grown children, John 29, Brian, 27 (who is married to Christine), Jana, 24 and Michael, 21.

"Kitty and I made a decision many years ago that was a difficult one to make," Fassel said. "We were only 19 years old. You wonder if you're doing the right thing. We've had a lot of fears through the years. We've lived with this."

But the story had a happy ending. Mathieson, who was born on April 5, 1969, grew up in Colorado, Florida, Georgia and Pennsylvania before serving in the Army for seven years. He is now the general sales manager at an auto dealership near Denver. Mathieson and his wife, Kristi, have four daughters: Hailey (born Dec. 16, 1993), Paige (Oct. 5, 1995), Makenna (March 4, 2000) and Reagan (April 7, 2002). They live in Highlands Ranch, Colo., and are now members of the big and loving Fassel clan.

"They have unconditionally, without any question in their mind, taken us in as part of their family," Mathieson said. "That part is almost more overwhelming than the rest of it. My whole life I wanted to find my mom. To find out there's a dad there, too, and four siblings and 15 cousins – it's amazing."

The Fassels family has long had an interesting story. Jim's arduous journey to the top of his profession included 12 moves since he began coaching in 1973. Fassel and his family made three stops in California and two in Utah. They lived in Hawaii, New Orleans, New Jersey, Colorado, Los Angeles and Arizona.

"Our family has always enjoyed new experiences," Fassel said. "For our kids, the world is not intimidating to them. They can go anywhere, talk about anything."

After his stint with the Hawaii Hawaiians, Fassel took a job as a salesman for an air-conditioning company in 1975. Miserable in the sales business, Fassel returned to football in his first full-time coaching job, as the quarterbacks and wide receivers coach at Utah. That put him on a career path that would culminate 22 years later when he was named head coach of the New York Giants.

Fassel was born on August 31, 1949 in Anaheim, California. He and Kitty married in 1971. John Fassel was born on Jan. 10, 1974, and was followed by Brian (12-22-75), Jana (10-31-78) and Mike (6-19-81).

Jim Fassel is the fourth-winningest coach in the 79-year history of the Giants franchise.

It is an accomplished family. Jim received a Distinguished Alumnus award from Fullerton College. Kitty has a degree in Social Sciences from Ramapo College. John, a former wide receiver at Weber State, is the head football coach at New Mexico Highlands University. Brian, who has a degree in communications from Seton Hall, is an associate producer at MTV. Jana is working toward her master's degree at Fairleigh Dickinson University, where she was a member of the women's basketball team. Mike will be a senior on the football team at Boston College this fall.

BUD AND DOROTHY FASSEL

Jim Fassel's late father, Bud, was the assistant fire chief in his native Anaheim until his neighbor Claire Van Hoorebeke, the Anaheim High School football coach who would become a legend in southern California, hired the elder Fassel as a full-time equipment manager. Bud Fassel wanted to be a coach but he had been in the war and did not go to college to get his teaching certificate.

"If some kid wanted to quit, the coach would tell him to go turn in his uniform to my dad," Fassel said. "Nobody ever quit. Guys didn't get past my dad. He talked them out of it.

"I learned everything about how to relate to people from him - how to observe and get along with them, too."

The 1999 season was a difficult one for Fassel, because his mother Dorothy passed away in November after a lengthy illness. Fassel likes to tell a couple stories about his mother, who was the receptionist for the California (now Anaheim) Angels in the 1980s. "Management decided that the players were making too many personal calls from the team's clubhouse just before games," Fassel said. "They wanted the players concentrating on the game. So they told my mom not to give anyone an outside line for a phone call if it was an hour or less before the game. Reggie Jackson called up one day and asked for an outside line and my mom wouldn't give it to him. Reggie said, `Come on, Dorothy, it's me, Reggie.' But my mom said, `You know the rules, Reggie.' Reggie hung up, and two minutes later the clubhouse boy called up and asked for an outside line. My mom said, `Tell Reggie he still can't have an outside line.'"

Fassel also likes to recall the time when his father would ask his wife to make an extra sandwich each day to bring to school for lunch. Concerned that Bud had been gaining weight, Dorothy said, "Bud, you're eating too much and we can't afford it." She told him she would no longer make the sandwiches. Bud confessed that he wasn't the one eating the sandwiches. He was sneaking them in for a football player who didn't have enough money to purchase lunch. "When my mom heard that, she said, `Well, I guess we've got enough money for that,'" Fassel said. "That's the kind of woman she was. She was very, very special."

HAL SHERBECK, FASSEL'S COACH AT FULLERTON

The team concept that no single player is bigger than the whole is an important element of Fassel's motivational technique. It was a lesson he learned from Hal Sherbeck, who was Fassel's head coach at Fullerton Junior College.

"We were going to play for the 1967 national championship," Fassel said. "And we used to dress 100 guys for each game. It was a big team, but coach Sherbeck never excluded anyone. He told us we were one team. The week before the game the officials told us that the rules said no more than 60 players could dress.

"They wouldn't budge on that rule. Coach Sherbeck told the guy in charge, 'Fine. We forfeit. You go give them the trophy for winning right now.' But then we're playing the game anyway. And we are dressing all 100 guys."

THE JIM FASSEL FOUNDATION

The Jim Fassel Foundation was established in 2002 in the aftermath of the September 11 terrorist attacks. Like all Americans, Fassel experienced a broad range of emotions as he witnessed first-hand the destruction and loss of life caused by the attacks and the subsequent selfless efforts by public servants and volunteers to rescue and recover the victims.

The mission of the Jim Fassel Foundation is to make certain that the families – those of the officers of the Fire Department of New York, the Port Authority Police Department and the New York Police Department who lost their lives - will not be forgotten in the coming years.

The goal of the Jim Fassel Foundation is to build a fund that these families, who will undoubtedly have special needs, can use as a resource in the years ahead. The Jim Fassel Foundation will be a place that these families can turn to in times of need, a place that will provide relief with a minimal amount of red tape and bureaucracy.

All of the money raised by the Jim Fassel Foundation goes directly to the families of the public servants who provided leadership and direction and gave us a sense of great pride in being a citizen of this country.

Fassel has also provided continuing emotional and financial support to the family of Frank Palombo, a New York City firefighter who died in the September 11 attacks. He is survived by a wife and 10 children.

"Frank was a very forceful person in that family," Fassel said. "Their father is gone. I can't replace their father. Nobody can. But to let them know we care and give them something special that maybe somebody else doesn't have - like coming to practice, or standing on the sideline with me at a game or coming into the locker room and meeting the players - those types of things you do for the young people.

"And we try to interact with them about their responsibilities, as a father figure, about what they have to do at home. I started by telling them, `I want to know what your grades are.' I just want to be in contact with them, have them at practice, have them to the games."

ASSISTANT COACHES

JOHNNIE LYNN
DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR

Johnnie Lynn is in his second season as the Giants defensive coordinator and seventh as a member of Jim Fassel's staff. Lynn was named the Giants defensive coordinator on Feb. 7, 2002. He replaced John Fox, who is now the head coach of the Carolina Panthers. Lynn had spent the previous five seasons as the Giants secondary coach. With Lynn tutoring the defensive backs, the Giants consistently had one of the NFL's finest pass defenses. And they succeeded despite a cast of players that constantly changed.

The Giants had one of the NFL's finest defenses in 2002, Lynn's first season as defensive coordinator. The Giants ranked third in the NFL in scoring defense, allowing only 17.4 points a game. They allowed 17 points or less in 10 of 16 regular season games. The Giants were ninth in the NFL in total yardage defense, giving up 309.3 yards a game, and ninth in passing defense, surrendering 194.9 yards a game. In addition, the Giants were second in the league in first downs allowed (266, or 16.6 a game) and ninth in opposing third-down conversions; Giants opponents succeeded on only 36.5 percent of their third down attempts (81 of 222).

The Giants defense played many fine games in Lynn's debut season as coordinator. On Sept. 22, the defense limited the Seattle Seahawks to 145 total yards, seven first downs and two field goals in a 9-6 Giants victory. The Washington Redskins were held to 166 yards and 12 first downs in a 19-17 Giants triumph on Nov. 17. In an overtime victory over Philadelphia in the season finale, the Giants limited the Eagles to 209 yards, nine first downs and seven points. The Indianapolis Colts rushed for only 50 yards, and the Houston Texans passed for just 89 yards against the Giants.

During his tenure as the defensive backs coach, Lynn was instrumental in the development of Will Allen, William Peterson, Shaun Williams, Jason Sehorn and several other defensive backs who have helped the Giants succeed since 1997. Allen and Peterson, who are third-year pros, are widely recognized as one of the NFL's finest young cornerback tandems.

Lynn was hired on Jan. 31, 1997 and joins Denny Marcin, Dave Brazil, John Dunn and Craig Stoddard as the only holdovers from Jim Fassel's original Giants staff.

In 2001, Lynn's final season as the defensive backs coach, the Giants secondary helped hold eight opponents to less than 200 yards passing. Six different defensive backs intercepted at last one pass, led by Allen's team-leading total of four picks.

In the 2000 NFC Championship season, 10 opponents, including three in the playoffs, failed to gain 200 yards through the air.

Under Lynn, the secondary's finest moment occurred in the 2000 NFC Championship Game, when the Giants limited Minnesota to just 60 yards through the air. The Vikings had averaged 243.2 passing yards in their first 17 games. Minnesota's outstanding receiving duo of Randy Moss and Cris Carter combined for only five catches for 42 yards.

Lynn's secondary also distinguished itself in the 2000 regular season. On. Oct. 5, the defensive backs accounted for four of the Giants five interceptions of Troy Aikman in a victory over the Dallas Cowboys. In Week 16, Dallas played without Aikman and managed only 70 passing yards, a regular-season low for a Giants opponent. On October 29, Philadelphia quarterback Donovan McNabb was held to 10 completions in 31 attempts. The following week, The Cleveland Browns had just 152 net passing yards.

ASSISTANT COACHES

In 1997, Lynn's first season with the Giants, the team led the NFL with 27 interceptions, despite a secondary that was riddled with injuries to key personnel. Lynn's squad opened the season in dramatic fashion as strong safety Sam Garnes intercepted a pass and returned it 95 yards for a touchdown to seal a win over Philadelphia in the season opener on Aug. 31, 1997. Sehorn intercepted a career-best six passes, the most by a Giant since Everson Walls' six thefts in 1990. He returned one for a 35-yard touchdown against the Washington Redskins on December 13.

Before joining the Giants, Lynn spent the 1996 season coaching the San Francisco 49ers defensive backs. He served in the same capacity for the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in 1994 and 1995.

Lynn spent seven seasons coaching in the collegiate ranks at the University of Arizona, beginning as a graduate assistant in 1987 before coaching the outside linebackers (1988-91) and defensive backs (1992-93).

Lynn was a standout defensive back, playing both cornerback and safety positions in the NFL for eight seasons with the New York Jets (1979-86) following his fourth-round selection out of UCLA. He instantly was a member of the starting defensive lineup as a rookie, and ended his career tenth on the Jets career interceptions list with 17 thefts. A four-year letterman at UCLA, Lynn played on four bowl teams and garnered All-Pac 10 Honors as a senior. Lynn earned his bachelor's degree in history.

Born Dec. 19, 1956 in Los Angeles, Lynn and his wife, Laurie, are the parents of three children: Ashley (5/31/83), Chazz (10/30/85) and Cameron (11/20/91).

DAVE BRAZIL
SENIOR DEFENSIVE ANALYST

Dave Brazil enters his 12th season as a Giants assistant coach and his second as the team's senior defensive analyst. Brazil is the longest tenured member of the coaching staff. He joins Johnnie Lynn, Denny Marcin, John Dunn and Craig Stoddard as the only holdovers from Jim Fassel's original staff in 1997.

Brazil joined the Giants staff in the spring of 1992 as the team's linebackers coach under Ray Handley. From January, 1993 through the 2001 season, Brazil served as the team's defensive quality control coach, first under Dan Reeves and then Fassel. Brazil and Fassel coached together on Handley's staff in 1992. In 2002, Brazil became the senior defensive analyst, with Rod Rust taking over as defensive quality control coach.

Prior to joining the Giants, Brazil was the defensive coordinator of the Pittsburgh Steelers in 1990 and 1991 under Chuck Noll. He joined Noll's staff as linebackers coach in 1989. The 1990 Steelers defense under Brazil finished first in the NFL, allowing the fewest overall yards and fewest passing yards in the league.

From 1984 through the 1988 season, Brazil was a member of the Kansas City Chiefs coaching staff, first as secondary and then linebackers coach.

Before entering the NFL in 1984, Brazil was defensive coordinator at Kent State (1981-1982) and Boston College (1980). Brazil's first pro coaching experience was in the World Football League with the Detroit Wheels (1974) and the Chicago Wind (1975). Prior to joining the pro ranks, Brazil coached at Eastern Michigan (1971-1973), Tulsa (1969-1970) and Holy Cross (1968).

From 1958 through 1967, Brazil was a highly successful high school football coach in Detroit, Mich. At one point, his teams played seven consecutive seasons during which it lost no more than two games.

Brazil was born in Detroit on March 25, 1936. He graduated from the University of Detroit with a business administration degree. Brazil has five children: daughters Kathleen McCann and Mary Ann Gehrke and sons Daniel, Thomas and Patrick, who works with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers as Assistant Video Director.

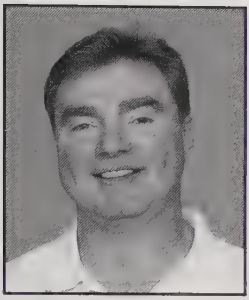
ASSISTANT COACHES



JOHN DUNN
STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING

Since Jim Fassel's arrival in 1997, the Giants have had one of the NFL's best-conditioned teams. One of the important factors that enabled the Giants to win the 2000 NFC Championship was their good health. Because the Giants suffered few serious injuries, they were able to keep their best players on the field throughout the season. Part of that was due to good fortune. But much credit deservedly goes to John Dunn, the strength and conditioning coach who designed the off-season program that prepares the players for the long season ahead.

Dunn joined Fassel's staff on Jan. 23, 1997 and immediately installed the highly-successful program, which combines conventional exercises with higher-intensity exercises, which put less stress on the joints.

"We put our athletes in safe anatomical positions and work their different muscle groups to exhaustion," Dunn said. "We want to keep our players healthier by not wearing down their joint systems."

Dunn came to the Giants after serving as the strength and conditioning coach for the San Diego Chargers from 1990-96 and the Los Angeles Raiders from 1987-89. Dunn began his career in the NFL as an assistant strength coach with the Washington Redskins from 1984-86. He is currently one of just five holdover coaches from Fassel's original Giants staff. The others are Johnnie Lynn, Denny Marcin, Dave Brazil and Dunn's assistant, Craig Stoddard.

In 1994, Dunn was voted the National Football League's Professional Strength and Conditioning Coach of the Year by his peers.

Dunn graduated with a degree in health and physical education from Penn State University in 1978. He played defensive line his first two seasons (1974-75) before switching to offensive tackle as a junior and then to guard as a senior. He was nicknamed "Mother" during his freshman season by his senior teammates at Penn State. He was named offensive co-captain for the Nittany Lions his senior season. Dunn signed as a free agent with the Philadelphia Eagles in 1978. He returned to Penn State as the team's assistant offensive line coach in 1979.

He operated "Mother Dunn's Nautilus Club" in York, Pa., and Goshen, N.Y., before coming to the NFL in 1984.

Dunn was born on July 22, 1956 in Hillsdale, New York. He was a three-sport star, including a nationally-ranked shot putter, for Taconic Hills High in Philmont, New York. Dunn and his wife, Julia, have two daughters, Jessica and Taylor.

ASSISTANT COACHES

DENNY MARCIN

DEFENSIVE LINE

The Giants have had one of the finest and most consistent defensive lines in the NFL since Denny Marcin began coaching that unit in 1997.

In Marcin's first six years with the team the Giants recorded 267 sacks, the fifth-highest total in the league over that span. Only New Orleans (309), St. Louis (281), Philadelphia (273) and Pittsburgh (272) have more sacks since the start of the 1997 season.

Under Marcin's direction, left end Michael Strahan has been selected to five of the last six Pro Bowls. During that time, Strahan has posted 77.5 sacks, including an NFL single-season record of 22.5 in 2001. Keith Hamilton, who missed most of last season after undergoing surgery to repair a torn Achilles tendon, remains an outstanding tackle as he enters his 12th season. He had perhaps his finest season when the Giants won the NFC Championship in 2000, when he posted 10 sacks. Cornelius Griffin has emerged as an impressive young lineman and Kenny Holmes increased his sack total from 3.5 in 2001 to 8.0 last season.

The Giants have also been strong against the run during Marcin's tenure. In those same six seasons, they allowed an average of 99.4 rushing yards per game, making them one of just seven teams with an average of less than a hundred yards. That figure is second in the NFC and seventh in the NFL.

Marcin was hired by Jim Fassel on Feb. 10, 1997. The Giants sack total increased from 30 in 1996 to 54 in 1997, a season in which two Giants finished with double-digit sack totals: Strahan tied for third in the NFL with 14 sacks and DT Robert Harris notched 10. It marked the first time the Giants had two players with double-digit sack totals since 1986. The feat was duplicated during the 1998 season when Strahan tallied 15 sacks and DE Chad Bratzke had 11, a career-high, and the Giants led the NFL with 54 sacks.

Prior to joining the Giants staff, Marcin's coaching career saw him travel far and wide, not only across the United States, but also to the far reaches of the globe. He spent two seasons (1993 and 1995) as a "guest coach" for the Konan University football team in Japan.

Immediately before joining the Giants staff, Marcin spent nine seasons (1988-1996) as the defensive line coach for the University of Illinois. In addition to his defensive line responsibilities, he spent four seasons (1992-95) as defensive coordinator before becoming assistant head coach for the 1996 season. His expert tutelage helped mold the careers of future NFL players Simeon Rice, Kevin Hardy, both NFL first-round draft choices, and Moe Gardner, a two-time All America and 1991 fourth round draft choice of the Atlanta Falcons.

Prior to coaching the Illini, Marcin was the defensive coordinator and later assistant head coach for the University of North Carolina Tarheels (1978-87). During his decade at Chapel Hill, the Tarheels sent 24 defensive players to the NFL, including Hall of Fame linebacker Lawrence Taylor. The North Carolina defense was ranked No. 1 in the country following the bowl games at the conclusion of the 1981 season.

Before joining North Carolina, Marcin was an assistant coach at his alma mater, Miami of Ohio (1974-77) where he served as defensive coordinator and then assistant head coach for the 1977 season. Marcin graduated with a B.S. in education in 1964 from Miami of Ohio, where he played on the defensive and offensive lines.

This past February, Marcin was inducted into Miami of Ohio's Cradle of Coaches Association, which honors coaches who began their careers at that Oxford, Ohio school. The list of football coaches in the association includes Paul Brown, Weeb Ewbank and Ara Parseghian.

Marcin literally wrote the book on defensive line play, as he penned, "Coaching Football: Tilted Nose Technique," a book designed to aid coaches in instructing a technique often used in defensive line play.

A native of Cleveland, Marcin and his wife, Betsey, have four children: Jeff, Denny (married to Lynn), Melinda and Susie, and five grandsons.

JIM MCNALLY
OFFENSIVE LINE

Last year, Jim McNally demonstrated again why he is regarded as one of the very best offensive line coaches in the NFL. This year, he will be asked to prove it again.

In 2002, McNally incorporated four new starters into the line. Chris Bober, Rich Seubert, Jason Whittle and Mike Rosenthal replaced Dusty Zeigler (who missed most of the season recuperating from knee surgery), Glenn Parker, Lomas Brown and Ron Stone. The fifth starter, Luke Petitgout, moved from right to left tackle. Prior to the season, the offensive line was considered the most vulnerable unit on the Giants. But under McNally's tutelage, it played exceptionally well throughout the season. The Giants finished the regular season ranked sixth in the NFL in total offense, with 364.1 yards a game. It is their highest ranking and most yards per game since the 1985 Giants finished fifth in total offense with 367.8 yards a game. The Giants were ranked sixth in the league in passing, with 246.9 yards a game. It was their highest ranking since they were fifth in 1984. The 246.9 yards per game broke the old record of 236.2 passing yards per game, set in 1962. The Giants' 3,951 net passing yards broke the previous record of 3,719, set in 1999. They allowed only 24 sacks, tying them with San Diego for the league's fifth-lowest total.

With the line providing superb protection, quarterback Kerry Collins established team records for completions (335) and passing yards (4,073) and set a career-high by completing 61.5 percent of his passes.

This season, McNally must reconstruct the right side of the line, because Whittle and Rosenthal departed as free agents. McNally has met that challenge before and demonstrated a knack for molding a group comprised of both holdovers and newcomers into a cohesive and successful line.

In 2000, he received three new players

(Zeigler, Brown and Parker) and had a fourth (Petitgout) playing a new position, yet the offensive line played superbly and was an important factor in the Giants' rise to the NFC Championship.

The following year, Stone made the Pro Bowl for the second straight year and Petitgout was selected to Sports Illustrated's All-Pro team under McNally's tutelage. McNally's line helped the Giants finish ninth in the NFL in total offense, with an average of 333.4 yards a game. It was the team's highest ranking since 1985, when the Giants were fifth in the NFL in total offense with an average of 367.8 yards a game. The Giants averaged 111.1 rushing yards a game and were tied for eighth in the NFL with 222.4 passing yards game.

Then McNally had to start virtually from scratch last year and put together a line that powered the Giants' drive to a playoff berth.

McNally is entering his fifth season with the Giants and 24th as a coach in the NFL. He also coached with the Carolina Panthers (1995-1998) and the Cincinnati Bengals (1980-1994).

He first earned his reputation for excellence in Cincinnati, where he coached Hall of Famer Anthony Munoz, considered by many to be the best offensive tackle in league history. The Bengals established one of the league's strongest rushing attacks, finishing 2-4-1-1-6 from 1986 until 1990 in league rushing. During his 15 years with Cincinnati, the Bengals advanced to two Super Bowls. When McNally was at Carolina, the Panthers advanced to the NFC Championship Game against Green Bay in only their second season of existence.

McNally joined Cincinnati in 1980 after spending 15 years in the college ranks, where he was an assistant at Wake Forest (1978-79), Boston College (1975-77), and Marshall (1971-74). Prior to joining the Marshall staff, he was an assistant coach at his alma mater, the University of Buffalo, for six seasons (1965-70).

McNally played guard at Buffalo from 1961-64. The combination of his playing career and his coaching expertise earned him a spot in the university's Hall of Fame.

McNally was born on Dec. 13, 1943 in Buffalo, N. Y. He graduated from Kenmore (N.Y.) West High School and is in the school's Hall of Fame. Nationally, McNally is known for his clinics on offensive line coaching, which he conducts in the off-season. McNally and his wife Carolyn have two daughters, Jenny and Betsy, and a son, Jon. Jenny is the Director of Sales for the Cincinnati Reds of Major League Baseball, Betsy is a personal fitness trainer and Jon is an entertainer.

TOM OLIVADOTTI
LINEBACKERS

Tom Olivadotti is entering his 36th season in the coaching ranks, 19th in the NFL and fourth as the Giants linebackers coach. In his previous 18 NFL seasons, Olivadotti's clubs have made the playoffs 12 times, won six division titles and one conference title and compiled a 173-114 (.603) record. He has been associated with only two losing seasons in the last 22 years.

Throughout his tenure with the Giants, several of Olivadotti's linebackers have distinguished themselves. Last season, Mike Barrow led the Giants with 133 tackles, two shy of the team record he set in 2001. Dhani Jones, in his first season as a starter, had 101 tackles. Both Barrow and Jones missed one game due to injury. Brandon Short played all 16 games and added 96 tackles, including three sacks. With the linebackers playing well against both the run and pass, the Giants were third in the NFL in scoring defense (17.4 points a game) and ninth in yardage allowed (309.3 a game).

In addition, Olivadotti has helped develop a promising group of young linebackers behind the starters, including 2002 draft choices Nick Greisen, Wesley Mallard and Quincy Monk, as well as Kevin Lewis.

In 2001, the Giants finished eighth in the NFL in rushing defense, allowing 96.6 yards per game – the third consecutive season they held opponents to less than 100 rushing yards a game. That season, linebacker Jessie Armstead played in his fourth consecutive Pro Bowl. In his first season with the Giants in 2000, Olivadotti helped tutor a defense that was second in the NFC and fifth in the NFL in points allowed (246), fifth in the league in yards allowed per game (284.1) and second against the run (72.3 yards a game).

Olivadotti's coaching career began on the high school level in New Jersey in 1967. After working as an assistant at three high schools, he became the head coach at Salesianum High School in Wilmington, Del. in 1972.

Olivadotti graduated to the collegiate ranks when he joined the staff at Princeton University (1976-77) where he coached the linebackers in 1976 and the offensive line in 1977. He went on to serve as the defensive coordinator and coach linebackers for Boston College (1978-79), where he oversaw several future NFL players, including Pro Bowlers Fred Smerlas and Joe Nash. He then became the defensive coordinator and linebackers coach for the University of Miami (1980-83). Olivadotti helped turn the Miami program into one of the best in the country. In his final season with the Hurricanes they defeated Nebraska to secure the first of the school's three national championships in the 1980s. During his tenure at UM, Olivadotti coached 18 players that were drafted into the NFL.

Olivadotti got there himself as the Cleveland Browns linebackers coach in 1985 and '86. In his first season in Cleveland he helped the Browns capture the AFC Central title. Among those under Olivadotti's tutelage were Pro Bowler Clay Matthews and Chip Banks, who finished sixth in the AFC with 11 sacks in 1985.

In his second season with the Browns, Olivadotti coached defensive backs. The Browns posted their best season since 1969 with a 12-4 record as they advanced to the AFC Championship game. Olivadotti's star pupils - Hanford Dixon and Frank Minniefield - were both voted to the Pro Bowl.

ASSISTANT COACHES

Olivadotti moved back to Miami in 1987, this time as the Dolphins' defensive coordinator, a post he held through the 1995 season. His expertise helped the Dolphins defense finish the 1990 season ranked seventh in the NFL in fewest yards allowed (284.2), the first time since 1983 that the Miami defense was ranked higher than 19th in the league. Miami also ended the season second in the league in touchdown passes allowed (14), tied for second in touchdowns allowed (26), ranked fourth in points allowed (242), tied for fourth in sacks (45) and fifth in pass defense (169.8) en route to a 12-4 campaign. Miami's 1994 defense finished tied for the league-lead in interceptions (23).

His best statistical season in Miami was in 1995, when he coached a Dolphins defense that tied for second in the NFL in fewest rushing touchdowns allowed (7) and finished sixth in the league in third-down defense (34.2).

Olivadotti made his debut in the NFC as the inside linebackers coach for the Minnesota Vikings in 1996. In each of Olivadotti's four seasons with Minnesota, one of his proteges led the club in stops. In 1996, Jeff Brady, who had started seven NFL games prior to that season, achieved a career-high in tackles (146) and fumble recoveries (3), leading the team in both categories. In Olivadotti's second campaign, Ed McDaniel led the team in tackles (135) and tackles for loss (11). Olivadotti's troops led the Vikings in tackles again in his final season in Minnesota as Ed McDaniel made 166 (110 solo) tackles and Dwayne Rudd finished second with 152 (102 solo) tackles.

As a player, Olivadotti was a four-year letter winner at Upsala College (1963-1966) where he was a starter at defensive back, linebacker and wide receiver. He also lettered in baseball and track. Olivadotti earned his degree in business from Upsala. After graduating, he played semi-professional football while coaching high school football in New Jersey.

Olivadotti and his wife, Karen, have a daughter, Kari Anne (9/30/70), and a son, Kirk (1/1/74). Kari Anne married Ben Peters in February, 1999. Kirk played wide receiver for Purdue University. He married Keely in February, 2001, and presently works for the Washington Redskins.

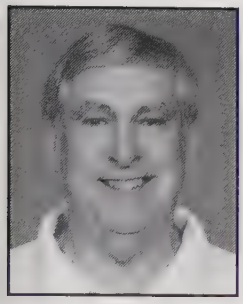
ASSISTANT COACHES



MICHAEL POPE
TIGHT ENDS

Michael Pope enhanced his reputation as the NFL's finest tight ends coach last season, when his guidance and teaching helped turn Jeremy Shockey into a Pro Bowler. Shockey, last year's first-round draft choice, caught 74 passes, the fifth-highest total in team history and a team record for both rookies and tight ends. He led all NFL tight ends in receiving and receiving yards (894) and he became the first rookie tight end to make the Pro Bowl since 1988. Shockey was elected to several all-pro teams.

Pope has long been an outstanding tutor of tight ends. Shockey became the fifth tight end to play for Pope to make the NFL's all-rookie team, joining former Giants Zeke Mowatt, 1983; Mark Bavaro, 1985; and Howard Cross, 1989; and Cincinnati's Tony McGee, 1993. Pope is not only successful at grooming young talent, but he is also adept at guiding his veteran students to elite status. Five of his players have been selected to the Pro Bowl – Bavaro, Rodney Holman (Bengals), Ben Coates (Patriots), Stephen Alexander (Redskins) and Shockey.

In two stints as a Giants assistant coach, Pope has been with the team for all three of its Super Bowl appearances. He has coached in 22 postseason games and is one of the few assistants to make four trips to the Super Bowl, having also gone with the New England Patriots in 1996.

Pope, who was hired on Feb. 11, 2000, is entering his 21st season as an NFL coach. He played a major role in bringing a new vitality to the Giants offense when his second tour with the team began in 2000, and in further energizing it last year by standing at the forefront of Shockey's development.

Pope was a member of the Giants coaching staff from 1983-91. His first season with the Giants was as an assistant special teams coach; he became the tight ends coach the following season. Pope's second Giants tour followed three seasons with the Washington Redskins (1997-99) as tight ends coach. Pope began his Patriots tenure in 1994 as running backs coach before moving to tight ends coach in 1995. Prior to joining the Patriots, Pope spent two seasons with the Cincinnati Bengals. He served as the team's tight ends coach his first season before being promoted to offensive coordinator in 1993.

Prior to coaching in the NFL, Pope spent 13 seasons in the collegiate and high school ranks. His first coaching position was at Lenoir (N.C.) High School in 1964, and he coached at high schools in Charlotte, N.C., Jacksonville, Fla., and Lake Wales, Fla.

His first job in college football was with Florida State from 1970-74 as a receivers coach and recruiting coordinator. He then moved to Texas Tech (1975-77) where he served as an assistant coach and recruiter. From 1978-82, Pope was on the coaching staff at the University of Mississippi, where he coached the receivers, as well as punters and kickers.

During his collegiate days, Pope played quarterback for Lenoir-Rhyne College where he won all-conference honors three consecutive seasons. He led the team to a national title and a combined 34-8-3 record during his playing career.

Pope was born March 15, 1942 in Monroe, NC. He has two sons, Travus and Daron. Both work in the financial district in New York City.

MIKE PRIEFER
ASST. SPECIAL TEAMS/ADMINISTRATIVE ASST.

Mike Priefer was hired on Feb. 4, 2003 to fill the new position of assistant special teams coach and administrative assistant to head coach Jim Fassel.

Priefer spent the 2002 season in those same roles on former coach Tom Coughlin's staff in Jacksonville. It was his first season in the NFL. His father, Chuck Priefer, is entering his seventh season as the special teams coach of the Detroit Lions.

Priefer graduated from the Naval Academy in 1989 with a degree in economics. He earned a master's degree in management from the University of Maryland in 1997.

Priefer played quarterback and wide receiver on Navy's junior varsity and lightweight teams from 1985 to 1988. He later flew helicopters as a Naval officer from 1991 to 1994. Priefer was stationed on the USS America in the Persian Gulf a year after the Persian Gulf War.

Priefer began his coaching career at the Naval Academy in 1994. In three seasons as a Navy coach, he worked with the special teams, serving as the kickers, punters and snappers coach for the varsity in 1994, and the junior varsity defensive coordinator and special teams coach in 1995 and `96. He also worked with the linebackers and defensive line.

In 1997-98, Priefer was the tackles/tight ends coach and assistant special teams coordinator at Youngstown State, which won the Division 1-AA national championship in 1997. He was the inside linebackers coach/special teams coordinator at Virginia Military Institute in 1999 and the defensive tackles coach and special teams assistant at Northern Illinois in 2000-2001.

Priefer was born on Aug. 21, 1966. He and his wife, Debbie, have four children: daughters Samantha (7/10/93) and Katie (11/13/98) and sons Michael, Jr. (12/13/94) and Wilson (12/21/97).

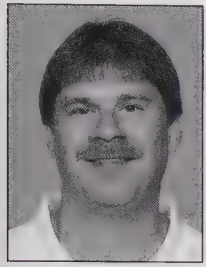
ASSISTANT COACHES



BRUCE READ
SPECIAL TEAMS

Bruce Read is in his second season as the Giants' special teams coach. Last year under Read, the Giants improved statistically in six of eight special teams categories, including kickoff return average, punt return average and opponents kickoff return and punt return average. The Giants did not allow a touchdown on a punt or kickoff return in 2002, the second consecutive season a Read-coached team could make that claim.

Read helped rookie kicker Matt Bryant score 108 points, the second-highest total by a kicker in franchise history. Another rookie, Delvin Joyce, was 10th in the NFC with a 23.5-yard kickoff return average, the highest by a Giant since Rondy Colbert averaged 24.0 yards in 1975. Marcellus Rivers set a team record with 25 special teams tackles.

Before he joined the Giants, Read spent three seasons as the special teams coach in San Diego, where the Chargers had consistently strong special teams.

Under Read, the Chargers led the NFL in 2001 with a kickoff return average of 26.0 yards. That was 4.4 yards more than the NFL average of 21.6 yards. San Diego's average drive starting position after a kickoff was the 33.1-yard line, the best in the league. The Chargers' Ronny Jenkins led the NFL with a 26.6 kickoff return average. He had two touchdowns, including a 93-yarder.

The Chargers' punt return average of 9.4 yards placed them 16th in the league. Tim Dwight was fifth in the AFC with an average of 11.3 yards a return.

San Diego's punt coverage team was seventh in the NFL in net average, yielded an average return of 10.8 yards, placing it 24th in the NFL. The Chargers scored four special teams touchdowns

In the 2000 season, San Diego's punter Darren Bennett was a Pro Bowler after leading the NFL with a 46.2-yard gross average. The previous year, Bennett's 38.7-yard net average topped the league. In 2001 Bennett's 36.9-yard net average was seventh in the NFL. The Chargers did not have a punt blocked in Reid's three seasons in San Diego.

This is Read's 18th season as a special teams coach. Prior to his three-year stint in San Diego, he spent two years (1997-98) as the special teams coach at Oregon State, where he worked under Mike Riley, who brought him to San Diego. In his 22 games with the Beavers, Oregon State's special teams blocked 15 kicks, including eight field goal or PAT attempts, and seven punts.

Read coached at the University of Montana for 11 seasons (1986-96) as the school's special teams coach.

During Read's tenure at Montana, the Grizzlies broke 20 special teams records as a team and 11 individual special teams records. The Grizzlies won three Big Sky championships (1993, 95 and 96) as well as the NCAA Division 1-AA title in 1995.

Read was born Jan. 21, 1962 in Santa Rosa, Calif. He attended the Oregon Institute of Technology in 1981-82 before finishing his college education at Portland State, earning a bachelor's degree in social science in 1986.

Read and his wife, Christina, have two sons, Justin (7/12/86) and Joshua (8/2/92).

JAY ROBERTSON
OFFENSIVE QUALITY CONTROL

Jay Robertson is in his fourth season as the Giants offensive quality control coach. He joined the coaching staff on Aug. 24, 2000.

Prior to joining the Giants, Robertson had served as an Indianapolis Colts defensive assistant coach on two occasions: 1992-93 and 1997.

Robertson's first coaching job was as an assistant at Northwestern in 1967. Over a nine-year stint at the Big Ten school (1967-1975), he coached the offensive and defensive lines, outside linebackers and receivers. He moved to Northern Illinois in 1976 as defensive coordinator and secondary coach. Robertson tutored tight ends and receivers at Wisconsin from 1980-81. He was defensive line coach at Notre Dame from 1982-83 before moving to West Point and serving as linebackers coach at the United States Military Academy (1984-91).

Robertson was a three-year letterman at center at Northwestern. He was a senior captain for Ara Parseghian in 1962 when Northwestern posted a 7-2 record. He played in the East-West Shrine Game and the Southwest Challenge Bowl. Robertson holds a bachelor's degree in history and a master's degree in business administration from Northwestern. He entered the U.S. Marine Corps following graduation and was a player/coach for the Quantico Marines. He attained the rank of captain and served one year in Vietnam as a rifle platoon and infantry company commander.

Robertson was born Feb. 20, 1940, in Chicago, Ill. He is married to the former Kathy Aluise of Huntington, W.Va. They have a son, William (5/7/87).

JIMMY ROBINSON
WIDE RECEIVERS

With Jimmy Robinson as their coach, the Giants wide receivers have enjoyed their longest period of sustained excellence in the history of the franchise.

In 2002, Amani Toomer established team records with 82 catches and 1,387 receiving yards. Toomer is the first player in Giants history to catch at least 70 passes in four consecutive seasons and have at least 1,000 receiving yards in four consecutive seasons. Ike Hilliard had caught at least one pass in a team-record 68 consecutive games before he suffered a season-ending dislocated shoulder. Young veterans Ron Dixon, Tim Carter and Daryl Jones are all promising players.

Robinson's receivers helped the Giants average 246.9 passing yards a game, placing them sixth in the NFL, their highest ranking since they were fifth in 1984. The 246.9 yards per game was a team record, breaking the former mark of 236.2 passing yards per game, set in 1962. The Giants' 3,951 net passing yards broke the previous record of 3,719, set in 1999. The receivers helped quarterback Kerry Collins set franchise records with 335 completions and 4,073 passing yards, as well as a career-best 61.5 percent completion rate.

In 2001, Giants wide receivers caught a team-record 186 passes. They accounted for 2,680 yards (14.4-yard average) and 15 touchdowns.

Under Robinson's guidance, Toomer has become one of the most productive wide receivers in franchise history. Toomer is third on the Giants' all-time receiving list with 355 catches. He trails only Joe Morrison (395) and Frank Gifford (367). Toomer's 5,309 receiving yards places him second in team history behind Gifford's 5,434 yards.

In 1999, Toomer and Ike Hilliard combined to total more than 2,000 (2,179) yards receiving, a feat no other wide receiver tandem in Giants history had ever accomplished. Toomer set a career high with his 1,183 receiving yards, while Hilliard contributed 996 yards. While Toomer set a record with his 79 catches, Hilliard was close behind with 72.

Robinson has made a habit in his life of returning to his roots. So when Jim Fassel hired Robinson as his wide receivers coach on Feb.13, 1998, Robinson was returning to his childhood home in the New York City area and to the team with which he enjoyed his greatest success as a player.

Prior to joining the Giants, Robinson served as the wide receivers coach for the Indianapolis Colts (1994-97) and the Atlanta Falcons (1990-93). With the Colts he helped Marvin Harrison become the third rookie in Colts history to lead the team in receptions. In addition, Sean Dawkins' receptions steadily improved under Robinson's tutelage. While in Atlanta he guided Andre Rison and Michael Haynes to the top of the NFL touchdown receptions tandem list in 1991 and 1992 and Rison combined with Mike Pritchard in 1993.

Perhaps it was destiny that brought Robinson to the Giants. He played with the team from 1976-79 and scored the first Giants touchdown in Giants Stadium history on a 30-yard pass from Craig Morton against the Dallas Cowboys on Oct. 10, 1976. Before joining the Giants, Robinson was drafted by Atlanta (1975). After leaving the Giants, Robinson played for San Francisco (1980) and Denver (1981).

Robinson began his coaching career in the USFL as receivers/tight ends coach for the Memphis Showboats from 1984-85. He returned to his alma mater, Georgia Tech, as a wide receivers coach from 1987-89 before he joined the Atlanta Falcons in the same capacity.

A standout receiver at Georgia Tech (1971-74), Robinson amassed 101 receptions for 1,633 yards and 13 touchdowns. He was selected to the school's Hall of Fame in 1981 and named to the school's All-Time Team in 1992. He earned a bachelor's degree in Industrial Management at Georgia Tech.

Robinson was born Jan. 3, 1953 in New York City. He is married to the former Karen Gresham of Rome, Ga. The couple has four children. Jamie (4/4/78) is employed as a business analyst with DeLoitte Consulting in Atlanta. Jessica (2/25/81) was the recipient of the 2000 Mara Scholarship, a $5,000 grant given annually to the child of a former Giants player. She is a senior at Georgia Tech. Jim (4/1/86) and Katie (3/23/88) attend Wayne Hills High School.

ROD RUST

DEFENSIVE QUALITY CONTROL

Rod Rust is in his second season as the Giants defensive quality control coach. He returned to the team in 2002 after a nine-year absence. Rust was the team's defensive coordinator in 1992 – the season that head coach Jim Fassel was the offensive coordinator.

Rust, who has been a head coach in the NFL, the Canadian Football League and at the collegiate level, replaced Dave Brazil, who is now the Giants' senior defensive analyst.

Rust began his coaching career as the defensive line coach at the University of New Mexico in 1960. Three years later, he began a four-year stint as the defensive coordinator at Stanford. From 1967-72, Rust was the head coach at North Texas State.

Rust entered pro football in 1973 as the defensive coordinator for the Canadian Football League's Montreal Alouettes under Marv Levy. He remained there for three seasons before becoming the Philadelphia Eagles' linebackers coach in 1976 and '77. Rust then joined the Kansas City Chiefs for a five-year stint as the team's defensive coordinator.

He left Kansas City to serve the New England Patriots in the same capacity for five seasons, then returned to the Chiefs as defensive coordinator in 1988. Rust was the defensive coordinator for the Pittsburgh Steelers in 1989, then the head coach of the Patriots in 1990. He spent a season as New England's coordinator of pro scouting before joining the Giants in 1992.

After leaving the Giants, Rust spent a season as a defensive assistant with the Winnipeg Blue Bombers. He then joined the Atlanta Falcons, first as a defensive assistant in 1995, then as the defensive coordinator the following season.

In 1997, Rust returned to Montreal, where he served in a variety of roles, beginning as linebackers coach before becoming the defensive coordinator and finally the head coach. The Alouettes had a 9-2 record before injuries decimated the team.

TURK SCHONERT
QUARTERBACKS

Turk Schonert was hired as the Giants new quarterbacks coach on Jan. 21, 2003. He replaced Sean Payton, who is now assistant head coach and quarterbacks coach for the Dallas Cowboys.

Schonert, who played 10 years in the NFL, had most recently coached in the league in 2001, when he was the quarterbacks coach on George Seifert's staff with the Carolina Panthers. Schonert was let go when Seifert was fired following that season and replaced by former Giants defensive coordinator John Fox. Last year, Schonert was out of the NFL, though not entirely out of football – he coached his son Jake's Pop Warner League team in Charlotte, N.C.

Schonert began his coaching career in 1992 as the quarterbacks coach of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers. He was hired by Sam Wyche, his former coach with the Cincinnati Bengals who that year became coach of the Bucs. At Tampa Bay, Schonert worked with a number of prominent quarterbacks, including Vinny Testaverde, Steve DeBerg, Craig Erickson and Trent Dilfer.

Schonert's four-year stint with the Bucs ended after the 1995 season. He returned to Cincinnati, where he spent two years hosting a sports talk show.

Schonert resumed his coaching career in 1998 as the quarterbacks coach of the Buffalo Bills, a job he held for three seasons. The top quarterback in Buffalo during that time was Doug Flutie. Schonert joined the Panthers in 2001.

Schonert entered the NFL as the ninth-round draft choice of the Chicago Bears in 1980. He never played for the Bears, and moved to the Bengals that year. Schonert played in Cincinnati for six years, was traded to Atlanta for the 1986 season, then returned to Cincinnati from 1987-89. In 10 seasons he played in 72 games, including 12 starts, compiling a 7-5 record. Schonert completed 311 of 504 passes (61.7 percent) for 3,788 yards and 11 touchdowns.

Head coach Jim Fassel and Schonert first worked together in 1979. Fassel, then working his way up the coaching ladder, was named the offensive coordinator at Stanford. Schonert was a senior quarterback. The pairing was successful for both men. Schonert led the nation in passing efficiency (164.5) and the Pac 10 in touchdown passes (19). He also set school records for completion percentage (67.1) and lowest interception rate (2.71).

A native of Torrance, Ca., Schonert was born on Jan. 15, 1957. His full name is Turk Leroy Schonert. He and his wife, Beth, have two sons, Jake (10/27/90), and Hayden (9/2/94), and a daughter, Camery (12/21/91).

CRAIG STODDARD

ASSISTANT STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING

Craig Stoddard is in his seventh season as the Giants assistant strength and conditioning coach. He joined the Giants coaching staff on Feb. 1, 1997, after spending two seasons (1995-96) as a graduate assistant strength coach on Joe Paterno's staff at Penn State. The Nittany Lions advanced to the Outback Bowl in 1995 and the Fiesta Bowl in 1996 during Stoddard's tenure.

After graduating with a degree in Exercise Science from Springfield College in 1994, Stoddard interned under strength coach John Dunn with the San Diego Chargers during the 1994 season. He served as Fitness Director at New Canaan High School in Connecticut prior to joining the Penn State staff. Stoddard was a middle linebacker at Springfield College.

Stoddard was born in North Tarrytown, New York on Feb. 8, 1972 and raised in Brookfield, Connecticut. He is married to the former Amanda Larrabee of Beverly, Mass. They have a daughter, Regan Jade (born 12/6/00).

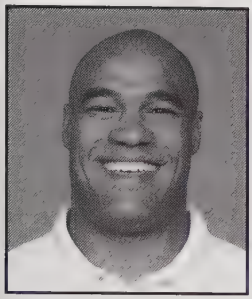
ASSISTANT COACHES



ERIC STUDESVILLE
RUNNING BACKS

The Giants running backs have had two extremely productive seasons since Eric Studesville became the unit's coach prior to the 2001 season. Studesville was hired by Jim Fassel on Feb. 28, 2001 after serving as the Chicago Bears offensive quality control coach the previous four seasons.

Under Studesville, Giants running backs rushed for 1,817 yards and caught 99 passes for another 776 yards in 2002. Tiki Barber had one of the most productive seasons by a running back in team history, rushing for 1,387 yards, second only to Joe Morris' 1,516 yards in 1986. Barber scored a career-high 11 touchdowns. Another running back, Ron Dayne, added 428 yards and scored three touchdowns.

In 2001, the Giants backs rushed for 1,659 yards and caught 123 passes for an additional 922 yards. Barber rushed for 865 yards and caught 72 passes, despite missing two-plus games with a hamstring injury. Dayne led the Giants with seven touchdowns.

Studesville joined the Bears coaching staff prior to the 1997 season. His responsibilities included overseeing offensive research and quality control as well as assisting with the coaching of Chicago's running backs.

Before joining the Chicago staff, Studesville coached in the collegiate ranks. He was the defensive backs coach at Kent (1995-96) and at Wingate University in North Carolina (1994). He also served on the coaching staffs at North Carolina (1992-93) and Arizona (1991).

A native of Madison, Wis., Studesville earned a degree in physical education with a minor in coaching at the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater, where he played defensive back. He received a master's degree in exercise physiology from Arizona. He worked with the Bears coaching staff during training camp in 1996 as part of the minority fellowship program.

Studesville was born on May 29, 1967.

ASSISTANT COACHES

DEWAYNE WALKER
SECONDARY

DeWayne Walker is in his second season as the Giants' secondary coach. He was hired on Feb. 8, 2002. Walker succeeded Johnnie Lynn, who was promoted to defensive coordinator. It was not the first time Walker had followed Lynn. He was three years behind Lynn at Muir High School in Pasadena, Calif.

With the secondary enjoying a solid season, the Giants were ninth in the NFL in pass defense, allowing 194.9 yards a game. Under Walker, Will Allen and William Peterson solidified their reputation as one of the NFL's finest young cornerback tandems, Shaun Williams made a successful transition from free to strong safety, and Omar Stoutmire had a productive season at free safety.

Walker perhaps did his best work the week of the Dec. 8 game at Washington. Allen and Peterson missed the game with injuries, forcing Jason Sehorn and Ralph Brown into the starting lineup. Kato Serwanga, signed that week, also made big contributions in the secondary in a 27-21 Giants victory.

Walker came to the Giants from the University of Southern California, where he spent the 2001 season as the secondary coach and associate head coach. The Trojans were ranked 16th among the nation's 115 Division 1-A schools in pass defense, allowing 179.2 yards through the air per game. USC was tied for seventh in the country (with Nebraska, Ohio State and Virginia Tech) with 19 interceptions (plus one in the Las Vegas Bowl). Twelve different players had at least one interception for the Trojans in 2001.

Two of his former players were selected in the 2002 NFL Draft: Kris Richard in the third round by Seattle and Chris Cash in the sixth round by Detroit.

Prior to joining the staff at USC, Walker spent three seasons as a defensive assistant with the New England Patriots. During his tenure, Patriots defensive backs Lawyer Milloy and Ty Law each made the Pro Bowl.

Walker began his coaching career at Mt. San Antonio Junior College in Walnut, Calif., from 1988-92. He was the secondary coach for the first four seasons before becoming the defensive coordinator in 1992. Mt. SAC played in the Southern California Bowl in 1988 and the Simple Green/Orange County Classic in 1992.

Walker moved to the Division I collegiate level in 1993, when he coached the defensive backs at Utah State. He developed a pair of all-conference cornerbacks in Damon Smith and Donald Toomer. The Aggies beat Ball State in the Las Vegas Bowl that season.

In 1994, Walker coached the secondary and punt returners at Brigham Young, where cornerback Pat Mitchell was an all-league selection. The Cougars defeated Oklahoma in the Copper Bowl that season.

Walker moved to Oklahoma State in 1995 where he coached the secondary, including cornerback R.W. McQuarters, who was a first-round choice in the 1998 NFL draft.

Walker spent the next two seasons (1996 and '97) as the secondary coach at the University of California, where he coached future NFL defensive backs Kato Serwanga and Marquis Smith. The Golden Bears played in the 1996 Aloha Bowl.

From 1998-2000, Walker assisted with the secondary for the Patriots, first under Pete Carroll for two seasons and then for one year under Bill Belichick. He left to go to USC and re-join Carroll, whom he had met while serving a minority coaching internship with the San Francisco 49ers in 1996. He had a similar internship with Carroll at the Patriots in 1997.

Walker starred at Muir High School. He was a defensive back at Pasadena City College in 1978 and '79, earning all-conference honors his second season. He then started at cornerback for two seasons (1980-81) at the University of Minnesota. Walker earned a bachelor's degree from Regents College in Albany, N.Y.

Walker played professionally for three seasons: With the Edmonton Eskimos of the CFL in 1982, then with the USFL's Oakland Invaders in 1984 and Arizona Outlaws in 1985.

He was born Dec. 3, 1960. He and his wife, Zan, have three children: daughters Kesha (5/22/81), and Kendra (12/20/92), and a son, Kevan (10/29/89).

PLAYER PERSONNEL

JERRY REESE
DIRECTOR OF PLAYER PERSONNEL

Jerry Reese is in his second season as the team's Director of Player Personnel after serving for three years as the Assistant Director of Pro Personnel. Reese oversees all aspects of college scouting, including primary responsibility for organizing the Giants drafts.

He originally joined the Giants scouting department on Dec. 15, 1994. In the spring of 1999, he became Dave Gettleman's assistant in the pro personnel department. Reese came to the Giants after a successful playing and coaching career at the University of Tennessee at Martin. During his college playing career (1981-1984), Reese was honored as a two-time All-Gulf South Conference pick. He is among the leaders on UT-Martin's all-time career list in interceptions and still holds several punt return records. Reese was GSC Defensive Player of the Week three times during his career and was named team MVP following his senior season.

Following his playing career, Reese served as a student assistant and as a graduate assistant before becoming a full-time coach of the secondary from 1988 through 1993. He moved to coaching the receivers and assumed the assistant head coach title in January of 1993.

Reese has his Bachelor's degree in Health and Physical Education and earned his Master's degree in Education Administration and Supervision. In the fall of 1995, Reese was inducted into the U-T Martin Hall of Fame.

Reese was born on July 22, 1963. He is married to the former Gwen Moore, who is also a UT-Martin graduate. The couple has two children, Jasmyne Danielle and Jerry II, and resides in Oak Ridge, NJ.

DAVID GETTLEMAN
DIRECTOR OF PRO PERSONNEL

Dave Gettleman is in his fifth season as the Giants' Director of Pro Personnel. He joined the Giants in 1998 as the Assistant Director of Pro Personnel, assisting then-director Tim Rooney with the pro scouting evaluation process. Gettleman came to the Giants after spending 4 1/2 seasons as an area scout for the Denver Broncos, concentrating on the East Coast and Southeast regions.

Gettleman, 52, became a full-time scout with Buffalo in 1987. He was assigned as the Bills' representative to the BLESTO scouting combine in 1988, and continued in that capacity through 1992. From June 1992 through December 1993 he worked as a regional scout for the BLESTO combine.

Gettleman began his coaching career at Spackenkill High School in Poughkeepsie, New York as head coach (1972-78), leading his team to a pair of league titles. He spent a year as a graduate assistant at Cal State Long Beach (1979-80), then returned to Spackenkill High School as the head coach for the 1980 and 81 seasons. Gettleman joined the faculty at Kingston (N.Y.) High School as a teacher-coach in 1982. In 1984 he became the head football coach at Kingston High School and led his team to a bowl berth.

Born in Boston, Massachusetts on Feb. 21, 1951, Gettleman earned a bachelor's degree from Springfield (Mass.) College in 1972 and was an offensive tackle for the football team for one season. He has two master's degrees: one in physical education from Southern Connecticut State (1978) and another in sports administration from St. Thomas University in Miami (1986).

Gettleman and his wife, Joanne, have three children, Aaron, Sam and Ana Jane and live in North Haledon, NJ.

PLAYER PERSONNEL

JERRY SHAY
DIRECTOR OF COLLEGE SCOUTING

Jerry Shay, a Giants tackle during the 1970 and 1971 seasons, has been the team's Director of College Scouting since 1977. Prior to earning that title, Shay had been a scout for the team since 1973. While serving as a scout, Shay was responsible for the Western states area, including all of the West Coast as well as Wyoming, Montana and the Dakotas.

Shay was an All-America star at Purdue University and was the No. 1 draft choice of the Minnesota Vikings in 1966. He played for the Vikings for two years before being traded in 1968 to the Atlanta Falcons. He started in Atlanta for two seasons before coming to the Giants in a trade for a draft choice in 1970. Shay was a key performer that season as the Giants finished with a 9-5 record and missed the playoffs by one game. In that season's final game against the Rams, he suffered a broken leg. Shay retired following the 1971 season after appearing in only eight games.

Born on July 10, 1944 in Gary, Ind. (family name Dzedzeji), Jerry is married to the former Cynthia Zajkowski, and has three daughters: Tiffany Lee, the 1995 recipient of the John V. Mara Scholarship, awarded annually to the child of a former Giants player, Shannon Marie, and Jeri Lynn. The Shays reside in San Diego, California.

KEN STERNFELD
ASSISTANT DIRECTOR OF PRO PERSONNEL

Ken Sternfeld is in his second season as the Giants' Assistant Director of Pro Personnel. He joined the Giants on May 12, 2002 after spending 21 seasons with the New England Patriots in a variety of capacities, primarily in scouting. Most recently, he served as a college scout assigned to the East Coast region.

Sternfeld works closely with Director of Pro Personnel Dave Gettleman in the pro scouting evaluation process.
From 1995 until joining the Giants, Sternfeld was a member of the Patriots scouting department.

Sternfeld joined the Patriots as an intern in 1981. The following year, he began a two-year stint as an administrative aide. In 1984, Sternfeld was named the Patriots ticket office manager, a post he held until 1987.

In 1987, he joined the scouting department for five years before returning to the ticket office, where, during his second tenure, franchise tickets sales reached record highs.

Sternfeld returned to the scouting department in January of 1995 and remained there for the rest of his tenure in New England.

Born March 11, 1961, Sternfeld is a native of Long Island. He attended Locust Valley High in Locust Valley, N.Y., before earning a business degree at Northeastern University. Sternfeld and his wife Anne have two children, Anna and Timmy.

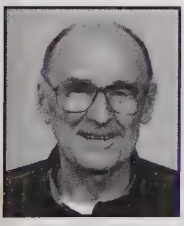
RAY WALSH, JR.

DIRECTOR OF RESEARCH & DEVELOPMENT

Ray "Whitey" Walsh has been with the Giants since 1973, initially as an administrative assistant before moving over to the scouting and player personnel department. As a youngster, Walsh worked at Giants preseason training camps from 1956-63.

Walsh, who is also known by his nickname "Whitey," earned a degree in Inter-American Relations at Fordham University in 1963 after graduating from Archbishop Stepinac High School in his hometown of White Plains, NewYork. After a tour of duty in the U.S. Army, he joined United Airlines in 1965 in the Passenger Service department and remained with United until April of 1973, when he joined the Giants.

Married to the former Judith Carey, Walsh is the father of two sons, David, 30, and Timothy, 15, and a daughter Susan, 28. The family resides in Ramsey, New Jersey. Aside from football, Walsh is an avid British history buff, particularly the medieval period, as well as a devotee of Hollywood movies from the 1930s and 1940s.



HARRY HULMES

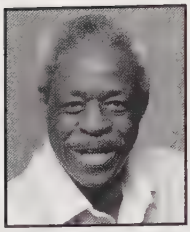
Harry Hulmes is in his 20th year with the Giants organization. After retiring from his post as Special Assistant to the General Manager in 1998, Hulmes has remained with the Giants as a player personnel scout, one of his duties since joining the club as Assistant General Manager in 1984. In his current role, Hulmes also serves as the team's training camp coordinator.

Prior to joining the Giants, Hulmes had served as Chief Operating Officer for the Arizona Wranglers of the USFL. But virtually all of his previous experience was within the NFL, where he served for 12 years with the Baltimore Colts and 13 years with the New Orleans Saints in a variety of positions.

Hulmes began his career in sports with the Baltimore Orioles as assistant business manager. He was then the sports information director at Bucknell University before entering the NFL as the Colts' business manager in 1958. Hulmes subsequently served as public relations director and general manager of the Colts before moving to the Saints in 1970 as assistant general manager. Until he departed for the Wranglers in 1982, Hulmes also served the Saints as Director of Player Personnel and Vice President of Administration.

Hulmes graduated from Northeast High School in Philadelphia, then spent three years in the Navy as a radarman in the South Pacific and Persian Gulf theaters. Hulmes earned a B.A. degree in journalism at the University of Pennsylvania after returning from the service.

Born on July 20, 1927 in Philadelphia, Hulmes is married to the former Barbara Lockhart of Mount Holly, N.J. and is the father of two daughters, Linda Ann and Terry Ellen, both graduates of LSU, and a son, Richard Wayne, also a graduate of LSU.



ROSIE BROWN

After a Hall of Fame career as a tackle for the Giants from 1953-1965, Roosevelt "Rosie" Brown continued his Giants affiliation as a coach before joining the scouting staff in 1971.

During his playing career, Brown was one of the greatest offensive linemen in the history of the National Football League. The wide-ranging tackle earned All-Pro honors eight times and was selected to play in the Pro Bowl on ten occasions. In 1956, Brown was voted Lineman of the Year in the NFL.

Brown was immediately named assistant line coach by the Giants after a phlebitis condition forced him to retire in 1966. In 1969, Brown replaced Jim Trimble as head line coach. In 1971, Brown, along with another coaching aide, Ken Kavanaugh, left Alex Webster's staff to assume new responsibilities under Jim Lee Howell, his one-time coach, in the scouting department.

Brown was born Oct. 20, 1932 in Charlottesville, Va. He and his wife, Linda, live in Columbus, N.J.

JOE COLLINS

Joe Collins, who has more than 30 years of experience in coaching and scouting, joined the Giants in March, 2002. Collins came to the Giants from the Cleveland Browns, where he was the club's Executive Director of Player Personnel from 1999-2001. In Cleveland, he was responsible for the Browns' pro and college personnel departments.

Collins joined the Browns in March, 1999. From 1995 until his appointment with the Browns, Collins was the San Francisco 49ers Coordinator of Pro Personnel. Before moving to San Francisco, Collins spent 16 years as a scout for the New York Jets.

Collins began his coaching career as an assistant at Xavier University in Cincinnati in 1973. He then moved to Central State (Ohio) as the offensive coordinator from 1974-76. Collins also coached at North Carolina A&T in 1977 and Western Illinois in 1978.

He began his scouting career with Blesto scouting combine in 1979. The following year, he joined the Jets and for 16 years he evaluated players across the country while learning from experts such as Dick Steinberg, Ron Wolf and Dick Haley.

During his playing career, Collins was an outstanding safety at the University of South Dakota (1965-68), where he set the school record for interceptions. He graduated in 1969 with a degree in accounting and business management.

Collins was born in Detroit on Sept. 14, 1947. His father, Rip, served for many years as the visiting clubhouse man in Tiger Stadium.

Collins is married (Sue). The couple has four children and three grandchildren and reside in Amelia Island, Fla.

JEREMIAH DAVIS

Jeremiah Davis began his affiliation with the Giants in 1988 as a part-time scout after a career as a collegiate coach. In March of 1990, Davis became a full-time member of the Giants scouting department.

Davis graduated from Montclair High School in Montclair, N.J. He began his collegiate football career at Washington State University before receiving a B.A. degree in criminal law from the University of Wyoming in 1977. Davis subsequently earned a master's degree in sports administration from Grambling University in 1981.

Davis began his college coaching career at Wyoming as a secondary assistant and strength coach and served in the same capacity at the University of Washington and at Grambling where he also worked with the linebackers. He moved on to Northern Iowa and to the University of Central Florida as an assistant coach, then moved into the recruiting arena with Purdue University in 1985. Davis was also at Tennessee-Martin for two years as an assistant coach and recruiting coordinator before joining the Giants in 1988.

Davis is married to the former Marie-Line Jasor.

STEVE DEVINE

Stephen W. Devine begins his third season as a member of the Giants scouting department. Prior to joining the Giants, he had been an athletic administrator in the Marysville (Ohio) school system. He was also an assistant coach on the Marysville High School football team.

In 1999, he was a game day scout for the Giants in Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Kentucky and Pennsylvania.

From 1990-95, Devine was the assistant head coach and offensive assistant (working with the offensive line and quarterbacks) at Ohio University. Prior to that, he spent two seasons as the offensive line coach at San Diego State.

Devine was the offensive guard and center coach at Ohio State from 1984-88. In 1983 he was the assistant coach in charge of recruiting at Ohio State. Prior to his stint with the Buckeyes, Devine coached the offensive line at Bowling Green for three years. Devine spent a year as a graduate assistant at Ohio State before going to Bowling Green. He began his college coaching career at the University of Washington, where he worked with the offensive line and recruited northern California and Oregon.

Devine was born on July 27, 1950. He earned a bachelor of arts degree from Heidelberg College and master's degrees in educational administration from the University of Toledo and Ashland University. He is married (Suzanne). They have three children: Stephanie (4/17/89), Paul (4/6/91) and Connor (3/7/94).

DONNIE ETHERIDGE

Donald Etheridge is in his third season as a member of the Giants college scouting department.

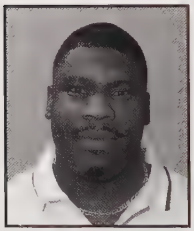
Etheridge joined the Giants after spending the 2000 football season as the offensive line coach of Westside High School in Houston, Texas.

From 1997 until his appointment at Westside, Etheridge coached at Santa Fe High in Edmond, Okla. Etheridge was the assistant head coach and offensive line coach at Langston University from 1992-96.

Etheridge coached at Union City High School in Union City, Tennessee from 1989-91.

He began his coaching career in 1986 as a student coach and graduate assistant for the football program at the University of Tennessee at Martin, where he spent three seasons.

Etheridge is married to Tracy Sharp. They have two children, Drew (8/26/87) and Taylor (10/1/90).



RYAN JONES

Ryan Jones joined the Giants scouting department in April, 2000, following nine years as a collegiate coach. He became a coach following a successful playing career as a defensive back at the University of New Hampshire.

Jones began his coaching career in 1991 as a graduate assistant at the University of Minnesota, where he oversaw the strength and conditioning program and also served as assistant defensive backs coach. He then spent two seasons at Holy Cross (1992-93) and was responsible for the strength and conditioning of the entire Crusader athletic department, while also serving as the assistant defensive backs coach and recruiting coordinator for the football team.

Jones was named defensive backs coach at his alma mater in 1994 and remained in that capacity for six seasons before joining the Giants' scouting department prior to the 2000 season.

As a defensive back Jones garnered All-Yankee Conference first-team honors and finished his career with 143 career tackles and 15 interceptions at UNH.

Jones was born on Feb. 17, 1968. He was a 1986 graduate of South Plainfield (N.J.) High School, where he lettered in football, track and basketball. He is single and resides in Califon, N.J.

STEVE MALIN

Steve Malin is in his second season as a member of the Giants scouting staff.

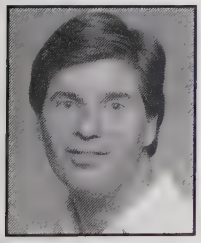
Malin spent the 2000 season as a regional scout in the XFL. Prior to that, he spent six seasons as a defensive assistant coach at Southern Methodist University, where his players included defensive end Luke Johnson, a 1997 All-Western Athletic Conference Mountain Division player, and linebacker Craig Swann, who earned first-team All-Southwest Conference honors in 1995 and 96.

Malin began his coaching career at East Texas State in 1993. He moved to SMU as a graduate assistant in 1994. Malin coached the inside linebackers in 1995 and '96 and the defensive line from 1997-99.

He began his playing career at West Texas State where he was a tight end in 1989-90, before transferring to East Texas State where he was a linebacker, tight end and offensive tackle in 1991-92.

A native of Texas, he earned a B.S. degree in kinesiology. Malin also holds master's degrees in education from East Texas State and liberal arts from SMU.

Malin was born in Dallas on July 19, 1969. He is married (Stacey). They have twins, son Tyler and daughter Taylor, born Dec. 22, 2001.



STEVE VERDEROSA

The 2003 season is Steve Verderosa's 16th with the Giants since he joined the organization's scouting staff in 1988. Verderosa came to the Giants after serving in the scouting department of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers.

Verderosa began his collegiate career at Central Iowa as a wide receiver and punter after graduating from Melville High School in Setauket, N.Y. He then moved to New York Institute of Technology where he continued his dual roles, earning ECAC Player of the Week Honors for an eight-catch, 100-yard day vs. Western Connecticut in the 1975 season.

After receiving a degree in general architecture and a design award in his senior year, Verderosa had a tryout with the Washington Redskins as a wide receiver and punter in 1977. He also had a two-week stint with the Cleveland Browns as a punter in the 1978 preseason.

Verderosa worked for one year as an architectural draftsman before getting the urge to return to football and began a coaching career as an offensive assistant at his alma mater, New York Tech. He then spent two seasons as a coach and teacher at St. Anthony's High School before landing a spot as defensive backfield coach at Columbia University. From there, he moved on to C.W. Post for four years as secondary coach and then joined the scouting department of the Buccaneers.

Verderosa was born on June 9, 1954 in Roslyn, Long Island. He is married to the former Lori Ann Felicetti. The Verderosas reside in Apex, North Carolina with two sons, Alex (6/28/92) and Matthew (1/13/95), and one daughter, Mikala (11/2/97).

TRAINING & MEDICAL STAFF

RONNIE BARNES
VICE PRESIDENT OF MEDICAL SERVICES

Ronnie Barnes, a member of the Giants organization since 1976 and the team's head trainer since 1980, was this year promoted to the position of Vice President of Medical Services. One of the most respected trainers in the NFL, Barnes has compiled an impressive dossier of accomplishments since joining the Giants as a student intern 27 years ago. He was elected to the National Athletic Trainers Association Hall of Fame in June, 1999. Last season, he was voted the Athletic Trainer of the Year by NFL physicians.

In 2002, his alma mater, East Carolina University, honored Barnes for his many contributions to the school by opening the Ronnie Barnes African-American Resource Center at the school's Joyner Library. The 5,200-square foot resource center collects materials about the legacy and future of African-Americans in eastern North Carolina and the Southeast. It will include books, software, journals and collections of works on such influential figures as Martin Luther King, Jr. and Malcolm X.

Barnes was the first African-American graduate of the Sports Medicine Department at ECU. He has since been elected to the East Carolina Athletic Hall of Fame and been named a winner of the Outstanding Alumni Award.

Since becoming the Giants head trainer, Barnes has twice been voted National Professional Trainer of the Year by the National Athletic Trainers Association. He served on the NATA board of certification for 10 years. Barnes is the past president of the NATA Research and Education Foundation. He is a member of the NFL Subcommittee on Mild Brain Trauma. Barnes recently completed a seven-year term as President of the Professional Football Athletic Trainers Society. In June of 1996, he was awarded the NATA Most Distinguished Athletic Trainer Award. In 1999, Barnes and his assistants won the Ed Block Courage Award as the NFL Athletic Training Staff of the Year.

Barnes has lectured nationally and internationally on sports medicine. He wrote a popular textbook in the medical field called Athletic Training and Sports Medicine, Third Edition. He was named the March of Dimes Man of the Year in 1994.

A native of Rocky Mount, North Carolina, Barnes was born on Feb. 15, 1952. He resides in Cedar Grove, New Jersey.

JOHN JOHNSON
ASSISTANT ATHLETIC TRAINER

Johnson, a graduate of the Swedish Institute of Physical Therapy, has been a trainer for the Giants for more than 50 years. During this period, he has also served as head trainer and instructor at Manhattan College, where he is enshrined in the school's Hall of Fame.

After serving as an intern at Brooklyn Jewish and Long Island College Hospitals (1937-38), Johnson worked as a physical trainer for the Bedford YMCA and then was in charge of physical therapy and rehabilitation at a U.S. Air Force base hospital from 1942-46. His service hitch included duty as a physical therapy instructor, athletic trainer for post teams and as an air-sea rescue medic. From 1946-47, Johnson was a civilian athletic trainer at the U.S. Naval Preflight School in Ottumwa, La.

A member of the Eastern and National Athletic Trainers Associations as well as the National Physical Therapy Association, Johnson has also served as a trainer for visiting teams at Madison Square Garden (1954-63). Johnson resides in Cresskill, N.J.

STEVE KENNELLY
ASSISTANT ATHLETIC TRAINER

Steve Kennelly has been a member of the Giants organization since July, 1992. He is responsible for assisting Ronnie Barnes in the overall injury prevention, treatment and rehabilitation of the Giants players. Kennelly earned a B.S. degree from Northeastern University in 1985 and an M.Ed. from the University of Virginia in 1987.

Prior to joining the Giants, Kennelly was the head athletic trainer for the New York/New Jersey Knights of the World League. He also served as the director of athletic training services for Professional Sports Care Meadowlands and as head athletic trainer for the New York Knights of the Arena League.

He began his career as the assistant athletic trainer at Hobart College in Geneva, N. Y. before serving a graduate assistantship at Virginia Military Institute in Lexington, Va. Kennelly is a member of the National Athletic Trainers Association, the Eastern Athletic Trainers Association and the Athletic Trainers Society of New Jersey.

Born in Teaneck, New Jersey on Sept. 26, 1962, Kennelly and his wife, Rita, have a son, Ryan (6/29/95) and two daughters, Lia (4/13/99) and Mary (11/24/01). They reside in Oakland, N.J.

BYRON HANSEN
ASSISTANT ATHLETIC TRAINER

Byron Hansen is in his sixth season as an assistant trainer with the Giants. Prior to joining the team, he spent 18 years with the University of Southern California's athletic training staff. Hansen's responsibilities include coordinating the players' rehabilitation programs. In 1999, Hansen's second year with the club, he was part of the Giants athletic training staff that earned the Ed Block Courage Award as the NFL Athletic Training Staff of the Year. Before joining the club full-time, Hansen assisted the Giants during training camp from 1986 to 1995. He is a member of the Athletic Trainers Society of New Jersey.

At USC, Hansen coordinated the rehabilitation programs for the numerous Trojan athletic teams and created the student trainer program at the university. Among the athletes Hansen worked with in nearly two decades at USC were future NFL stars Marcus Allen, Tony Boselli, Junior Seau and Jason Sehorn. During the 1984 Olympic Games in Los Angeles, Hansen was an athletic trainer at the basketball venue.

In 2001 in Los Angeles, Hansen received the 25-year Award from the National Athletic Trainers' Association.

Hansen earned a B.S. degree in Health Education in 1978 from the University of Oregon, where he worked as a student trainer in the athletic department. Hansen spent two years as an assistant trainer at the University of Colorado and earned a master's degree in exercise physiology and sports medicine in 1981.

Transactions: Originally a 2nd-round (36th pick overall) draft choice by the Giants in 1997.

NFL: One of the most productive, consistent and exciting players in the NFL and in the history of the Giants...Has 9,069 career total yards (4,193 rushing, 3,149 receiving, 1,181 punt returns, 544 kickoff returns and 2 fumble yardage), the 2nd-highest total in franchise history. Only Frank Gifford (9,862) has gained more yards...Barber has rushed for 4,193 yards (on 933 carries), the 4th-highest total in Giants history. Directly ahead of him is Alex Webster (4,638)...Barber's 4.5-yard per-carry average is the highest among the top 10 rushers in franchise history...His 26 rushing touchdowns ties him with Bill Paschal for 7th on the team's career list...He is 4th on the Giants career list with 353 receptions, just 2 behind teammate Amani Toomer...Barber is 4th in Giants history in punt return yardage with 1,176 (532 behind No. 3 Phil McConkey)...In 2000 he set a franchise record with 2,085 all-purpose yards (1,006 rushing, 719 receiving, 332 on punt returns and 28 on kickoff returns). That shattered the former record set in 1989 by David Meggett, who had 1,807 yards (117 rushing, 531 receiving, 582 on punt returns and 577 on kickoff returns)...Barber has 3 times set the team record for most receptions in a season by a running back, 1st with 66 in 1999, then with 70 in 2000 and finally with 72 in 2001. Prior to Barber's arrival, Gifford held the record with 51...Was the starting running back coming out of his 2nd training camp in 1998 but was replaced in the lineup by veteran Gary Brown after 4 games...Began his rookie season in 1997 as the starting running back after beating out Tyrone Wheatley in the preseason. Injuries limited him to just 6 starts in 12 games.

GIANT FACT

BARBER LED THE NFC WITH 1,984 YARDS FROM SCRIMMAGE IN 2002.

2002: Enjoyed his finest season as a pro...Played in all 16 regular season games, with 15 starts...Also started in the NFC Wild Card game in San Francisco... Barber was 1st in the NFC and 4th in the NFL and with 1,984 yards from scrimmage (1,387 rushing and 597 receiving). He was the 1st Giant to lead the conference in scrimmage yards since Ron Johnson was No. 1 in the entire NFL in 1970 with 1,514 yards...Barber was 2nd in the NFC and 7th in the NFL with 1,387 rushing yards, the 2nd-highest total in team history. Joe Morris rushed for 1,516 yards in 1986. It was the 3rd season in a row Barber led the Giants in rushing yardage...Barber carried the ball 304 times in 2002, the 6th-highest total in team history and the most by a Giant since Rodney Hampton had 306 carries in 1995... Barber scored a career-high 11 rushing touchdowns, the most by a Giant since Hampton had 14 in 1992...Beginning on Nov. 24 in Houston, Barber had long runs of 70, 42, 43 and 60 in a 4-game span. He became the 1st NFL player since the 1970 merger to have a run of at least 40 yards in 4 consecutive games...Barber was 3rd on the team with 69 receptions...He led the NFC with 90

1st downs (67 rushing, 23 receiving), 10 more than runners-up Deuce McAllister of New Orleans and Shaun Alexander of Seattle...Barber was the NFC Offensive Player of the Month for November. Barber rushed for 115 yards and a touchdown (on a 6-yard run) on 26 carries and caught 5 passes for 62 yards in the NFC Wild Card game at San Francisco (1/5)...Played perhaps his finest pro game vs. Philadelphia (12/28). Had a career-high 32 rushing attempts for 203 yards, the most by a runner on an NFC team in 2002 and the 2nd-highest 1-game total in team history. The only Giant with more rushing yards in 1 game was Gene "Choo-Choo" Roberts, who rushed for 218 yards versus the Chicago Cardinals on Nov. 12, 1950. Barber topped by 1 yard Morris' 202-yard effort against Pittsburgh on Dec. 21, 1985. Barber also caught a season-high 8 passes for 73 yards to give him 276 total yards, the second-highest total in team history. On Nov. 14, 1948, Joe Scott had 279 yards against the Rams. Barber's performance moved him ahead of Del Shofner, who had 269 all-purpose yards against Washington on Oct. 28, 1962. In overtime, Barber carried the ball on every down and gained 29 yards on 5 carries to set up Matt Bryant's 39-yard game-winning field goal...Rushed for 60 yards and 2 touchdowns at Indianapolis (12/22), the 5th consecutive game he scored at least 1 touchdown...Gained 81 yards, including a 60-yard run, and scored a touchdown vs. Dallas (12/15)...Rushed for 96 yards and a score at Washington (12/8) and 64 yards and a touchdown vs. Tennessee (12/1)...Rushed for then-career high 147 yards, including a 70-yarder, and a score at Houston (11/24)...Ran for 127 yards and a touchdown and caught 7 passes for 46 yards at Minnesota (11/10)...Rushed for 101 yards and touchdowns of 2 and 44 yards vs. Jacksonville (11/30)...Ran for 79 yards and caught 5 passes for 92 yards at Philadelphia (10/28)...Rushed for 50 yards and had 7 receptions for 59 yards vs. Seattle (9/22)...Gained 80 yards on the ground at St. Louis (9/15), the only game he did not start.

2001: Played in 14 games, with 9 starts. Missed 2 1/2 games after pulling a hamstring against New Orleans (9/30)...Rushed for a team-high 865 yards, the 2nd consecutive season he led the team in rushing...Caught a career-high 72 passes, tying him with Amani Toomer for the team lead...Accounted for 1,782 total yards (865 rushing, 577 receiving, 338 on punt returns and 2 yards on a fumble recovery)...Rushed for 65 yards on 9 carries and scored his 4th touchdown of the season on a 10-yard run in the 4th period vs. Green Bay (1/6). Had 6 receptions for 53 yards and returned 3 punts for 9 yards...Rushed for 71 yards on 16 carries and caught a season-high 10 passes for 87 yards at Philadelphia (12/30). Barber was involved in 2 lateral plays in the game. The 1st to Kerry Collins led to a 60-yard touchdown pass to Amani Toomer, the 2nd to Ron Dixon on the game's final play. Dixon gained 62 yards before being tackled by Damon Moore at the Eagles 4-yard line to preserve the Eagles' 24-21 victory...Had 16 carries for 85 yards, 5 receptions for 35 yards and 2 punt returns for no yards vs. Arizona (12/15)...Finished with 110 rushing yards on 18 attempts, had 4 receptions for 26 yards and returned 3 punts for 17 yards at Dallas (12/9). Gained 93 of 110 rushing yards in the 1st half...Rushed for a season-high 124 yards on 19 attempts with 1 touchdown vs. Oakland (11/25). Had a season-long run of 36 yards in the 1st quarter to set up Morten Andersen's 47-yard field goal. Scored his 3rd rushing touchdown of the season in the 3rd quarter on a 12-yard run. Also led the team in receptions with 5 for 41 yards and returned 3 punts for 20 yards...Rushed for 118 yards on 17 carries at Arizona (11/11). Added 2 receptions for 8 yards and returned 3 punts for 30 yards. Had a team-high 8 receptions for 60 yards and rushed for 30 yards on 7 carries vs. Dallas (11/4). His 11-yard reception in overtime set up Andersen's 42-yard game-winning field goal...Returned to action vs. Philadelphia (10/22) after missing 2 games with a hamstring injury and finished with 13 carries for 55 yards, 5 receptions for 25 yards and 3 punt returns for 30 yards...Missed games at St. Louis (10/14) and vs. Washington (11/1) due to hamstring injury...Left game vs. New Orleans (9/30) late in the 2nd quarter and did not return after pulling a hamstring on a 14-yard touchdown run, his 1st score of the season.

Finished game with 3 carries for 21 yards, 1 reception for 9 and a 20-yard punt return that helped set up his own touchdown...Had 130 all-purpose yards at Kansas City (9/23), including 42 rushing yards on 11 carries. His 13-yard run set up Ron Dayne's 7-yard touchdown run. Caught 4 passes for 30 yards and returned 4 punts for 58 yards with a season-long return of 23 yards...Started at Denver (9/10) despite missing the entire preseason with a broken bone in his right hand. Finished with 10 carries for 28 yards, 3 receptions for 53 yards and returned 3 punts for 24 yards...Broke the 5th metacarpal bone in his left hand during a 9-on-7 rushing drill in training camp on Aug. 2 and missed all 4 preseason games.

2000: Played in every game, with 12 starts...Became the 1st Giants player to reach 2000 all-purpose yards in a season. Barber finished the season with 2,085 all-purpose yards, breaking David Meggett's former team record of 1,807, set in 1989 (117 rushing, 531 receiving, 582 punt return and 577 kickoff return)...Led the Giants in rushing with a then-career-high 1,006 yards and punt returns (39 for 332 yards) and was 2nd on the team with 70 receptions for 719 yards...Scored a team-high 9 touchdowns...Barber rushed for more than 1,000 yards for the 1st time in his career, becoming the 1st Giant to reach that milestone since Gary Brown had 1,063 in 1998...Barber was the 6th Giants back to rush for 1,000 yards in a season, joining Ron Johnson (twice), Joe Morris (3 times), Ottis Anderson, Rodney Hampton (five times) and Brown...Barber also set a then-career high with 70 receptions and increased his career total to 212, 14th on the franchise's career list...Did not miss a game despite breaking his left arm in Dallas on December 17, though the injury prevented him from returning punts in the team's 1st 2 postseason games...Led the team in rushing (49 yards on 11 carries) and receiving (6 catches for 26 yards) in Super Bowl XXXV (1/29)...Rushed for 69 yards and caught 4 passes for 21 yards in 41-0 victory over Minnesota in NFC Championship Game (1/14)...Contributed 35 rushing and 3 receptions to the 20-10 victory over Philadelphia in the Divisional Playoffs (1/7)... Despite playing with broken arm, had a season-high 24 carries for 78 yards vs. Jacksonville (12/23) to cross the 1,000-yard barrier for the season. 4 receptions in the game gave him 70 for the season, a new record for receptions by a Giants running back. Barber broke his own record of 66, which he set in 1999...With a combined 127 rushing and receiving yards, Barber accounted for 56 percent of the Giants 225 total yards at Dallas (12/17)...Became the Giants single-season all-purpose yards leader with 1,967. Scored game-winning touchdown on a 13-yard touchdown run midway through the 4th quarter...Became the 1st Giants player since Frank Gifford in 1959 to gain 500 or more yards in rushing and receiving in a season at Arizona (11/26). Gifford finished the 1959 season with 540 yards rushing and 768 yards receiving. Barber rushed for 32 yards and added 52 yards receiving, increasing his totals for the season to 744 rushing and 536 receiving...Eclipsed 1,000 yards from scrimmage (1,067) with 93 yards vs. St. Louis (11/12)...Electrified Giants Stadium vs. Arizona (9/3) in 1st opening day start since 1997. Set a career-high with 144 rushing yards on 13 carries. Previous high was at Philadelphia (12/7/97) when he rushed for 114 yards on 21 carries. His 116 yards in the 1st half were the most in a half by a Giants running back since Rodney Hampton rushed for 131 yards in the 2nd half at Dallas (12/17/95). Barber's 144 rushing yards on Opening Day vs. Arizona were the most rushing yards ever by a Giant in a season-opener. Had 2 rushing touchdowns, including 78-yard run in the 2nd quarter that was the 4th longest run in Giants history and was the longest run by a Giant since Gifford ran 79 yards vs. Washington (11/29/59). His 10-yard touchdown run in the 1st quarter was his 1st rushing touchdown since he scored on a 1-yard run vs. Baltimore (9/14/97). His 2 rushing touchdown performance was the 1st by a Giant since game vs. Cincinnati (10/26/97) when Tyrone Wheatley and Charles Way both ran for 2 touchdowns.

1999: Primarily used as a 3rd down back, played in all 16 games with 1 start when the team opened in a single-back formation against Indianapolis (11/14)...Accumulated

1,639 all-purpose yards, then good for 4th on the all-time Giants single-season list. Barber recorded 258 yards rushing yards, 609 receiving yards, 506 yards on punt returns and 266 yards on kickoff returns...Earned NFL's "Prime Time II" award after his performance vs. Dallas (10/18). Barber set a Giants single-game record for all-purpose yards after he accumulated 231, including his 85-yard punt return for a TD in the 4th quarter. Also set up game-winning field goal with a 56-yard catch and run to the Cowboys 3-yard line late in the 4th quarter... Set a Giants record for receptions in a game by finishing with 13 catches at Dallas (1/2/00). Recorded the 1st 100-yard receiving game of his career as he caught 13 passes for 100 yards...His previous best was the 9 receptions he had vs. Atlanta (10-11-99)...Finished with 8 receptions for 90 yards at Buffalo (12/12).

1998: Started the 1st 4 games of the season at running back before being replaced in the lineup by Gary Brown. Was used on short-yardage situations and as the 3rd down back for the rest of the year...Finished with 166 yards rushing on 52 attempts and caught 42 passes for 348 yards with 3 touchdown receptions...Also filled in as the kickoff returner, where he gained 250 yards on 14 returns... Caught a swing pass from Kent Graham vs. then-undefeated Denver (12-13) and turned the play into a 21-yard touchdown with 51 seconds to go in the 1st half to give the Giants a 10-6 halftime lead...On a 3rd-and-19 play in the 1st quarter at Arizona (12-6) Barber caught a screen pass from Kent Graham and broke free for an 87-yard touchdown. It was the 6th-longest play from scrimmage in Giants history and the Giants longest scoring play since a 94-yard pass from QB Norm Snead to WR Rich Houston vs. Dallas on Sept. 24, 1972...Led the team in receiving with 9 catches for 56 yards vs. Atlanta (10/11).

1997: Earned the starting running back spot in the preseason and finished his rookie season with 511 yards on 136 carries and 3 rushing touchdowns and 299 yards receiving on 34 receptions and 1 touchdown...Finished 3rd among NFC rookies in rushing yards and 2nd among NFC rookies with 810 yards from scrimmage...Started at running back for the 1st five games of the season before he suffered a posterior cruciate ligament tear of his right knee vs. New Orleans (9-28), forcing him to miss 4 games and allowing RB Tyrone Wheatley to step in as a starter. Returned to the starting lineup for the last 2 regular season games when Wheatley left with an ankle sprain at Philadelphia (12-7)...Was 1 of five rookies (Barber, C Derek Engler, S Sam Garnes, WR Ike Hilliard and P Brad Maynard to start in the season-opener vs. Philadelphia (8-31). Gained 88 yards on 20 carries and 1 rushing touchdown for a 4.4-yard average against the Eagles... Recorded his 1st NFL 100-yard rushing performance 114 yards at Philadelphia (12/7). Barber's 114 yards tied FB Charles Way, who had 114 yards rushing vs. Arizona (11/16), as the Giants best individual rushing output of the season.

BARROW ACCUMULATED 420 TACKLES IN HIS CAREER AT THE UNIVERSITY OF MIAMI.

MIKE BARROW

2001: Started all 16 games at middle linebacker...Set a team record with 135 tackles (91 solo, 44 assists), beating the former mark by 1 tackle. Jessie Armstead, his former teammate at the University of Miami, had 134 tackles (101-33) in 1997...Led the Giants in tackles in 10 of 16 games...Tied with Keith Hamilton for 2nd on the team with 6.0 sacks...Was 2nd on the team with 4 forced fumbles and 2 fumble recoveries...His 6 passes defensed was the highest total on the team among non-defensive backs...Finished the season in brilliant fashion as he registered a team-high 11 tackles (5 solo) and 1 pass defensed vs. Green Bay (1/6). The 11 tackles gave him the team single-season record...Recorded a team-high 9 tackles (4 solo) with 1-half sack, a pass defensed, and a fumble recovery at Philadelphia (12/30). Teamed with Michael Strahan on a 1st quarter sack of Donovan McNabb. On the play Barrow recovered a fumble that was forced by Strahan....Was 2nd on the team in tackles with 11 (8 solo) and had a sack and a forced fumble vs. Seattle (12/23). Sacked Matt Hasselbeck to force a fumble in the 2nd quarter. Fumble was recovered by Strahan and returned 13 yards for a touchdown...Finished with 13 tackles (9 solo), 1.5 sacks and a pass defensed vs. Arizona (12/15). The 13 tackles put him over 100 in a season for the 5th time in his career. Split a sack with Keith Hamilton in the 3rd quarter, then sacked Jake Plummer by himself later in the 3rd for no gain. Broke up a Plummer attempt to FB Joe Makovicka in the 2nd quarter...Recorded a team-high 10 tackles (7 solo) vs. Oakland (11/25)...Contributed a team-high 9 tackles (7 solo) and 1 sack at Minnesota (11/19)...Recorded his 3rd sack of the season when he dropped Culpepper for a 5-yard loss in the 4th quarter...Had a team-high 8 tackles (4 solo) at Arizona (11/11). Returned a lateral of a recovered fumble by Kenny Holmes 13 yards to the Arizona 42-yard line to help set up the Giants 2nd touchdown of the game in the 2nd quarter...Registered a team-high and season-high 14 tackles (9 solo), 1 sack and 1 pass defensed vs. Dallas (11/4). Sacked Ryan Leaf for a 10-yard loss on the Cowboys' lone possession in overtime...Contributed 4 solo tackles and a sack at Washington (10/28). Recorded his 1st sack of the season when he tackled Tony Banks at the line of scrimmage in the 1st quarter...Had a team-high 8 tackles (6 solo) vs. Washington (10/7). Also had 1 forced fumble and a pass defensed...Recorded a team-high 11 tackles (9 solo) at Kansas City (12/23)...Opened the season with a team-high 8 tackles (6 solo) at Denver (9/10).

2000: Started every game in which he played (15 regular season and 3 postseason) at middle linebacker...Was inactive for game at Atlanta (10/8) after missing practice with pinched nerve in his neck...Finished 2nd on the team to Jessie Armstead with 94 tackles (72 solo). Also contributed 3.5 sacks, 3 passes defensed, an interception, forced fumble and fumble recovery while providing a tough, smart and experienced presence in the middle of the defense...Had 6 unassisted tackles in Super Bowl XXXV vs. Baltimore (1/28)...Tied Armstead for team high with 7 tackles (4 solo) and a sack in NFC Championship Game vs. Minnesota (1/14), helping Giants hold Vikings to 114 total yards...Finished with a team-high 11 tackles (10 solo) in NFC Divisional Playoff vs. Philadelphia (1/7)...Finished with a game-high 8 tackles (6 solo) vs. Jacksonville (12/23)...Recorded a game-high 11 tackles (10 solo) at Dallas (12/17)...Stopped RB Michael Wiley for no gain on 4th-and-2 on the Cowboys' final drive of the game to force a turnover on downs and preserve the Giants victory...Finished tied for team-high with 5 solo tackles and was a key component to a Giants defense that held the Redskins to 29 yards rushing at Washington (12/3)...Finished with a season-high 13 tackles (8 solo) vs. Detroit (11/19)...After missing a game with a pinched nerve, returned to action vs. Dallas (10/15) and finished with12 tackles (8 solo). Also recorded his only interception of the season in the 4th quarter when QB Troy Aikman was picked off for the 5th time in the game...Had 5 solo tackles at Chicago (9/17) and his hit on Cade McNown late in the 4th quarter forced a fumble that Michael Strahan recovered to help preserve a Giants win...Made his Giants debut with 6 solo tackles vs. Arizona (9/3)

1999: Started all 16 games at inside linebacker and led the Panthers in tackles for the 3rd straight season with 131 tackles...Also had 4 sacks, a fumble recovery, a forced fumble, a batted pass, and a pass defensed...Recorded at least 10 stops in 6 games. They have a daughter, Mikenzi (4/10/02)..The Barrows live in Montclair, N.J...Mike was born in Homestead, Fla. an graduated from Homestead High School, where he lettered in football and track and was a high school All-America and all-state selection in football...Brother Wayne Cadogan played for Montreal in the CFL, and brother Carlos played collegiate football at Akron...In 1992 helped rebuild his family's home in Homestead after it was almost entirely destroyed by Hurricane Andrew and was part of a community outreach program for Hurricane Andrew relief...In 1997 hosted 30 children from Homestead at a Carolina game, bringing 15 from Campbell Drive Middle School and 15 others from Homestead High. Barrow put the children up at a Charlotte-area hotel, arranged a tour of Ericsson Stadium, and provided tickets to the game before taking the group to a bowling alley for games and dinner. The following day, he took the group to a performance of "The Nutcracker," in which Barrow made his acting debut with a bit part as 1 of several people in the background of a social setting. Also acted in "The Mad Nutcracker" in which he performed a dance solo...Is very involved in community, civic and church affairs...On Dec. 16, 2002, he hosted a NY/NJ Sports Celebrity Carnival at the Jacob Javitz Center in Manhattan to benefit the Children of 9/11. In addition to the many Giants in attendance, members of the Jets, Devils, Islanders, Nets, Knicks, Liberty, Metrostars and Philadelphia Eagles helped bring an evening of cheer to children who lost loved ones in the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks...Barrow is a member of Community Outreach Christian Ministry and volunteers with the COCM Soup Kitchen...Has also formed 2 15-and-under boys basketball teams of inner-city kids called the "Charlotte Conquerors" which travel throughout the region. Team members are required to attend study hall through the Save Our Schools program and attend Bible study. Mike graduated with a degree in accounting from Miami and plans to go to graduate school to earn his MBA. Born Micheal Colvin Barrow, Mike enjoys reading motivational novels, bowling, playing pool and working in the community. Born on April 19, 1970.

Transactions: Originally a 1st round (5th pick overall) draft choice by Carolina in 1995...Waived by Carolina on Oct. 13, 1998. Claimed off waivers by New Orleans on Oct. 14, 1998...Signed by the Giants as an unrestricted free agent from New Orleans on Feb. 19, 1999.

NFL: Has established himself as 1 of the finest and most durable quarterbacks in the NFL and in Giants history...In 58 games with the Giants, including 55 starts, Collins has thrown 1,973 passes for the Giants, placing him 3rd on the franchise's career list, behind Phil Simms (4,647) and Charlie Conerly (2,833). He is 3rd with 1,163 completions, behind Simms (2,576) and Conerly (1,418). Collins is 4th on the Giants career list with 13,765 passing yards, trailing Simms (33,462), Conerly (19,488) and Fran Tarkenton (13,905). Collins has thrown 68 touchdown passes as a Giant, which leaves him 5th in franchise history, behind Simms (199), Conerly (173), Tarkenton (103) and Y.A. Tittle (96)...Collins has completed 58.94 percent of his passes (1,163 of 1,973) as a Giant, the highest percentage in franchise history among quarterbacks that have thrown more than 1,000 passes...Has 14 300-yard passing games, 2nd in team history to Phil Simms' 21...In 2000 and 2001, Collins became the 1st player in NFL history to throw every pass for the same team in 2 consecutive seasons. He set an NFL record by throwing 1,852 consecutive regular season passes from Nov. 21, 1999 to Dec. 15, 2002. The streak was broken when Jesse Palmer threw 4 passes in the 4th period of a 37-7 rout of Dallas...Collins' 54 consecutive starts is the 4th-longest streak among active quarterbacks entering the 2003 season (trailing Brett Favre, 173; Peyton Manning, 80; Rich Gannon, 64)...The 54 consecutive starts is the 2nd-longest streak in Giants history; Fran Tarkenton started 69 consecutive games from 1967-71...Collins is 55-49 (.529) as a regular season starter, including 22-20 with Carolina, 2-5 with New Orleans and 31-24 with the Giants...Is 31-23 since becoming the Giants starter with 6 games remaining in the 1999 season...Is the 2nd-winningest Giants quarterback in the Giants Stadium era (1976), trailing only Simms (95-64)...Has a postseason record of 3-3 as a starting quarterback, 1-1 with Carolina in 1996 and 2-2 with the Giants in 2000 (2-1) and 2002 (0-1)...Threw 19 touchdown passes in 2002 for the 2nd consecutive season to increase his career total to 119, which ties him for 77th on the NFL's all-time list. ...Collins has quarterbacked 2 teams to a 12-4 record, a division title and a playoff bye: the 1996 Panthers and the 2000 Giants...Rebounded from a difficult period personally and professionally to lead the Giants to the 2000 NFC Championship...Tied a Giants record by completing 13 consecutive passes spanning the games at Philadelphia (9/10/2000) and at Chicago (9/17/2000). pleting 13 consecutive passes at Cincinnati on Oct. 13, 1985... As a 2nd-year pro with Carolina in 1996, he led the Panthers to the NFC West title and a berth in the NFC Championship Game opposite eventual champion Green Bay...Collins is 1-1 in NFC Championship Games (lost with Carolina in 1996, won with the Giants in 2000)...Led the Panthers to the NFC Championship Game in 1996 after guiding the team to the NFC West title with a 10-4 record as a starter...Earned his only Pro Bowl berth that season...Led the Panthers to a 7-6 record after being named the starter in the 4th game of his rookie campaign in 1995...In 1999, became the 1st Giants quarterback to throw for over 2,000 yards under Jim Fassel as he finished the season with 191 completions on 332 attempts for 2,316 yards...Has 20 career 300-yard games, including 14 with the Giants... Prior to Collins' arrival, the Giants had 2 300-yard passing games in the previous 8 1/2 seasons – Jeff Hostetler in 1991 and Phil Simms in 1993.

2002: Started every game for the 3rd consecutive season...Enjoyed the most prolific season by a quarterback in team history...Set team record with 335 completions (breaking the mark of 327 he set in 2001, which broke the standard of 311 he set in 2000)...Set team record and was 1st in the NFC and 4th in the NFL with 4,073 yards (breaking the previous team record of 4,044, set by Phil Simms in 1984)...Collins' 545 passes were the 2nd-highest total in team history (he set the record with 568 attempts in 2001)...He completed 61.5 percent of his passes, a career-high and the 3rd-best percentage in team history... Collins was 14th in the NFL and 6th in the NFC with a career-high quarterback rating of 85.4... Collins did not throw an interception from the 4th quarter of the game at Houston on Nov. 24 to the 1st quarter of the season finale against Philadelphia on Dec. 28. That was a career-long streak of 128 passes without an interception, and Collins' 4th career streak of more than 100 passes without throwing a pick. During the streak he threw 8 touchdown passes. The streak was ended by the Eagles Michael Lewis; Collins threw 220 regular season passes against the Eagles prior to his 1st interception, an NFL record for passes by 1 quarterback against an opponent without an interception. He also threw 19 passes without being picked off in a 2000 NFC Divisional Playoff Game against Philadelphia for a total of 239 passes before his 1st interception against the Eagles...Collins was NFC Offensive Player of the Week for Week 2 (when he completed 22 of 26 passes for 307 yards, 1 touchdown and an interception in a 26-21 victory over the Rams in St. Louis) and Week 16 (when he completed 23 of 29 passes for 336 yards and a career-high 4 touchdowns in a 44-27 win in Indianapolis) and the NFC Offensive Player of the Month for December (when he completed 100 of 158 passes [63.3 percent] for 1,802 yards, 9 touchdowns, 1 interception. His quarterback rating for the month was 118.7 and he led the Giants to a 4-0 finish...Collins passed for a perfect QB rating of 158.3 at Indianapolis on Dec. 22 (Collins was 23 of 29 for 366 yards with 4 TDs and no interceptions). Collins was the 1st Giant to earn a perfect rating since Tarkenton on Oct. 25, 1970...Collins completed a team playoff record 29 passes on 43 attempts for 342 yards with 4 touchdowns and 1 interception in NFC Wild Card game at San Francisco (1/5). All 4 touchdown passes came in the 1st half...Completed 23 of 29 passes for 366 yards, 4 touchdowns and no interceptions at Indianapolis (12/22). His 158.3 rating was the highest a quarterback can receive for 1 game. The previous 158.3 game by a Giants quarterback was on Oct. 25, 1970, when Tarkenton completed 15 of 18 passes for 280 yards, 5 touchdowns and no interceptions in a 35-17 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals. Collins did not throw an interception for the 4th straight game and his 4 touchdown passes were a career regular season best. Collins became the 1st Giants quarterback to throw 4 touchdown passes in a game since Simms threw 4 on Sept. 2, 1984 against Philadelphia...Finished with 22 completions on 36 attempts for 283 yards with 2 touchdowns and no interceptions vs. Tennessee (12/1)...Threw season-high 46 passes, completing 22 for 211 yards, 1 touchdown and 2 interceptions vs. Washington (11/17)...Completed 25 of 35 passes for 300 yards, 2 touchdowns and 1 interception at Minnesota

(11/10)...Completed 20 of 28 passes for 228 yards, 1 touchdown and no interceptions vs. Jacksonville (11/3)...Threw 3 touchdown passes while completing 18 of 27 throws for 228 yards in victory at Dallas (10/6). The win was Collins' 24th in the regular season as a Giant, moving him past Dave Brown and into 2nd place during the Giants Stadium era, which began in 1976...Passed the 20,000-yard mark for his career while completing 23 of 38 passes for 282 yards vs. Seattle (9/22). Became the 70th quarterback in NFL history to pass for more than 20,000 yards...Set a Giants single-game regular season record by completing 84.6 percent of his passes (22-26 for 307 yards) at St. Louis (9/15). The former record of 82.4 was held by Jeff Hostetler, who completed 28 of 34 passes in a 21-16 loss at Dallas on Sept. 29, 1991. Collins' 307 passing yards marked the 5th consecutive game he exceeded 300 yards, dating back to the 2001 season. That was a career-long streak and was tied for the 3rd-longest 300-yard streak in NFL history. Steve Young (San Francisco, 1998) and Kurt Warner (St. Louis, 2000) hold the record with 6 consecutive 300-yard passing games. Collins is tied with Hall of Famer Joe Montana (San Francisco, 1982) with 5 straight. A 28-yard scoring throw to Jeremy Shockey in the 2nd quarter was his 50th regular season touchdown pass as a Giant...Opened season by completing 28 of 45 passes for 342 yards vs. San Francisco (9/5).

2001: Started all 16 games for the 2nd consecutive season, the 1st Giants quarterback to do that since Dave Brown in 1995-96...Set a team record with 568 pass attempts. The former record of 533 passes was set by Phil Simms in 1984...Completed 327 passes, breaking the Giants record of 311 he set in 2000...Threw for 3,764 yards in 2001 season, the 4th-highest total in franchise history...Threw his 19th touchdown pass of the season when he connected with Ike Hilliard in the back of the end zone in the 1st quarter vs. Green Bay (1/6), increasing his career total to exactly 100 (including 49 with the Giants). He was the 89th quarterback in NFL history to throw 100 touchdown passes...From Dec. 9 to Jan. 6, threw 121 consecutive passes without an interception, then a career-long streak that was ended when Green Bay safety Darren Sharper picked off his 3rd pass of the game on Jan.6...Ended the season with 3 consecutive 300-yard games, the 1st time in his career he has accomplished that feat...Established an NFL record with 23 fumbles, 2 more than the mark set by Tony Banks, then with St. Louis, in 1996...Established career highs with 59 passes, 36 completions and 386 yards vs. Green Bay. His previous bests were 53 passes (Sept. 27, 1998, for Carolina against Green Bay), 32 completions (Oct. 28, 2001 at Washington) and 350 yards (Nov. 19, 2000 vs. Detroit). Collins' 59 passes were the 2nd-highest total in Giants history; Simms threw 62 passes on Oct. 13, 1985. Increased his streak to 1,371 consecutive regular season passes thrown for the Giants, including every pass in the 2000 and 2001 seasons. According to the Elias Sports Bureau, he became the 1st player in NFL history to throw every pass for 1 team in 2 consecutive seasons...Completed 22 of 39 passes for 303 yards with 1 touchdown and no interceptions at Philadelphia (12/30). With :07 remaining in the 4th quarter, completed a short pass to Tiki Barber that was pitched to Ron Dixon, who raced to the Eagles 4-yard line before being tackled to end the game. On the play, Collins was credited with a season-long 76-yard completion...Finished with 30 completions on 47 attempts for 338 yards with 1 touchdown and no interceptions vs. Seattle (12/23). Led the Giants to a dramatic, last-minute comeback victory for the 2nd week in a row, throwing a 7-yard touchdown pass to Ike Hilliard with 20 seconds left for the winning points in a 27-24 triumph. On the game-winning 96-yard drive, Collins completed 6 of 10 passes for 96 yards with Amani Toomer, Joe Jurevicius and Hilliard each catching 2 passes...Completed 14 of 32 passes for 147 yards, 2 touchdowns and no interceptions vs. Arizona (12/15). Engineered Giants game-winning 70-yard drive by completing 6 of 9 passes for 56 yards late in the 4th quarter. A 4-yard touchdown pass from Collins to Toomer with 25 seconds left in the 4th period won the game for the Giants. It was the latest the Giants had scored a touchdown to win a game (excluding overtimes) since Nov. 24, 1991 when Phil Simms threw a 30-yard touchdown pass to Stephen Baker with 16 2nds remaining to defeat the Buccaneers at Tampa Bay, 21-14. It was the latest come-from-behind win for the Giants since Nov. 1, 1953 when Kyle Rote scored on a 75-yard pass play from Arnold Galiffa with :07 remaining as the Giants defeated the Cardinals in Chicago, 23-20. The Giants trailed 20-17 before scoring the winning points (the Giants missed the PAT)...Completed 21 of 37 passes for 321 yards, no touchdowns and 2 interceptions at Minnesota (11/19)...Finished with 24 completions in 34 attempts for 280 yards, 3 touchdowns and 2 interceptions vs. Dallas (11/4). It was his 2nd straight game with 3 touchdown passes, the 2nd time he accomplished that feat in his career (Nov. 5, 2000 at Cleveland and Nov. 12, 2000 vs. St. Louis)... Completed 32 of 52 passes for 346 yards, 3 touchdowns and 1 interception at Washington (10/28). Threw scoring passes of 6 yards to Toomer, 27 yards to Hilliard and 1 yard to Greg Comella...At Denver (9/10), became the 1st Giants quarterback to start 2 consecutive season openers since Dave Brown in 1996-97. Finished with 19 completions on 34 attempts for 258 yards, 3 touchdowns and no interceptions for a QB rating of 109.7. Threw touchdown passes of 11 and 43 yards to Toomer and 1 yard to rookie Marcellus Rivers.

2000: Enjoyed perhaps the most satisfying season of his career. Collins became the 1st Giants quarterback since Dave Brown in 1996 to start all 16 games, increasing his streak to 22 consecutive starts...He threw each of the team's 529 passes in 2000, the 1st Giants quarterback to do so since Scott Brunner in the strike-shortened 1982 season...Became just the 5th quarterback in the NFL since 1990 to throw all of his team's passes. The others were Dave Krieg with Seattle in 1990 (448 passes), Krieg with Kansas City in 1992 (413), Mark Brunell with Jacksonville in 1996 (557) and Peyton Manning with Indianapolis in 2000 (571)...Collins established career highs in passes (529), completions (311), passing yards (3,610) and touchdown passes (22). He finished the season with 3 300-yard games...The 311 completions were then a team record (Simms had 286 in 1984)...The 529 passes were the 2nd-most in Giants history (Simms, 533 in 1984)...The 3,610 yards were the 3rd-most in Giants history (Simms, 4,044 in 1984 and 3,829 in 1985)...His 83.1 quarterback rating was a career high. Previous best was 79.4 rating with Carolina in 1996...Threw Super Bowl record tying 4 interceptions in Super Bowl XXXV vs. Baltimore...Enjoyed the finest performance of his career in NFC Championship Game vs. Minnesota (1/14), completing 28 of 39 passes for 381 yards with 5 touchdowns and 2 interceptions. The completions, yards and touchdowns were all team postseason records. The old records were 25 completions by Simms at San Francisco in 1984, 290 yards by Brunner at San Francisco in 1981 and 4 touchdowns by Simms against San Francisco in 1986. The 5 touchdown passes tied the record for an NFL or NFC Championship Game, set by Chicago's Sid Luckman against Washington in 1943. 5 touchdown passes and 381 yards passing were both career-highs for Collins. Guided the Giants to a 34-0 halftime lead after completing 23 of 34 passes for 338 yards and 4 touchdowns in the 1st half...With victory over Philadelphia in the Divisional playoff game, became the 7th starting quarterback to win a postseason game for the Giants. With the victory in the NFC Championship Game, became only the 4th Giants QB to win more than 1 postseason game...Completed 22 of 39 passes for 321 yards, 2 touchdowns and 1 interception in final regular season game vs. Jacksonville (12/23)... Finished with 24 completions on 35 attempts for 333 yards with 2 touchdowns and no interceptions vs. Pittsburgh (12/10). 59-yard completion to Ike Hilliard was his longest of the season. With the start against the Steelers, Collins surpassed his record for the most consecutive starts in a season, which had been 13 in 1995 for the Carolina Panthers. In the game, Collins became the 1st Giants quarterback to pass for over 3,000 yards in a season since Phil Simms passed for 3,038 yards in 1993... Threw for a regular season career high 350 yards, 2 touchdowns and 1 interception while completing 29 of 51 passes vs. Detroit (11/19)...Enjoyed outstanding game at Cleveland (11/5), completing 19 of 31 passes for 257 yards, 3 touchdowns and a rating of 120.0. 3-touchdown game was his 1st since Dec. 5, 1999 vs. Jets...Completed 22 of 37 passes for 253 yards and 1 touchdown vs. Philadelphia (10/29). Giants held the ball for a season-high 43:41...Made his 1st season-opening start as a Giant vs. Arizona (9/3)...Completed 17 of 25 passes for 172 yards with 1 interception and no touchdowns.

1999: Played in 10 games, with 7 starts...Began season as 2nd-string quarterback and ended it as the starter...Started for injured Kent Graham at Arizona (10/10), then took over as the full-time starter in rematch with Cardinals (11/28)...Started last 6 games...Completed 191 of 332 attempts for 2,316 yards, 8 touchdowns and 11 ints...Quarterback rating was 73.3...Replaced Graham in the 2nd quarter at Washington (11/21) after Graham suffered a concussion. Completed 13 of 21 for 221 yards and an interception...Promoted to starting lineup the following week and completed 22 of 45 passes for 298 yards, 1 touchdown and 3 interceptions...Had 1 of the most productive games of his career vs. Jets (12/5), completing 23 of 44 passes for a then-career-high 341 yards, 3 touchdowns and no interceptions. Became the 1st Giants quarterback to throw for more than 300 yards since Phil Simms threw for 337 yards against the Cardinals (11/23/93), a span of 96 games. For his performance against the Jets, Collins was named NFC Offensive Player of the Week by the NFL...Completed 23 of 44 passes for 240 yards with 1 touchdown and 1 interception in victory at Buffalo (12/12)...Started at Dallas (1/2/00) and recorded his 2nd 300-yard passing game of the season by completing 31 of 48 passes for 314 yards. Also threw 1 touchdown and 1 interception and competed passes to 8 different targets.

1998: Played for both Carolina and New Orleans, starting all 11 games in which he appeared...Completed 76 of 162 passes for 1,011 yards, 8 touchdowns and 5 interceptions in 4 starts for the Panthers...Best game with the Panthers was at Atlanta (10-4), where he completed 20 of 38 passes for 302 yards and 3 touchdowns...Inactive in the 5th game of the year at Dallas (10/11) before being waived on Oct. 13...Was claimed off waivers by the New Orleans Saints on Oct. 14 and started the final 7 games of the season, finishing with 94 completions on 191 pass attempts for 1,202 yards, 4 touchdowns and 10 interceptions...His season highlight for the Saints was an 89-yard touchdown pass to WR Andre Hastings vs. Dallas (9/6) that tied a team record...Quarterback rating was 62.0.

1997: Started 13 games for Carolina...Completed 200 of 381 passes for 2,124 yards, 11 touchdowns and 21 interceptions...Struggled with his consistency, throwing 3 interceptions in 6 wins but 18 in 7 losses while working with a young, inexperienced offensive line...Suffered a major setback in a preseason game vs. Denver (8/9) when Broncos LB Bill Romanowski hit Collins from his left during his follow through on a pass, breaking Collins' jaw in 2 places...Originally thought to be out 6-to-8 weeks, Collins returned in just over 4 weeks, missing starts vs. Washington (8/31) and at Atlanta (9/7)...Started his 1st game of the season at San Diego (9/14), while completing 17 of 36 passes for 138 yards, an interception and 2 touchdowns in 26-7 victory...Passed for 328 yards with 24 completions on 47 attempts with a touchdown and 4 interceptions vs. Kansas City (9/14)...Completed 23 of 30 passes (76.7 percent) for 286 yards, a touchdown and no interceptions at St. Louis (11/23)...Suffered a concussion vs. New Orleans (11/30), limiting him to 7-of-15 passing for 82 yards.

1996: Enjoyed an outstanding season, leading Carolina to a 10-4 record as a starter and an appearance in the NFC Championship Game in the franchise's 2nd year in existence...Improved his quarterback rating to 79.4 from 61.9 his rookie season, recording the 2nd-highest increase in the NFL (Drew Bledsoe 63.7-83.7)...His 9 interceptions were the 2nd-fewest among quarterbacks with at least 300 attempts, while his 2.5% interception percentage was 3rd-lowest among league starters...Playing as a 2nd alternate, Collins made his 1st appearance in the Pro Bowl when injuries to Steve Young and Troy Aikman prevented their participation...In the inaugural game at Ericsson Stadium, Collins completed 17 of 31 passes for 186 yards and 2 touchdowns in a 29-6 win vs. Atlanta (9/1)...Completed 13 of 21 passes for 171 yards and an interception at New Orleans (9-8) before leaving the game in the 4th quarter with a sprained left knee...Was inactive the following week vs. San Francisco (9/22)...2nd-quarter interception by the Giants Jessie Armstead (11/10) ended a string of 110 passes without an interception. Collins left the game temporarily in the 3rd quarter with a strained right shoulder before returning to throw a 17-yard touchdown to FB Howard Griffith...The shoulder injury kept him out at St. Louis (11/17) and at Houston (11/24) and he returned vs. Tampa Bay (12/1)...Was named NFC Offensive Player of the Week after completing 22 of 37 passes for 327 yards, 3 touchdowns and no interceptions at San Francisco (12/8)...Threw 2 touchdowns vs. Dallas (1/5) in the NFC Divisional playoff...In the NFC Championship Game at Green Bay, Collins completed 19 of 27 passes for 215 yards, a touchdown and 2 interceptions.

1995: Started 13 of 15 games in which he played...Was a 1st-team all-rookie selection by College and Pro Football Newsweekly, Football News and Pro Football Weekly/PFWA...His 7-6 record as a starter in 1995 made him the 1st rookie quarterback with at least 9 starts to post a winning record since Dan Marino's 7-3 mark with Miami in 1983...Inactive 3rd quarterback at Atlanta (9/3)...Saw 1st NFL action at Buffalo (9/10), throwing 2 incomplete passes...The following week vs. St. Louis (9/17), Collins relieved QB Jack Trudeau in the 4th quarter and had his 1st attempt intercepted by the Rams Torin Dorn, who returned it 24 yards for a touchdown. He responded by directing the Panthers to their only touchdown of the day on the next possession, completing all 5 of his passes for 22 yards and capping the drive with a 1-yard touchdown run -- the 1st rushing touchdown in team history and the 1st rushing attempt of his career...After the bye week, Collins started for the 1st time vs. Tampa Bay (10/1), completing 18 of 32 passes for 234 yards, a touchdown and an interception in a 20-13 loss...Threw for 309 yards – his 1st 300-yard game – and 2 scores while completing 25 of 45 passes at New England (10/29)...At San Francisco (11/5), Collins completed 17 of 30 passes for 150 yards in a 13-7 win that was the 1st-ever victory for an NFL expansion team against the defending world champions...At New Orleans (11/26), Collins threw for 335 yards, 3 touchdowns and 4 interceptions...On the Panthers longest play of the year, Collins connected with WR Willie Green for an 89-yard touchdown with less than 7 minutes remaining in the 4th quarter to earn a comeback win.

College: A 1st team All-America selection by the Associated Press, The Football News and the NFL Draft Report, Collins directed the Penn State Nittany Lions to a 12-0 record his senior year in 1994, capped by a 38-20 victory over Oregon in the 1995 Rose Bowl...His senior season, he had 1 of the best campaigns in college football history, posting a 172.9 pass efficiency rating, 5th all-time in NCAA history...He completed 176 of 264 passes (66.7%) for 2,679 yards and 21 touchdowns and averaged 10.15 yards per attempt en route to the Davey O'Brien Award as the nation's top college quarterback, the Maxwell Award as the nation's outstanding player and honors as a finalist for the Heisman Trophy...He threw for at least 200 yards in 9 of 11 games and eclipsed or tied school single-season records for pass efficiency, completions, passing yards, total offense, yards per attempt and 200-yard games...He directed Penn State to victories in his last 17 games as a starter...Moved into the starting lineup in the 4th game of his junior year (1993) and completed 127 of 250 passes (50.8) for 1,605 yards and 13 touchdowns...Against Michigan State that year he set a Penn State record for passing yards in a game with 352 on 23 of 42 passing...After missing the 1st half of his sophomore season (1992), Collins started 4 of the last five games, finishing with 64 completions on 137 attempts, 925 yards and 4 touchdowns...His biggest game of the year came against BYU when his 28 completions on 54 attempts for 317 yards and a touchdown set school marks for attempts and completions in a game...As a redshirt freshman (1991), Collins saw reserve action in 6 contests...He was redshirted as a true freshman in 1990.

Personal: Married the former Brooke Isenhour on March 2, 2002... Has established a charitable fund, KC for Kids. In its initial year, Collins raised $100,000 ($57,000 of his own and $43,000 from corporate contributions) and built the Kerry Collins Computer Center and Classroom at the Rusk Institute of Rehabilitation Medicine in Manhattan. Kerry frequently visits Rusk during the season...In 2002, Collins announced that he will donate a minimum of $500,000 over the next 3 years to fund the renovation of the Rusk Institute of Rehabilitation. The donation will completely restore the 32-bed Pediatric In-Patient Unit within the NYU Hospital. Collins will reach this goal through 2 primary initiatives: 1) Donating $5,000 for each of his passing or rushing touchdowns and $5,000 for each Giants victory. Corporations and individuals will be invited to participate in this initiative as well. 2) This summer, Collins hosted the 1st-ever Kerry Collins Celebrity Bowl-O-Rama, a fundraiser featuring many of Collins' teammates and colleagues from the NFL, as well as other celebrities from the world of sports and entertainment...In 2001, Collins generated $120,000 in donations for Engine House 5 in downtown Manhattan... Since joining the Giants, Collins has donated almost $1 million to help people less fortunate than him. Aside from the Rusk Institute, his biggest and most-publicized beneficiary has been the Ladder 5/Engine 24 Family Relief Fund. The Manhattan firehouse lost 11 firefighters on Sept. 11. Collins generated $125,000 in donations to the firehouse's Family Relief Fund. Collins later gave at least $60,000 to other families who lost loved ones that day...Other recipients of Collins' generosity have been the Harlem Boys Choir, which got $60,000 for a 2-week trip to Israel, and Big Brothers/Big Sisters of New York, who received $10,000 worth of clothing at Christmas. Kerry and Brooke – who has her own lengthy list of charitable activities – annually go grocery shopping for Thanksgiving Dinner for 30 needy New Jersey families...Collins has purchased $10,000 worth of winter clothes for Big Brother Big Sisters of New York City and delivered them on Christmas Eve. Collins was an all-state AP selection at quarterback at Wilson High in West Lawn, Pa., earning Collins earned Athlete of the Year honors from Reading Eagle-Times and All-America honorable mention from USA Today...As a senior, he led Wilson to a 14-0 record and the Pennsylvania state 4-A title on the strength of 2,043 yards passing and 17 touchdowns...Also earned 2nd-team all-state honors as a center in basketball and was an all-county choice as pitcher in baseball...Collins was selected in the 26th round of the Major League Baseball draft by the Detroit Tigers in 1990 and in the 58th round by the Toronto Blue Jays in 1994...Collins donated $250,000 to his alma mater's football program to fund the Kerry Collins quarterback scholarship, which will endow a Penn State quarterback's books and tuition in perpetuity...Labor and Industrial Education major...Kerry Michael Collins was born in Lebanon, Pennsylvania on Dec. 30, 1972.

GIANT FACT

DAYNE RUSHED FOR 71 TOUCHDOWNS DURING HIS COLLEGE CAREEER AT WISCONSIN.

Transactions: Transactions: Originally a 1st round (11th pick overall) draft choice by the Giants in 2000.

NFL: Strong back who also has a quick burst through the hole...Rushed for 1,888 yards in his 1st 3 seasons, a higher total than 7 of the top 10 rushers in Giants history had in their 1st 3 seasons with the team. Among those 10 running backs, only Rodney Hampton (2,655), Ron Johnson (2,422) and Eddie Price (2,365) had more yards in their 1st 3 Giants seasons than Dayne...Totaled 1,460 yards rushing in 2000-01, the highest total by a Giants back in his 1st 2 seasons since Hampton ran for 1,514 yards in 1990 and '91...Dayne was the 1st Heisman Trophy winner ever drafted by the Giants and is only the 2nd Heisman winner to play for the franchise (Herschel Walker was a Giant in 1995)...Has not missed a game since entering the NFL in 2000.

2002: Played in all 16 games with 1 start...Was 2nd on the team and 25th in the NFC with 428 rushing yards on 125 carries...Ran for 3 touchdowns...Caught 11 passes for 49 yards...Finished with 13 carries for 46 yards and 1 reception for 4 yards at Indianapolis (12/22). Game-long run was for 16 yards and helped set up Amani Toomer's 27-yard touchdown reception in the 4th quarter...Enjoyed his best game of the season vs. Dallas (12/15), rushing for 80 yards and 2 touchdowns on 19 carries, the 1st 2-touchdown game of his career. Scored on a 4-yard run in the 1st quarter that gave the Giants a 21-0 lead, and on a 3-yard run in the 4th quarter...Rushed 4 times for 40 yards, including a 30-yard touchdown run in the 2nd period, at Minnesota (11/10)...Finished with 52 rushing yards on 13 carries and caught 2 passes for 7 yards vs. Jacksonville (11/3)... Rushed for 43 yards on 9 carries, including an 18-yarder, vs. Atlanta (10/13)...Ran for 48 yards on 11 carries vs. Seattle (9/22)...Started at St. Louis (9/15) and gained 18 yards on 11 carries.

2001: Played in all 16 games with 7 starts...Led the Giants with 7 rushing touchdowns...Was 2nd on the team with 690 rushing yards...His 61-yard run against Green Bay in Week 16 was the longest of his career. Previous career-long was 55-yard run against New Orleans in Week 3...Also caught 8 passes for 67 yards...Started and had team-high totals of 10 carries for 81 yards vs. Green Bay (1/6). Season and career-long run of 61 yards came in the 2nd quarter and helped set up Morten Andersen's 27-yard field goal. Scored his team-high 7th rushing touchdown of the season on a 1-yard run in the 4th quarter...Started and carried 8 times for 59 yards and a touchdown at Philadelphia (12/20). Game-long run of 30 yards set up Andersen's 25-yard field goal. His 16-yard touchdown run in the 4th quarter put the Giants ahead 21-14 with 2:43 remaining...Finished with 7 carries for 42 yards vs. Seattle (12/23). His 31-yard touchdown run in the 1st quarter was a career-long and the longest touchdown run by a Giant in 2001...Had 19 carries for 49 yards and a touchdown at Arizona (11/11). Recorded his 4th rushing touchdown of the season on the Giants' opening drive on a 3-yard run...Started and finished with season-high 20 carries for 88 yards with 1 touchdown at St. Louis (10/14), despite missing practice time during the week due to neck strain suffered in previous game. His 14-yard run on the game's opening drive set up his own 4-yard touchdown run...Rushed for 39 yards on 16 carries vs. Washington (10/7), but did not play after halftime due to neck strain...Started and rushed for career-high 111 yards on 19 carries with a touchdown vs. New Orleans (9/30)...Then-career-long 55-yard run came in the 2nd quarter and helped set up his 6-yard touchdown run ...Started and carried 16 times for 46 yards with a touchdown at Kansas City (9/23). Scored the Giants 1st rushing touchdown of the season on a 7-yard run to start the 2nd quarter.

2000: Played in all 16 games with 4 starts, plus 3 postseason games with 1 start...Rushed for 770 yards, the 2nd-highest rushing total for a 1st-year player in Giants history, exceeded only by Tuffy Leemans' 830 yards in 1936...Dayne was the NFL's 3rd-leading rookie rusher, trailing only Denver's Mike Anderson (1,500 yards) and Baltimore's Jamal Lewis (1,364)...Scored 5 touchdowns...Rushed for at least 50 yards in 9 of 16 games... Scored a touchdown in his 1st professional game, on a 7-yard run in the season-opening victory over Arizona... Dayne had his 1st 100-yard game with a 108-yard effort against Dallas (10/15)...Did not have a rushing attempt in Super Bowl XXXV vs. Baltimore (1/28)...Rushed for 29 yards on 10 carries, with a long run of 15 yards, in NFC Championship Game vs. Minnesota (1/14)...Had game-high totals of 17 carries for 53 yards in NFC Divisional Playoff vs. Philadelphia (1/7). Also had game-long run of 18 yards in the 2nd quarter... Fumbled in the 2nd quarter while attempting a hand off to WR Ike Hilliard...Led all rushers with 85 yards on 24 carries and scored his 5th touchdown of the season on a 1-yard run in the 2nd quarter at Arizona (11/26)...Rushed for 66 yards on 9 carries, including a season-long 50-yard run vs. St. Louis (11/12)...Finished with team-high totals of 19 carries and 64 yards at Cleveland (11/5). Fumbled for the 1st time in his NFL career in the 1st quarter. Ball was recovered by former Giants safety Percy Ellsworth and returned 16 yards...Had season-high 25 carries for 93 yards and scored a touchdown for the 3rd straight game, on a 1-yard run, vs. Philadelphia (10/29). Effective running enabled the Giants offense to hold the ball for 43:41, the team's highest time of possession since holding the ball for 45:43 at Philadelphia on 11/20/83...Had 1st 100-yard game of career vs. Dallas (10/15), rushing for 108 yards on 21 carries. Had long run of 32 yards and scored his 3rd touchdown of the season on a 3-yard run that proved to be the game-winner...Started for the 1st time at Atlanta (10/8) and scored the only touchdown of the game on a 5-yard run in the 1st quarter. Finished with 31 yards on 12 carries...Enjoyed a big NFL debut with 78 yards and a touchdown on 23 carries as Dayne and Tiki Barber combined to rush for 222 yards vs. Arizona (9/3).

College: Established an NCAA Division 1-A regular season rushing record with 6,397 yards, breaking the previous mark of 6,279 yards by Ricky Williams of Texas (1995-98). Including bowl games, he became the 1st player in college history to rush for over 7,000 yards (7,125) in a career...Shattered previous Big 10 Conference record of 5,589 yards by Ohio State's Archie Griffin...Tied the NCAA record held by Williams and Marcus Allen of Southern California with 12 200-yard rushing performances. Also set Big 10 career records for rushing attempts (1,220), points (426) and 71 touchdowns (both rushing and total). The Badgers compiled a 28-5 record in games he rushed for over 100 yards...Personally out-rushed the opposing team 29 times in his 43 career starts...Became the 5th player in college history to rush for over 1,000 yards in a season 4 times...As a senior in 1999, was a unanimous All-America and All-Big 10 Conference 1st-team selection...Won the Heisman Trophy, Doak Walker Award and the Maxwell Award as the nation's top college player...Named National Player of the Year by the Associated Press, Football News, The Sporting News and Walter Camp Foundation...Became the 1st player in Big 10 history to lead the conference in rushing

3 times. Despite missing 6 quarters of action, he finished 2nd in the nation in rushing with an average of 169.5 yards per game...In 1999, he became the 1st player in Big 10 history to lead the conference in rushing, all-purpose yardage and scoring in the same season...Tied a conference season-record by earning 4 Player of the Week honors...Carried 337 times for 2,034 yards (6.0 avg.) and 20 touchdowns and scored 120 points in his final season...Averaged 170.3 all-purpose yards per game...As a junior in 1998, he was a Walter Camp Foundation All-America 1st-team pick, joining Dennis Lick (1974-75) as the only Badger to earn 1st-team national honors twice in a career...1 of 3 finalists for the Doak Walker Award, given to the nation's top running back. Unanimous All-Big 10 Conference 1st-team pick...Out-rushed the opposing team in 8 contests while gaining 1,525 yards with 15 touchdowns on 295 carries (5.2 avg.). Added 45 yards on 6 catches (7.5 avg.)...As a sophomore in 1997, was an All-America 1st-team choice by Football News and a consensus All-Big 10 Conference 1st-team pick...Despite season-long shoulder, knee, ankle and groin ailments (missed 12 quarters of action), he ranked 5th in the nation in rushing, averaging 142.0 yards per game...Led the team with 263 carries for 1,457 yards (5.5 avg.) and 15 touchdowns, a school season-record for sophomores...In 1996 was a Freshman All-America 1st-team pick by The Sporting News, an Associated Press All-America 3rd-team choice and an All-Big 10 Conference 1st-team selection...Shared Big 10 Newcomer of the Year honors with Ohio State's Andy Katzenmoyer...Joined a group of 10 other players in college football history to rush for more than 2,000 yards (bowl games included) in a season, gaining 2,109 yards (8th-best in NCAA history) with a school-record 21 touchdowns...Became the most-prolific freshman runner in college history despite not starting until the 5th game. Gained 1,863 yards during the regular season (the NCAA does not recognize bowl performances in season stats) to break Herschel Walker's freshman mark of 1,616 yards set in 1980 at Georgia. Tied Walker's record of 4 200-yard games by a freshman. Broke an NCAA mark for yards gained in consecutive games when he totaled 628 yards vs. Illinois (289) and Hawaii (339), breaking the old mark of 626 yards set by Cal State Fullerton's Mike Pringle in 1989...His per-game average of 155.3 (not counting the bowl) is 2nd in NCAA freshman history, just behind Marshall Faulk's mark of 155.8 set in 1991 at San Diego State...Set national freshman records for carries in a game (50 vs. Minnesota) and season (295). The old records were 45 carries in a game by James McDougal (Wake Forest, 1976) and 292 in a season by Steve Bartalo (Colorado State, 1983)...Averaged 162.2 yards per game, breaking the Wisconsin record (136.4 by Big 10 MVP Brent Moss in 1993) by more than 25 yards...Averaged 195.8 yards per game as a starter...His 2,109 yards set a Big 10 record, topping the old mark of 2,066 yards, set by Michigan State's Lorenzo White in 1985...Became just the 4th Badger in the modern era to lead the conference in rushing (joining Moss, 1993; Billy Marek, 1974; and Alan Ameche, 1951-52).

Personal: Married (Alia Lester) with daughter Jada (11/3/97) and son Javian (6/8/00)...Consensus 1st-team All-America selection and Super Prep Eastern Region Player of the Year at Overbrook (Berlin, N.J.) High...Rushed for 1,785 yards (14.9 average) and 24 TDs as a senior...His top game was a 250-yard, 4-touchdown effort vs. Atco Edgewood...2-time All-South Jersey choice at running back...Gained 1,566 yards with 27 touchdowns as a junior...Won the state shot put and discus titles as a junior and senior...Threw the discus 216-10 at the Golden West Invitational as a senior, the 3rd-longest prep throw in history (also set a New Jersey state discus record)...Captured the Penn Relays shot put title in 1996 and qualified for the Olympic Trials...Born March 14, 1978.

NFL: One of the best stories in training camp in 2002...Given little notice and little chance to make the team as the 4th quarterback when camp opened, Dinkins impressed Jim Fassel with his work ethic, hustle and desire...Was moved to tight end and then safety to improve his chances to make the roster...Made the team largely for his outstanding play on special teams...1st pro football experience was as a quarterback for the Pittsburgh Colts in the semi-pro National American Football League...Caught the Giants' attention as a standout special teams player for the Rhein Fire in NFL Europe in 2002.

2002: Played in 2 games, with no starts...Missed the final 13 games after breaking a bone in his foot vs. Seattle (9/22)...Was inactive for 4 games before being placed on injured reserve (11/1)...Made NFL debut on special teams vs. San Francisco (9/5)...Had 1 special teams tackle vs. Seattle before sustaining injury...Announced his arrival with big hit on Kevin Faulk while covering a Gabe Lindstrom punt in preseason game vs. New England (8/10).

College: Went to Pittsburgh as a quarterback after excelling at the position in high school...Had brief stints at wide receiver and linebacker, but was ultimately shifted to defensive back, where he started for 3 seasons...In 1998, started all 11 games at free safety and finished 2nd on the team in tackles with 78 (49 solo)...Also had 6 passes defensed, 2 quarterback hurries and a forced fumble.

Personal: Married (Shayla Nicole). They have 2 children, Kayla (1/31/00) and Khalil (5/29/02) ...Joined forces with students from the Leadership In Public Services High School located at Ground Zero for "Operation PaintFest." Sponsored by the Foundation for Hospital Art, created paintings of hope that would later be donated to the five New York hospitals involved in the September 11th tragedies. Attended the New York Giants/ Ronald McDonald House of New York City Holiday Party and shared in the Holiday spirit during dinner, gift-giving and caroling with the children and their families. Served as a guest speaker at the Newark "Play it Smart" Awards banquet. Delivered a motivational speech to five Newark high school football teams that participate in the NFF/NFL sponsored Play it Smart program...A standout quarterback and linebacker at Schenley High School in Pittsburgh, Dinkins was Named City League MVP by both the Pittsburgh Post Gazette and the Pittsburgh Courier and a member of the 1995 Big 33 Team...As a senior he rushed for 435 yards and 3 touchdowns on 26 carries and threw 113 passes for 1,256 yards and 10 touchdowns...On defense, he had 86 tackles, 3 knockdowns, 4 sacks and 4 fumble recoveries (1 for a touchdown)....Born Jan. 20, 1977.

NFL: Highly-respected veteran quarterback...Joined the Giants in 2000 as Kerry Collins' top backup after 2 seasons in the same position behind Troy Aikman in Dallas...Prior to that, Garrett was the Cowboys No. 3 quarterback...A smart, savvy veteran who studies and practices hard each week and can step in to run the offense without notice...Owns a 6-3 record for his career as a starter, all with Dallas (1-0 in 1993, 1-0 in 1994, 3-2 in 1998 and 1-1 in 1999)...Garrett began his career as an undrafted rookie and spent 2 seasons on NFL practice squads, sandwiched around stints in the Canadian Football League, the World League of American Football and a year coaching at his alma mater (Princeton), before making Dallas' active roster in 1993.

2002: Was inactive as the 3rd quarterback for all 16 regular season games and the NFC Wild Card game at San Francisco.

GIANT FACT

GARRETT IS 6-3 AS A STARTING QUARTERBACK IN THE NFL.

2001: Played in 15 games, with no starts...Saw all his action as the holder on extra points and field goal attempts...Did not play at Denver (9/10), but was the holder for the final 15 games of the season.

2002: Played in 2 regular season games and the NFC Championship Game...Did not attempt a pass in the regular season, running out the clock at Arizona (11/26) and vs. Pittsburgh (12/10)...Played the entire 4th period in the NFC Championship Game, completing his only pass to Ike Hilliard for 4 yards.

1999: Was 1-1 as the starter in Dallas, filling in for Troy Aikman...Finished the season with 32 completions on 64 attempts for 314 yards, 3 touchdowns and 1 interception...Took over when Aikman suffered a concussion on the 1st drive of the 2nd half at Minnesota (11/8). Completed 3 of 11 passes for 4 yards...Earned his 1st start of the season vs. Green Bay (11/14). Completed 13 of 23 passes for 199 yards and 2 touchdowns in victory...Started the following week at Arizona and completed 16 of 29 passes for 111 yards and an 11-yard touchdown pass to David LaFleur in a loss to Cardinals.

JASON GARRETT

1998: Saw the most extensive action of his career after beginning the season as the Cowboys No. 2 quarterback for the 2nd time...Was 3-2 as a starter when Aikman missed 5 games early in the season with a fractured clavicle...Finished with career-high totals of 158 attempts, 91 completions, 1,206 yards, 5 touchdowns and 3 interceptions...After Aikman was injured in the 2nd quarter at Denver (9/13), Garrett guided Dallas to field goals on his 1st 3 possessions and finished 14-of-19 (73.7%) for 113 yards...Faced the Giants in Giants Stadium on a Monday night (9/21) the following week in his 1st start since Nov. 24, 1994 and completed 11-of-27 passes for 224 yards and a touchdown on an 80-yard scoring pass to Billy Davis. The 80-yard pass was the longest of Garrett's career and the longest play from scrimmage by Dallas since a 90-yard Aikman-to-Alvin Harper pass play on Nov. 13, 1994...The next week against Oakland (9/27) marked the 1st back-to-back starts of Garrett's career, and he completed 18-of-33 passes for 222 yards and 2 interceptions in a loss...At Washington (10/4), he connected on 14-of-17 passes (82.4%) for 169 yards and a 43-yard touchdown to Ernie Mills in a victory over the Redskins...Garrett was 14-of-22 for 287 yards, including 7 pass plays of over 20 yards, and 2 touchdowns the following week against Carolina (10/11)...In his final start of the year at Chicago (10/18), he finished 14-of-26 for 136 yards, a touchdown and an interception.

1997: Inactive for the 1st 15 games before seeing his only action of the year in the season-finale against the Giants (12/21), completing 10-of-14 passes for 56 yards in 4th quarter action.

1996: Inactive for 13 regular-season games and 1 postseason game...Did not play at Philadelphia (9/30) and vs. Arizona (10/13)...He led 3 4th quarter drives at Washington (12/22), completing all 3 of his passes for 44 yards and guiding Dallas to its only touchdown of the day...Saw his 1st career postseason action against Minnesota (12/28), leading the Cowboys to a field goal on 2-of-2 passing for 14 yards.

1995: Inactive as the 3rd quarterback in 18 of 19 games, including the postseason...Only action was in the 4th quarter against San Francisco (11/12) when Aikman (bruised left knee) and Wade Wilson (lacerated left hand) were both injured. Garrett completed 4-of-5 passes for 46 yards, including an 8-yard touchdown pass to Michael Irvin.

1994: After being inactive for the 1st 10 games, saw action against Washington (11/20), replacing Aikman (sprained knee) and Rodney Peete (sprained thumb), who were injured during the game... In only his 2nd NFL start, he led Dallas to a 42-31 come-from-behind victory against Green Bay (11/24) with a club record 36 2nd-half points. Led Dallas to scores on 6 consecutive drives, including 5 straight 2nd-half touchdowns, after the Packers had taken a 17-3 lead. Finished with 15 completions in 26 attempts for 311 yards, 2 touchdowns and 1 interception. Garrett received a Game Ball from the coaches, earned NFC Offensive Player of the Week honors and was the NFL/Miller Lite Player of the Week.

1993: Moved onto the active roster ahead of Hugh Millen on the depth chart after passing for 549 yards and 3 touchdowns in the preseason...Garrett orchestrated 2 scoring drives and completed 5 of 6 passes for 34 yards against the Giants (11/7) after Aikman strained his left hamstring and left the game...The following week against Phoenix (11/14), Garrett made his 1st NFL start in the Cowboys 20-15 win...Moved into the 3rd quarterback spot and was deactivated for the final 7 regular season games and all 3 postseason games with the mid-November signing of QB Bernie Kosar.

1992: Attended training camp with Dallas, but he was released on the final roster cut and was signed onto the practice squad the following day...Started the year with San Antonio of the World League, but was released so he could sign with Dallas.

1991: Opened the World League season as the starting quarterback for the San Antonio Riders, but suffered a separated shoulder in the season opener...Rebounded to complete 60-of-113 passes for 609 yards, 3 touchdowns and 3 interceptions...Following his World League season, he joined the Ottawa Rough Riders of the Canadian Football League for 13 games, seeing very limited action.

1989-90: After going undrafted in 1989, Garrett signed with New Orleans as a free agent and spent the year on the Saints developmental roster before being released prior to the 1990 season...Spent 1990 as an assistant coach at Princeton before joining the World League in the spring of 1991.

College: An honorable mention All-America selection at Princeton as a senior, Garrett established NCAA Division 1-AA records for single-season completion percentage (68.2%) and lowest percentage of passes intercepted (1.0%). As the 1988 Ivy League Player of the Year, Garrett completed 204-of-299 passes for 2,217 yards, 12 touchdowns and 3 interceptions. Despite playing only 2 seasons at Princeton, Garrett finished his career 2nd on the school's all-time passing list with 4,274 yards, including a career-high 309 yards on 25-of-31 passing against Lehigh as a junior.

Personal: Married (Brill)...Was an all-league safety and quarterback at University High School in Chagrin, Ohio...Also lettered in basketball and baseball, earning all-league honors in basketball...Born in Abington, Pa., Jason and his family followed his father Jim's coaching career with stops in Pennsylvania, Florida, Dallas, New Jersey, Houston, New Orleans and finally Cleveland. Jason has 7 brothers and sisters, including Judd and John, who have been assistant coaches in the NFL...Jason has been very active in the community, hosting a summer youth football camp benefiting Spina Bifida Association, Happy Hill Farm, Irving Infant Intervention Center and Crossroads Interfaith Housing. In 1997, Jason established the Jason Garrett Starfish Charities, whose mission is to strive to make the New York Metropolitan and the Dallas/Ft. Worth community a better place by enriching the lives of its youth. Jason earned his degree in history from Princeton, where he met his wife, Brill, also a graduate of Princeton. Jason and Brill have both served as model escorts for the annual Children's Cancer Fund (of Dallas) Fashion Show... Joined forces with students from the Leadership In Public Services High School located at Ground Zero for "Operation PaintFest." Sponsored by the Foundation for Hospital Art, created paintings of hope that would later be donated to the five New York hospitals involved in the September 11th tragedies. Attended the New York Giants/ Ronald McDonald House of New York City Holiday Party and shared in the Holiday spirit during dinner, gift-giving and caroling with the children and their families. Hosted 1 family from the Ronald McDonald House of New York City at each Giants home game during the 2002 season...Born March 28, 1966.

Practiced prior to the Denver game for the 1st time after missing the entire training camp following surgery.

2000: Started 14 regular season games and 3 postseason games...Missed games at Arizona (11/26) and Washington (12/3) after suffering bruised lungs and a bruised sternum when hit by safety Kurt Schulz while running a route down the center of the field vs. Detroit (11/19)...Led the Giants with a 14.3-yard average per catch, a career-high 8 receiving touchdowns and he had the team's season-long catch of 59 yards...His 55 receptions were 3rd on the team...Caught 3 passes for 30 yards with a long reception of 13 yards in Super Bowl XXXV vs. Baltimore (1/28)...Played brilliantly in NFC Championship Game vs. Minnesota (1/14), establishing career-highs with 10 catches for 155 yards. Also scored 2 touchdowns...The 10 receptions broke the team postseason record of 9, set by Bob Schnelker at Baltimore in 1959. The 155 yards was the 2nd-most in team postseason history; Schnelker had 178 in that `59 game against the Colts. Hilliard caught a 46-yard touchdown pass from Kerry Collins on the 4th play of the game. Also scored on a 7-yarder in the 2nd period. Finished the 1st half with 8 receptions for 146 yards...Caught 3 passes for 35 yards in NFC Divisional Playoff vs. Philadelphia (1/7). His game-long 23-yard reception converted a 3rd-and-6 in the 2nd quarter. Returned punts for the 1st time in his NFL career and finished with 2 yards on 1 return. Recovered a 4th quarter on-side kick attempt to help preserve Giants victory...Finished with 4 receptions for 51 yards and a touchdown vs. Jacksonville (12/23). Recorded his career-best 8th touchdown reception of the season when he caught a 5-yard pass from Collins in the end zone early in the 4th quarter... Returned to starting lineup vs. Pittsburgh (12/10) after missing 2 games with his injury and had 5 receptions for 90 yards and a touchdown, a 9-yarder. Had a season-long 59-yard catch...Caught 1 pass for 19 yards vs. Detroit before leaving game when hit by Schulz, who was penalized 15 yards for unnecessary roughness on the play...Finished with 5 receptions for a season-high 110 yards and a career regular season high 2 touchdowns vs. St. Louis (11/12). 46-yard catch and run touchdown in the 2nd quarter was the longest regular season touchdown of his career...Led Giants with 7 receptions for 85 yards and a touchdown vs. Washington (9/24)...Had team-high 8 catches for 84 yards and a touchdown at Philadelphia (9/10).

1999: Started every game and finished 2nd on the team in receptions with career-high 72 and in receiving yards with 996...Also had 3 touchdowns...72 receptions is the 4th-highest total in Giants history...Had more than 100 receiving yards in both games vs. Washington, finishing with a game-high 8 catches for 114 yards and 1 touchdown at home (9/19) and 4 receptions for 101 yards, including a season-long 46-yarder, on the road (11/21)...Finished with 6 receptions for season-high 121 yards vs. Jets (12/5). For the 2nd time in 1999 Hilliard was 1 of 2 Giants receivers to finish a game with over 100 receiving yards. Toomer had 181 yards on 6 receptions...Toomer finished with 105 receiving yards and Hilliard with 114 receiving yards vs. Washington (9/19).

1998: Returned to the starting lineup at wide receiver after a full recovery from a season-ending neck injury his rookie season...Started all 16 games, finishing with 51 receptions for 715 yards and 2 touchdowns...Also had 1 rushing attempt that gained 4 yards on a reverse vs. Philadelphia (11/22)...Scored his 1st NFL touchdown on a 10-yard pass from Danny Kanell at Oakland (9/13). Led the team with 8 receptions for 78 yards...Was the only Giants receiver in 1998 to reach 100 yards receiving, finishing with 6 receptions for 141 yards at San Francisco (11/30), Hilliard's 1st NFL 100-yard receiving game.

1997: One of five rookies (Hilliard, RB Tiki Barber, C Derek Engler, S Sam Garnes and P Brad Maynard) in the starting lineup on opening day vs. Philadelphia (8/31)...It was the 1st time a 1st-round draft choice was in the starting lineup for his 1st Giants game since 1982, when RB Butch Woolfolk started. Made a terrific 19-yard catch on 3rd-and-17 to give the Giants a 1st down at the Eagles' 22-yard line. Hilliard came streaking across the middle, made the catch and managed to hold onto the ball despite a big hit by Eagles safety Tim Watson...Made a 23-yard sliding reception from Dave Brown at Jacksonville (9/7) to give the Giants a 1st down at the 4-yard line and set up a Barber 4-yard touchdown run in the 1st quarter. Hilliard was forced to leave the game after a hit by Jaguars safety Chris Hudson on the reception. He was diagnosed with a sprained interspinous ligament between the 6th and 7th vertabrae. Underwent successful posterior spine stabilization surgery on September 16 at The Hospital for Special Surgery/Cornell Medical Center. The procedure fused the 6th and 7th vertabrae...Placed on injured reserve for the remainder of the year on Sept. 30...Started 2 games and finished with 2 receptions for 42 yards.

NFL: One of the most reliable kickers in the NFL...Has hit 200 of 250 career field goal attempts, an 80 percent success rate that is the 9th-best in NFL history...Has made 16 of 18 playoff field goal attempts, an 88.9 percent success rate that is 2nd in postseason history behind Chuck Nelson (90.9)...His 200 career field goals are 34th on the all-time list, 2 behind Chris Jacke...Hollis' 879 career points place him 42nd on the league's career scoring list, 2 behind Bobby Waltson...Selected to the Pro Bowl in 1997 after leading the NFL in scoring with 134 points...Has scored more than 100 points in a season 6 times...Was the Jaguars leading scorer in each of his 7 seasons with Jacksonville and surpassed the 100-point mark in five straight seasons (1996-2000)...Has made 13 of 19 (68.4) from 50 yards or more in his career, tying him for the 2nd-highest percentage among active NFL kickers with more than 10 attempts. Paul Edinger is 1st (7-10, .700), and Mike Vanderjagt has also made 13 of 19 from at least 50 yards out...Holds the Jacksonville team record with 20 consecutive field goals made...Missed 4 games in 2000 after undergoing in-season back surgery; he had been the only placekicker in Jaguars history until that point.

GIANT FACT
ENTERING 2003, HOLLIS HAS MADE 16 OF 18 FIELD GOAL ATTEMPTS IN THE POSTSEASON, AN 88.9% SUCCESS RATE.

2002: Was 5th in the AFC and 10th in the NFL with 115 points, the 6th-highest single-season total in Buffalo history...It was the 6th 100-point season of his career...Made 25 of 33 field goal attempts and all 40 of his extra point tries...Hit a team-record 52-yard field goal and 4 extra points in his Bills debut vs. Jets (9/8). The old record of 51 yards by Mike Mercer had stood since Sept. 10, 1976...Broke his own mark and scored a season-high 15 points the following week at Minnesota (9/15), when he kicked 4 field goals in 5 tries, including 3-pointers from 52 and 54 yards...It was the 11th time he had kicked at least 4 field goals in a game. Increased his career total of field goals 50 yards or longer to 13...It was the 1st time in his career he kicked field goals of at least 50 yards in consecutive games...Made all 3 of his field goal attempts, from 46, 26 and 44 yards, at Miami (10/20)...Also went 3-for-3 at Kansas City (11/17), the 30th time in career he kicked at least 3 field goals in a game.

2001: Played in all 16 games and led Jaguars with 83 points...Made 18 of 28 field goal attempts with a long of 48, and 29 of 31 extra point tries...Kicked 3 field goals at Seattle (10/7) handled kickoff duties for 1st time since 1998 vs. Baltimore (11/25), after release of Jim Tarle...Made all 3 field goal attempts at Cleveland (12/16), but was wide left on an extra point, his 1st miss since 10/22/95, also in Cleveland). That ended his PAT streak at 220...Scored season-high 15 points at Minnesota (12/23), where he was perfect on 7 kicks – 4 field goals and 3 extra point...Had 36-yard FGA blocked and hit right upright on extra point attempt at Chicago (1/6), failing to score for the 1st time since 12/17/95 at Detroit to end 92-game scoring streak in games in which he played; block was just the 5th of his career and 1st since 10/29/00 at Dallas.

2000: Played in 12 games, the only season in his career he failed to play 16 games...Returned from in-season back surgery to post the most-accurate year of his career... Scored 105 points to rank 16th among NFL kickers...It was the 5th consecutive season he exceeded 100 points...Missed games 3-6 with a back injury...Hit on 24 of 26 field goals, an accuracy mark of 92.3 percent that was the best of his career and a team record; he ranked 2nd in the AFC and 4th in the NFL...He broke his previous mark of 86.1 percent set in 1997...Didn't miss a kick at ALLTEL Stadium, going 11-for-11 at home and 13-for-15 on the road...Succeeded on his 1st 13 field goal attempts, a team record at the start of the season...Hit on all 33 of his extra point attempts...He scored 10 or more points in 6 of his 12 games...Did not handle kickoffs for the 2nd straight season, though he did attempt 3 onside kicks...Kicked 2 field goals, including a 50-yarder, at Cleveland (9/3) to move back into 1st place on the NFL's all-time field goal accuracy list at 81.82 percent (135 of 165), surpassing John Carney...Set a career high and tied a team record with 18 points at Baltimore (9/10), hitting all 5 of his field goal attempts and all 3 extra point tries...Missed the 1st game of his career vs. Cincinnati (9/17), ending his distinction of having played in every Jaguars game (including postseason) in their history...Underwent back surgery (microdiscectomy to repair a herniated disk) on 9/18 and missed the next 3 games...Returned to the lineup Tennessee (10/16) and was 2-for-2 on field goals made his only extra point try for 7 points...Kicked season-long 51-yard field goal vs. Washington (10/11)...Had a 49-yard attempt blocked in the 4th quarter at Dallas (10/29), snapping his streak of 13 consecutive field goals to start the season and dropping his all-time accuracy to 82.49, behind Miami's Olindo Mare (82.79)...Kicked a 38-yard field goal with no time left on the clock vs. Tennessee (11/26) for the 4th game-winner of his career...Scored 12 points vs. Cleveland (12/3) on 2 field goals and 6 extra points, tying his regular-season team record for most extra points in a game...Scored 14 points vs. Arizona (12/10) on 3-of-3 field goals (including a 50-yarder) and 5-of-5 extra points.

1999: Ranked 4th in NFL scoring with 130 points, the 2nd-highest total of his career...Made a team-record 20 consecutive field goals (including 13 at the end of the 1998 season)...Also had a streak of 12 straight during the season...Hit 31 of 38 field goal attempts, an 81.6 percent success rate that ranked 9th in the AFC and 15th in the NFL...His 38 field goal attempts were a team record, breaking his mark of 36, set in 1996 and 97...The 31 field goals tied for 4th in the NFL, and his 38 attempts were 3rd...Hit all 37 of his extra point attempts...Scored 10 or more points in 7 games...Scored 15 points in season opener vs. San Francisco (9/12), then the 4th-highest total of his career and best since a career-high 17 vs. Baltimore 11/30/97. Broke his own team record with 17 consecutive field goals made, topping his mark of 16, as he kicked 4 3-pointers (41, 32, 50 and 42 yards). Made his 1st 3 field goal attempts at Carolina (9/19) from 36, 40 and 31 yards to extend his team-record string to 20 straight, then was wide left on his 4th try from 49 yards, ending the streak...Scored 10 points for the 2nd straight week vs. Cleveland (10/17) and surpassed 500 points scored in his career...Scored 12 points at Atlanta (11/7) for his 2nd-highest total of the season and ran his streak to 12 consecutive field goals before having his 2nd attempt from 48 yards blocked...Scored 8 points vs. Pittsburgh (12/2) to reach the 100-point mark for the 4th straight season...Kicked 23-yard game-winner as time expired for a 27-24 victory on Monday Night Football vs. Denver (12/13)...Ended his streak of 17 straight field goals on the road at Cleveland (12/19) when he was short on his 1st attempt from 49 yards...In the playoffs, scored a team single-game postseason-record 14 points by hitting 2 field goals and tying an NFL record by making 8-of-8 extra point attempts in the 62-7 win over Miami (1/15). Extra point total tied the league mark held by Jim Martin and Hall of Famers Lou Groza and George Blanda…Made his 1st field goal attempt from 45 yards to extend his postseason streak to 14 straight, but missed wide left on his 2nd try from 39 yards; later converted a 28-yarder…Had no field goal attempts, but kicked 2 extra points, in AFC Championship game vs. Tennessee (1/23).

1998: Scored 108 points, surpassing the 100-point mark for the 3rd straight season…Ranked 7th in the AFC and 12th in the NFL in scoring…Finished the season by making 13 consecutive field goals attempts, for the 2nd-longest streak of his career and in team history (added 5 more field goals in the playoffs, giving him 18 straight to finish the year)…Made 21 of 26 field goals (80.8 percent) and all 45 extra point attempts…Got hot after Game 2, making 19 of his 21 attempts the rest of the season…A blocked kick vs. Baltimore (9/20) was the 3rd blocked field goal attempt of his career and the 1st since 12/10/95 vs. Indianapolis…Missed for the last time in 1998 at Denver (10/25), a 51-yarder that marked his only attempt of 50 yards or more all season; the miss also ended a streak of 23 consecutive field goals made on the road…Kicked a team-record 6 extra points in 6 tries at Baltimore (11/1)…Had 11 points vs. Tampa Bay (11/15) and surpassed the 400-point total for his career…Booted a season-long 47-yard field goal at Cincinnati (11/29)…Scored a season-high 13 points vs. Detroit (12/6) on 3 of 3 field goals, and 4 of 4 extra points, and added a tackle on a kickoff…Qualified as the NFL's all-time leader in field goal accuracy in the regular season by making his 1st attempt from 21 yards for the 100th 3-pointer of his career vs. Tennessee (12/13). Later added a 29-yarder to post 81.5 percent career rate on 101 of 124 field goal tries, surpassing Chris Boniol; finished the regular season 102 of 125 for his career, 81.6 percent…Had what was then the best postseason game of his career. Made 4 of 4 field goal tries and 1 extra point vs. New England (1/3) and qualified as the NFL's all-time leader in field goal accuracy in the postseason when he improved to 13 of 14 for his career to post a 92.9 percentage, surpassing Chuck Nelson (10 of 11, 90.9 percent)…Broke his own previous team postseason records for field goals in a game (3 on 12/28/96 at Buffalo and 1/4/97 at Denver) and kicking points in a game (12 in the same 2 games)…Made his 13th consecutive postseason field goal on his only attempt (37 yards) in Divisional Playoff at Jets (1/10)…Added 3 extra points for 6 points, giving him 19 in the 1998 postseason.

GIANT FACT

JONES WAS THE GIANTS 2002 MAN OF THE YEAR FOR HIS WORK IN THE COMMUNITY.

Transactions: Originally a 6th round (177th pick overall) draft choice by the Giants in 2000.

NFL: Talented linebacker has steadily risen in his young career...Missed rookie season after suffering a serious knee injury, was 1 of the Giants finest special teams players the next year, then a full-time starter in 2002...Moved into the weakside linebacker spot vacated by the departure of former Pro Bowler Jessie Armstead.

2002: Played in 15 games, with 14 starts at weakside linebacker...Did not play at Washington (12/8) due to ankle injury...Did not start at St. Louis (9/15) when the Giants opened in a dime package...Finished 3rd on the team with a career-high 101 tackles (54 solo)...Also had 1 interception, 4 passes defensed, and tied for the team lead with 2 fumble recoveries...Had 5 tackles (4 solo) in NFC Wild Card Game at San Francisco (1/5)...Recorded 8 tackles (4 solo) vs. Philadelphia (12/28). On consecutive plays in the 4th period, he tackled Duce Staley for a 1-yard loss and then no gain....Picked up his only interception of the season at Indianapolis (12/22), grabbing a Peyton Manning pass attempt for Marvin Harrison in the 1st quarter...Finished with a team-high 13 tackles (8 solo), a pass defensed and a fumble recovery vs. Tennessee (12/1). Recovered a Steve McNair fumble forced by Michael Strahan, a takeaway that set up Matt Bryant's 38-yard field goal...Had a team-high 10 tackles (2 solo) and a fumble recovery at Houston (11/24). Recovered James Allen's fumble in the 1st quarter... Finished with 11 tackles (8 solo) at Arizona (9/29). Stuffed Thomas Jones for a 1-yard loss in the 1st quarter and tackled MarTay Jenkins for a 9-yard loss in the 3rd quarter...Had 5 five tackles (2 solo) in 1st game as a starter vs. San Francisco (9/5).

2001: Played in all 16 games, primarily on special teams...Also saw action as a reserve linebacker...Led the Giants with 16 special teams tackles, including 11 solo...Also had 11 tackles on defense (9 solo)...Finished with team-high 3 special teams tackles vs. Green Bay (1/6). Also saw action at weakside linebacker in the 2nd half and contributed 2 tackles (1 solo)...Recorded 1 tackle on special teams and 2 tackles (1 solo) at weakside linebacker at Minnesota (11/19)...Saw the most extensive action of his career on defense to date vs. Dallas (11/4) as the nickel linebacker in place of Jessie Armstead, who was slowed by a hamstring injury. Finished with 3 solo tackles and an interception of a Clint Stoener attempt for Michael Wiley in the 4th quarter. His 14-yard interception return helped set up Morten Andersen's 40-yard field goal to bring the Giants within 7 points of the Cowboys (24-17). Also recorded 2 special teams tackles...Replaced an injured Armstead in the 2nd quarter at Washington (10/28) and finished with 2 solo tackles. Also played on special teams and recorded a tackle...Played middle linebacker in the 2nd half at St. Louis (10/14) when Mike Barrow left the game due to injury. Recorded his 1st career solo tackle...Played in his 1st career regular season game on special teams at Denver (9/10). Did not record any tackles.

DHANI JONES

2000: Spent the entire season on injured reserve after suffering a tear to the ACL during a practice session in training camp. Placed on season-ending injured reserve on Aug. 20, 2000.

GIANT FACT

JOYCE LED THE GIANTS IN BOTH PUNT RETURN AND KICKOFF RETURN AVERAGE IN 2002.

Transactions: Signed by the Giants as a free agent on Jan. 15, 2002.

NFL: Perhaps the biggest surprise on the 2002 Giants, Joyce rose from undrafted and relatively unknown free agent to become the team's No. 1 kickoff and punt returner.

2002: Played in 12 regular season games with no starts, and played in the NFC Wild Card game...Took over the return duties in the season's 5th game and finished 11th in the NFC with an 8.4-yard punt return average (on 25 returns) and 10th in the NFC with a 23.5-yard kickoff return average (on 33 returns)...His kickoff return average was the highest by a Giant since Rondy Colbert averaged 24.0 yards in 1975...Also rushed twice for 2 yards and caught a 5-yard pass...Returned 3 punts for 15 yards and 5 kickoffs for 118 yards (23.6-yard average) in postseason game at San Francisco (1/5). His game-long 32-yard kickoff return to the Giants 48-yard line late in the 4th quarter gave the Giants offense good field position trailing 39-38 with 1:00 remaining...Returned 5 punts for 24 yards with a long return of 12 yards and 2 kickoffs for 50 yards with a long return of 35 yards vs. Philadelphia (12/28)...Returned 5 punts for 67 yards, including a season-long return of 37 yards vs. Dallas (12/15)...Returned 4 kickoffs for 115 yards with a long return of 46 yards at Washington (12/8)...Returned 4 kickoffs for 121 yards (30.3-yard average) with a long return of 38 yards vs. Tennessee (12/1)...Did not have any carries or receptions in action at running back at Houston (11/24). Returned 4 kickoffs for 106 yards, including a career-long 46-yarder. Also returned 4 punts 25 yards, with a long return of 17 yards...Finished with 4 punts returns for 48 yards and 4 kickoff returns for 92 yards vs. Washington (11/17)...Returned 1 punt for 12 yards and 2 kickoffs for 44 yards at Philadelphia 10/28). On offense, had 1 carry for 1 yard and 1 5-yard reception...Saw 1st NFL action at Dallas (10/6). Returned 2 punts for 23 yards, including a 20-yarder on the 1st return of his career. Returned 3 kickoffs for 67 yards with a long of 30 yards. Had 1 carry for 1 yard at running back...Inactive for the 1st 4 games of the season.

College: Finished his senior season in 2000 with 391 rushing yards and 6 touchdowns...Joyce had 1,270 total yards in 2000... He had a career total of 3,390 return yards and 2 touchdowns...In his 4-year career Joyce rushed for 1,260 yards and 8 touchdowns.

Personal: Engaged (Ebony)...Participated in 2002 United Way Hometown Huddle by conducting a football clinic at the Highbridge Center for members of Alianza Dominicana, a local United Way agency that services families in Washington Heights. Joined forces with students from the Leadership In Public Services High School located at Ground Zero for "Operation PaintFest." Sponsored by the Foundation for Hospital Art, created paintings of hope that would later be donated to the five New York hospitals involved in the September 11th tragedies. In the spirit of Veterans Day, visited the Paramus Veterans Home on Tuesday, November 12, 2002. Attended the New York Giants/ Ronald McDonald House of New York City Holiday Party and shared in the Holiday spirit during dinner, gift-giving and caroling with the children and their families...Spent the 2003 off-season interning in the sports and entertainment division at Edelmann Public Relations Worldwide in their Manhattan office...Born Sept. 21, 1978.

Transactions: Originally a 5th round (130th pick overall) draft choice by Washington in 1990...Released by the Redskins on June 1, 2000...Signed by Philadelphia on June 9, 2000...Signed by the Giants as an unrestricted free agent on March 3, 2000.

NFL: The finest return specialist in NFL history, as well as an outstanding running back...Has gained 22,001 all-time combined career net yards, 2nd in NFL history behind Oakland wide receiver Jerry Rice (22,248). Last season, he passed Hall of Famer Walter Payton to move into the position behind Rice...Mitchell holds league records with 12,897 kickoff return yards and 4,845 punt return yards (and, of course, 17,742 combined return yards). He also has 1,947 rushing yards, 2,298 receiving yards and 14 fumble return yards...Mitchell holds 13 NFL records, including kickoff returns and yards and punt returns and yards in both regular season and postseason play...He is 1st in NFL history in kickoff returns (552) and punt returns (434), and he holds the mark for combined kick return touchdowns (13, including 9 on punt returns and 4 on kickoff returns)...He is also the NFL's career postseason leader in kickoff returns (32), punt return yardage (339) and punt returns (34, tying him with former Giant David Meggett)... His 100-yard kickoff return for a touchdown against Tampa Bay on Jan. 15, 2000 was the longest in NFL playoff history...Led the NFL in combined yards every season from 1994 through 1996, and again in 1998. He is 1 of only 2 players to lead the league in that statistical category at least 4 times. The other is Hall of Famer Jim Brown, who did it 5 times...Since 1960, only 7 players have scored a touchdown rushing, receiving, on a kickoff return and on a punt return in the same season. Only 2, Mitchell and Gayle Sayers, accomplished the feat twice. Mitchell did it with the Redskins in 1997 and the Eagles in 2000...Has played in 193 consecutive regular season games, the 3rd-longest streak among active NFL Players (excluding kickers and punters). Bill Romanowski is 1st with 240, and Marvcus Patton is 2nd with 208... In his 1st 13 seasons, Mitchell missed only 1 game, on Dec. 22, 1990...Has spent his entire career in the NFC East, playing his 1st 10 years in Washington and then 3 in Philadelphia before joining the Giants... Played on Washington's 1991 Super Bowl championship team... In June 2002, was named 1 of the Redskins' 70 greatest players in honor of the franchise's 70th anniversary.

GIANT FACT
MITCHELL'S 22,001 COMBINED CAREER NET YARDS PLACE HIM 2ND IN NFL HISTORY TO JERRY RICE.

2002: Played in all 16 games for the 12th consecutive season, plus 2 postseason games... Finished 2nd in the NFC and 3rd in the NFL with a career-high 27.0-yard average on 43 kickoff returns. Also finished 3rd in the NFC and 7th in the NFL with a 12.3-yard punt return average on 46 punts...Was 1 of only 2 players to be ranked in the top 7 in both kickoff returns and punt returns (the other was Michael Lewis of New Orleans). He was the only player in the NFC to be ranked in the top 3 in both categories...Returned a punt 76 yards for a touchdown at San Francisco (11/25). It was Mitchell's 13th kick returned for a touchdown, breaking a tie with Eric Metcalf and putting Mitchell alone atop the record book. That play, plus his record-setting 206 yards on 6 returns, earned Mitchell his 7th NFC Special Teams Player of the Week award...Returned 5 kickoffs for 143 yards vs. Indianapolis (11/10), 3 for 107 yards at San Francisco and 4 for 122 yards at Seattle (12/8)...Returned 4 kickoffs for 125 yards, including a 70-yarder, in NFC Championship Game vs. Tampa Bay (1/19)...Threw the 1st touchdown pass of his career, a 57-yarder to Brian Dawkins on a fake punt, vs. Houston (9/29). Transactions: Originally a 1st round (19th pick overall) draft choice by the Giants in 1999.

NFL: Moved to left tackle in 2002 and remained 1 of the NFL's finest tackles...Anchored a young and inexperienced line that played extremely well throughout the season...Has started at 3 positions for the Giants: left guard, right tackle and left tackle...Durable and consistent player who has the strength to clear holes in the running game and quickness and flexibility to seal off defensive ends as a pass blocker...Has started every game the previous 3 seasons.

2002: Started all 16 regular season games and the NFC Wild Card playoff game at San Francisco at left tackle...A key player as the Giants finished 6th in the NFL in total offense (364.1 yards a game) and 6th in passing yardage (246.9)...Allowed only 1 sack all season (and Tiki Barber said that sack was his fault)...Did a masterful job protecting Kerry Collins' blind side. Collins was sacked only 24 times all season and was sacked 1 time or not at all in 9 games...Giants quarterbacks completed a team-record 61.6 percent of their passes...Petitgout and his linemates helped Collins, Barber and Amani Toomer have career years...Play of line enabled the Giants to post 446 yards of total offense at San Francisco (1/5)...Offensive line allowed 1 sack and provided enough pass protection and run blocking for the Giants to gain 461 yards vs. Philadelphia (12/28)...Line did not allow a sack for 2nd straight week at Indianapolis (12/22) and helped Collins complete 23 of 29 passes for 366 yards and 4 touchdowns, a perfect 158.3 rating...Line did not allow a sack vs. Washington (11/17) for the 1st time since Dec. 3, 2000, a 9-7 victory at Washington.

2001: Started all 16 games at right tackle for the 2nd straight season...Was named a 1st-team All-Pro by Sports Illustrated...A key blocker for an offense that was 9th in the NFL in total yardage (333.4 yards a game) and 15th in rushing yards (111.1)...O-line allowed 1 sack and provided enough protection for Collins to throw for a career-high 386 yards vs. Green Bay (1/6) when the Giants gained a season-high 524 yards of total offense...The line provided enough pass protection and run blocking for the Giants to gain 408 yards of total offense at Philadelphia (12/30)...Line allowed 1 sack and provided enough protection for Kerry Collins to throw for 338 yards vs. Seattle (12/23)...Offensive line's run blocking helped Tiki Barber rush for a season-high 124 yards rushing vs. Oakland (11/25)...Started at right tackle, but was disqualified from game in the 4th quarter for unsportsmanlike conduct at Minnesota (11/19)...Protection provided by Petitgout and the line helped Collins pass for 346 yards at Washington (10/28)...Play at right tackle helped the Giants rush for 142 yards while allowing only 1 sack vs. Washington (10/7).

2000: Started all 19 regular season and postseason games at right tackle and played consistently well throughout the season...One of just 2 holdovers from the 1999 line, the other being right guard Ron Stone...More comfortable at tackle where he played in college, Petitgout played extremely well in match-ups with marquee defenders like Jevon Kearse and Courtney Brown...Started Super Bowl XXXV vs. Baltimore (1/28)...Helped offensive line to its

Moved to left tackle in the 1st quarter when starter Lomas Brown left the game with a lower leg contusion. Despite change, line allowed just 1 sack and provided enough protection for Collins to connect on 20 of his 30 pass attempts for 232 yards...Left game at Cleveland (11/5) early in the 2nd quarter with a thigh bruise. Returned to action but then sat out the entire 2nd half...Play of line vs. Philadelphia (10/29) enabled the offense to hold the ball for 43:41, the team's highest time of possession total since 11/20/83 when the Giants held the ball for 45:43 at Philadelphia... Played Kearse 1-on-1 at Tennessee (10/1) and did not allow a sack.

1999: Began season as the starting left guard, where he started 8 games...Replaced in the starting lineup by fellow rookie and college teammate Mike Rosenthal at Washington (11/21) and did not return to starting lineup...Majority of action late in the season came on special teams on PAT and field goals units. Also used on offense as an extra lineman in short-yardage packages late in the season...Became 1st Giants rookie offensive lineman to start opening game since C Derek Engler started the 1997 opener because of injuries to starter Brian Williams and backup Jerry Reynolds...Recorded 1 miscellaneous tackle vs. Washington (9/19), tackling linebacker Derek Smith, who recovered a fumble by LeShon Johnson...Injured left leg and ankle just prior to halftime vs. Dallas (10/18). Had leg X-rayed at halftime and did not return to game because of high ankle sprain... Sunday de-activation due to high ankle sprain vs. New Orleans (10/24)...Returned to starting lineup at Philadelphia (10/31)...Replaced in starting lineup by Rosenthal at Washington (11/21)...Only action came on special teams at Washington (11/21), vs. Arizona (11/28), vs. Jets (12/5), and at Buffalo (12/12).... Saw action on special teams and as an extra lineman in short-yardage packages at St. Louis (12/19), vs. Minnesota (12/26), and at Dallas (1/2).

College: Football News All-Independent 1st-team pick as a senior in 1998...Started all year at "quick" tackle and also made 45 appearances on the field goal/conversion unit...Graded 83% as he collected 74 knockdowns for an offense that ranked 16th in the nation with an average of 212.5 yards per game rushing...Played on an offensive line that allowed only 9 sacks all season...Started the final 10 games at "quick" tackle as a junior, registering 51 knockdowns and graded 80% for blocking consistency as the offense averaged 360.3 yards per game. Earned his 1st career start vs. Michigan State, taking down defensive end Demetrius Underwood on a 7-yard scoring pass from Ron Powlus to Bobby Brown...As a sophomore in 1996, saw action with the 2nd unit at left tackle vs. Purdue, Texas, Navy, Boston College, Washington, Pittsburgh and Rutgers...Saw limited action at guard vs. Southern California, Air Force and Navy as a redshirt freshman...Redshirted his freshman year in 1994.

Personal: Married (Jennifer). They have a daughter, Isabella (1/19/02)...All-America selection at both tight end and defensive end by Prep Football Report, SuperPrep and Reebok at Sussex Central (Georgetown, Del.) High...Earned 3 letters in football as an offensive tackle, tight end and defensive end...Picked up all-conference honors at defensive end as a junior and as both tight end and defensive end as a senior...Selected to the all-state team at both positions as a senior...Had 29 sacks in 2 seasons on defense and 22 receptions for 220 yards with 1 touchdown as a tight end in his senior year...Accounted for 92 tackles, 15 sacks, 16 hurries, caused 4 fumbles and had 2 fumble recoveries as a senior...Selected for the Blue-Gold all-state football game...Sociology major, enrolled in the College of Arts & Letters...Father, George, played defensive end for Penn State...Has formed O-LINE LLC, a company that helps bring recognition to hard-working men and women in America. GIANT FACT

SEUBERT PLAYED TIGHT END, GUARD AND TACKLE AT WESTERN ILLINOIS UNIVERSITY.

Transactions: Originally signed by the Giants as a free agent on April 27, 2001.

NFL: Rugged lineman has risen from an undrafted free agent who saw no action on offense as a rookie to the starting left guard...Was an important member of new and unheralded line that played well the entire 2002 season...Is adept at picking up blitzes and pulling on running plays...His mean streak led offensive line coach Jim McNally to say Seubert could soon "be 1 of the best guards in football."

2002: In his 1st season of extensive NFL action, started all 16 regular season games and the NFC Wild Card game at left guard...Was 1 of 3 undrafted free agents to start on the offensive line; the others were Chris Bober and Jason Whittle...The line gave up only 24 sacks all season...Stellar play by the line enabled the Giants to average 364.1 yards a game, good for 6th in the NFL. The Giants also ranked 6th in the league in passing, with a team-record 246.9 yards a game...With the line clearing holes and providing protection, Kerry Collins, Tiki Barber and Amani Toomer enjoyed career years...Gained a measure of fame in the postseason game at San Francisco (1/5), and not because the line helped the offense gained 446 yards and score 38 points. On the game's final play, Seubert was forced to run down field as a receiver after a bad snap on the attempted game-winning field goal. Was interfered with as a receiver with the ball in the air, but 49er defender, Chike Okeafor, was not flagged; instead G Tam Hopkins was flagged for being an ineligible receiver downfield. The next day, the NFL announced that Okeafor should have been penalized...Offensive line did not allow a sack and the run blocking and pass protection helped the Giants offense gain 469 yards of total offense at Indianapolis (12/22)...Line did not allow a sack for the 1st time vs. Washington (11/17), despite Collins' 46 pass attempts...Made his 1st career start at left guard vs. San Francisco (9/5). O-line provided enough protection for Collins to complete 28 of 45 passes for 342 yards.

2001: Played in 2 games, with no starts...Played only on special teams...Suited up for a 3rd game but did not play and was inactive for 13 games...Suffered sprained knee in practice on Wednesday, Dec. 19...Saw action on special teams vs. New Orleans (9/30) and at Denver (9/10)...Active but did not play vs. Washington (10/7).

College: Named 1st-team All-Gateway Conference as a senior in 2000...Helped Leathernecks to the 21st-ranked rushing attack in the country...Began career as a tight end before moving to offensive line full-time as a junior in 1999...Started all 11 games at tight end as a true freshman in 1997...Caught 2 passes for 17 yards...Started 1st 5 games at tight end as a sophomore and caught 4 passes for 58 yards...Started the remainder of the season at guard. Switched to tackle as a junior.

Personal: Married (Jodi)...Lettered in football, basketball and baseball at Columbus High School in Marshfield, Wisc...Member of 2-time state championship teams in football and basketball...National Honor Society member...Each season attends the Annual "Meet the Giants" event to benefit the Ronald McDonald House of New York City. Has participated in the Catholic Big Brothers Big Sisters Bowl for Kids Sake event. Son of Thomas and Ann...Born March 30, 1979.

GIANT FACT

SHOCKEY WAS VOTED PEPSI NFL ROOKIE OF THE YEAR IN BALLOTING BY NFL FANS.

Transactions: Originally a 1st round (14th pick overall) draft choice by the Giants in 2002.

NFL: Established himself as the NFL's finest tight end during a spectacular rookie season...An outstanding receiver and blocker...Generated tremendous enthusiasm and excitement and quickly became 1 of the most popular Giants among the fans...Entered NFL draft after junior season at Miami...The Giants traded up 1 spot in the 2002 draft (Giants traded their 1st-round pick [No. 15], and their 4th-round pick [No. 110] to Tennessee for the Titans 1st-round pick [No. 14] for the right to draft Shockey.

2002: Played in 15 games, starting 14, in a brilliant rookie season...Did not play vs. Atlanta (10/13) because of turf toe injury...Voted Pepsi Rookie of the Year in balloting by NFL fans...Selected 1st-team All-Pro by the Associated Press, Sports Illustrated, College & Pro Football Newsweekly and Football Digest...Voted to NFL All-Rookie team by Pro Football Weekly...Selected to All-NFC team by Pro Football Weekly...Caught 74 passes for 894 yards and 2 touchdowns...The 74 catches was the 5th-highest total in Giants history, a team record for both rookies (shattering the mark of 48 set by Bobby Johnson in 1984) and tight ends (eclipsing the 66 passes Mark Bavaro caught in 1986). The 74 receptions were the 2nd-most ever for an NFL rookie tight end (Philadelphia's Keith Jackson had 81 catches in 1988)...Accounted for 894 receiving yards, the most by a Giants tight end since Bavaro had 1,001 in 1986 and the 2nd-most in history by a 1st-year player at his position. The rookie receiving yardage record of 1,076 was set by Hall of Famer Mike Ditka of Chicago in 1961...Led all NFL tight ends and all NFL rookies in both receptions and receiving yards. He became just the 2nd tight end to lead all rookies in both categories, joining 2 former Philadelphia Eagles, Charles Young (55 catches for 854 yards in 1973) and Jackson (81 catches for 869 yards in 1988)...Became the 1st rookie tight end to play in the Pro Bowl since Jackson in 1988 and the 1st Giants tight end to play in the game since Bavaro in 1987...Named the NFC Offensive Player of the Week for Week 17 and the NFL Offensive Rookie of the Month for both November and December...Finished with 7 receptions for 68 yards and a touchdown in NFC Wild Card game at San Francisco (1/5). His 27-yard catch in the 2nd period set up his own 2-yard touchdown reception 2 plays later...Won the NFC Player of the Week award in the season finale vs. Philadelphia (12/28), when he caught 10 passes for 98 yards. Scored the Giants only touchdown in the 4th period when he jumped, moving backwards, and ripped the ball away from Philadelphia's Pro Bowl safety Brian Dawkins in the end zone...Finished with 7 receptions for a career-high 116 yards at Indianapolis (12/22). His 116 receiving yards were the most by a Giants tight end since Bavaro had 148 (on 9 catches) on Oct. 10, 1988 at Philadelphia...Shockey (116 yards) and Amani Toomer (204 yards on 10 catches) became the 1st pair of

JEREMY SHOCKEY

Giants receivers with more than 100 receiving yards in the same game since Toomer (124 yards) and Ike Hilliard (105 yards) did it on Dec. 23, 2001 against Seattle. It was the 1st time the Giants had 1 wideout and 1 tight end accomplish the feat since Nov. 15, 1987, when wide receiver Lionel Manuel (105) and Bavaro (102) did it in a victory at Philadelphia. Signature play of the game occurred in the 2nd period, when he caught a short pass from Kerry Collins and ran through safety David Gibson's attempted tackle for a 24-yard gain to help set up a Tiki Barber 4-yard touchdown run...Finished with a team-high 5 receptions for 89 yards at Washington (12/8)...Led team with 7 receptions for 71 yards vs. Tennessee (12/1)...Posted a career-high 11 receptions for 111 yards vs. Washington (11/17). Each of his 4 receptions on the opening drive gave the Giants a 1st down and helped set up Matt Bryant's 43-yard field goal. His 11 receptions tied for the 3rd-highest 1-game total in Giants history. Tiki Barber holds the team record with 13 receptions at Dallas on Jan. 2, 2000. Mark Bavaro had 12 catches at Cincinnati on Oct. 13, 1985. Shockey's performance marked the 7th time in franchise history that a player has caught 11 passes in a game. It was last done by Bavaro at St. Louis on Dec. 13, 1987. His 111 receiving yards were the most by a Giants tight end since Oct. 10, 1988, when Bavaro had 148 (on 9 catches) in a 24-13 Giants loss at Philadelphia. Shockey later had 116 yards at Indianapolis...Had a team-high 6 catches for 69 yards at Philadelphia (10/28)...Inactive due to turf toe injury vs. Atlanta (10/13)...Posted 1 catch for 11 yards at Dallas (10/6) before leaving game in 1st quarter with toe injury...Had 4 catches for 50 yards and his 1st NFL touchdown at St. Louis (9/15). Recorded his 1st career touchdown reception in the 2nd quarter when he caught a 28-yard pass from Kerry Collins...Started 1st NFL game vs. San Francisco (9/5) and had 3 catches for 44 yards. 1st career reception went for 9 yards.

College: One of the nation's best tight ends at Miami, Shockey emerged as a national star in 2001...Was 1 of 3 finalists for the John Mackey Award, recognizing the finest tight end in college football...Played just 2 seasons at Miami, but finished his career ranked 6th on the school's career-record list for tight ends with 61 receptions for 815 yards...Only Bubba Franks (12, 1997-2000) had more touchdown catches than his 10 scores among tight ends who have worn a Miami uniform...As a junior in 2001, was a 1st-team All-America selection by CNNSI, adding 2nd-team honors from Associated Press, Sportsline.com and ABC Sports, and 4th-team accolades from The Sporting News...1st-team All-Big East Conference pick by the league's coaches...Led the team with a career-high 40 receptions for 519 yards (13.0 avg.) and 7 touchdowns...Opened season with 7 receptions for 84 yards and a 10-yard score at Penn State and closed it with 5 catches for 85 yards and a score vs. Nebraska in Rose Bowl...In 2000, earned 1st-team All-Big East Conference honors by the league's coaches, College Football News and The Sporting News for his outstanding season...Caught 21 passes for 296 yards (14.1 avg.) and 3 touchdowns in 10 games...Attended Northeast Oklahoma A&M (Miami, Oklahoma) in 1999...1st-team JC All-America by JC Grid Wire...Unanimous selection as 1st-team All-Southwest Junior College Conference...Caught 33 passes for 484 yards and 7 touchdowns.

Personal: Single... Lettered all 4 seasons at Ada (Okla.) High, playing mostly at wide receiver and outside linebacker...Also returned punts...Caught 50 passes for 1,108 yards and 5 touchdowns and returned 4 punts for scores as a senior...Named All-State and All-District during his final year...Caught 8 passes for 206 yards in an overtime loss against the state's top-ranked team, Oklahoma City's Carl Albert High School...Also played on Ada's basketball team during his senior year...Honor Roll student...Son of Lucinda Shockey...Born Jeremy Charles Shockey on Aug. 18, 1980 in Ada, Oklahoma.

Transactions: Originally a 2nd round (40th pick overall) draft choice by the Giants in 1993.

NFL: The premier defensive end of his era, 1 of the best players in the NFL and 1 of the finest defensive players in Giants history...Set an NFL single-season record with 22.5 sacks in 2001...Added a team-high 11 sacks in 2002, boosting his career total to 95.5, 2nd in Giants history behind Lawrence Taylor's 132.5...Enters the 2003 season 4th among active players in career sacks, trailing only Bruce Smith (195.0), John Randle (132.0) and Trace Armstrong (103.0)...Has at least 1 sack against 26 different teams and has sacked 48 different quarterbacks in the regular season...Was selected to his 5th Pro Bowl last season, the most by a Giants defensive lineman since Andy Robustelli was chosen for five from 1956-62...Although he receives much acclaim for his sacks, Strahan is also an outstanding all-around player, 1 that consistently helps the defense stop opposing running games and puts constant pressure on the quarterback when he's not registering a sack...Has not missed a game in the previous 7 seasons and missed only 2 in the last 9 seasons...Moved into the starting lineup in his 2nd NFL season in 1994 after missing 7 games as a rookie due to a foot injury...Named Giants Most Valuable Player in 1998 and 2001 and 1997 Defensive Player of the Year...He is 1 of the most visible and popular Giants, a player the television networks constantly seek out for interviews...Did work for the Fox network in the 2001 playoffs and appeared on ABC's pregame show prior to Super Bowl XXXVII...Strahan is also extremely generous with his time, donating hours and goodwill to numerous charities in the metropolitan area.

GIANT FACT

STRAHAN SET AN NFL SINGLE-SEASON RECORD WITH 22.5 SACKS IN 2001.

2002: Added another stellar season to his brilliant career...Started every game at left defensive end, the 7th season in a row he did not miss a game and the 4th consecutive year he started every game...Led Giants and was tied for 9th in the NFL with 11.0 sacks for 57.5 yards... From Sept. 22 through Dec. 1, he had at least a half-sack in 10 consecutive games, tying the NFL record set by Denver's Simon Fletcher in 1991 and tied by Tennessee's Jevon Kearse in 1999...Selected to start in the Pro Bowl, the 5th time in 6 years he was voted to play in the game...Named 2nd team All-Pro by the AP...Finished with 75 tackles (57 solo), a team-high 3 forced fumbles, 1 fumble recovery and 2 passes defensed...Had 2 solo tackles in NFC Wild Card game at San Francisco (1/5)...Finished with 7 tackles (5 solo) and stopped Duce Staley 3 times for losses vs. Philadelphia (12/28)...Had 3 solo tackles but no sacks at Washington (12/8), ending his streak of consecutive games with at least a half-sack at 10...Recorded 6 tackles (3 solo), 1 sack and 1 forced fumble vs. Tennessee (12/1). Earned his 11th sack of the season when he knocked the ball out of Steve McNair's hand to force a fumble that was recovered by Dhani Jones early in the 1st quarter. With the sack, Strahan tied an NFL record with at least a half-sack in 10 consecutive games...Had 8 tackles (6 solo), 2 sacks and a forced fumble at Houston (11/24). The 2 sacks of David Carr were his 9th and 10th in the season, marking the 4th time in his career he reached double digits...Started at right defensive end but moved to his normal position at left defensive end after the 1st series vs. Washington (11/17). Finished with 7 tackles (6 solo), 2 sacks and 1 pass defensed...Had 3 tackles (2 solo) and a sack at Minnesota (11/10)...Posted 4 solo tackles and a sack, bringing down Mark Brunell for a 14-yard loss on 4th-and-4 in the 3rd quarter, vs. Jacksonville (11/3)...Had 6 tackles (4 solo), a half-sack and a pass defensed at Philadelphia (10/28)...Had 3 solo tackles, a half-sack and forced fumble vs. Atlanta (10/13). Left the game at the start of the 2nd quarter with back spasms and did not return until the 3rd quarter. Saw action only in 3rd-and-long situations during the 2nd half. Split a sack with Frank Ferrara in the 1st quarter and forced Doug Johnson to fumble...Finished with 5 tackles (4 solo) and a sack at Dallas (10/6)...Posted 4 tackles (3 solo) and a sack at Arizona (9/29)...Had 4 tackles (2 solo) and his 1st sack of the season vs. Seattle (9/22)...Finished with 5 solo tackles and recovered a Marshall Faulk fumble at St. Louis (9/15).

2001: Started all 16 games at defensive left end...Set an NFL single-season record with 22.5 sacks. The previous record of 22 sacks was set by Mark Gastineau of the Jets in 1984...Became the 6th player to record at least 20 sacks in a season since sacks became an official statistic in 1982. He was the 1st player with at least 20 sacks in a season since the late Derrick Thomas accomplished the feat for Kansas City in 1990 and the 1st with 21 since Minnesota's Chris Doleman did it in 1989...The previous Giants record was held by Lawrence Taylor, who had 20.5 sacks in 1986...Strahan's 4.0 sacks at St. Louis (10/14) was .5 shy of the team's single-game record of 4.5 sacks by Pepper Johnson at Tampa Bay on Nov. 24, 1991...Led the NFL with a career-high 7 forced fumbles...Scored the 3rd touchdown of his career on a 13-yard fumble recovery against Seattle (12/23). He had previously scored on interception returns of 24 yards against Washington in 1998 and 44 yards at Philadelphia in 1999...Voted to his 4th Pro Bowl in five seasons...Named the NFL's Player of the Year by Paul Zimmerman of Sports Illustrated...Named the Associated Press Defensive Player of the Year, the only Giant other than Taylor to win the award. Taylor received the honor in 1981, 82 and 86...Was named NFC Defensive Player of the Month for October after recording 9.5 sacks in 4 games...Was named NFC Defensive Player of the Week twice in 3 games: St. Louis and New Orleans...Finished tied for 4th on the team with 73 tackles, including 61 solo...Also had 2 passes defensed and 1 fumble recovery...A 7-yard, 4th-period sack of Brett Favre vs. Green Bay (1/6) boosted Strahan's total to a single-season NFL record 22.5. Finished game with 4 tackles (3 solo)...Enjoyed outstanding game at Philadelphia (12/30) with 6 tackles (5 solo), 3.5 sacks and a forced fumble. Strahan became the Giants single-season sacks record-holder with 21.5. The previous team record was 20.5 set by Taylor in 1986...Finished with 5 tackles (3 solo), 1 sack and a recovered fumble for a touchdown vs. Seattle (12/30). His 13-yard touchdown off a fumble recovery in the 2nd quarter was the Giants' 1st such score since Sept. 12, 1999, when Christian Peter picked up a fumble and ran it back 38 yards in a season-opening victory at Tampa Bay. The touchdown was the 3rd of Strahan's career and his 1st on a fumble recovery. Had a 7-yard sack of Matt Hasselbeck to increase his career total to 80 sacks, moving him past Leonard Marshall (79.5) and into 2nd place on the franchise's career list...Recorded 5 tackles (3 solo) and a half-sack vs. Arizona (12/15). Split a sack with Brandon Short, increasing his total to 17...Had 4 solo tackles and 1 sack at Dallas (12/9). Sacked Quincy Carter for a 7-yard loss...Finished with 2 solo tackles, a half-sack and a forced fumble vs. Oakland (11/25). The half-sack increased Strahan's season total to 15.5, a career-high....Tied his season high with 7 tackles (6 solo), 1 sack and 1 forced fumble at Arizona (11/11). Forced a fumble by Jake Plummer that was recovered by Kenny Holmes, who lateraled to Mike Barrow, who returned it to the Arizona 42-yard line...Had 6 tackles (4 solo) and 1.5 sacks vs. Dallas (11/4). His 1.5-sack performance gave him 14 in 6 games, an NFL record for a 6-game span. The previous record for sacks in a 6-game period was 13, which was set by Chicago's Richard Dent from Oct. 14 to Nov. 18, 1984 and matched by Taylor, the Hall of Fame Giant, who did it in 2 overlapping stretches in 1986 when he set the then franchise record with 20.5 sacks. Taylor had 13 sacks in the 6 games from Oct. 5 to Nov. 9 and Oct. 12 to Nov. 16. Strahan sacked Clint Stoerner for no gain on the Cowboys 1st drive of the game. Later teamed with Holmes to sack Stoerner for a 9-yard loss in the 2nd quarter...Finished with 4 solo tackles and 2 sacks at Washington (10/28). Strahan's 2 sacks of Tony Banks in the 4th period gave him 12.5 sacks in 5 games, an NFL record for a 5-game span (since sacks became an official statistic in 1982). The former record of 12 sacks over 5 games was set by Chicago's Richard Dent in 1984 and matched by the late Derrick Thomas of Kansas City in 1997-98...Recorded 4 solo tackles, 2 sacks and a pass defensed vs. Philadelphia (10/22)...Played 1 of the finest games of his career at St. Louis (10/14), finishing with a career-high 4 sacks among his 6 solo tackles while also registering a pass defensed and a forced fumble. Performance earned him his 2nd NFC Player of the Week Award in 3 games. Recorded his 1st sack of Kurt Warner in the 1st quarter for a 5-yard loss. Sacked Warner twice in the 3rd quarter, 1st for a 9-yard loss and then a 5-yard loss. Final sack of the game came in the 4th quarter and forced a fumble that was recovered by Kenny Holmes...The 4 sacks in a game tied Strahan with Taylor for the 2nd-most sacks in a game in team history. Pepper Johnson holds the record with 4.5 at Tampa Bay on Nov. 24, 1991...Had 4 tackles (3 solo), 1.5 sacks and a forced fumble vs.Washington (10/7)...Earned his 1st NFC Defensive Player of the Week honor by finishing with 7 solo tackles, 3 sacks and 2 forced fumbles vs. New Orleans (9/30). All 7 of his tackles were for losses or no gain. Recorded his 1st sack of the season when he dropped Aaron Brooks for a 14-yard loss in the 1st quarter.

2000: Started all 19 regular season and postseason games at defensive left end...Was 2nd on the team with 9.5 sacks...Also had 65 tackles (51 solo), 4 passes defensed and a team-leading 4 fumble recoveries...Added 12 tackles (10 solo), a team-high 4.5 sacks and 1 forced fumble in the postseason...Finished with 6 tackles (5 solo) and 1.5 sacks in Super Bowl XXXV vs. Baltimore (1/28)...Had 2 solo tackles and a sack in NFC Championship Game vs. Minnesota...Played superb game in NFC Divisional Playoff vs. Philadelphia (1/7), recording 4 tackles (3 solo), 2 sacks and a forced fumble. Dropped Donovan McNabb for an 8-yard loss in the 1st quarter and forced a fumble while sacking McNabb again in the 2nd period...Recorded 6 tackles (5 solo) and a season-high 2.5 sacks at Dallas (12/17)...Posted 5 tackles (4 solo) and 2 recovered fumbles at Arizona (11/26)...Finished with 7 tackles (5 solo) and recovered a fumble by Charlie Batch vs. Detroit (11/19)...Had 4 tackles (3 solo), 1.5 sacks and 2 passes defensed vs. St. Louis (11/12)...Played perhaps his finest game of the season at Cleveland (11/15), finishing with a team-high 7 solo tackles and 2 sacks. 2 of his tackles were for no gain and another stopped Travis Prentice for a 2-yard loss on 4th-and-1 in the 2nd period. His pass rush on Doug Pederson forced the quarterback to hurry a throw that was intercepted by Emmanuel McDaniel...Finished with 4 solo tackles, 1 sack, and a key 4th quarter fumble recovery at Chicago (9/17).

1999: Earned his 3rd straight Pro Bowl start after receiving the most votes among NFC defensive ends...Started all 16 games at left defensive end and finished with 56 tackles (41 solo), 5.5 sacks, 1 interception, 3 passes defensed, and 2 fumble recoveries...Slowed by hyperextended elbow suffered early in the 2nd quarter at Tampa Bay (9/12)...Recorded 1st sack of the season vs. Philadelphia (10/3) when he teamed with Keith Hamilton to drop Donovan McNabb for a 9-yard loss...Collected 1st whole sack of the season by stopping McNabb for a loss of 5 yards early in the 4th quarter...Recorded 3rd sack of the season in the 3rd quarter at Arizona (10/10) when he sacked former teammate Dave Brown. Finished with 5 tackles (2 solo)...Picked up 4th sack when he dropped Troy Aikman for a 2-yard loss vs. Dallas (10/18). Had season-high 7 tackles (5 solo)...Intercepted the 4th pass of his career at Philadelphia (10/31) when he picked off a Doug Pederson throw that was batted in the air by Christian Peter. Strahan raced 44 yards untouched for the touchdown that gave the Giants a 23-17 overtime victory. Interception return for a touchdown was the 2nd of his career; In 1998 Strahan returned a pass by the Redskins Gus Frerotte 24 yards for a score.

1998: Played in all 16 games at defensive left end, starting 15...Did not start at Dallas (11/8), his most recent non-start...Set a career-high with 15 sacks, 1 more than the 14 he had in 1997, to earn 2nd Pro Bowl honor...Became the 1st Giant to have consecutive seasons of at least 10 sacks since Lawrence Taylor had 10 or more sacks from 1984-1990...Led the team in sacks for the 4th straight season, the most since Taylor led for 5 straight years (1986-90)...Finished with 3 2 2-sack games: vs. Washington (9/6), at Oakland (9/13) and at San Francisco (11/30)...With 2 sacks against the Redskins and 2 at the Raiders the next week, marked the 2nd time in his career that he recorded back-to-back 2-sack games. In 1997, Strahan had 3 sacks vs. Arizona (11/16) and then had 2 the following week at Washington (11/23)...Started 15 of 16 games and finished with 67 total tackles (53 solo), a team-leading 15 sacks, 2 forced fumbles, 1 interception that he returned 24 yards for a touchdown, and 4 passes defensed...Missed the Friday practice prior to the game at Washington (11/1) due to tightness in his lower back. Returned for the walk-through session on Saturday and felt well enough to start the game against the Redskins. 2 plays into the game, Strahan suffered spasms and was forced to leave the game...Missed some practice time the following week but returned to practice on the Friday prior to the game at Dallas (11/8). Was not in the starting lineup against the Cowboys but did see significant game action...Recorded his 3rd career interception vs. Washington (9/6) in the season-opener when he dropped into coverage from his end position, stepped in front of Jamie Asher, picked off a Gus Frerotte pass and returned it 24 yards for a touchdown to give the Giants a 24-10 3rd quarter advantage. Finished the Redskins game with 5 solo tackles, 2 sacks, 2 passes defensed and 1 interception. Named NFC Defensive Player of the Week by the NFL.

1997: Started all 16 regular season games and the Giants postseason game vs. Minnesota (12/27) at left end...Finished tied for 3rd in the NFL with 14 sacks, the most by a Giant since Lawrence Taylor had 15 in 1989...Had 69 tackles (50 solo), 14 sacks, 1 forced fumble, 1 fumble recovery and 2 passes defensed...Named a starter on the NFC Pro Bowl squad...Had 2.5 sacks in the season-opener vs. Philadelphia (8/31)...Named Defensive MVP for his performance at Arizona (10/12) that helped the team hold the Cardinals to just 27 yards on the ground...Participated in 5 of the Giants 8 sacks vs. Arizona (11/16). Combined on 4 sacks and registered 1 solo sack for a total of 3, his best sack performance since he had 3 solo sacks at Green Bay (9/17/95). Finished with 6 total tackles...Finished with 7 tackles (4 solo), including a 9-yard sack, and a fumble recovery in the NFC Wild Card Game vs. Minnesota (12/27).

1996: Because of injuries along the defensive line during training camp, switched from right end to left end...Started all 16 games and tied for the team lead with 5 sacks...Had 63 tackles (54 solo), a forced a fumble and 3 passes defensed...Named Defensive Player of the Game at Jets (9/22) after finishing with 2 sacks, 7 solo tackles and 1 pass defensed...Recorded his team-leading 5thh sack in the 3rd quarter at Miami (12/8) when he dropped Dan Marino for a 3-yard loss on a 3rd-and-five situation.

Transactions: Originally a 2nd round (34th pick overall) draft choice by the Giants in 1996.

NFL: One of the very best wide receivers in the NFL today and perhaps the finest wideout in Giants history...In the previous 4 seasons, he has totaled, in order, 79, 78, 72 and 82 receptions and 1,183, 1,094, 1,054 and 1,343 yards to become the 1st player in Giants history to catch at least 70 passes in 4 consecutive seasons and have at least 1,000 receiving yards in 4 consecutive seasons...Has the 3 highest single-season reception totals in team history...He is 3rd on the Giants' all-time receiving list with 355 catches, trailing only Joe Morrison (395) and Frank Gifford (367)...Toomer's 5,309 receiving yards places him 2nd in team history behind Gifford's 5,434 yards...His 32 touchdown receptions place him 7th in team history, 3 behind Del Shofner, Homer Jones and Aaron Thomas...Has 16 100-yard games, plus 1 in the postseason...Has caught at least 1 pass in 67 consecutive regular season games in which he's played, 1 shy of Ike Hilliard's team record. Hilliard's streak ended at 68 games at Philadelphia on Oct. 28 in a game in which he suffered a season-ending dislocated shoulder...Used primarily as a punt returner and 3rd and 4th wide receiver in his 1st 3 NFL seasons...Is 5th on the franchise's career list with 1,060 punt return yards on 109 returns...Has 3 career punt return touchdowns...Promising rookie season was cut short by a knee injury...Showed immediately that he has the ability to be an impact player as he returned 2 punts for touchdowns as a rookie, including a team-record 87-yard return vs. Buffalo in the season-opener.

GIANT FACT
TOOMER ENTERS THE 2003 SEASON 3RD IN GIANTS HISTORY WITH 355 CAREER RECEPTIONS.

2002: Had the finest season by a wide receiver in Giants history...Set franchise records with 82 receptions for 1,343 yards and established a career-high with 8 touchdown catches....Broke his own record of 79 receptions, set in 1999, and Homer Jones' record of 1,209 yards, set in 1967...Toomer's 82 receptions placed him 6th in the NFC and his 1,343 yards placed him 2nd in the NFC and 3rd in the NFL...Had 5 100-yard games and 9 games with more than 90 yards...Played in all 16 games for the 6th consecutive season, starting all 16...Most prolific performance was at Indianapolis (12/22), where he had 10 catches for 204 yards and 3 touchdowns...Became the 1st Giants wide receiver to catch at least 10 passes in a regular season game since Del Shofner caught 11 against Washington on Oct. 28, 1962. Tight end Jeremy Shockey had 11 catches vs. the Redskins (11/17); Hilliard had 10 receptions in the 2000 NFC Championship Game. Toomer's 204 receiving yards vs. the Colts was the 3rd highest single-game total by any player in 2002 (Pittsburgh's Plaxico Burress had 253 yards against Atlanta and Denver's Shannon Sharpe had 214 yards at Kansas City – both of those games went into overtime). It was the 3rd-highest single-game receiving yardage total in Giants history, surpassed only by Shofner's 269 on Oct. 28, 1962 and Gene Roberts' 212 on Nov. 13, 1949. Toomer's 82-yard touchdown reception at Indianapolis was the longest play of his career and the 7th-longest play from scrimmage - and the 6th-longest pass - in Giants history...Had a team-high 8 receptions for 136 yards and 3 touchdowns in NFC Wild Card game at San Francisco (1/5)...Led team with 6 catches for 99 yards vs. Dallas (12/15). Became the 2nd player in franchise history with 5,000 receiving yards; Frank Gifford is 1st with 5,434...Caught 4 passes for 60 yards, including a 29-yard touchdown, at Washington (12/8)...Finished with 5 receptions for a team-high 104 yards vs. Tennessee (12/1)...Had a team-high 8 receptions for 113 yards and a 31-yard touchdown at Houston (11/24)...Contributed 8 receptions for 95 yards, including a 35-yard score, vs. Washington (11/17)...Had 5 receptions for 83 yards and an 11-yard touchdown at Minnesota (11/10)...Finished with 5 receptions for 98 yards, including a 56-yard touchdown, at Dallas (10/6)...Had 4 receptions for 100 yards, including a 49-yarder, vs. Seattle (9/22)...Registered 4 receptions for 92 yards and 2-yard run at St. Louis (9/15)...Opened season with game-high totals of 9 receptions for 134 yards vs. San Francisco (9/5).

2001: Played in all 16 games for the 5th consecutive season, with 14 starts...Did not start vs. Dallas (11/4) and vs. Green Bay (1/6)...Caught 72 passes, tying Tiki Barber for the team lead...Became the 1st Giants player to catch 70 passes in 3 consecutive seasons...Led the team with 1,054 receiving yards...Caught five touchdown passes, 1 behind team-leader Ike Hilliard...Had 2 100-yard games...Returned 8 punts for 41 yards...Caught 5 passes for 79 yards vs. Green Bay (1/6) before leaving the game in the 3rd quarter with a concussion. Game-long reception of 27 yards came in the 1st quarter and helped set up Kerry Collins-to-Hilliard 8-yard touchdown pass. The reception brought Toomer to 2 milestones. The catch was his 70th of the season, making him the 1st Giants receiver to reach that plateau in 3 consecutive seasons. The reception also put him over 1,000 yards for the 3rd consecutive season...Had 3 receptions for 69 yards and a touchdown at Philadelphia (12/30). 60-yard touchdown reception came on a flea-flicker after a lateral from Barber to Collins. It was Toomer's longest catch of the season...Had 8 receptions for season-high 124 yards vs. Seattle (12/23). Toomer's game-long, 28-yard reception began the Giants 96-yard game-winning touchdown drive. Toomer (124) and Hilliard (105) each caught passes for more than 100 yards. It was the 3rd time Toomer and Hilliard exceeded the century mark in the same game...Finished with 3 receptions for 32 yards and a touchdown vs. Arizona (12/15). Caught the game-winning touchdown with 25 seconds remaining on a 4-yard pass from Collins...Led the team with 68 yards on 4 catches at Dallas (12/9) and 70 on 4 catches vs. Oakland (11/25)...Had a season-high 9 receptions for 109 yards at Washington (10/28). Recorded his 3rd touchdown reception of the season on a 6-yard pass in the 2nd quarter...Led team with 5 receptions for 78 yards with 2 touchdowns at Denver (9/10). Scored the Giants 1st touchdown of the season on a 43-yard pass from Collins that tied the score at 7-7 in the 2nd quarter. Scored a 2nd touchdown on an 11-yard reception from Collins in the 3rd quarter to tie the score at 14-14.

2000: Played in 16 regular season games with 14 starts and started all 3 postseason games...Caught 78 passes - 1 shy of the team record he set in 1999 - for 1,094 yards (a 14.0-yard average), and 7 touchdowns...Caught 1 touchdown pass in each of the last 3 regular season games...Twice matched his career high with 9 receptions in a game (vs. Philadelphia, 10/29 and vs. Pittsburgh, 12/10)... Finished with 5 100-yard performances ...Established then career-best with 193 receiving yards vs. Jacksonville (12/23)...Had 5 rushing attempts for 91 yards, an 18.2-yard average, and 1 touchdown on the ground...Added 10 catches for 135 yards and a score in the playoffs...Caught 2 passes for 24 yards, including a 19-yarder, in Super Bowl XXXV vs. Baltimore (1/28)...Caught 6 passes for 88 yards and a touchdown in NFC Championship Game vs. Minnesota (1/14). Opened the game with 2 straight receptions, for 16 and then 10 yards...Recorded his 1st career playoff touchdown when he caught a 7-yard pass in the corner of the end zone to give the Giants a 41-0 lead early in the 3rd quarter...Had 2 receptions for 23 yards in NFC Divisional Playoff vs. Philadelphia (1/7) before being forced to leave the game in the 4th quarter with a knee and ankle sprain. Due to injury to Tiki Barber he returned 5 punts for 34 yards...Finished with then career-high 193 receiving yards on 8 receptions vs. Jacksonville (12/23). His 193 yards were the most by a Giants receiver since Homer Jones had 196 on Oct. 1, 1967. Game-long reception was the 54-yard touchdown pass he caught in the 4th quarter...Had a game-high 58 receiving yards on 4 catches at Dallas (12/17). His 33-yard touchdown late in the 3rd quarter was the Giants 1st score of the game and sparked the Giants comeback victory after a 13-0 deficit...Tied his career high with 9 receptions for 136 yards and a touchdown vs. Pittsburgh (12/10)...Had 4 receptions for 58 yards and 2 rushes for 31 yards at Arizona (11/26). Scored the 1st rushing touchdown of his career on a 19-yard reverse...Had 8 catches for 108 yards vs. Detroit (11/19), the 3rd time in 4 games he exceeded 100 yards...Did not start as the Giants opened the game in a double tight end formation vs. St. Louis (11/12). Caught 1 pass for 20 yards vs. St. Louis. On the play, Toomer was hit by 3 St. Louis defenders and fumbled. Fumble was recovered by St. Louis and returned to the 1-yard line. Toomer had to be helped from the field and returned to action in the 1st half but then sat out the entire 2nd half with a concussion...Had 6 catches for 100 yards and 2 touchdowns at Cleveland (11/5)...Finished with 9 catches for 108 yards, including a 27-yard touchdown, vs. Philadelphia (10/29), the 1st 100-yard effort by a Giants receiver in 2000...Caught 2 passes for 17 yards vs. Dallas (10/15), but saw scant action in the 2nd half...Did not start as Giants opened the game in a double tight end formation at Tennessee (10/1). Finished with team-high totals of 5 catches for 81 yards, including a 40-yarder...Finished with 7 catches for 80 yards and a 25-yard touchdown at Philadelphia (9/10).

1999: Started all 16 games in his 1st season as a starter...His 79 receptions broke Earnest Gray's Giants single-season record of 78, set in 1983...Had 1,183 receiving yards to become the 1st Giants receiver to gain over 1,000 receiving yards in a season since Lionel Manual had 1,029 in 1988...The 1,183 yards was the 2nd-highest total in team history; Homer Jones had 1,209 receiving yards in 1967...Had a career-high 9 receptions twice: at St. Louis (12/19) and vs. Minnesota on (12/26)...Caught a team-high 6 touchdown passes...Combined with Ike Hilliard to gain 2,179 receiving yards as they became the 1st Giants receiving duo to combine for over 2,100 yards in a season...Enjoyed huge game against the Jets (12/5) when he caught 6 passes for 181 yards and 3 touchdowns. Had touchdown receptions of 9, 61, and 80 yards. Toomer's 181 receiving yards were the most by a Giants receiver since Jones caught 4 passes for 196 yards at Washington on Oct. 1, 1967. It was the 1st 3-touchdown game by a Giants receiver since Gray had 3 vs. Green Bay on Nov. 16, 1980. Toomer's 80-yard reception from Kerry Collins was the team's longest of the season and the Giants longest since Dec. 9, 1998 when Tiki Barber caught an 87-yard touchdown from Kent Graham. Toomer's other touchdown receptions were a 61-yarder in the 1st quarter and a 9-yard reception in the 3rd quarter. It was the 1st time the Giants had 2 touchdown passes of more than 60 yards in the same game by the same quarterback to receiver combination since Sept. 11, 1966 at Pittsburgh, where Earl Morrall and Homer Jones connected for scores of 98 and 75 yards. For the 2nd time in the season, Toomer was 1 of 2 Giants receivers to finish a game with over 100 receiving yards; Hilliard had 121 yard on 6 catches...Finished with 5 receptions for 105 yards vs. Washington (9/19) as both Giants starting wide receivers were able to surpass the 100-yard mark. Hilliard caught 8 passes for 114 yards. The Giants had last had 2 receivers over 100 yards receiving in a game on Nov. 15, 1987 at Philadelphia when Lionel Manuel had 6 catches for 105 yards and Mark Bavaro had 7 for 102...Had an 8-catch, 123-yard performance vs. Philadelphia (10/3). 3 of his receptions were for at least 25 yards (38, 25, 32).

1998: Played in all 16 games as a reserve at wide receiver and as the Giants punt returner...Caught 27 passes for 360 yards and 5 touchdowns...Returned 25 punts for 252 yards...Also returned 4 kickoffs for 66 yards...Made the game-winning touchdown catch in the 3rd quarter in the season-opener vs. Washington (9/6) on a 22-yard reception from Danny Kanell...Had a season-long 39-yard punt return in the 4th quarter at Oakland (9/13)...Caught the game-winning 37-yard touchdown pass from Kent Graham with just 48 2nds left in the victory over previously undefeated Denver (12/13). Made an adjustment to get underneath Broncos cornerback Tito Paul before using his leaping ability to out-jump the defender for the ball.

1997: Played in all 16 regular season games and the postseason game...Returned 47 punts for 455 yards, including a 53-yard touchdown return at Detroit (10/19). Fielded a short punt in the 3rd quarter against the Lions and raced 53 yards in and out of traffic for a 17-10 Giants lead. Awarded a Game Ball by the coaching staff and was named NFC Special Teams Player of the Week by the NFL for his performance...Finished the season with 16 catches for 263 yards and a touchdown...Caught his 1st NFL touchdown pass on a 56-yarder from Danny Kanell in the 2nd quarter vs. Arizona (11/16).

1996: Played in 7 games with 1 start before suffering season-ending knee injury...Finished with 18 punt returns for 298 yards (16.6 avg.) and 2 touchdowns...Returned 11 kickoffs for 191 yards (17.4 avg.)...Caught 1 pass for 12 yards...In his 1st NFL game, Toomer scored on an 87-yard punt return vs. Buffalo (9/1), the longest punt return in Giants history. The previous team mark was an 83-yard return by Eddie Dove at Philadelphia on Sept. 29, 1963...Started at wide receiver at Dallas (9/8) in place of the injured Thomas Lewis (back). Stumbled on a pass route on the 1st play from scrimmage that ended in an interception by the Cowboys. Had 1 reception for 12 yards...Returned a punt 65 yards for a touchdown in the 2nd quarter vs. Philadelphia (10/13) to give the Giants a 10-6 lead. Joined David Meggett (1994) as the only Giants players to finish a season with 2 punt returns for touchdowns in a season...Injured the anterior cruciate ligament in his right knee at the end of the 1st half at Washington (10/20). Played the rest of the that game and attempted to go through Wednesday's practice prior to the Detroit game (10/27) before the extent of his injury was diagnosed...Underwent successful reconstructive surgery to repair the anterior cruciate ligament in his right knee on Oct. 28...Placed on injured reserve on Oct. 31.

College: At conclusion of his collegiate career, ranked 2nd on Michigan's career lists with 143 receptions for 2,657 yards, topped only by Anthony Carter (161-3,076, 1979-82)...Caught 18 touchdown passes... All-America Dream Team selection by The Poor Man's Guide to the NFL Draft, All-Big 10 Conference 2nd-team choice following senior season in 1995...2nd on the team with 44 receptions for 758 yards (17.2 avg) and 7 touchdowns and gained 177 yards on 21 punt returns (8.4 avg) with a score and 204 yards on 11 kickoff returns (18.5 avg) as a senior...1st-team All-Big 10 Conference choice after he caught 54 passes for 1,096 yards (20.3 avg) and 6 touchdowns as a junior in 1994...Became only the 3rd receiver in school history to gain over 1,000 yards in a season, joining Jack Clancy (1,079 yards in 1966) and Desmond Howard (1,025 in 1990)...The 1,096 yards was the 3rd-highest single-season total in school history...His 20.3-yard average per catch ranks 7th on the Wolverines' season record list...Finished 2nd on the team with 29 receptions for 565 yards (19.5 avg) and 4 touchdowns as a sophomore in 1993.

Personal: Married (Yolanda)... Was honored by the United Way of NYC for his community involvement during the 2002 season...Created the Amani Toomer Foundation to contribute to after school programs. Foundation's goal is to set up a location where children can attend an after school program that provides enrichment to a child's life. Efforts are already visible, after recently donating money to a kung fu program that went oversees to participate in a tournament. Donation funded the entire trip...Has donated his time and made personal appearances to support numerous fund raising efforts in the tri-state area including: the Kids for Kids Celebrity carnival to benefit the Pediatric AIDS foundation, the annual Meet the Giants Event to benefit the Ronald McDonald House of New York City, The Gift of New York benefit this past February and Toys for Sick Kids Foundation benefit party...In 2001, visited Stuyvesant High School, which is in Manhattan and just a few blocks from Ground Zero and spoke to the students about focusing on school and remaining positive after the attacks of September 11th...USA Today, The Sporting News, Parade and Super Prep All-American selection at De LaSalle (Concord, Cal.) High...Named Gatorade California Player of the Year...Western Region Player of the Year...Rated the top prospect in the West by Super Prep...California

Transactions: Originally a 1st round (24th pick overall) draft choice by the Giants in 1998.

NFL: Has developed into an outstanding safety and team leader...Contributed as a reserve his 1st 2 years before starting every game the last 3 seasons...Moved to strong safety in 2002 after playing the previous 2 years at free safety...An outstanding tackler who has delivered several crushing hits as a Giant...Used in nickel and dime defensive packages and on special teams throughout his 1st 2 seasons...Williams' 1st claim to Giants fame is that he was born on Oct. 10, 1976, the day Giants Stadium opened.

2002: Moved to strong safety and started all 16 games, plus the postseason game, the 3rd consecutive season he started every game...Finished 2nd on the team with a career-high 108 tackles (68 solo)...Tied for the team lead with 2 interceptions, and was 3rd on the team with 10 passes defensed...Also contributed 2 sacks and a fumble recovery...Had 5 tackles (4 solo) and a pass defensed in NFC Wild Card playoff game at San Francisco (1/5). Was ejected in the 4th quarter after receiving an unsportsmanlike conduct penalty and an unnecessary roughness penalty with 1:05 remaining in the game...Made 1 of the biggest plays of the season vs. Philadelphia (12/28), intercepting A.J. Feeley's pass in overtime, a takeaway that set up Matt Bryant's game-winning and playoff-clinching 39-yard field goal...Finished with 5 tackles (3 solo) to increase his season total to 102, the 1st time in his career he exceeded 100 tackles in a season, vs. Dallas (12/15). Also recorded his 1st interception of the season, picking off a Chad Hutchinson pass intended for Joey Galloway in the 3rd period. Tackled Emmitt Smith for a 4-yard loss and dropped Antonio Bryant for an 8-yard loss on a double reverse attempt, both in the 1st quarter... Finished with 6 tackles (1 solo), 1 pass defensed and a fumble recovery at Washington (12/8). Left the game early in the 1st quarter with a burner and mild concussion but returned. Recovered a fumble by Darnerien McCants and returned it 16 yards in the 4th period...Had 12 tackles (8 solo) vs. Tennessee (12/1)...Contributed 7 tackles (5 solo and a pass defensed at Houston (11/24)...Finished with a team-high 9 tackles (7 solo), 1 sack and a pass defensed vs. Jacksonville (11/3). Sacked Mark Brunell for a 13-yard loss on a blitz in the 4th quarter...Had 7 tackles (5 solo) and a pass defensed vs Atlanta (12/13)... Finished with 6 tackles (4 solo), a pass defensed and a 5-yard sack of Quincy Carter at Dallas (10/6)...Finished with a team-high 15 tackles (13 solo) at Arizona (9/29)...Opened season with 8 tackles (3 solo) vs. San Francisco (9/5).

2001: Started all 16 games at free safety...Recorded 96 tackles (77 solo), which was 2nd on the team to Mike Barrow's team-record 135 tackles...Had 3 interceptions, tying his career high and tying him with Jason Sehorn for 2nd on the team, 1 behind Will Allen...Was 3rd on the team with 11 passes defensed...Also recorded the 1st regular-season sack of his career...Finished with 5 tackles (3 solo) vs. Green Bay (1/6) before being forced to leave the game with a knee sprain early in the 4th quarter...Recorded a team-high and season-high 12 tackles (10 solo) and 1 pass defensed vs. Seattle (12/23)... Recorded 8 tackles (6 solo) vs. Oakland (11/25)...Finished with a team-high 8 tackles (6 solo) at Arizona (11/11)...Was 2nd on the team with 9 tackles (5 solo) vs. Dallas (11/4)...Finished with a team-high 9 solo tackles and a sack at Washington (10/28). Recorded the 1st regular-season sack of his career in the 2nd quarter when he dropped Tony Banks for a 6-yard loss...Had 6 tackles (4 solo), 1 interception and 2 passes defensed vs. Philadelphia (10/22). Picked off a Donovan McNabb pass intended for Todd Pinkston in the 1st period and returned it 20 yards. Broke up a McNabb pass intended for Pinkson in the 3rd quarter...Contributed 7 solo tackles and an interception vs. New Orleans (9/30). Intercepted an Aaron Brooks pass intended for Joe Horn in the 3rd period...Had 3 tackles (2 solo), 2 passes defensed and 1 interception at Kansas City (9/23). His 1st-quarter interception of Trent Green's pass for Jason Dunn in the end zone was the defense's 1st forced turnover of the season...Had 5 solo tackles at Denver (9/10).

2000: Started all 19 regular season and postseason games, including 18 at free safety and 1 at strong safety (at Philadelphia, 9/10)...Was named to Sports Illustrated's All-Pro team...Finished tied for 2nd on the team with a career-high 3 interceptions...Was 3rd on the team with 85 tackles (64 solo) and with 13 passes defensed...Also had a fumble recovery and 8 special teams tackles (6 solo)...Recorded a team-high 7 tackles (5 solo) in Super Bowl XXXV vs. Baltimore (1/28)...Played outstanding game in NFC Championship game vs. Minnesota (1/14), finishing with 2 tackles (1 solo), 1 sack and a forced fumble. His 3-yard sack of Daunte Culpepper on the 3rd quarter's 1st play forced a fumble that was recovered by Cornelius Griffin. The sack was the 1st of his career and the turnover set up an Amani Toomer 7-yard touchdown reception that gave the Giants a 41-0 lead...Had 3 solo tackles, 1 pass defensed and a forced fumble in NFC Divisional Playoff vs. Philadelphia (1/7)...Posted 5 tackles (3 solo), 1 pass defensed and 1 fumble recovery vs. Jacksonville (12/23). Delivered memorable hit on Jimmy Smith and broke up a pass when the Jacksonville receiver went over the middle in the 1st quarter. Recovered a fumble by Fred Taylor on the running back's 1st carry of the game... Finished with a team-high 8 tackles (7 solo) and 1 pass defensed vs. Pittsburgh (12/10)...Posted 7 tackles (3 solo) and an interception vs. Detroit (11/19). Intercepted Troy Aikman in the end zone early in the 2nd quarter and returned it 12 yards to the 9-yard line. Played nickel cornerback in the 4th when Reggie Stephens left the game with an ankle injury...Had a team-high 8 solo tackles at Atlanta (10/8)...Switched from free safety to start at strong safety in place of injured Sam Garnes at Philadelphia (9/10). Lyle West played free safety. Finished with 2 solo tackles...Made the 1st start of his NFL career in season opener vs. Arizona (9/3). Had a solid game despite missing all but a week of training camp with a toe injury, finishing with 7 tackles (6 solo), an interception and 2 passes defensed. Picked off Jake Plummer pass intended for Terry Hardy and returned it 40 yards in the 3rd quarter.

1999: Played in 11 games, with the majority of action coming on nickel defense and on special teams...Missed 5 games after pulling hamstring vs. New Orleans (10/24)... Finished season with 16 tackles (13 solo) and tied for 3rd on the team with 6 passes defensed...Recorded 1 assisted tackle and 1 pass defensed before leaving the game in the 3rd quarter vs. New Orleans (10/24) with a left hamstring pull that forced him to miss the next 5 games (at Philadelphia 10/31, vs. Indianapolis 11/14, at Washington 11/21, vs. Arizona 11/28, and vs. New York Jets 12/5)...Returned to action at Buffalo (12/12) where he played nickel cornerback and finished with 3 solo tackles and 1 pass defensed.

1998: Played in 13 games during his rookie season as the nickel back and on special teams...Saw limited action at strong safety in the regular defense...Finished with 24 total tackles (19 solo), 2 interceptions, 3 passes defensed and 10 special teams tackles...Suffered a hamstring injury at San Diego (9/27) and missed the next 3 games (at Tampa Bay, 10/4; vs. Atlanta, 10/11; and vs. Arizona, 10-18)...Recorded his 1st NFL interception at Arizona (12/6) when he picked off a Jake Plummer pass at the Cardinals 45-yard line with 21 2nds left in the 1st half...Intercepted John Elway's pass intended for Shannon Sharpe at the Giants 37-yard line vs. Denver (12/13). The Giants converted the turnover into a 19-yard field goal for a 13-9 lead midway through the final quarter. Play in the nickel defense helped limit Sharpe to 4 receptions and just 25 yards as the Giants game plan called for Williams to play a large role shadowing Sharpe...Awarded a Special Teams Game Ball by the coaching staff for his play vs. Kansas City (12/20) when he finished with 2 solo special teams tackles as the gunner on the punt team.

College: All-America 1st-team pick by The Poor Man's Guide to the NFL Draft and College and Pro Football Newsweekly, adding 2nd-team honors from Associated Press and The Sporting News as a senior in 1997...Selected to the All-Pac 10 Conference 1st-team...Started 9 games at free safety and finished 2nd on the team with 68 tackles (49 solo). Utah
Frank was the Philadelphia Eagles' 6th-round draft choice in 2000. But on the eve of training camp (7/18), he announced his retirement. The Eagles placed him on the reserve/left squad list on Aug. 15, 2000. After spending the fall of 2000 working for an advertising agency and pursuing a career in music, he had a change of heart regarding football. The Eagles reinstated him on March 6, 2001, and Frank was with them until he was waived at the end of training camp on Sept. 2, 2001. Frank spent the entire 2001 season on Philadelphia's practice squad. He was signed by the Jets on March 13, 2002, but was waived on May 7 and spent the 2002 season out of football. Frank was a 3-year starter at Utah. He served a 2-year LDS mission in Spain in 1992-94, was redshirted in 1995, was a reserve in `96 and became a starter in 1997. He finished his career as the Utes' all-time leader with 27 sacks and 29 tackles for losses in 40 games. Frank was voted the 1999 Mountain West Defensive Player of the Year after finishing with 58 tackles, 13 sacks, 20 sacks for losses and 20 hurries. He was voted first-team All-MWC by the league's coaches. Frank and his wife, Melissa, have a son, Jackson (12/12/00). He was born on July 1, 1974.

2002 SEASON GAME REVIEWS

49ERS 16, GIANTS 13
At East Rutherford, Sept. 5, 2002

The Giants opened the 2002 season with a last-minute, 16-13 defeat to the San Francisco 49ers, an excruciating, frustrating, hard-to-swallow loss. But the darkest feeling for the Giants was that their own mistakes had cost them an opportunity to win. The offense gained 361 yards, but scored just one touchdown, in part because of three interceptions and a costly penalty. The defense shut down San Francisco's prolific offense most of the night, but surrendered a huge play with the game on the line. Jose Cortez made them pay for the miscues when he kicked his third field goal of the game, a 36-yarder with six seconds remaining, to give San Francisco the victory. Offensively, the Giants benefited from several outstanding performances. Kerry Collins completed 28 of 45 passes for 342 yards, the fourth consecutive regular-season game he crossed the 300-yard barrier. But he also threw three interceptions. Amani Toomer tied his career high with nine catches for 134 yards. Ike Hilliard and Tiki Barber had five catches apiece, and Ron Dixon made some clutch grabs. On the debit side, the Giants rushed for only 43 yards and averaged two yards a carry. Defensively, the Giants held San Francisco's top two running backs, Garrison Hearst and Kevan Barlow, to 73 yards on 20 carries. Jeff Garcia completed 16 of 26 passes for a modest 166 yards. And until the last two minutes of the game, all-pro receiver Terrell Owens had three catches for eight yards. But it's those last two minutes that haunted the Giants. With 1:55 left, Barber's 1-yard scamper around left end tied the score at 13-13. The 49ers took possession at their own 30. On the very first play, Owens delivered the crushing blow, getting loose on the left side for a 33-yard gain to the Giants 37-yard line. Garcia then passed to J.J. Stokes, who broke a tackle for a 12-yard gain. Hearst ran for seven more, and two plays later, Cortez kicked the game-winner, completing a 52-yard drive. Barber's game-tying touchdown run had capped a remarkable 14-play, 77-yard drive on which the Giants converted four critical plays, three of them on third down. The drive consumed 6:13 and directly followed a Cortez field goal that had increased the 49ers lead to seven points. The third downs were key. The first was a 23-yard pass from Collins to Toomer on a third-and-16 from the 17. The next time the Giants faced a third-down situation, they needed eight yards from the 42. Another Collins-to-Toomer pass picked up 11. Moments later, the Giants were pushed back five yards when they were penalized for having 12 men in the huddle. Collins immediately fired a perfect pass to Jeremy Shockey for a 20-yard gain to the Niners 15. Two plays later, it was third-and-five from the San Francisco 10. Barber kept them moving with a 6-yard gain to the four. He gained three more yards before the timeout at the two-minute warning. When play resumed, Barber beat the 49ers to the corner for the Giants first touchdown of the season. San Francisco took its first lead of the game on Hearst's 9-yard touchdown reception with 1:51 left in the third period. The score capped an eight-play, 52-yard drive that began after Matt Allen's 36-yard punt. The big play occurred on third-and-five from the Giants 34. Garcia flipped a pass to the right side to running back Barlow, who broke one tackle, then bullied his way to the five. Matt Bryant's 33-yard field goal as time expired in the second period had given the Giants a 6-3 halftime lead. The teams were tied at the end of a first period that had more action than a 3-3 score would suggest. Bryant kicked his first NFL field goal, a 29-yarder with 5:52 left in the quarter. The Giants moved 69 yards in 10 plays after Mike Rosenthal blocked Cortez's 25-yard field goal attempt. San Francisco responded with its own scoring drive, capped by Cortez's 23-yard field goal with a minute left in the quarter.

Game 2
GIANTS 26 , RAMS 21
At St. Louis, Sept. 15, 2002

The Giants earned one of the biggest regular season victories of the Jim Fassel era when they defeated their longtime nemesis and the defending NFC Champion St. Louis Rams, 26-21, in the Edward Jones Dome. The Giants raced to a 17-0 second-quarter lead and held off the Rams to improve their record to 1-1. They stopped a five-game losing streak to the Rams, who dropped to 0-2. The Giants had lost their three previous games in the dome since the Rams moved to St. Louis. Quarterback Kerry Collins set a team regular season record by completing 84.6 percent of his passes (22 of 26). The former record of 82.4 was held by Jeff Hostetler, who completed 28 of 34 passes in a 21-16 loss at Dallas on Sept. 29, 1991. Collins hit 14 of his first 15 passes and threw for 307 yards, his fifth consecutive 300-yard game, one shy of the NFL record. Jeremy Shockey and Jason Sehorn scored touchdowns and Matt Bryant kicked four field goals (from 20, 32, 34 and 25 yards) for the Giants. It was Shockey's first NFL touchdown. The Giants clinched the victory with two key takeaways in the last 3:02 of a taut and thrilling fourth period. Bryant's fourth field goal increased the Giants lead to 26-21 with 4:19 remaining. On the Rams next possession, they faced a fourth down needing less than a yard to keep their march moving. But Marshall Faulk, who rushed for two touchdowns, tried to penetrate the middle of the Giants line and fumbled. The ball was recovered by Michael Strahan at the St. Louis 40 with 2:53 remaining. Mike Barrow forced the fumble. The Rams had one final chance to win the game, taking possession at their own 20-yard line with 1:50 remaining after a Giants punt. But on first down, Kurt Warner's pass for Torry Holt was intercepted by William Peterson. The play was challenged by the replay official and then upheld, clinching the victory for the Giants. St. Louis had pulled to within two points, at 23-21, on Faulk's second touchdown, an 8-yard run with 8:24 remaining in the fourth quarter. The score ended a six-play, 69-yard drive that immediately followed a Giants field goal. The big play on the march was a 34-yard catch-and-run by Holt, who caught a Warner pass on the Giants 45 and dodged several attempted tackles before he was brought down on the 20-yard line. Bryant's third field goal of the game, a 34-yarder with 11:47 left in the fourth period, increased the Giants lead to 23-14. The Giants drove 66 yards in 11 plays after Brandon Short recovered Warner's fumbled snap at the Giants 18-yard line. After surrendering 14 consecutive points, the Giants pushed their lead to 20-14 on Bryant's 32-yard field goal with 6:08 left in the third period. But for the second time in the game, the Giants had to settle for three points after having a first down inside the St. Louis 10-yard line. The Giants had their lead sliced to 17-14 when Faulk scored on a 1-yard run with only 3:16 expired in the third period. Faulk had set up the score with a 44-yard run on the third play of the half. The Giants scored two touchdowns in 45 seconds to take a 17-0 lead in the second period. The first of those scores was a 28-yard touchdown pass from Collins to Shockey with 10:29 remaining in the second period. The Giants defense quickly added a score, thanks primarily to Kenny Holmes and Sehorn. Holmes tipped a Warner pass that was intercepted by Sehorn, who returned it 31 yards for a score. It was the fifth regular season touchdown of Sehorn's career and the fourth on an interception. St. Louis responded with its first touchdown of the game, on a 6-yard pass from Warner to Ricky Proehl. The Giants had taken a 3-0 lead on Bryant's 20-yard field goal just 5:06 into the game.

Game 3
At East Rutherford, Sept. 22, 2002

Matt Bryant added another chapter to his unlikely story when he kicked three field goals, including a 47-yarder with 2:04 remaining, to account for all of the Giants scoring in a 9-6 victory over the Seattle Seahawks in Giants Stadium. Bryant, who was released and then re-signed prior to the season, improved to a perfect nine-for-nine on field goal attempts. He was backed against Seattle by a superb defense that limited the Seahawks to 145 total yards (40 on the ground) and seven first downs. William Peterson's interception with 1:35 left sealed the victory. It was the second week in a row Peterson intercepted a pass on the opposition's final possession. But the day belonged to Bryant, who also kicked second-half field goals of 33 and 21 yards to lift the Giants out of a 6-0 halftime hole. The Giants needed everything Bryant could give them, because the offense sputtered much of the afternoon. Though the Seahawks owned the ball for only 23:10, and gained a total of 37 yards in the second half, the Giants couldn't take advantage. Three times the Giants advanced inside the Seattle 20-yard line. Three times they settled for field goals. The Giants, who did not have a turnover, got key contributions from several players. Kerry Collins completed 23 of 38 passes for 282 yards. Tiki Barber rushed for 50 yards and caught seven passes, and Ron Dayne rushed for 48 yards on 11 carries. Shaun Williams had a team-high nine tackles, and Kenny Holmes and Michael Strahan made big stops. The Giants began the game-winning possession at their own five, after Jeff Feagles' punt bounced high and failed to carry into the end zone. The drive picked up steam on third-and-four from the 11, when Collins threw to the right side to Amani Toomer for a 20-yard gain. On the next play, Collins hit Ike Hilliard for an 18-yard gain. Later in the drive, Jeremy Shockey caught a 10-yard pass on third down. But the march stalled, and Bryant came on to kick his longest – and most important – field goal of the season. The Seahawks got the ball back on their own 29 with 1:58 left and all three of their timeouts, giving them a golden opportunity to win the game, or kick the tying field goal. But on second down from the 34, Peterson intercepted a Trent Dilfer pass that was intended for Koren Robinson. Bryant's second field goal of the game, a 21-yarder with 12:05 remaining in the second period, tied the score at 6-6. The Giants traveled 50 yards in five plays before the kick, including 33 yards on a screen pass to Barber. Bryant's 33-yard field goal with 8:06 remaining in the third quarter put the Giants on the scoreboard for the first time and sliced their deficit to 6-3. The Giants took the second-half kickoff and marched 69 yards in 15 plays before Bryant kicked the field goal. The possession was key, because it kept the ball out of the Seahawks hands when they had the wind at their backs. The Giants trailed at the end of a lackluster first half, 6-0. Two field goals by Rian Lindell. Seattle kicked field goals at the end of two very similar drives. In the first period, the Seahawks moved 34 yards in eight plays before Lindell kicked a 42-yard field goal. The longest play on the drive was a 14-yard pass from Trent Dilfer to Darrell Jackson. The second-period Seattle scoring drive covered 39 yards in eight plays before the 27-yard field goal. On that possession, Dilfer connected with Bobby Engram for passes covering 14 and 17 yards. The half ended in frustrating fashion for the Giants, who put together their best drive of the first two periods in the waning moments but failed to score a point when Barber was stopped for a 4-yard loss on fourth down from the Seattle one.

Game 4
At Tempe, Sept. 29, 2002

The Giants suffered a bitter 21-7 loss to the Arizona Cardinals in hot, sunny Sun Devil Stadium that left both teams with 2-2 records. Backup halfback Marcel Shipp rushed for 92 yards and scored two touchdowns (one receiving), and Justin Lucas returned an interception for a touchdown just prior to halftime for the Cardinals. Tiki Barber scored the Giants only touchdown, on the team's first possession. The Giants traveled inside the Arizona 20-yard line just once. They scored in single digits for the second consecutive game (the first time that had happened since 1998). The Giants insisted that they had beaten themselves with crippling turnovers, costly penalties and their continued lack of production on offense, scoring only once on 12 offensive possessions. They committed three turnovers, two Kerry Collins interceptions and a Barber fumble. One of the interceptions was an ill-advised pass that was returned 38 yards for a touchdown by Lucas with just four seconds left in the half. It tied the score at 7-7 and changed the entire tenor of the game. With 14 seconds left in the half, Bill Gramatica missed a 42-yard field goal. The Giants, with a first down on their own 32, seemed poised to take a knee and run out the clock. But the Giants tried to be aggressive, and Collins' pass for Barber was picked off by Lucas, who sprinted up the sideline and dove for the end zone. The ball hit the pylon, which was good enough for the touchdown. The Giants had a chance to grab the momentum back when they took the second half kickoff. But on the fourth play of the third period, Collins threw a 10-yard pass to Barber, who was hit by Barron Turner and fumbled. The ball was recovered by Kwamie Lassiter, the Giants first lost fumble of the season. The Giants also hurt themselves with 10 penalties for 110 yards. The costliest call was on tackle Mike Rosenthal, who was flagged for holding on the final play of the third period, nullifying Collins' 76-yard, go-ahead touchdown pass to Ron Dixon. Shipp scored both of his touchdowns in the fourth period. The first was set up when Michael Strahan was penalized for roughing Jake Plummer, after the quarterback threw an incompletion on third-and-10 early in the final period. Instead of being forced to punt, the Cardinals took advantage of the miscue, driving for the go-ahead touchdown on Plummer's 7-yard pass to Shipp. The Giants punted on the subsequent possession, setting up the Cardinals' 12-play, 78-yard drive that consumed 6:18. Arizona converted four third downs on the march: Plummer's 16-yard pass to Frank Sanders on third-and-seven, a 23-yard toss to Freddie Jones on third-and-six, Shipp's 13-yard run to the Giants 15 on third-and-three. The fourth successful conversion was Shipp's 10-yard touchdown run. The Giants played their best football in the first period, when they dominated, earning eight first downs to just one for the home team and out-gaining the Cards, 107-25 (Arizona had one yard rushing in the quarter). But their lead was a narrow 7-0, on Barber's 6-yard run. The Giants second foray into Arizona territory ended when Collins' pass was intercepted by David Barrett at the 11-yard line. After the Cards went three-and-out after the opening kickoff, the Giants moved 46 yards in eight plays, including Barber's second rushing touchdown of the season. The big play on the drive was a 19-yard pass from Collins to Jeremy Shockey, which put the Giants at the Arizona 18. Collins then sandwiched throws of five yards to Barber and four yards to Shockey around Ron Dayne's 3-yard run. Barber then went off left tackle and fought his way into the end zone for the score.

Game 5
At Irving, Oct. 6, 2002

For the second week in a row, the Giants found themselves trying to stave off defeat in a hot and hostile environment. And when a long-held lead vaporized early in the fourth period, the Giants suddenly found themselves needing a comeback in the near-unbearable heat of Texas Stadium, with 63,447 Cowboys fans creating enough noise to shake the stadium's funny-looking half-roof, and with their own lineup depleted by a series of injuries that thrust little used players into major roles. Yet, the formula somehow worked. Kerry Collins engineered a masterful 80-yard drive that culminated in a game-winning 17-yard touchdown pass to Marcellus Rivers with 6:51 remaining in the game. The Giants, thanks in part to an overthrow on what would have been a certain Dallas touchdown, rose up to win a game under circumstances very similar to the game in Arizona last week that ended with a bitter defeat. The final in Texas Stadium was Giants 21, Cowboys 17. Collins threw three touchdown passes (the others went to Ike Hilliard and Amani Toomer), matching the touchdown output from the Giants offense for the first four games combined. He completed 18 of 27 passes. The ground game gained 104 yards, including 94 from Tiki Barber. The Giants also got unexpected big plays from people like Rivers, who saw extensive playing time because Jeremy Shockey was sidelined with turf toe; Dan Campbell, with three catches coming in, doubled that total and caught a big 20-yarder on the final drive; Delvin Jones, who added life to the return game in his first NFL action; Tam Hopkins, who stepped in and provided some key blocks after right guard Jason Whittle suffered a back injury.; Ralph Brown, who played most of the game at right cornerback for William Peterson, whose injured toe was too painful to play on. Reserve defensive linemen Frank Ferrara, Lance Legree and Dwight Johnson all played significant minutes. The Cowboys claimed their first lead at 17-14 lead on Quincy Carter's five-yard touchdown pass to rookie Antonio Bryant with 10:52 remaining in the fourth period, capping a 14-play, 57-yard drive. The Giants responded with their own eight-play, 80-yard march that began with Barber's 23-yard run around right end. It ended with Collins' 18-yard touchdown pass to Rivers, who caught the ball at the five and stepped into the end zone for the winning score. The Cowboys had a chance to re-take the lead, but with 2:53 remaining, Carter overthrew a wide open Bryant at the three-yard line. Dallas soon punted from its own 48, and never got the ball back. Most of the scoring was all done in an action-filled second period. On the first play of the quarter, Hilliard opened the scoring by catching a 12-yard touchdown pass. Emmitt Smith then showed he still had plenty of life in his legs when he took a handoff from Carter, eluded two attempted tacklers and raced to the end zone for a 30-yard touchdown and a 7-7. It took the Giants just three plays to cover 78 yards after Smith's touchdown. The drive opened with Barber's four-yard run. Collins then threw an 18-yard pass to Hilliard on the left side. On first down from the 44, Toomer ran a post pattern from the right side. He caught the ball between defensive backs Darren Woodson (who slipped) and Derek Ross at the 15-yard line, then ran into the end zone for the score. Dallas responded with a 32-yard field goal by Cundiff to cut the Giants leads to four points at the break. The Cowboys moved 45 yards in eight plays prior to the field goal, the longest a 25-yard pass from Collins to Michael Wiley, which gave Dallas a first down at the 15.

Game 6
At East Rutherford, Oct. 13, 2002

Two fourth-period turnovers deep inside enemy territory doomed the Giants to a frustrating 17-10 loss to the Atlanta Falcons in soggy Giants Stadium. The Giants lost for only the third time in 14 games before a regular season bye. The crippling turnovers were Juran Bolden's interception of a Kerry Collins pass at the Atlanta seven-yard line with 11:39 remaining, and Ron Dixon's fumble at the Falcons 15-yard line with 3:22 left. The Giants did not get the ball back until only 18 seconds remained, and that was a nearly impossible situation from their own 16-yard line. The mistakes alone didn't cost the Giants the game. The defense had far too many lapses, particularly in pass coverage. Backup quarterback Doug Johnson, who played because Michael Vick was sidelined with a shoulder injury, completed 19 of 25 passes for 251 yards, a touchdown and no interceptions. His 14-yard pass to Brian Finneran with 8:06 left was the game-winner. To add injury to insult, the Giants lost defensive tackle Keith Hamilton for the season with a ruptured right Achilles tendon. Michael Strahan suffered back spasms and was limited to third down duty in the second half. Because right end Kenny Holmes was one of four starters sidelined with injuries, left tackle Cornelius Griffin was the only first-team defensive lineman to play most of the game. Frank Ferrara (who started for Holmes), Lance Legree and Dwight Johnson played most of the game up front. Also missing were Jeremy Shockey (toe) and guard Jason Whittle (back). Atlanta scored the winning points when Johnson threw a 14-yard touchdown pass to Finneran with 8:06 left in the fourth period. The Falcons drove 94 yards in only six plays following Bolden's interception. The Giants faced a third-and-five at the Atlanta 20 when Collins threw to Ike Hilliard inside the 10. But Bolden, starting for Ray Buchanan, reached out and grabbed the ball. The big play on Atlanta's ensuing drive was a 63-yard pass from Johnson to Shawn Jefferson, which gave the Falcons a first down on the Giants 25-yard line. Four plays later, Johnson executed a play-action fake and found Finneran alone in the end zone for the go-ahead touchdown. The Giants took possession at their own 30 with 7:57 remaining. Collins led them down the field, connecting with Dixon for 10 yards on third-and-seven and Hilliard (a team-high seven receptions for 76 yards) for five yards on fourth-and-one. That gave the Giants a first down on the Atlanta 43. Less than a minute later, they faced another fourth down, needing three yards to keep the drive moving from the 36. Standing in shotgun formation, Collins received the ball earlier than expected, because Chris Bober snapped it one count early. Collins recovered to hit Dixon down the middle for a 19-yard gain to the 17. But Henry Jones knocked the ball loose and Kevin Mathis recovered at the 15, effectively ending the Giants chance to win the game. The Giants had tied the score at 10-10 on Collins' 18-yard touchdown pass to Hilliard with 8:10 left in the third period. Johnson scored on a 15-yard run up the right sideline to give the Falcons a 7-0 lead on the first play of the second period. Johnson intended to pass on the play, but found no open receiver. The score capped an 88-yard, 17-play drive that took 9:34 to complete. The Giants got on the scoreboard with 4:31 left in the half on Matt Bryant's 38-yard field goal. Atlanta responded with a 53-yard drive that resulted in Jay Feely's 31-yard field goal with 30 seconds remaining in the half, extending the Falcons lead to 10-3.

Game 7
EAGLES 17, GIANTS 3
At Philadelphia, Oct. 28, 2002

Returning to action after their bye, the Giants provided a Monday Night Football a demonstration of the ills that have plagued the team all season. And if that wasn't enough, they showcased some new flaws as well. The result was a 17-3 defeat to the Philadelphia Eagles on the Giants' final trip to Veterans Stadium. Quarterback Donovan McNabb scored the game's only touchdown on a 40-yard run in the fourth period that capped a 99-yard drive, and David Akers kicked three field goals for the Eagles. The Giants offense once again was conking out, backing up, and struggling to get started. The Giants scoring was limited to a Matt Bryant field goal despite gaining a respectable 342 yards. In their first seven games, the Giants scored seven offensive touchdowns. The Giants repeated their season-long habit of sabotaging their own victory chances with costly mistakes. The most glaring was a fumble by rookie fullback Charles Stackhouse at the Eagles one-yard line on the opening possession of the second half, when the Giants had a chance to take the lead. The ball rolled out of the end zone for a touchback. In the fourth period, the Giants traveled to the Philadelphia 13-yard line. But they continued their game-long, and season-long, penchant for committing costly penalties, added a fumbled shotgun snap by Kerry Collins and eventually threw a desperation, no-chance pass on fourth-and-29 from the 34. Even the defense, which was rated third in the NFL overall and against the run entering this weekend, suffered a meltdown. The Eagles rushed for 295 yards, tying the sixth-highest one-game total ever allowed by the Giants. The Giants had not allowed as many rushing yards since Nov. 26, 1978, when the Buffalo Bills rolled up 366 yards on the ground. Both running back Duce Staley (126 yards) and quarterback Donovan McNabb (111) rushed for more than 100 yards, the first time the Giants had two rushers gash them for that total in the same game since Dec. 17, 1978. Ironically, that gave was also at the Vet (a 20-3 loss) in which Wilbert Montgomery (130 yards) and Mike Hogan (100) turned the trick. If that wasn't bad enough, Ike Hilliard dislocated his shoulder when he was blasted on a late hit by safety Brian Dawkins. Hilliard required surgery and missed the rest of the season. The Giants trailed by just 9-3 and had an opportunity to take control of the game early in the fourth period, after Matt Allen's 39-yard punt stopped rolling at the Eagles 1-yard line. But the Eagles marched 99 yards, with McNabb slipping out of Michael Strahan's attempted tackle and sprinting up the left side of the field for a 40-yard touchdown run with 10:30 remaining. McNabb threw to tight end Chad Lewis for the two-point conversion and a 17-3 lead. The received the second-half kickoff trailing, 9-3. second-and-two from the Philly 13, Collins scrambled to his right and threw to Stackhouse, who was alone near the sideline. Stackhouse caught the ball at the six, turned and headed toward the end zone for what could have been the go-ahead touchdown. But he was hit by Troy Vincent at the one and fumbled the ball out of the end zone for a touchback, giving the ball to the Eagles. Three Akers field goals gave the Eagles their six-point at the end of a first half made notable by the Giants allowing 195 Philadelphia rushing yards. McNabb led the parade with 70 yards as the Eagles averaged 8.5 yards a carry in the half. Bryant gave the Giants their only points when he kicked a 26-yard field goal with 12:55 remaining in the second period that tied the score at 3-3. The Giants marched 60 yards in eight plays on their third possession of the game, which spanned the first and second quarters.

Game 8
GIANTS 24, JAGUARS 17
At East Rutherford, Nov. 3, 2002

With Jim Fassel calling the offensive plays for the first time in almost three years, the Giants tied their season high in yardage (394), set a new standard for first downs (26) and, most importantly, rolled to a 24-0 lead before holding off the Jacksonville Jaguars for a 24-17 victory that left the Giants with a midseason record of 4-4. Fassel, who relinquished play-calling duties to offensive coordinator Sean Payton before a game against the Jets on Dec. 5, 1999, reclaimed them last week after a desultory 17-3 loss in Philadelphia. The Giants were averaging only 12.7 points a game and had scored only seven offensive touchdowns in seven games. With Fassel calling the shots, the offense scored three touchdowns, Tiki Barber (101) and Ron Dayne (52) keyed a 177-yard rushing effort, Kerry Collins completed 20 of 28 passes for 228 yards and a score, and eight different receivers caught at least one pass. The offense appeared quicker, more in sync and more confident. The defense also distinguished itself, particularly in the first half, when the Jaguars ran just 17 plays and had three first downs. Barber's exciting 44-yard run increased the Giants lead to 24-0 with 7:18 left in the third quarter. The drive was set up by Strahan's 14-yard sack of Mike Brunell on a fourth-and-four from the Giants 33-yard line. Jacksonville coach Tom Coughlin, hoping to give his offense some momentum, elected to try for the first down. But Strahan brought down the scrambling Brunell. Matt Bryant's 27-yard field goal with 3:06 elapsed in the third period extended the Giants lead to 17-0. The Giants took the second-half kickoff and drove 58 yards in seven plays before Bryant kicked the field goal. The big play on the drive was Barber's 36-yard catch-and-run off a short pass from Collins. On third-and-three from the 50, Collins threw a screen to the left side to Barber, who caught the ball on the Jacksonville 46 and picked up 32 yards on his own. The drive stalled close to the goal line, and Bryant was summoned. The Giants increased their lead to 14-0 just nine seconds before halftime on Collins' eight-yard touchdown pass to Ron Dixon, who caught the ball on the right side of the end zone. Because the play occurred inside the last two minutes of a half, it is the discretion of the replay official whether the play should be reviewed. Replay official Rex Stuart alerted referee Johnnie Greer that he would review the play. After a study of the replays, Greer announced that Dixon had come down with his left foot in-bounds, then dragged his right foot on the ground before crossing the sideline. The score was set up by a daring decision by Fassel, who elected to try and gain yardage on fourth-and-17 from the 35. Fassel originally sent punter Tom Rouen into the game, but recalled him and sent the offense back on the field. Collins then completed a 27-yard pass to rookie Tim Carter to the eight. The Giants took a 7-0 lead on Barber's two-yard touchdown run on the Giants' first drive of the game. Jacksonville finally got on the scoreboard late in the third period when Tim Seder kicked a 24-yard field goal. Early in the final quarter, Dayne, on his fourth consecutive carry, fumbled when he was hit by Akin Ayodele. The ball was recovered by rookie tackle John Henderson at the Jacksonville 33. The Jaguars then drove 67 yards in 15 plays, with Brunell throwing a 14-yard touchdown pass to Bobby Shaw. After the Giants went three-and-out, Brunell led Jacksonville on an 80-yard drive that culminated in his nine-yard scoring pass to Jimmy Smith. That closed the gap to 24-17 with 1:54 left. But the Jaguars' bid to complete the comeback ended when Dan Campbell caught Seder's pooch kick.

Game 9
GIANTS 27, VIKINGS 20
At Minneapolis, Nov. 10, 2002

The Giants were at their best when their situation had taken a turn for the worst, and were able to pull out a 27-20 victory over the Minnesota Vikings in the Metrodome. On a day in which their kicking game went haywire, missing two extra points and two field goal attempts, the Giants squandered a 19-6 fourth-quarter lead. But Kerry Collins calmly led the Giants on an 80-yard drive. Tiki Barber scored the game-winning touchdown on an eight-yard run and Marcellus Rivers added a two-point conversion with 2:43 remaining. Barber rushed for 124 yards, Collins threw for 300 yards, Ron Dixon caught four passes for 107 yards and Amani Toomer, Ron Dayne and Charles Stackhouse also scored touchdowns. Defensively, the Giants sacked quarterbacks Daunte Culpepper and Todd Bouman five times. The defense did not permit a successful Vikings third down conversion in nine Minnesota attempts. The Giants had problems kicking the ball. Two extra point tries were botched. Matt Bryant missed a 31-yard field goal attempt. Tom Rouen couldn't hold a snap, negating what was supposed to be another field goal attempt. In addition, the Giants lost rookie receiver Tim Carter for the season with a torn Achilles tendon. The Giants held a 19-6 lead entering the fourth period. On the first play of the quarter, Bouman fumbled as he was sacked by Frank Ferrara and the ball was recovered by Cornelius Griffin. The Giants failed to capitalize, and Rouen's punt gave the Vikings the ball at their own 19-yard line. Bouman quickly threw passes to Randy Moss covering 48 (down the left sideline) and then 32 yards (up the middle) to give the Vikings a first down on the Giants one-yard line. On the next play, Moe Williams bulled in from a yard out, his ninth touchdown of the season to make it 19-13. The Giants again punted, giving Minnesota the ball on its 22-yard line. On second down from the same spot, Michael Bennett took a handoff from Bouman, stepped through a huge hole in the middle of the line, then used his blazing speed to outrun the secondary to the end zone as the Metrodome erupted. With 8:36 left, the Vikings had their first lead of the game, at 20-19. The Giants responded by methodically working their way down the field before scored the game-winning touchdown. The Giants had extended their lead to 19-6 on Collins' second touchdown pass of the game, an 11-yarder to Toomer with 22 seconds left in the third period. But for the second time in the game, the Giants missed an extra point, despite replacing Rouen with Jesse Palmer as the holder. The Giants led, 13-3, at the end of a first half in which they missed both an extra point and a field goal attempt. Touchdowns by Stackhouse and Dayne accounted for the lead. Dayne scored on a 30-yard run with 8:48 left in the second period. The Giants had another scoring chance after Minnesota went three-and-out, and Toomer opened the next possession with a 46-yard reception up the left sideline that put the ball on the Vikings 30. Two Minnesota penalties helped move the ball to the 13, but Bryant's 31-yard field goal attempt was wide left. Minnesota took advantage of a Giants turnover to pull within 7-3 on Gary Anderson's 20-yard field goal with 12:26 remaining in the second period. The Giants took a 7-0 lead on Collins' one-yard touchdown pass to Stackhouse with 6:10 left in the opening period. Stackhouse caught the ball, then was hit and lost it as he fell into the end zone. The Vikings challenged the ruling on the field, believing Stackhouse had fumbled. But referee Tony Corrente, after reviewing the play, denied the challenge and upheld the touchdown, the first of Stackhouse's career.

Game 10
At East Rutherford, Nov 17, 2002

They weren't at their best, but the Giants improved to 6-4 with a 19-17 victory over the Washington Redskins in wet and windy Giants Stadium. The Giants dropped three certain interceptions and turned the ball over three times. They allowed two touchdown passes, including one in which they seemed to have the receiver completely surrounded. They couldn't run the ball, averaging 2.3 yards on 38 rushing attempts. Kerry Collins completed 48.7 percent of his passes (22 of 46), the first time this season he was under 50 percent. But they won thanks to huge contributions from Matt Bryant (four field goals, from 43, 34, 33 and 19 yards) and Jeremy Shockey (11 receptions for 111 yards) and came up with two key second-half takeaways – including their first interception in seven games – to salt away the victory. Shockey's 11 receptions tied for the third-highest one-game total in Giants history. It was the seventh time in franchise history that a player has caught 11 passes in a game, a feat last accomplished by Mark Bavaro at St. Louis on Dec. 13, 1987. Bryant's 19-yard field goal with 11:56 remaining accounted for the winning points. The victory was secured when James Tuthill's 42-yard field goal attempt was low and blocked by Lance Legree with 3:11 remaining. Bryant kicked three field goals within a span of six minutes covering the final two periods to lift the Giants from a 17-10 deficit to a 19-17 lead early in the fourth quarter. The Giants had two takeaways during the flurry, including their first interception in almost two months. Bryant booted a 34-yarder with 2:56 remaining in the third quarter to pull the Giants to within 17-13. The seven-play, 15-yard scoring drive was set up by Delvin Joyce's 28-yard punt return. On the ensuing kickoff, Ladell Butts fumbled when he was hit by Kevin Lewis, and the ball was recovered for the Giants by Marcellus Rivers at the Washington 37-yard line. Tiki Barber ran for 23 yards on first down. But the Giants lost a yard on the next three plays, and Bryant was called on to kick a 33-yard three-point, making it 17-16. Washington didn't keep the ball for long. On the third play of its possession, Jason Sehorn stepped in front of Derrius Thompson and intercepted a Shane Matthews pass, the Giants' first interception since the end of the fourth quarter of the Seattle game on Sept. 22, a span of more than 6 _ games. Opposing quarterbacks had thrown 215 passes between interceptions. The Giants took possession at the Washington 40-yard line. A 13-yard pass to Shockey on the last play of the period moved the ball to the 20. Three plays later, Jeremiah Trotter was penalized for roughing Collins, giving the Giants a first down on the Redskins 10. Barber gained a yard on first down, then caught a two-yard pass from Collins. On third-down from the seven, Barber gained six yards and was stopped by a group of Redskins just shy of the goal line. Bryant came on to kick the go-ahead field goal, a 19-yarder. Washington had taken a 17-10 lead with 11:53 left in the third period on Matthews' 11-yard touchdown pass to Rod Gardner. Several Giants had Gardner surrounded, but none of them made a play on the ball. The Redskins scored on the first play after David Terrell intercepted a Kerry Collins pass and returned it 19 yards to the 11. The teams were tied 10-10 at halftime after Collins' 35-yard touchdown pass to Amani Toomer with 1:47 remaining in the second period. The Redskins had taken extended their lead to 10-3 on Tuthill's 31-yard field goal with 5:01 left in the second period. Washington took a 7-3 lead on Matthews' six-yard touchdown pass to Willie Jackson just 50 seconds into the second period. The Giants led 3-0 at the end of the first period, thanks to Bryant's 43-yard field goal with 6:39 remaining.

Game 11
At Houston, Nov. 24, 2002

The Giants traveled to south Texas and learned a painful and constructive lesson: if you're going to play like an expansion team, you're going to lose to an expansion team. For much of the game in gleaming Reliant Stadium, the Giants played more like a first-year team than their hosts, the Houston Texans. They made the kind of mistakes you would expect from a first-year expansion team, including an errant snap on a punt that resulted in a safety, a critical missed field goal, a failure to turn yardage into points and two interceptions in the final six minutes. The result was a 16-14 defeat that left the Giants as frustrated and disappointed as they have been all year. Kris Brown's 50-yard field goal with 6:57 remaining gave the Texans the lead for good. The Giants had a 100-yard rusher (Tiki Barber, 146), a 100-yard receiver (Amani Toomer, 113)), tied their season high with five sacks and out-gained the Texans, 368-212, held them to 89 net passing yards (42 on one play) and 3.5 yards per rushing attempt – but still lost. In the search for answers, the Giants focused on their own mistakes. Late in the second period, Bob Jones' snap on what would have been a punt sailed far over the head of Matt Allen, who was forced to kick the ball out of the end zone for a safety that pulled Houston to within 7-5 at halftime. In the third period, Matt Bryant hooked a 33-yard field goal attempt, points that could have given the Giants a victory. Brown's game-winning 50-yarder capped a 10-play, 41-yard drive that immediately followed a Giants touchdown. After the field goal, the Giants took possession at their own 37. Marcus Coleman's pass interference penalty moved the ball to the 50 but Campbell's holding penalty pushed the Giants back 10 yards. On third-and-20 from the 40, Collins threw for Derek Dorris, but the pass was intercepted by Matt Stevens with 5:57 left. Houston went three-and-out and the Giants had another shot, taking possession at their own 33 with 3:36 left. A 16-yard pass to Toomer and Barber's 19-yard run help move the ball to the Houston 33. But on second-and-12, Collins faced a fierce rush as he tried to throw a pass to Jeremy Shockey, who was covered by Jeff Posey. But Collins was hit by linebacker Jamie Sharper as he released the ball, which was short and intercepted by Posey at the Houston 28 with 1:19 left. The Giants had taken a 14-13 lead on Toomer's brilliant touchdown reception with 13:10 remaining in the fourth period. On second-and-10 from the Houston 31, Toomer was held by cornerback Aaron Glenn, who grabbed his jersey and held on as the two players ran down the field. Despite that, Toomer caught Collins' pass, bounced off an attempted tackle by safety Eric Brown at the 10, then stepped into the end zone. Houston jumped ahead, 13-7, on Jonathan Wells' one-yard run and a successful two-point conversion with 6:41 remaining in the third period. The Giants led at halftime, 7-5, after Jones' snap sailed so far over Allen's head, the punter didn't even bother reaching for it. The Giants had taken a 7-3 lead on a two-yard touchdown run by Barber with 3:40 left in the second quarter. It was fitting that Barber scored, because he set up the touchdown with one of the most brilliant and electrifying plays of the season. On the opening play of the drive – which began on the Giants 14-yard line – Barber took a handoff from Collins and ran to his right. After he was quickly met by a group of Houston defenders Barber reversed field and ran to the left. He then continued up the left sideline until he was finally brought down by Coleman on the Houston 16-yard line. The Texans scored first, taking a 3-0 lead on Brown's 40-yard field goal with 12:29 remaining in the second period. Houston traveled 53 yards on eight plays before the kick.

Game 12
TITANS 32, GIANTS 29 (OT)
At East Rutherford, Dec. 1, 2002

The Giants' customary December magic deserted them in Giants Stadium on the first day of the month as they wasted a 12-point fourth-quarter lead and lost in overtime to the Tennessee Titans, 32-29. The Giants gave up a touchdown and two-point conversion with nine seconds left in regulation, then saw Tennessee's Joe Nedney kick a 38-yard field goal with five minutes elapsed in overtime, just their fifth loss in 20 December games under Jim Fassel. Late in the fourth period, the Giants failed to score a touchdown after getting a first-and-goal at the Tennessee one-yard line late and settled for Matt Bryant's 19-yard field goal and a 29-21 lead with 2:21 remaining. That failure – and the inability to make a two-point conversion after their previous touchdown – gave the Titans life. Tennessee took advantage, driving 81 yards in 12 plays, culminating in Steve McNair's nine-yard touchdown pass to tight end Frank Wycheck with nine seconds remaining in regulation. From a spread formation, McNair ran a quarterback draw for the game-tying two-point conversion. The Giants won the overtime coin toss, but punted the ball from their own 46. Tennessee took possession at its own 20, and McNair completed passes of 12 yards to Drew Bennett, 23 yards to John Simon and 12 yards to Derrick Mason. Robert Holcombe ran for 14 yards, then lost a yard before Nedney came on to kick the game-winner. The defense had a rough afternoon, allowing 476 yards, 31 first downs and two fourth-period touchdown drives that totaled 153 yards. McNair completed 30 of 43 passes for 334 yards and three touchdowns. Offensively, Kerry Collins threw touchdown passes to Dan Campbell and Ron Dixon, Tiki Barber ran for another score, and Bryant kicked three field goals. The Giants held a 20-14 lead after three periods, but couldn't survive the fourth quarter. They padded their lead 45 seconds into the period, when Barber scored on a one-yard run to make it 26-14. But Collins couldn't find an open receiver on the attempted two-point conversion, and the try failed. The Titans closed to within five points with 7:34 remaining in the period, when Eddie George dove into the end zone from a yard out, closing the Giants' lead to 26-21. The Giants responded by moving from their own 20 to the Tennessee one-yard line. But Barber was stopped for no gain, then lost a yard before Collins threw an incompletion to Charles Stackhouse. Bryant came on to kick his third field goal, a 19-yarder, but the failure to reach the end zone proved fatal. Tennessee took possession at its own 19 with 2:13 left. McNair was brilliant, completing seven of 11 passes for 70 yards on the drive. He also ran 11 yards for a first down. On first-and-goal from the nine, McNair fired a strike to Wycheck, who went low to the ground to catch the ball. The play was reviewed, then upheld. McNair stepped in to the end zone on the two-point conversion, and the score was tied with nine seconds left. The Giants gained only six yards after taking the overtime kickoff, the first time in five post-halftime possessions they failed to score (excluding a kneeldown at the end of regulation). After a punt, Tennessee started its drive on the 20 and needed only 2:48 to win the game. The Giants trailed at halftime, 14-10, but Collins threw a 24-yard touchdown pass to Dixon and Bryant kicked a 36-yard field goal for the only points of the third period and a 20-14 Giants lead entering the final quarter. Campbell scored the Giants' first touchdown, on a one-yard pass from Collins with 1:14 left in the second period. But McNair's 26-yard scoring pass from McNair with only 23 seconds remaining in the half enabled Tennessee to take a four-point lead into the halftime locker room.

Game 13,
GIANTS 27, REDSKINS 21
At East Rutherford, Dec. 8, 2002

After suffering disturbing losses the previous two weeks, the Giants rebounded with a 27-21 over the Washington Redskins today in FedEx Field. The victory was particularly impressive because the Giants played with a roster depleted by injuries (not including the nine players already on injured reserve). Five starters, four of them on defense, were placed on the inactive list because of injuries: cornerbacks Will Allen (shoulder) and William Peterson (concussion), linebackers Mike Barrow (concussion) and Dhani Jones (ankle), and flanker Ron Dixon (knee). Ralph Brown (right cornerback), Nick Greisen (middle linebacker) and Kevin Lewis (weakside linebacker) made their first career starts. Those players, some other substitute starters and newcomers to the lineup and the team, made key contributions to the Giants victory. Brown had his first career fumble recovery (which he returned 31 yards to set up the Giants first touchdown) and first career interception (which he returned 19 yards to set up the Giants second touchdown). Greisen, a rookie playing his second game after missing eight games with a stress fracture in his foot, had his first career sack, forced fumble and fumble recovery – all on the same play in the second period. Lewis had six tackles and his first career sack, a nine-yarder. And there was cornerback Kato Serwanga, who was signed five days before the game, shortly after being released by the Redskins. He made two big plays, recovering Champ Bailey's muffed punt in the third period (which led to the Giants final touchdown) and forcing Darnerien McCants to fumble with 3:59 remaining, ending Washington's potential game-winning drive. Serwanga played with a pulled hamstring that made it difficult for him to run. On offense, rookie Daryl Jones started for Dixon and caught three passes for 41 yards, including a key 32-yard reception in the fourth period that helped set up Matt Bryant's final field goal. Kerry Collins threw touchdown passes to Charles Stackhouse and Amani Toomer, Tiki Barber scored on a short run and Matt Bryant added a pair of field goals. The Giants jumped out to a 17-0 lead, then held off the Redskins to complete a sweep of the season series for the first time since 1985. The Giants, who entered the game with 14 takeaways in 12 games, had five in Washington, recovering four fumbles and intercepting a pass. They registered six sacks and knocked out starting quarterback Danny Wuerffel, who was replaced by rookie Patrick Ramsey in the third period. The Giants did not have a turnover for the second straight game. Bryant's 35-yard field goal with 10:57 remaining in the fourth quarter extended the Giants lead to 27-14. With the Giants leading, 27-21, Ramsey led Washington from its own 30 to the Giants 42. Ramsey then threw to McCants, who gained 12 yards before he was hit by Serwanga and fumbled. Shaun Williams recovered and returned the ball 16 yards to the Giants 43-yard line with 3:59 remaining. The Redskins did not get the ball back until 55 seconds remained, and they had no timeouts left. The Giants had capitalized on another Redskins mistake to extend their lead to 24-14 on Barber's one-yard run with 1:25 remaining in the third period. Champ Bailey fumbled the ball after making a fair catch signal and Serwanga recovered the ball at the Washington 22-yard line. Jeremy Shockey quickly moved the ball to the one on a 21-yard reception, and Barber gave the drive a successful conclusion. The Giants led at halftime, 17-3, as Collins threw two touchdown passes and the patchwork defense shut down the Redskins, forcing three second-quarter turnovers. The Giants turned two of the takeaways into touchdowns.

2002 SEASON GAME REVIEWS

Game 14
At East Rutherford, Dec. 15, 2002

The Giants earned the most lopsided regular-season triumph of the Jim Fassel era with a 37-7 rout of the Dallas Cowboys in Giants Stadium. With the victory, the Giants clinched second place in the NFC East. It was the Giants' biggest victory over Dallas since a 41-10 triumph on Nov. 11, 1962. The 30-point margin of victory was the largest for the Giants in the regular season in Fassel's six seasons and 94 games as head coach. The previous high was a 28-point margin in a 31-3 victory over New Orleans on Oct. 24, 1999. The Giants defeated Minnesota, 41-0, in the NFC Championship Game two years ago. The 37 points scored was the second-most in the regular-season game in the Fassel era. The Giants beat the Jets, 41-28, on Dec. 5, 1999. The Giants stormed to a 24-0 halftime lead and coasted in the second half. Ron Dayne scored a career-high two touchdowns, Tiki Barber and defensive end Kenny Holmes added a touchdown apiece, and Matt Bryant kicked three field goals for the Giants. Barber rushed for 81 yards on 11 carries and caught three passes for 51 yards. Dayne ran for a season-high 80 yards. The Giants gained 157 yards on the ground and averaged 4.8 yards a carry. Amani Toomer caught six passes for 99 yards. Mike Barrow had 13 tackles, including nine solos, a sack and forced fumble that Holmes turned into a touchdown. Reserve end Byron Frisch had his first two sacks as a Giant. The game was so one-sided, Kerry Collins watched most of the fourth quarter from the sideline. Jesse Palmer stepped in and became the first quarterback other than Collins to take a regular season snap for the Giants since Nov. 21, 1999, when Collins relieved Kent Graham at Washington. Collins' streak of consecutive passes thrown for the Giants ended at 1,852, an NFL record. Although the Giants had many big plays, none was more memorable than Holmes' 50-yard scamper with Chad Hutchinson's fumble. With the Giants leading, 7-0, in the first period, the Cowboys tried to generate some offense by going for a first down on fourth-and-three from their own 36. Hutchinson, who completed only 16 of 40 passes, dropped back to pass and was immediately smothered by Mike Barrow, who was credited with a 14-yard sack Hutchinson fumbled the ball, which was scooped up at the 50 by Holmes, who started running up the center of the field, where he was escorted by a convoy of teammates. But he broke from the pack and made his way over to the left sideline and didn't stop until he had scored the first touchdown of his six-year career. The Giants took an early 7-0 lead on Barber's one-yard run. Holmes' touchdown made it 14-0. The Giants struck again, driving 80 yards in just five plays, including Barber's 60-yard run. Dayne did the work close to the goal line, covering the last eight yards on a pair of four-yard runs, including the touchdown off left guard for a 21-0 advantage. It was the first time the Giants scored 21 points in the first period since Dec. 20, 1986 against Green Bay. Bryant's 38-yard field goal with 12:37 remaining in the second period increased the Giants' lead to 24-0. Bryant's 35-yard field goal capped the opening possession of the third period and increased the Giants' lead to 27-0. The Giants drove 50 yards in five plays after taking the second-half kickoff, including Jeremy Shockey's 17-yard reception, and a 30-yard catch-and-run by Barber on the first two plays. The Giants kept pouring it on in the fourth period, first on Bryant's 31-yard field goal, then with an 11-play, 54-yard drive engineered by Palmer that took 7:04 off the clock. Dayne scored the touchdown on a three-yard run for a 37-0 lead. The Giants lost their bid for a shutout when Hutchinson threw a nine-yard touchdown pass to rookie Antonio Bryant with 1:56 left.

GIANTS 44, COLTS 27
At Indianapolis, Dec. 22, 2002

The Giants marched into the RCA Dome and almost blew off the roof, dominating play from start to finish and riding some brilliant individual performances to a 44-27 rout of the Indianapolis Colts. The Giants led 30-6 and 37-12 on the way to their third consecutive victory. Coupled with New Orleans' loss in Cincinnati, the win put the Giants in control of their postseason destiny. The 44 points were the most the Giants have scored under Fassel. They scored six offensive touchdowns for the first time since 1995 and gained a season-high 469 yards. The Giants had plenty of heroes. Amani Toomer caught 10 passes for 204 yards (the third-highest total in Giants history) and tied his career high with three touchdowns. Jeremy Shockey added seven receptions for 116 yards. Kerry Collins threw for 366 yards and four touchdowns without an interception, for a perfect rating of 158.3. He was the first Giant to accomplish the feat since Fran Tarkenton on Oct. 25, 1970. Collins and Toomer hooked up for an 82-yard touchdown. Tiki Barber rushed for two touchdowns and Ron Dayne ran for five first downs. Defensively, the Giants grounded the high-flying Colts for most of the game. Peyton Manning threw for 365 yards, but 184 of them came in the fourth period, which began with the Giants holding a 24-point lead. Indianapolis managed only 50 rushing yards on 19 carries (2.6-yard average), including a feeble 10-carry, 13-yard effort by Edgerrin James. The Giants scored three touchdowns in the third period to turn a narrow 10-3 halftime lead into a commanding 30-6 advantage. The big play of the game occurred on the first snap of the second half. With the ball at their own 18-yard-line, the Giants used a little trickery to cover the 82 yards in an electrifying instant. Collins handed the ball to Barber, who threw it back to the quarterback. While that was taking place, Toomer was racing down the center of the field, ahead of safety David Gibson. Toomer hauled in the Collins pass at the Colts 40-yard line and outraced everyone to the end zone. A 19-yard pass to Shockey highlighted a five-play drive that culminated in Collins' 18-yard touchdown pass to rookie fullback Charles Stackhouse that made it 23-3. Indianapolis responded with Mike Vanderjagt's second field goal, a 27-yarder. The Giants quickly drove 69 yards in 10 plays, including Barber's one-yard run, which gave the visitors a 30-6 lead with 11 seconds left in the period. The Colts scored their first touchdown on the fourth play of the final quarter, when Manning threw to Reggie Wayne for a 21-yard score. Mungro's two-point conversion attempt failed. Toomer's second touchdown reception, a 21-yarder with 6:45 left, increased the Giants lead to 37-12 and all but emptied the dome. Indianapolis briefly made it a contest midway through the fourth period, closing to within 37-27. But Collins and Toomer hooked up for their third touchdown of the game, a 27-yarder, to seal the victory. Matt Bryant's 20-yard field goal and Barber's four-yard run gave the Giants a 10-0 lead early in the second period. The nine-play touchdown drive was highlighted by a 24-yard gain on a tight end screen to Shockey. The rookie Pro Bowler gathered in the pass from Collins and began motoring toward the end zone. Gibson moved up to try to make the tackle, but Shockey ran through him like he was a pile of leaves. Shockey's catch and run gave the Giants a first down on the Colts 14-yard line. Two plays later, another pass to Shockey gained 10 yards, giving the Giants a first-and-goal at the four. On the next play Barber took a handoff, made a quick turn to his left and stretched out the play before crossing the goal line without being touched.

Game 16
At East Rutherford, Dec. 28, 2002

With their playoff fate resting firmly on their broad shoulders, the Giants won an unforgettable and dramatic season-ending contest, defeating the Philadelphia Eagles, 10-7, in Giants Stadium on Matt Bryant's 39-yard field goal with 5:10 elapsed in overtime. The victory moved the Giants into the playoffs for the second time in three years and the third time in Jim Fassel's six seasons as coach. It might have been the most one-sided 10-7 game in history. The Giants out-gained the Eagles, 461-209, had 23 first downs to only nine for the visitors and owned the ball for 39:06. But they turned it over four times, including three times on fumbles by Tiki Barber, who rushed for a career-high 203 yards. Despite the mistakes, the Giants kept fighting back, with the backing of 78,782 raucous, towel-waving fans in Giants Stadium. The Giants finished a not-so-regular season with a four-game winning streak and a 10-6 record. The Giants had many heroes. The list starts with Barber, whose 203 rushing yards and 276 total yards were both the second-highest single-game performances in team history. Rookie pro Bowler Jeremy Shockey caught 10 passes for 98 yards and the Giants' only touchdown. Kerry Collins completed 25 of 35 passes for 256 yards. The defense held the NFC East champion Eagles to 65 yards rushing and a 2.8-yard per-carry average. But the Giants fumbled seven times, losing three – all by Barber. They had two touchdown passes nullified by holding penalties (one on Mike Rosenthal in the second period, the other on Rich Seubert in the third, taking away touchdowns by Charles Stackhouse and Amani Toomer, respectively). They did, however, overcome Seubert's penalty to score their only touchdown of the game. The Giants twice turned over the ball inside the Eagles 10-yard line. Matt Bryant missed a field goal attempt. Philly's James Thrash scored the only touchdown of the first half, on a 20-yard double reverse on the game's opening possession. The Eagles traveled 67 yards in just four plays after the opening kickoff. The Giants got on the scoreboard with 8:08 left in the fourth quarter, when Shockey out-jumped Pro Bowl safety Brian Dawkins in the end zone and reached high in the air for a perfectly-thrown Collins pass and a seven-yard touchdown. It was Shockey's first touchdown since Sept. 15 and first at home all season. The score capped a 13-play 80-yard drive that consumed 6:59. The Giants scored twice on the march, but Toomer's 43-yard touchdown reception was taken away when Seubert was flagged for holding. Barber's last lost fumble gave Philadelphia the ball at the Giants 26-yard line with 4:34 left, and the game tied, 7-7. The Eagles ran Duce Staley on six consecutive plays and on fourth-and-12 from the 17, David Akers came on to try a 35-yard field goal. Akers, the NFC Pro Bowl kicker, was 30-for-33 this season, including 14 of 15 between 30 and 39 yards. But this kick was wide right, and the Giants were very much alive with 1:12 left. After the Giants ran out the clock, The Eagles won the overtime coin toss, and seemed to be in good position when Brian Mitchell returned the kickoff to the 45-yard line. But on Philly's third snap, Shaun Williams intercepted an A.J. Feeley pass. That gave the Giants possession at their own 37. On first down, Barber gained seven yards and the Giants picked up 15 more when Troy Vincent was penalized for a late hit. Barber then gained 21 more yards on three runs, giving the Giants a first down on the Philadelphia 20-yard line. Barber fumbled a handoff exchange with Collins, but recovered the ball. He gained one yard on the next play and Fassel called on Bryant, who earlier had missed a 36-yard attempt. From 39 yards, Bryant kicked it through the uprights, and the Giants were in.

2002 SEASON GAME REVIEWS

NFC WILDCARD PLAYOFF GAME
At San Francisco, Jan 5, 2003

In the end, it came down to the things that had hurt the Giants all season: an inability to play with a lead, fourth-quarter inefficiency, and most glaring and harmful of all, a failure to make one of the most fundamental acts in football, the snap for a placekick. They all came back to haunt the Giants in Candlestick Park. Leading 38-14 with just 18 minutes remaining in their NFC Wild Card playoff game against the San Francisco 49ers, the Giants were still riding the wave that had sent them into the playoffs. A trip to Tampa Bay for a Divisional Playoff beckoned and beyond that … who knew? Instead, it suddenly, shockingly, unfathomably came to an end. In the second-worst collapse in NFL postseason history, the Giants never scored another point. The 49ers put 25 on the board, out-scoring the Giants in the final period, 17-0, including the game-winning 13-yard touchdown pass from Jeff Garcia to Tai Streets with one minute left. The Giants still had one final shot to win it. But Trey Junkin, signed five days before the game when snapper Dan O'Leary was put on injured reserve with torn thumb ligaments, made his second poor snap of the game. Instead of Matt Bryant kicking what might have been the game-winning 41-yard field goal, holder Matt Allen picked up the ball, scrambled to his right and threw a desperation pass as time expired. The final minutes were chaotic. With a little more than three minutes left, the Giants were clinging to a 38-33 lead when Fassel sent Bryant into the game on a fourth-and-one from the San Francisco 24-yard line. Allen had to lunge for Junkin's poor snap and Bryant hooked a 42-yard field goal attempt that would have given the Giants an eight-point lead. The Niners then drove 68 yards in nine plays and 2:01, with Garcia (27 of 44 for 331 yards and three touchdowns, plus a team-high 60 rushing yards) throwing to Streets for the go-ahead score. The Giants still had a minute to work their way down field. Delvin Joyce's 32-yard kickoff return gave the Giants the ball at the 48-yard line. Collins hit Ron Dixon for 10 yards, then, after a delay of game penalty, Dixon for 19 more. After an incompletion, a five-yard pass to Amani Toomer left the Giants with a third-and-five on the San Francisco 23-yard line. Six seconds remained. Enter Bryant. The rookie kicker stood at almost the exact same spot where Matt Bahr booted the game-winning 42-yard field goal in the 1990 NFC Championship Game. Bahr believes he could have repeated those heroics. But he never had a chance. Junkin's snap skidded back to Allen, who picked it up, ran and threw toward Rich Seubert on the goal line as time expired. The epic collapse overshadowed some brilliant individual performances. Collins completed 29 of 43 passes for 342 yards and four first-half touchdowns. Toomer had eight receptions for 136 yards and three of those scores. Tiki Barber rushed for 115 yards on 26 carries and scored a touchdown. Jeremy Shockey caught seven passes and a touchdown. But it was a pass that Shockey failed to hold onto that ignited the San Francisco turnaround. In the third period, the Giants led, 35-14, when Collins' 46-yard pass to Toomer gave them a first-and-goal at the three. Another touchdown would have made it 42-14 and might have sealed the deal. But Ron Dayne was stopped for no gain before a Collins pass to Shockey in the end zone slipped through the Pro Bowlers hands. Another pass toward Shockey was incomplete. Bryant then came on to kick a 21-yard field goal. It was 38-14, but very subtly, the momentum had begun to shift – permanently.

2002 GIANTS PRESEASON REVIEW

GIANTS 27, HOUSTON 17
at Fawcett Stadium, August 5, 2002

The Giants defeated the expansion Houston Texans, 27-17, in the annual Hall of Fame Game in Canton, Ohio. The first-team offense and defense both played impressively in brief appearances, backup quarterback Jesse Palmer threw two touchdown passes and Clarence LeBlanc intercepted two passes, including one he returned 99 yards for a touchdown. But the real highlight for the Giants and their fans was the brilliant debut of tight end Jeremy Shockey, the team's ballyhooed first-round draft choice. Shockey accounted for all 67 yards the Giants gained on their own on a 76-yard scoring drive in the second period. Along the way, he provided the Giants signature play of the evening on a 48-yard reception. With the score tied at 10-10, the Giants took possession at their own 24 with 1:38 remaining. On third-and-10, Shockey kept the chains moving with an 11-yard reception. Shockey brought the fans out of their seats on the very next play. He caught a short Palmer pass at the 40, eluded an attempted tackle by Jacoby Shepherd, ran through a facemask by Matt Stevens, then ran over, literally, overmatched safety Kevin Williams before being stopped at the Houston 17-yard line. As Shockey celebrated with some animated fist-pumping, Stevens' penalty moved the ball to the nine. Two plays later, Shockey caught a Palmer pass in the end zone for his first NFL touchdown and a 17-10 Giants halftime lead. Shockey, who also caught the Giants' first pass of the game, finished the game with a team-high four receptions for 80 yards.

GIANTS 22, NEW ENGLAND 19
at Giants Stadium, August 10, 2002

The Giants opened the home portion of their preseason schedule with a 22-19 victory over the defending Super Bowl champion New England Patriots in Giants Stadium. Amani Toomer caught a 34-yard touchdown pass from Kerry Collins, Ron Dayne scored on a one-yard run and Antonio Warren scored the game-winning points on a 30-yard touchdown run and two-point conversion with 4:22 remaining in the game. Jesse Palmer completed 13 of 19 passes for 124 yards. But the biggest play of the game was made by Darnell Dinkins, who started training camp as a fourth-string quarterback but quickly caught Jim Fassel's eye with his hustle, work ethic and play on special teams. With the Giants leading, 14-13, late in the third period, Gabe Lindstrom lofted a 37-yard punt that the Patriots Kevin Faulk caught at the 14. Faulk had no chance to take a step because Dinkins, running full-speed, never broke stride and blasted the unsuspecting returner. After that play, Fassel ordered special teams coach Bruce Read to place Dinkins on all of the special teams. Dinkins eventually made the final roster, in part because of the play he made in this game.

2002 GIANTS PRESEASON REVIEW

at Georgia Dome, August 17, 2002

The Giants literally fumbled away their chance to remain perfect in the preseason, losing five fumbles, including four in the first half, of a 36-24 loss to the Atlanta Falcons in the Georgia Dome. They also had a punt blocked and missed a 23-yard field goal in a forgettable first half in which the Giants fell behind, 23-7. On the plus side, Kerry Collins threw touchdown passes of one yard to Jeremy Shockey and 48 yards to Ike Hilliard. In the second half, Owen Pochman kicked a 33-yard field goal and rookie Wes Mallard scored on a 20-yard fumble return. Ron Dayne led the Giants with 45 rushing yards and Collins completed 10 of 15 passes for 136 yards. After Shockey's touchdown gave the Giants a 7-0 lead on the game's first possession, Atlanta took control by scoring 23 unanswered points. Alge Crumpler and Willie Jackson caught touchdown passes from Michael Vick, and Jay Feely kicked three field goals.

JETS 28, GIANTS 7
at Giants Stadium, August 24, 2002

The Giants endured a dreary night in Giants Stadium. They played as visitors in their own stadium, which was inundated with a downpour during much of the game. Their performance matched the weather, as they fell to the Jets, 28-7, in the teams' annual preseason meeting. The Jets led at halftime, 7-0, and opened up a 28-point advantage in the second half before the Giants scored a late touchdown. Tiki Barber rushed for 96 yards on 13 carries, including a 54-yarder, before leaving the game with a tight hamstring. Kerry Collins also departed early, with a bruised left shoulder, after completing eight of 13 passes for 55 yards. Amani Toomer led the receivers with five catches for 50 yards. Rookie Delvin Joyce scored the Giants' only points, on a six-yard run with 4:40 remaining in the game. Outside linebacker Dhani Jones had 10 unassisted tackles for the Giants.

2002 GIANTS PRESEASON REVIEW

at Giants Stadium, August 29, 2002

The Giants defeated the Baltimore Ravens, 13-0, to finish their preseason schedule with at 3-2, their first winning preseason record since they were 3-1 in 1995. The Giants achieved their primary goal in the game, which was to emerge injury-free. The game was a low-action affair played in a gloomy drizzle. The Giants scored on a 75-yard, fourth-period touchdown pass from Jason Garrett to Jonathan Carter and two field goals – a 26-yarder by Owen Pochman in the second period and a 39-yarder by Matt Bryant in the third – and held Baltimore off the scoreboard for their first preseason shutout since a 17-0 defeat of Pittsburgh on Aug. 20, 1976. The Giants, who out-gained Baltimore 380-234, had other opportunities to score, but failed to take advantage of them. The Giants played without several starters, including Kerry Collins, Tiki Barber, Jeremy Shockey, Chris Bober, Shaun Williams, Mike Barrow and Brandon Short. Jesse Palmer started at quarterback and completed 15 of 22 passes for 172 yards, including a 44-yarder to Ike Hilliard.

NOTES

HISTORY OF THE NEW YORK GIANTS

The city of New York was introduced to professional football on the same day that the city was introduced to the New York Giants. It was a clear sunny October afternoon in 1925 when the Giants took the field to play against the Frankford Yellow Jackets. The Giants lost their home debut by the score of 14-0 to lower their record to 0-3 after opening with two losses on the road. But more importantly, the New York Giants and professional football had arrived.

Tim Mara, a bookmaker (legal at the time) and successful businessman and promoter, purchased the team for a reported $500. In an era when professional football was in the shadows of baseball, boxing and college football, and professional football teams hailed from the towns of Dayton, Rochester and Columbus, league officials believed that a team in a large market such as New York was exactly what was needed to keep pro football alive.

The Giants struggled financially through the first decade but managed to win their first title in only their third season, going 11-1-1 in 1927. With the fall of the Stock Market and the Depression that followed, the 1930s were not off to a great start. Tim Mara suffered substantial losses during the crash that threatened the existence of the Giants. With that fear in mind, Tim Mara handed control of the franchise over to his two sons, Jack Mara, who was twenty-two, and Wellington, who was fourteen. Wellington Mara became the youngest owner of a football team and began his storied career as a major player in the Giants organization.

In 1934 the Giants beat the Chicago Bears, 30-13, in nine-degree temperatures at the Polo Grounds in a game that has become famous as the "Sneakers Game." With the Giants trailing 10-3 at the half, head coach Steve Owen provided his squad with basketball shoes to increase traction on the icy turf. The team responded with four touchdowns in the second half to turn the game into a Giants rout.

If there ever were a time for the National Football League and the New York Giants to fold, it would have come during the years of World War II. The NFL decided to continue during the war despite losing players to military service. Many of the players that stayed behind were older players that were past their prime. Low attendance forced some teams to fold and other teams like the Philadelphia Eagles and the Pittsburgh Steelers to merge into one team. Fortunately, the New York Giants were able to survive the war years and managed to reach three NFL championship games during the 1940s.

The 1950s were filled with Giants players that would become household names and help bring football to a playing field equal to other spectator sports. With the growing interest in professional football, the Giants continued to make strides to attract the most talented players from the college level. By the time the decade was over, Kyle Rote, Eddie Price, Rosie Brown, Frank Gifford, Sam Huff and Tom Landry would send the Giants and professional football into a new era.

The 1960s marked a decade of change for the Giants. Since they were founded in 1925, the Giants had been a talented team filled with success. The 1960s marked a turning point for our country as well as the Giants. After reaching the title games of 1961, 1962, and 1963 the Giants were hit with injuries and a series of retirements to key players that sent the team through a period of mediocrity.

The Giants in the 1970s could best be described as a team in transition. The team called four different stadiums home, played in three different states, and did not play in one postseason game. Teams like the Green Bay Packers, Chicago Bears, and Giants, so strong in the NFL's formative years, gave way to new powers like Dallas, Pittsburgh and Minnesota.

The Giants ended almost two decades of losing with one of their most prosperous decades in the 1980s. After finishing in last place or next-to-last eight times in the 1970s, the Giants appeared in three wild card games and won two NFC East division titles. Through the draft and key trades, the Giants slowly built a winning program. By 1986 the championship pieces fit together and the team was back on top with their first Super Bowl appearance and their first world championship since 1956.

The Giants were back on top of the NFL in 1990, winning their second Super Bowl in a dramatic 20-19 win over the Buffalo Bills. The next two years were filled with coaching changes, quarterback controversies, and a step back into the middle of the pack of the National Football League.

In February, 1991, less than a month after winning their second Super Bowl, it was announced that after 66 years of ownership by the Mara family, a 50% interest in the club had been sold to Preston Robert Tisch by Tim Mara. A native of New York City and a lifelong Giants fan, Tisch is one of the country's most successful businessmen.

Dan Reeves was hired as coach before the start of the 1993 season, and he helped bring the Giants back into Super Bowl contention. The Giants finished their first season under Reeves tied with the Detroit Lions for the best turnaround in football, going from 6-10 to 11-5. Reeves was named the NFL Coach of the year by the Associated Press and others for his efforts.

On January 15, 1997, a new chapter in Giants history began when Jim Fassel was named the 15th head coach. In the first season under Fassel's leadership, the Giants captured the NFC East Championship with a 10-5-1 record. The Giants finished the 1997 season with a 7-0-1 Division record to become the first team ever to go undefeated in NFC East Division play. The Giants fell short of a playoff berth in 1998 after overcoming a 3-7 start to finish with an 8-8 record. The Giants were 7-9 season in 2000.

In 2000, the Giants returned to the upper echelon of the NFL. They won the NFC East title and earned home field advantage throughout the playoffs with a 12-4 regular season record. The Giants then beat Philadelphia in the divisional playoffs and routed Minnesota, 41-0, in the NFC Championship Game to advance to the Super Bowl for the third time. But they failed to win the game for the first time, falling to the Baltimore Ravens.

WHY GIANTS?

Owner Tim Mara "borrowed" the Giant's name from the city's Major League Baseball team of the same name. This was not unusual among early day pro football franchises. At one time or another there were NFL franchised named the New York Yankees, Brooklyn Dodgers, Cleveland Indians, Cincinnati Reds, and Detroit Tigers.

HISTORY OF THE GIANTS YEAR-BY-YEAR

Tim Mara purchased a National Football League franchise for New York for $500. Bob Folwell was named head coach and all-time great Jim Thorpe was signed. Thorpe was later released by the team after the third game of the season. The Giants played their first game at the Polo Grounds, losing to the Frankford Yellow Jackets, 14-0. Later that season, more than 70,000 jammed the Polo Grounds to see the Giants play Red Grange and the Chicago Bears. The Giants went 8-4 in their first season.

1926
Bob Folwell left and was replaced by Dr. Joseph Alexander as head coach. Despite an 8-4-1 record in 1926, Tim Mara lost $40,000. After the season concluded, the seventh place Giants faced the American Football League champion Philadelphia Quakers. The Giants won convincingly, 31-0.

1927
Earl Potteiger replaced Dr. Joseph Alexander in 1927 and the Giants won their first title with an 11-1-1 record. (Note: until the NFL's playoff system was established in 1933, the team with the league's best record was awarded the championship title.) In the 13-game season the Giants defense posted ten shutouts and allowed only 20 points all year.

1928
After a dismal 4-7-2 season in 1928, Tim Mara decided it was best to clean house. Head coach Earl Potteiger and eighteen players were not asked to return for the following season. Tackle Steve Owen would be the only returning starter from that season. It still ranks as one of the most massive turnovers in football history.

1929
Before the season began, Tim Mara purchased a struggling Detroit Wolverines franchise in order to obtain the rights to quarterback Benny Friedman and the best of the Detroit players for the Giants. LeRoy Andrews became the new head coach. The 13-1-1 Giants averaged 25,000 fans, turned a small profit and narrowly lost the NFL title to the Green Bay Packers, who finished 12-0-1.

1930
For the second consecutive season the Green Bay Packers edged out the Giants for the title. Ownership of the club was turned over to Jack and Wellington Mara, the two sons of the founder. On December 14, the Giants played a team of former Notre Dame All-Stars coached by the legendary Knute Rockne. Fifty-five thousand fans turned out at the Polo Grounds to see the Giants win the contest, 22-0. The proceeds of $115,153 went to the New York Unemployment Fund to help those suffering due to the Great Depression.

1931
After an All-American season at Washington State, center Mel Hein wrote to three NFL teams offering his service. The Giants bid the most at $150 per game and Hein was signed to a contract. Former tackle Steve Owen was named head coach. The Giants finished in 5th place with a 7-6-1 record.

1932
Considered a rebuilding year, the Giants finished the season with a 4-6-2 record. On November 20, the Giants faced the defending champion Green Bay Packers. Expected to be an easy win for the undefeated Packers, 8-0-1 at the time, the Giants displayed promise for the future with a hard- fought, 6-0, victory. End Ray Flaherty became the NFL's first official pass-reception champion with 21 catches.

1933
The Giants won the Eastern Division of the newly-divided NFL with an impressive 11-3 record. 1933 was also the year the NFL established a new playoff system and in the league's first championship game, the Giants lost to the Western Division champion Chicago Bears, 23-21, at Wrigley Field in Chicago.

1934
In what is now known as the "Sneakers Game," the Giants defeated the Chicago Bears 30-13 for the NFL title. Trailing 13-3 in the third quarter, some of the Giants players changed into basketball shoes to increase traction on the icy Polo Grounds turf. The Giants responded with a 27-point fourth quarter to capture the championship.

1935
After beginning the season with a 3-3 record, the Giants rolled off five consecutive victories, shutting out their opponents four times, and finished with a 9-3 record and first place in the Eastern Division. The Giants advanced to their third straight NFL championship game, but lost to the Detroit Lions, 26-7, at Detroit

1936
The initial NFL draft was held in 1936, and the Giants first pick was Art Lewis, a tackle from Ohio University. The Giants finished with a 5-6-1 record, marking only the third time in the team's twelve-year history that it did not have a winning record.

1937
Seventeen rookies helped make up the 25-man roster in 1937, a season that also marked the debut of the now-familiar blue jerseys. The Giants lost to the Washington Redskins on the last day of the season and finished as a runner-up in the Eastern Division with a 6-3-2 record.

1938
A 23-17 victory over the Green Bay Packers produced the Giants third NFL title. A crowd of 48,120 fans attended the title game at the Polo Grounds in New York, a playoff record at the time. With the victory, the Giants earned the distinction of being the first NFL team to win two championship games.

1939
On January 15, the Giants defeated the Pro All-Stars, 13-10, in the first Pro Bowl held at Wrigley Field, Chicago. During the 1939 season, in front of 32,279 fans at Milwaukee State Fair Park, the Green Bay Packers avenged the 1938 loss with a 27-0 drubbing of the Giants in the NFL title game.

1940
The Giants finished third in the East with a 6-4-1 record. Midway through the season, leading rusher Tuffy Leemans was lost for the year with a back injury. Center Mel Hein was the only Giant to win All-Pro honors, accomplishing the feat for the 10th year in a row.

1941
With just 50 seconds to go in the 1941 Eastern Division championship game, the Washington Redskins held a 13-10 lead, but the Giants scored a field goal and a touchdown to win, 20-13, and advance to the NFL title game. In the wake of Pearl Harbor, only 13,341 spectators turned out to see Chicago top the Giants in the title game, 37-9.

1942
After losing many players to the service, the Giants finished with a 5-5-1 record and in third place in the Eastern Division. The Giants recorded a memorable victory in the season opener, defeating the Washington Redskins, 14-7, although they didn't have a first down, gained only one yard rushing and completed just one pass. That pass happened to go for a touchdown. The Giants also scored on an intercepted return and handed the Redskins their only defeat in their championship season.

1943
With the league down to just nine teams due to World War II, the Giants overcame a 2-2-1 start to finish with a 6-3-1 record. The Giants advanced to the Eastern Division championship game where they dropped a 28-0 decision to the Washington Redskins.

1944
Luring quarterback Arnie Herber and back Ken Strong out of retirement, the Giants scored five shutouts en route to the Eastern Division title, but lost the NFL championship game at the Polo Grounds in New York to the Green Bay Packers, 14-7.

1945
The War ended in 1945, but the Giants finished with their worst record to date. The Giants started the year off with a 34-6 win at Pittsburgh, but everything seemed to collapse after the opener. The Giants 3-6-1 record was only one game better than the last place Pittsburgh Steelers.

1946
Quarterback Frankie Filchock, an understudy to Sammy Baugh at Washington, signed with the Giants for a reported $35,000. Filchock and teammate, back Merle Hapes, were questioned about an attempt by a New York man to fix the championship game with the Chicago Bears. Hapes was suspended indefinitely for the alleged gambling involvement, but Filchock was allowed to continue playing. The Giants went on to lose the title game to Chicago, 24-14.

The Giants went from the title game in 1946 to the cellar, finishing with a 2-8-2 record, including a seven-game losing streak. Halfback Frank Reagan tied for the league lead with ten interceptions for 203 yards. Reagan also tied for the league's punting championship with 61 kicks for a 42.8 average.

1948
The Giants renovation was accelerated in 1948 when they acquired quarterback Charlie Conerly from the Washington Redskins. The franchise reached another milestone in its illustrious existence, but it had nothing to do with their 4-8 record. That season, the Giants signed their first black player, defensive back Emlen Tunnell.

1949
Giants head coach Steve Owen switch from the "A" formation to the "T," which helped the Giants improve to a 6-6 record. Allie Sherman was hired to work with quarterback Charlie Conerly. The Giants shared the Polo Grounds with another NFL team, the New York Bulldogs.

1950
The Giants and New York Bulldogs divided the players of the former All-American Football Conference Yankees. The Giants received a young defensive back from Texas, Tom Landry, and a defensive tackle from Washington, Arnie Weinmeister. The Giants finished with a surprising 10-2 record and tied for first place with the Cleveland Browns, their first season above .500 since the Eastern Division championship season of 1946. The Browns defeated the Giants, 8-3, in the American Conference playoff game.

1951
End Kyle Rote of Southern Methodist was the Giants bonus pick in the draft, but he was injured in the preseason and saw little action. The Giants finished in second place with a 9-2-1 record, behind the only team they would lose to all season, the Cleveland Browns. Fullback Eddie Price led the NFL in rushing with 971 yards.

1952
Tailback Frank Gifford of USC was drafted number one. Playing in his fifth year, Emlen Tunnell gained more yardage on kick returns and interceptions (924) than the league's leading rusher, Dan Towler (894), of the Los Angeles Rams.

1953
Tackle Roosevelt "Rosie" Brown Jr. of Morgan State, a future Hall of Famer, was the Giants 27th pick in the 1953 NFL draft. Steve Owen retired at the end of the season after 23 years as the Giants head coach. Owen was asked to keep his affiliation with the Giants as a scout in the personnel department, a position he held for one year.

1954
Former Giants end Jim Lee Howell was promoted from end coach to head coach. The Canadian Football League began a series of raids on NFL teams, signing Giants three-time Pro-Bowl defensive tackle Arnie Weinmeister, among others. In an effort to save the Giants and the NFL, Wellington Mara went out and signed the best player in the CFL, Montreal Alouettes halfback Alex Webster.

1955
On August 28, the sudden-death rule was used for the first time in a preseason game between the Giants and the Los Angeles Rams in Portland, Oregon. The Rams won, 23-17, three minutes into overtime. After opening with three straight losses, the Giants got their act together and finished with a 6-5-1 record.

1956
Defensive end Andy Robustelli was obtained from the Los Angeles Rams. The Giants switched their home games from the Polo Grounds to Yankee Stadium. A 47-7 rout of the Chicago Bears produced New York's first NFL championship since 1938. Linebacker Sam Huff, who was originally drafted as an offensive lineman but was switched to MLB when Ray Beck went down with an injury, was voted Rookie of the Year. Frank Gifford was named NFL Player of the Year and tackle Rosie Brown was named the NFL's Lineman of the Year.

The Giants were still in the running for the title in 1957 until they dropped their final three games. For the second straight season Frank Gifford finished in the top ten in both receiving (fourth) and rushing (tenth), with 588 yards receiving and 528 yards rushing. Gifford also completed four of six passes for 143 yards and two touchdowns.

After completing the season at 9-3, the Giants faced a Cleveland Browns team led by running back Jim Brown in the Eastern Conference playoff game. Brown, who had gained an NFL-record 1,527 yards rushing, was held to just eight yards by the stingy New York defense as the Giants prevailed, 10-0. Advancing to the title game, the Giants lost to the Baltimore Colts, 23-17, in the first sudden death overtime in an NFL championship game. That game has been referred to as, "The Greatest Game Ever Played."

1959
On February 4, assistant offensive coach Vince Lombardi left to join the Green Bay Packers as their new head coach. On February 17, Giants co-founder Tim Mara died. The Baltimore Colts exploded for 24 points in the fourth quarter to defeat New York in the NFL title game for the second straight year.

1960

1961
The NY logo was added to the helmets for the 1961 season. Allie Sherman replaced the retired Jim Lee Howell as head coach. The Giants obtained quarterback Y.A. Tittle (San Francisco) and end Del Shofner (Los Angeles) in trades. Back Alex Webster gained 928 yards to help the Giants reach the NFL title game. With the league championship on the line, the Giants were no match for the Green Bay Packers, losing 37-0.

1962
Back Frank Gifford, who returned to the team from retirement, quarterback Y.A. Tittle, end Del Shofner and back Alex Webster led the Giants into the NFL title game against the Green Bay Packers. Held in Yankee Stadium, 64,892 fans watched as Green Bay prevailed, 16-7. Defensive end Andy Robustelli was named the NFL's top player.

1963
Quarterback Y.A. Tittle threw 36 touchdown passes and kicker Don Chandler led the league with 106 points (52-pat, 18-fg) in scoring as the Giants romped to their third straight conference title. Halfback Dick Lynch tied for the league lead with nine interceptions for 251 return yards and a record-setting three touchdowns. With Tittle injured in the second quarter, New York lost yet another bid for the league championship, dropping a 14-10 decision to the Chicago Bears.

1964
Defensive end Andy Robustelli ended his long playing career with the Giants and became a full-time defensive coach. For the first time in 17 years, the Giants finished in last place in their conference with a 2-10-2 record. Backs Alex Webster and Frank Gifford announced their retirement at the end of the season.

1965
Quarterback Y.A. Tittle announced his retirement on January 22 at Mamma Leone's restaurant in New York City. Offensive lineman Jack Stroud also retired. On June 15, Jack Mara died after serving as team president for thirty-one years. The Giants rebounded with a 7-7 record, good enough for second place in the Eastern Conference.

1966
Before the season began, tackle Rosie Brown retired after 13 years of service to the team. The Giants had their worst season to date, finishing with a 1-12-1. They allowed a then NFL-record 501 points. Kicker Pete Gogolak became the first American Football League player to cross to the NFL.

1967
On March 7, the Giants announced the acquisition of quarterback Fran Tarkenton from the Minnesota Vikings. To get Tarkenton, the Giants gave up their first and second-round picks in 1967, number one pick in 1968, and second-round pick in 1969. Tarkenton's 29 touchdown passes led the Giants to a 7-7 record and a second place finish in the newly named Century Division of the Eastern Conference.

Opening the season with four straight wins and concluding it with four consecutive losses, the Giants finished with a 7-7 record in Allie Sherman's last season as head coach. End

Homer Jones became only the second Giant, behind end Del Shofner, to record 1,000 receiving yards or more in three successive seasons.

The Giants lost, 37-14, to the New York Jets in the first of the annual preseason meetings. Former back Alex Webster replaced Allie Sherman as head coach. After losing seven games in a row, the Giants finished with three straight victories to capture second place in the Century Division with a 6-8 record.

1970
After losing their first three games, the Giants won six in a row, including an upset win over the first place Dallas Cowboys, 23-20. Heading into the final game of the season, the Giants were still in a position to make the playoffs, but they lost a home game against the Los Angeles Rams, 31-3, and were left out of the postseason with a 9-5 record. Running back Ron Johnson became the Giants first 1,000-yard rusher, totaling 1,027 yards.

1971
After a disappointing 4-10 finish in 1971, quarterback Fran Tarkenton asked for a trade. The Giants obliged and traded him back to the Minnesota Vikings for quarterback Norm Snead. Bob Tucker became the first tight end in Giants history to lead the league in receptions with 59 catches.

1972
Quarterback Norm Snead, obtained in the Fran Tarkenton trade, led the league in passing and the Giants finished above .500 for only the second time in nine years with an 8-6 record. On November 26, the Giants offense scored eight touchdowns against the Philadelphia Eagles, setting a Giants all time one-game scoring record. Kicker Pete Gogolak added a pair of field goals to bring the final score to 62-10.

1973
Prior to the final game of the season, head coach Alex Webster announced his retirement. New York lost the game 31-7 to the Minnesota Vikings to close out the year at 2-11-1. After two games at Yankee Stadium, the Giants played the rest of their home games at the Yale Bowl in New Haven, Connecticut.

1974
Bill Arnsparger was named the Giants ninth head coach. Quarterback Norm Snead was traded to the San Francisco 49ers. In addition, quarterback Craig Morton was obtained from the Dallas Cowboys. For the second straight season, the Giants won only two games and finished in fifth place in the NFC East with a 2-12 record.

1975
The Giants finished in fourth place in the NFC East with a 5-9 record. The team played all of itshome games at Shea Stadium while they waited for Giants Stadium to open. DE George Martin made the team as an 11th round draft choice out of Oregon.

1976
Larry Csonka, the former Miami running back who had played in the World Football League, signed as a free agent. Snead was reacquired from San Francisco. The Giants moved to Giants Stadium in East Rutherford, New Jersey. Arnsparger was fired in midseason and replaced by assistant coach John McVay, who signed a long-term contract following the 3-11 season.

1977
Morton was traded to Denver. The Giants improved to a 5-9 record. McVay went with Joe Pisarcik and Jerry Golsteyn at quarterback. Csonka rushed for 100 yards on the last day of the season and finished the year with 464 yards.

1978
The Giants had a 5-3 record at the halfway point of the season but lost seven of their final eight games and finished 6-10. Punter Dave Jennings and linebackers Harry Carson and Brad Van Pelt were named to the NFC Pro Bowl team. McVay was fired in late December. Robustelli, who had been the Giants' director of operations since 1974, resigned. George Young was named general manager in January, 1979. He announced the appointment of San Diego Chargers assistant Ray Perkins as head coach.

1979
Before the season began, tragedy struck as defensive tackle Troy Archer was killed in a traffic accident on June 22. Rookie Phil Simms, a first round choice, took over at quarterback. But the Giants had another 6-10 record. Dave Jennings led the NFC with a 42.7-yard punting average.

1980
A porous defense allowed opponents to score 425 points, the second-highest total in the NFL. The Giants fell to 4-12. A highlight was a 38-35 defeat of Dallas that ended an eight-game losing streak. Dave Jennings led NFL punters with a 44.8-yard average.

1981
With the second selection in the draft. New York chose Lawrence Taylor, a linebacker from North Carolina. The Giants started slowly, going 2-3, before obtaining running back Rob Carpenter from Houston. Carpenter sparked a three-game winning streak. The Giants lost three straight to drop to 5-6. Second-year quarterback Scott Brunner replaced an injured Phil Simms and the team responded with four victories in the final five weeks, including a 13-10 overtime defeat of Dallas in the season finale that sent them into the playoffs. On December 27, the Giants defeated the Eagles 27-21 in the NFC wild card game. The season ended for New York on January 3 when it was defeated by the 49ers 38-24 in a divisional playoff game.

1982
A wild and turbulent year in which the NFL players' strike shortened the season to just nine games. The final game played before the strike pitted the Giants and Packers on a Monday night from Giants Stadium in which a power failure caused a blackout during the game. Rob Carpenter was a holdout for most of the season, returning to play in just the final five games, and then on December 15, head coach Ray Perkins resigned to accept the head coaching job at Alabama, with defensive coordinator Bill Parcells being named to replace him in 1983. The Giants then lost two straight after the Perkins' announcement, and missed the playoffs on the final day of the season with a 4-5 record. Despite the adversity, four Giants – Lawrence Taylor, Harry Carson, Mark Haynes and Dave Jennings – were named to the Pro Bowl.

1983
After breaking even in their first four games for a 2-2 record, the Giants were decimated by injuries during the rest of the year, with a total of 25 players appearing on the injured reserve list at one time or another. With players such as Harry Carson, Phil Simms and Rob Carpenter missing most of the season, and with the club leading the entire NFL in turnovers with 58 on 31 interceptions and 27 lost fumbles, the record tumbled to 3-12-1. The year was also marred by the tragic deaths of assistant coach Bob Ledbetter and former star running back Doug Kotar. Four players were nonetheless named to the Pro Bowl again—Lawrence Taylor, Harry Carson, Mark Haynes and rookie place-kicker Ali Haji-Sheikh who set an NFL record with 35 field goals.

1984
With Phil Simms enjoying his first full season at quarterback, the Giants earned the NFC wild card playoff berth, finishing with a 9-7 mark and second place in the NFC East. Simms set three single-season club records with 286 completions in 533 attempts for 4,044 yards. The Giants knocked off the Los Angeles Rams 16-13 in that wild card game, then bowed to the eventual Super Bowl champion San Francisco 49ers 21-10 in the divisional playoff. Taylor, Carson and Haynes were again named to the Pro Bowl, while head coach Bill Parcells was named NFC East Coach of the Year and five rookies—Karl Nelson, Gary Reasons, Carl Banks, Perry Williams and Bobby Johnson–were named to the All-NFL Rookie team.

1985
With a final 10-6 mark, the Giants put back-to-back winning seasons on the board for the first time in 22 years, won another trip to the playoffs and had their first home playoff game since 1962, winning 17-3 over the defending Super Bowl champion 49ers. Again, the club lost in the divisional playoffs to the eventual Super Bowl champion team, the Chicago Bears, 21-0. Five players—Lawrence Taylor, Harry Carson, Phil Simms, Joe Morris and Leonard Marshall—were named to the Pro Bowl. There were 12 team records set by this club, and 16 individual club records. Morris set a team record with 1,336 rushing yards plus and another with 21 touchdowns. Simms set club marks with 40 completions and 513 passing yards in a game. Marshall added another club mark with 15 1/2 QB sacks in a season, while rookie TE Mark Bavaro, an All-NFL Rookie team choice set a club mark with 12 receptions in one game.

The club's first Super Bowl championship, an all-time final record of 17-2, as well as a club record 12 straight victories, made this year the greatest in team history. The Giants also set an all-time composite margin of victory in the playoffs, outscoring three opponents 105-23, for an 82-point domination, the most ever in NFL playoff history. Phil Simms was the MVP of the 39-20 Super Bowl victory over Denver after completing a playoff record 88% of his passes (22-25). Lawrence Taylor was named the league's MVP, Joe Morris broke his own club rushing record with 1,516 yards, and eight players—Taylor, Morris, Harry Carson, Leonard Marshall, Jim Burt, Brad Benson, Mark Bavaro and Sean Landeta, were named to the Pro Bowl. Coach Bill Parcells was a unanimous NFL Coach of the Year in all the national polls, the Giants were 10-0 at home, including regular season and the two playoff games, and the team set attendance records at home and on the road.

After winning the Super Bowl, the Giants dropped to a 6-9 record, thanks to an 0-5 start in a season that included a players strike and three games with replacement players. In addition, injuries sidelined 11 starters. While the Giants had a 6-4 record after the strike was settled, it was a case of too little, too late. Despite the final record, four players—Lawrence Taylor, Carl Banks, Harry Carson and Mark Bavaro—were selected to the Pro Bowl and all four also were named to various All-NFL teams.

1988
The Giants bounced back and after splitting their first six games, engineered a 7-2 run which had them all alone in first-place in the NFC East with a 10-5 mark into the final weekend of the season. But an upset loss to the Jets not only knocked the Giants out of first-place, but also cost them a playoff berth as well. The Giants 10-6 record gave them a five-year mark of 54-32 (628), and those 54 victories were the most in club history for any five-year span. Joe Morris set a club record with his third 1,000-plus rushing season and Lionel Manuel had his first 1,000-yard receiving year. Morris also surpassed Alex Webster as the Giants' career rushing leader, moving past the 5,000-yard plateau. Lawrence Taylor was named to his eighth straight Pro Bowl and All-NFL designation and safety Terry Kinard was selected for his first Pro Bowl appearance.

1989
Despite the loss of several starters due to injuries, the Giants won their second NFC East championship in four years with a 12-4 record. Ottis Anderson rushed for 1,023 yards at the age of 32 as the replacement for the injured Joe Morris and rookie David Meggett set club marks with 582 punt return yards and a 12.7 average, while also accounting for 1,807 all-purpose yards. Linebacker Lawrence Taylor equaled an NFL record by being named to his ninth consecutive Pro Bowl, and also ran his league record sack total to 104. Meggett also went to the Pro Bowl and scored a TD.

1990
The Giants won their first 10 games to take the lead in the NFC East lead, then won the division with a 13-3 record despite losing Phil Simms late in the year. With Jeff Hostetler at the helm, the club surged through the playoffs to win their second Super Bowl title with a stirring 20-19 win over the Buffalo Bills. Seven Giant players were named to the Pro Bowl, including Lawrence Taylor for a record-setting 10th straight year. Veteran running Ottis Anderson won Super Bowl MVP honors after rushing for 102 yards. At season's end, the Mara family's sole ownership ended when Tim Mara sold his 50% share of the club to Preston Robert Tisch, who became Chairman and Co-Chief Executive Officer. In May, 1991, head coach Bill Parcells resigned after a career mark of 85-52-1 and was succeeded by running backs coach Ray Handley.

1991
In Ray Handley's first year as head coach, the Giants were in contention for another playoff spot late in the year with a 7-5 record, then dropped three straight to finish at 8-8 and out of the playoffs. Jeff Hostetler became the starting quarterback, but was injured late in the season and Phil Simms finished the campaign. Simms added his 15th club record when he passed Charlie Conerly for career TD passes with 179. Rodney Hampton became the fourth back in club history to rush for 1,000 yards when he finished the year with 1,059. Center Bart Oates was named to his second consecutive Pro Bowl.

1992
Ray Handley's team struggled through a 6–10 season campaign as injuries to key players hurt the team. Phil Simms regained his starting quarterback spot, but was limited to starting the first four games before an elbow injury forced him to miss the rest of the season. Before his injury, Simms became just the 14th player in NFL history to surpass 30,000 passing yards. Jeff Hostetler started the next nine games before being forced to the sidelines with a concussion. In the ninth game of the season against Green Bay, Lawrence Taylor injured his Achilles tendon that placed his career in jeopardy. After announcing plans to retire following the season, Taylor re-considered and decided to rejoin the Giants. RB Rodney Hampton turned in another outstanding season, rushing for 1,141 yards and earning his first trip to the Pro Bowl. After dismissing Handley, George Young hired former Denver Broncos head coach Dan Reeves to lead the team in 1993.

1993
Dan Reeves and a rejuvenated Phil Simms led the Giants to an 11-5 regular season record. The Giants finished second to Dallas in the NFC East race, a race that was decided on the final Sunday of the regular season when Dallas defeated the Giants, 16-13, in overtime at Giants Stadium. Reeves became the first Giants head coach to lead his team to the playoffs in his initial campaign since Allie Sherman in 1963. Reeves was selected as NFL Coach of the Year by several organizations, including the Associated Press, which bases its honor on voting by coaches around the league. The Giants earned a wild card berth in the playoffs and defeated the Minnesota Vikings at Giants Stadium, 17-10, in the Wild Card game. San Francisco defeated the Giants, 44-3, at Candlestick Park in an NFC divisional playoff game. Following the San Francisco game, LB Lawrence Taylor announced his retirement, capping a 13-year career that altered the nature of the game. Taylor was elected into the Pro Football Hall of Fame at the conclusion of the 1998 season.

1994
After a 3-7 start, the Giants climbed back into playoff contention with a six-game winning streak that resulted in a 9-7 record. The Giants came into Week 16 needing a victory over the World Champion Dallas Cowboys, combined with a Tampa Bay Buccaneers victory over the Green Bay Packers, to win a wild card berth. The Giants defeated Dallas, 15-10, but the season ended when the Bucs lost to the Packers, 34-19. Dave Brown won the starting quarterback job in training camp and responded by leading the team to a 9-6 record in games that he started. Rodney Hampton finished the season with 1,075 yards to become the first Giant in history to record four career 1,000-yard seasons. The 1994 season was the first in many years that the Giants roster did not include Lawrence Taylor or Phil Simms. Taylor's jersey number 56 was officially retired at halftime of the Giants-Minnesota Monday Night game on Oct. 10. Simms was released on June 15, prior to the start of training camp.

1995
The Giants concluded the 1995 season with a 5-11 record, their worst mark since 1983 when they were 3-12-1. The Giants lost seven games that were decided on the final drive of the game. In six of those games, the Giants were either tied or leading at some point in the fourth quarter. A highlight of the 1995 season was the play of Rodney Hampton, who turned in the best season of his six-year career with 1,182 yards rushing on 306 carries. Hampton became the Giants all-time leading rusher (5,989) on 10-29 at Washington on his third carry of the game, a workmanlike two-yard run for a first down. Phil Simms jersey number 11 was officially retired at halftime of the Giants-Dallas Monday Night game on Sept. 4, 1995.

For the first time since 1982-83, the Giants finished with a losing record in consecutive seasons as they closed out the 1996 campaign with a 6-10 record. Following the 23-22 defeat to New England in the season finale, the Giants dismissed head coach Dan Reeves. On January 15, the Giants hired Jim Fassel as the 15th head coach in the team's history. The Giants stood at 5-7 on December 1 after a 20-6 upset of the defending world champion Dallas Cowboys and headed into a game against the Philadelphia Eagles with a chance at the NFC playoff field. In one of the lowest moments of the year, the Giants were officially eliminated from playoff contention with a 24-0 loss to the Eagles. The Giants improved to 6-8 but dropped two consecutive home contests and secured a last place finish in the NFC East for the first time in a non-strike season since 1983. The Giants defense played solid all season, but the offense struggled, finishing last in the National Football League. The Giants ground game failed to generate a 100-yard rushing performer and averaged just 100.3 yards per game, the lowest non-strike total since the Giants had 100.3 in 1964. The Giants defense held the opposition to 10 points or less in six games and had a streak of 7.5 straight games (30 quarters) without allowing the opponent's offense a touchdown pass.

In his first season as head coach of the Giants, Jim Fassel led his team to a 10-5-1 record and the team's first NFC East Championship since the 1990 Super Bowl season. The Giants started the year with a 1-3 record before rebounding to become the 15th team in NFL history to finish in first place in their division the season after finishing in last place. The Giants finished the 1997 season with a 7-0-1 Division record to become the first team ever to go undefeated in NFC East Division play. Second-year QB Danny Kanell filled in for an injured Dave Brown and led the Giants to a victory over the Dallas Cowboys in Week Six. Kanell was eventually named the new starting quarterback and finished with a 7-2-1 record. His season was highlighted by a three-touchdown performance at Philadelphia in a key NFC East victory on December 7. The Giants defense blossomed into one of the NFL's strongest, finishing first in the league with a franchise-record 44 takeaways. The Giants defense led the league in interceptions with 27 and finished third in the NFL with 54 sacks. The season ended when the Minnesota Vikings overcame a 19-3 second half deficit to pull out a 23-22 victory at Giants Stadium in a Wild Card game. Fassel was named NFL Coach of the Year by numerous publications, including The Sporting News, which is determined by a vote of NFL coaches. Jessie Armstead set a team-record with 134 total tackles and was named a starter on the NFC Pro Bowl squad. DE Michael Strahan set a career-mark in sacks, finishing tied for third in the NFL with 14. Strahan was also named a starter for the NFC Pro Bowl squad. At the end of the season, George Young announced that he was leaving the Giants to become Vice President of Football Operations in the National Football League office. Ernie Accorsi was named the team's new General Manager.

1998

After overcoming a 3-7 start, the Giants remained in the hunt for a playoff berth until the final week and finished with an 8-8 record. The Giants won five out of their last six games, including a 20-16 victory over the previously undefeated (13-0) and eventual Super Bowl Champion Denver Broncos. Entering the final game, the Giants needed a victory over Philadelphia, combined with a Tampa Bay loss and an Arizona loss, to qualify as the third wild card participant in the NFC playoff field. The Giants beat the Eagles at Veterans Stadium, but the Buccaneers and Cardinals were victorious to spoil the Giants playoff hopes. Kent Graham replaced Danny Kanell at quarterback after the team fell to 3-7 and finished with a 5-1 record in the starting role. Gary Brown emerged as the Giants top running back, reaching the 1,000-yard mark with a career-best 1,063 yards that included six 100-yard games. Jessie Armstead and Michael Strahan were selected to represent the NFC in the Pro Bowl for the second straight season. Armstead eclipsed the 100-tackle mark for the third straight year with 101 tackles (75 solos). Strahan set a career-high with 15 sacks as he triggered a Giants defense that led the league with 54 sacks.

For the second straight year, the Giants entered the final week of the regular season with a chance to make the NFL's postseason field. The difference between the two seasons is that in 1998 the Giants won five of their last six games. In 1999, victories over the Jets and at Buffalo raised the Giants' record to 7-6; however, the Giants dropped their last three games to finish 7-9. It was the team's first losing season in three years under head coach Jim Fassel. The final blow was a 26-18 loss at Dallas, a game that followed the Giants' elimination from the playoff race with Green Bay's victory over Arizona earlier in the day. In spite of the obvious disappointment, a few bright spots emerged for the Giants in 1999. The Giants set records on offense, led by Amani Toomer, who established a team single-season record with 79 receptions (breaking Earnest Gray's record of 78 receptions set in 1983). Toomer fell 26 yards shy of the team record of 1,209 receiving yards, set by Homer Jones in 1967. Also, for the first time in the 75-year history of the team, the Giants had four receivers record over 50 receptions in a season: Toomer (79), Ike Hilliard (72), Tiki Barber (66), and Pete Mitchell (58). Jessie Armstead and Michael Strahan were selected to represent the NFC in the Pro Bowl for the third consecutive season. Armstead surpassed the 100-tackle mark for the fourth straight year with 124 tackles (97 solos) and recorded a career-high 9.0 sacks. Strahan recorded 56 tackles (41 solos) and posted 5.5 sacks. QB Kerry Collins started the final six games of the season after replacing Kent Graham in the lineup following the 10th game.

The Giants enjoyed their finest season in a decade, winning the NFC East and home-field advantage in the playoffs with a 12-4 record before defeating Philadelphia and Minnesota to advance to Super Bowl XXXV. In their first Super Bowl appearance in 10 years, the Giants lost to Baltimore, 34-7. The Giants took a seven-game winning streak into the Super Bowl, a surge that began after Jim Fassel issued his now-famous playoff guarantee on November 22. The Giants finished 7-1 in the division and 7-1 away from Giants Stadium. The seven road victories tied a franchise record set in 1930 (when three of the road games were in Newark, Staten Island and Brooklyn) and marked the first time since 1963 that the Giants lost just one game as visitors. The Giants averaged 125.6 rushing yards a game, a robust 37.5-yard gain over the 1999 average. Quarterback Kerry Collins was sacked 28 times; in 1999 Giants quarterbacks were sacked 42 times. Collins had the best season of his career, setting career highs in passes (529), completions (311), completion percentage (58.8) and touchdown passes (22). Halfback Tiki Barber set a Giants record of 2,085 all-purpose yards (1,006 rushing, 719 receiving, 332 punt returns and 28 on kickoff returns). Amani Toomer caught 78 passes (one less than the franchise record he set in 1999. Ike Hilliard led the team with a 14.3-yard average and eight touchdown catches. The defense was second in the NFL against the run (72.3 yards a game) and fifth in points allowed (15.4 per game). In 359 rushing attempts, opponents had an NFL-best two runs of longer than 20 yards. Jessie Armstead led the team with 102 tackles – his fifth consecutive season with more than a hundred tackles – and was selected to his fourth straight Pro Bowl. Defensive tackle Keith Hamilton had the best season of his nine-year career. He was a dominating run-stopper and he led the Giants with 10 sacks, an impressive feat for a tackle. Defensive end Michael Strahan had perhaps his finest all-around season and raised his sack total from 5.5 in 1999 to 9.5 this year.

After a strong 3-1 start, the Giants lost eight of their last 12 games and finished 7-9 and in third place in the NFC East, the third time in as many tries they failed to make the playoffs a season after reaching the Super Bowl. The terrorist attacks in New York and Washington on Sept. 11 – the day after the Giants lost their Monday night opener in Denver – made the rest of season a minor footnote by comparison. After the attacks, many players reached out to victims' families, firefighters, police officers and other rescue workers and their children. Despite the disappointing record, the season included many highlights, notably Michael Strahan setting a new NFL single-season record with 22.5 sacks. Kerry Collins became the first quarterback in league history to throw every one of his team's passes in two consecutive seasons. Collins setting team marks for passes (568) and completions (327). Tiki Barber accounted for 1,782 total yards, Mike Barrow set a team record with 135 tackles, Morten Andersen became the second-leading scorer in NFL history, Howard Cross set a new franchise record for games played (207), Amani Toomer caught more than 70 passes for the third season in a row, rookie Rodney Williams established a team record with a 90-yard punt against the Broncos and Jessie Armstead played in his fifth consecutive Pro Bowl (and was joined in Hawaii by Strahan and Ron Stone). Although they struggled with two three-game losing streaks, the Giants thrilled their fans with scintillating last-second victories over Dallas (in overtime), Arizona and Seattle. After the defeat in Denver – and a week off after the NFL's decision not to play the Sunday after the attacks – the Giants won three straight, against Kansas City, New Orleans and Washington. The winning streak was followed by consecutive heartbreaking 1-point losses to St. Louis and Philadelphia, and a defeat at Washington. The Giants then rebounded with victories over Dallas and Arizona before again dropping three straight, to Minnesota, Oakland and Dallas. They played their way back into playoff contention with dramatic triumphs over Arizona and Seattle, but closed the season with losses to Philadelphia and Green Bay.

An exciting and rewarding season concluded with the Giants winning their final four regular season games to finish 10-6 and in second place in the NFC East. More importantly, they earned a Wild Card berth in the NFC playoffs, where they lost a heartbreaking 39-38 loss to the San Francisco 49ers. But the season did not diminish the season's many team and individual achievements. The Giants made their 26th appearance in the playoffs, tying them with the Dallas Cowboys for the most postseason appearances in NFL history. They finished the regular season ranked sixth in the NFL in total offense, with 364.1 yards a game. It was their highest ranking and most yards per game since the 1985 Giants finished fifth in total offense with 367.8 yards a game. The Giants improved to 19-5 in regular season December games under Jim Fassel. Many individuals enjoyed outstanding seasons. Kerry Collins completed 335 passes, a Giants record, and was 1st in the NFC and 4th in the NFL with 4,073 passing yards, breaking the previous team record of 4,044, set by Phil Simms in 1984. Collins completed 61.5 percent of his passes, a career-high and the third-best percentage in team history. Tiki Barber was 4th in the NFL and 1st in the NFC with 1,984 yards from scrimmage (1,387 rushing and 597 receiving). He rushed for 1,387 rushing yards, the second-highest total in team history after Joe Morris' 1,516 yards in 1986. Amani Toomer set team records with 82 receptions for 1,343 yards and established a career-high with eight touchdown catches. Pro Bowler Jeremy Shockey caught 74 passes, the fifth-highest total in Giants history, and a team record for both rookies (shattering the mark of 48 set by Bobby Johnson in 1984) and tight ends (eclipsing the 66 passes Mark Bavaro caught in 1986). Michael Strahan was selected to his 4th Pro Bowl in 5 years and from Sept. 22 through Dec. 1, he had at least a half-sack in 10 consecutive games, tying the NFL record set by Denver's Simon Fletcher in 1991 and tied by Tennessee's Jevon Kearse in 1999.

THE GIANTS STADIUMS

The Giants shared the Polo Grounds with the New York Baseball Giants from the time they entered the league in 1925 until they moved to the larger Yankee Stadium for the start of the 1956 season.

In 1973, the Giants announced plans to move to a new stadium in New Jersey for the 1976 season, and the city of New York announced that Yankee Stadium was planning a two-year renovation after the 1973 baseball season. The Giants were allowed to play their first two games of the 1973 season at Yankee Stadium before moving to a new location.

THE POLO GROUNDS (1925-1955)

YANKEE STADIUM (1956-1973)

The Giants spent the offseason searching for a place to play their games. The Giants' first choice was the Yale Bowl, but the Yale Bowl representatives turned down the team's first request because it would have meant a blackout for the local schedule due to the blackout rule. The Giants' next choice was to play at Princeton University, but they also turned down the Giants. Things were so bad that when the league announced the 1973 schedule, it didn't even say where the games would be played. In light of the Giants' problems, Commissioner Pete Rozelle, with the help from national politicians, modified the blackout rule so that the rule was only in effect if the game was not sold out in advance. With the rule change came a change of heart by the Yale Bowl representatives. It was official. The Giants would play their first two games of the 1973 season at Yankee Stadium and would play the rest of the schedule and the 1974 season at the Yale Bowl in New Haven, Connecticut.

SHEA STADIUM (1975)

After the 1974 season, it was announced that the Giants were going back to New York City to play at Shea Stadium until the opening of Giants Stadium in 1976. The Giants played the first four games of the 1976 season on the road just in case there were any delays with the opening of the new stadium. The Giants made their debut at Giants Stadium on October 10, 1976 against the Dallas Cowboys before a sellout crowd.

THE YALE BOWL (1973-1974)

GIANTS STADIUM HISTORY

After calling four different stadiums home in their first 50 years in the National Football League, the Giants moved into Giants Stadium in 1976. The idea of playing at a stadium built in the Meadowlands first attracted the Giants attention when they realized that they could provide 15,000 more seats and help meet the increasing demands of the fans without a major switch in location. Giants Stadium is only 6.9 miles from Times Square, compared to Yankee Stadium which is 6.6.

In May of 1967, a local New Jersey newspaper first proposed the idea of building a Sports Complex. The idea of the complex could not begin until a major sports franchise could be attracted to the concept. With an aging Yankee Stadium, the Giants and the Yankees became immediate targets. The original construction idea called for separate stadiums for football and baseball with convenient parking and easy highway access just miles from New York City.

In 1970, the William Cahill administration began serious efforts to lure the Giants. On August 27, 1971, the Giants signed a 30-year lease for a 75,000-seat stadium to be built by the 1975 season. The New Jersey Sports and Exposition Authority was established by an act of the state legislature on May 10, 1971 to finance, construct and administer the complex. It was also decided that the complex would include a stadium for football and a racetrack. The Authority was granted powers through legislature to lease property, borrow money, issue bonds and conduct horse racing. To finance the complex the state was authorized to issue revenue bonds backed by the state-run racetrack proceeds. The complex was built and operated with no expense to the taxpayers.

Prior to construction of the facility, the project was hit with many obstacles. First, there were legislative disputes that resulted from objections to the complex, then environmentalists were concerned about the issue of wildlife preservations and air pollution from the increase of cars. Despite these problems, the Authority pushed the project along, hiring real estate consultants, accountants, bond attorneys and brokerage firms.

In September of 1973, New Jersey Governor-elect Brendan Byrne negotiated a new lease with the Giants, and the sale of bonds began and was completed in 1974. Simultaneous construction of the racetrack and stadium began in 1972. September 1, 1976 marked the opening of the Meadowlands racetrack. The Giants made their debut in Giants Stadium on October 10, 1976 against the Dallas Cowboys before a sellout crowd.

Giants Stadium got a new look for the 2000 season when the playing surface was natural grass for the first time. The grass was grown in a series of replaceable trays, which was allowed workers to remove tray containing worn or poor grass and replacing them with a fresh tray. The trays were used for three years, through the 2002 system, but never succeeded as planned. The field was often brown and bumpy, and by the end of the 2002 season, new sod had to be installed to cover what had essentially become an unplayable field.

The 2003 season will mark the debut of a new surface of FieldTurf, a state of the art synthetic grass field. FieldTurf has been installed on more than 550 sports surfaces in 25 countries in the previous three years (including NFL stadiums in Detroit and Chicago). FieldTurf looks like real grass. Under its surface is what FieldTurf calls, "a special silica sand, cryogenic rubber and Nike Grind filling." That filling includes sneakers. Drainage is said to be immediate, and the heat on the field – which was a problem with previous artificial surfaces -- is supposed to be dispersed to the rubber layer below the surface.

"The experience I've had on FieldTurf is that it is outstanding," Giants coach Jim Fassel said. "Everybody that's been on it says it's the closest thing to grass. You know the surface you're going to have week-in and week-out."

NEW YORK GIANTS IN THE PRO FOOTBALL HALL OF FAME

CO-OWNER
FORDHAM
ENSHRINED IN 1997

Wellington Mara, along with CB Mike Haynes, coach Don Shula and C Mike Webster, made up the four-man class of the 1997 Pro Football Hall of Fame. Mara and his father Tim, who was the founder of the Giants and a charter member of the Hall of Fame, were the first father and son to be accorded pro football's highest honor. Mara, whose entire lifetime has been dedicated to pro football, has helped the Giants produce 18 NFL/NFC divisional titles and six NFL championships during his 62-season tenure that began with his graduation from Fordham in 1937.

TIM MARA

FOUNDER
CHARTER ENSHRINEE
IN 1963

Mara introduced the city of New York to pro football when he purchased the franchise for a reported $500 (others claim it was $2,500) in 1925, thus giving the National Football League a vital showcase in the nation's largest city. Mara withstood heavy financial losses his first year until the Giants were saved on the last home game of the season. Mara needed a good showing at the gate to keep the team alive. The most heralded college player of the era, Red Grange, showed up at the Polo Grounds as a Chicago Bear and helped draw a crowd of over 70,000 people to save the Giants. After seeing the crowd that formed, Mara decided that under the right circumstances, professional football could be a big success. Mara bore the brunt of the fight against the rival American Football League in 1926 and the All-American Football Conference from 1946-49. He helped build the Giants into a perennial powerhouse with three NFL and eight divisional titles. He was honored in 1963 as one of 17 charter members of the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

MORRIS (RED) BADGRO

END
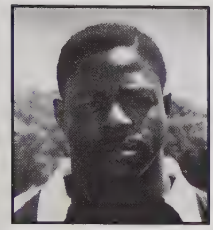
ENSHRINED IN 1981

Badgro joined the Giants in 1930 and played six seasons at end. He made a name for himself as a superior defender, excellent blocker and big-play receiver. Badgro helped lead the Giants to the NFL's first championship game in 1933. He scored the first touchdown in NFL Championship Game history in 1933. In the championship game, the Giants spotted the Chicago Bears a 6-0 lead on two field goals at Wrigley Field. The Giants took a 7-6 halftime lead when Badgro caught a 29-yard touchdown pass from QB Harry Newman in the second quarter. He tied for the NFL receiving title in 1934 with 16 receptions for 206 yards, including one touchdown. Badgro was named to the All-NFL team three times: 1931, 1933 and 1934. Before joining the Giants, Badgro played with the Red Grange-led New York Yankees in the American Football League (12 games in 1927 and one game in 1928). He played pro baseball for three season, the first with the Tulsa in the minor leagues and then with the St. Louis Browns for two seasons. Badgro has the distinction of being the oldest player ever to be elected into the Hall of Fame. He was 77 when he was enshrined in 1981.

GIANTS IN THE HALL OF FAME



ROOSEVELT BROWN

TACKLE
ENSHRINED IN 1975

Brown played for the Giants from 1953 through 1965 after joining the team as a 27th round draft choice, regarded as one of the greatest "sleeper" picks of all time. Brown held the starting tackle spot for 13 straight seasons. During that period, he was named to the Pro Bowl nine times and was an All-NFL eight straight seasons. In 1956, when the Giants won the championship game, Brown was named Lineman of the Year by the Associated Press. Brown was known as a big, fast blocker who could make the block downfield. He was also used along the defensive front on goal-line stands. Brown helped the Giants advance to the NFL Championship game in 1956, 1958, 1959, 1961, 1962 and 1963. After his playing career, Brown continued his Giants affiliation as a coach before being appointed as a scout, where he has served since the 1971 season. He was immediately named assistant line coach by the Giants after a phlebitis condition forced him to retire in 1966.

FRANK GIFFORD

HALFBACK, FLANKER
ENSHRINED IN 1977

Gifford played for the Giants from 1952-64, although he voluntarily retired in 1961 season due to a serious injury suffered the previous season. He was known as one of the most versatile backs in NFL history. Gifford was the first pick in the draft by the Giants in 1952 after an All-America career at Southern California. He totaled 9,753 combined yards during his career. Gifford's record includes 3,609 yards rushing, 367 receptions and 484 points. He was named to the Pro Bowl as a defensive back in 1953 and as an offensive back the following year - a first in NFL annals. Gifford played in seven Pro Bowls during his career and was named All-NFL four times and NFL Player of the Year in 1956. He holds three Giants team records - touchdowns (78), highest average gain (500 attempts) rushing (4.30) and most receiving yards (5,434). A real triple-threat in his halfback heyday, Gifford threw 14 touchdown passes in 60 attempts on the halfback option. He retired after the 1960 season and then decided to return in 1962 at a new position, flanker. The Giants reached the NFL Championship game five times during his career, including 1956, when they won the world championship.

MEL HEIN

CENTER
ENSHRINED IN 1963

Originally joined the Giants in 1931 and played 15 seasons for the Giants, a record of team service that is matched by only Phil Simms. He was named All-NFL eight straight years from 1933-40. Following a successful college career at Washington State, Hein wrote to three NFL clubs offering his services. The Giants bid the highest at $150 per game. Hein was a 60-minute regular for 15 years, playing in 170 games. Hein never missed a game in the National Football League or in college and high school. He took time out only in two games and was injured only once. Hein was named the League's Most Valuable Player after anchoring a line that helped guide the Giants to the 1938 World Championship with a 23-17 victory over the Green Bay Packers at the Polo Grounds.

GIANTS IN THE HALL OF FAME

CAL HUBBARD

TACKLE
ENSHRINED IN 1963

Hubbard played for the Giants from 1927-28, and then again in 1936. He was one of 17 charter enshrinees into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1963. Hubbard was named All-NFL six years in a row from 1928-33. He played for the Green Bay Packers from 1929-35 and the Pittsburgh Pirates in 1936 before returning to the Giants. He was acquired before the start of the 1927 season in order to help beef up the Giants defense. That season the Giants defense surrendered only 20 points as the Giants captured their first NFL championship. He was acquired by the Green Bay Packers in 1929 in a move that would haunt the Giants, as Hubbard led the Packers to a 12-0-1 record in 1929, edging out the 13-1-1 Giants for the league title. The Packers handed the Giants their only loss of the season by a 20-6 score.

SAM HUFF

LINEBACKER
ENSHRINED IN 1982

Huff was originally drafted by the Giants in the third round in 1956 after an All-America career at West Virginia and became an immediate star as middle linebacker. He played in five Pro Bowls and was named All-NFL four years. Huff won recognition for his great individual efforts against the premier running backs of his era, Jim Brown of Cleveland, Rick Casares of Chicago and Alan Ameche of Baltimore. Huff was named Outstanding Lineman in the NFL for his play in 1959. He anchored a defense that helped the Giants reach the Championship game in 1956, 1958, 1959, 1961, 1962 and 1963. Huff was traded to the Washington Redskins before the start of the 1964 season and is currently a color analyst during Redskins radio telecasts.

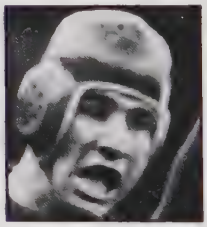
ENSHRINED IN 1990

Landry played with the Giants from 1950-55 as a defensive back and was an assistant coach with the Giants from 1954-59. The Giants 1956 Championship team not only consisted of players that would eventually find their way to the Pro Football Hall of Fame, but it also had a Hall of Fame coaching staff. Head coach Jim Lee Howell's staff had Vince Lombardi coaching the offense and Landry coaching the defense. When the Dallas Cowboys entered the league in 1960, Wellington Mara recommended that the Cowboys hire Landry as head coach. Landry coached the Cowboys from 1960 through 1988 and led Dallas to two Super Bowl victories and five NFC titles. Landry coached the Cowboys to 20 consecutive winning seasons.



ALPHONSE (TUFFY) LEEMANS

HALFBACK, FULLBACK
G. WASHINGTON/OREGON
ENSHRINED IN 1978

Leemans played for the Giants from 1936-43. He was a second-round draft choice in the first-ever NFL draft in 1936 out of George Washington. Leemans was personally scouted by Giants co-owner Wellington Mara. Mara sent a telegram setting up a meeting with Leemans to convince him to accept a career in the NFL with the Giants. Leemans was the 1936 College Football All-Star game MVP. He led NFL rushers as a rookie in 1936 with 830 yards on 206 attempts. Leemans was named All-NFL in 1936 and 1939. An aggressive, dedicated do-everything team leader, he totaled 3,142 yards rushing, 2,324 yards passing, 442 yards receiving and threw 16 touchdown passes during his career.

GIANTS IN THE HALL OF FAME

VINCE LOMBARDI

COACH

Lombardi was head coach of the Green Bay Packers and the Washington Redskins after spending the 1954-58 seasons as an assistant with the Giants. Behind Lomardi's leadership running the offense, the Giants captured the League Championship in 1956. In 10 years as head coach, Lombardi had a 105-36-6 record, including five NFL titles and victories in Super Bowl I and Super Bowl II. He directed the Packers to five NFL championships in seven years (1961-62 and 65-66-67), a feat without precedent or parallel in pro football history. A guard, Lombardi played his collegiate football at Fordham, where he was one of the legendary "Seven Blocks of Granite."

STEVE OWEN

COACH
ENSHRINED IN 1966

A great defensive star of the 1920s, played for the Giants from 1926-31, plus a one-game return in 1933. He captained the 1927 team that won the National Football League title and held its foes to a record-low total of 20 points. Owen coached the Giants for 23 years. He was a co-coach with Benny Friedman in 1931, then assumed the full head coaching responsibility in 1931, a position he kept until 1953. Owens had a coaching record of 153-100-17, including eight divisional and two NFL title teams. Some of his coaching innovations include the A-formation offense, the umbrella defense and the two-platoon system. Owen went to college at Phillips University in Enid, Oklahoma. After a year coaching at his alma mater following his graduation in 1921, Owen joined the Kansas City Blues in 1924. Two years later, the team changed its name to Cowboys. With the Giants, Owens was a four-time All-NFL tackle.

ANDY ROBUSTELLI

DEFENSIVE END
ARNOLD COLLEGE
ENSHRINED IN 1971

Robustelli was originally drafted by the Los Angeles Rams in 1951 and played on two Rams Championship teams. In 1956, Giants co-owner Wellington Mara orchestrated a trade for Robustelli, who provided a tremendous lift in the Giants title drive that season. Robustelli, who stayed with the Giants through the 1964 season, played on a winning team in 13 of his 14 pro seasons. During his career, he played in eight NFL title games and seven Pro Bowls. He was named All-NFL seven years, two with the Rams and five with the Giants. Was acknowledged as the field leader on a Giants defense that was largely responsible for the Giants participation in six championship games and winning the 1956 league title. He also served as a defensive player-coach. Robustelli was a durable player who missed only one game in his 14-year career.

KEN STRONG

HALFBACK
NEW YORK UNIVERSITY
ENSHRINED 1967

Strong played for the Giants from 1933-35, in 1939 and from 1944-47. He excelled in every phase of the game - blocking, running, passing, punting, placekicking and defense. At the time of his retirement, Strong was the Giants all-time leading scorer with 324 points on 13 touchdowns, 35 field goals and 141 extra points. He scored 17 points to pace the Giants to the 1934 title over the Chicago Bears in the famous "Sneakers Game." Strong scored a league-high 64 points in 1933 and was All-NFL in 1934. He began his career with the Staten Island Stapletons in 1932. After four seasons, he joined the Giants. In 1936, he began a two-year stint in the rival AFL. Strong served as a placekicking specialist only when he returned to the Giants from 1944 until 1947. He scored 479 points in his career.

GIANTS IN THE HALL OF FAME

LINEBACKER
ENSHRINED IN 1999

Lawrence Taylor played for the Giants from 1981 through 1993 after joining the team as a first round draft pick in 1981. He finished his 13-year career as the No. 2 all-time quarterback sack leader in the NFL with 132.5. That total does not include the 9.5 he accumulated as a rookie in 1981 before the sack was an official NFL statistic. Taylor established an NFL record by appearing in 10 consecutive Pro Bowls from 1981-1990. He was named NFC's Defensive Player of the Week nine times during his career (since that recognition was initiated in 1984) and was the conference's Defensive Player of the Month twice, in October 1986, and again in September, 1989. In 1989 he was a unanimous choice to the NFL's All-1980s team. Taylor had the finest statistical season of his career in 1986 and it earned him unanimous selection as the NFL's Most Valuable Player. That year, he had a career-high 20.5 sacks, 105 total tackles, five passes defensed and two forced fumbles. As a rookie in 1981, he set the tone for his Hall of Fame career as he earned every defensive and rookie postseason honor possible.

Y.A. TITTLE

QUARTERBACK
ENSHRINED IN 1971

The Giants engineered one of the most profitable trades in their long history prior to the 1961 season when they sent guard Lou Cordileone to the San Francisco49ers for Tittle. The then 35-year old Tittle promptly led the Giants to their 12th Eastern division championship. Tittle spent 11 seasons in the NFL and two seasons in the All-American Conference before coming to the Giants. In 1962, Tittle completed 200 passes in 375 attempts for 3,224 yards. His 33 touchdowns that season set an NFL record and his seven touchdown passes against the Washington Redskins tied another league mark. Tittle had his greatest year as a pro in 1963. He led the league in passing with 221 completions in 367 attempts for 3,145 yards. His 36 touchdown passes set a Giants single-season record that still stands. All told, Tittle had 2,427 completions, 33,070 yards, 242 touchdowns and 13 games with over 300 yards passing. He was the NFL Player of the Year in 1957 when he led the 49ers to a tie for the Western title, and won the same honor again in 1961 and 1963 as he took the Giants to eastern championships. Tittle was named All-NFL in 1957, 1962 and 1963, and also played in six Pro Bowls.

EMLEN TUNNELL

ENSHRINED 1967

Tunnell was signed by the Giants as a free agent out of Iowa in 1948, and played for the team for 11 seasons. He also attended Toledo University. Ignored in the NFL draft, Tunnell walked into the Giants office and asked Tim Mara for a tryout. The Giants reached a milestone in their illustrious existence by signing Tunnell as their first black player. He holds the Giants team-records with 74 interceptions and 257 punt returns. In 1952, Tunnell gained more yards (923) on interceptions and kick returns than the NFL rushing leader did running the ball. He earned the nickname "offense on defense." Tunnell was named All-NFL four times and played in nine Pro Bowls.

ARNOLD WEINMEISTER

Weinmeister played for the Giants from 1950 through the 1953 season. He was one of the first defensive players to captivate the masses in the same manner a star running back or quarterback could. A big, extremely fast player with great ability to diagnose plays. Weinmeister began his pro career in the All-American Football Conference with the New York Yankees in 1950, and moved to the NFL during the 1950 merger. He played two ways in the AAFC, but was used exclusively on defense in the NFL.

OTHER HALL OF FAME MEMBERS WITH GIANTS EXPERIENCE

FULLBACK
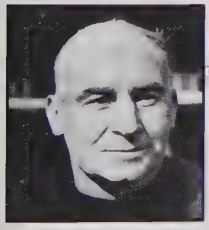
ENSHRINED IN 1987

Csonka played for the Giants from 1976-78. He was originally drafted by the Miami Dolphins in the first round in 1968. He left the Dolphins following the 1974 season and played for the Memphis Southmen of the World Football League in 1975. He returned to the Dolphins to finish his career in 1979. A five-time Pro Bowl selection, Csonka put together three consecutive 1,000-yard seasons (1971-73) as Miami advanced to the Super Bowl each year. He shined in those Super Bowls, averaging 6.3 yards a carry and going over 100 yards rushing in two of them. His career rushing totals in the NFL, which place him 19th on the league's all-time rushing list, are: 1,891 carries for 8,081 yards (4.3 average) and 64 TDs.



RAY FLAHERTY

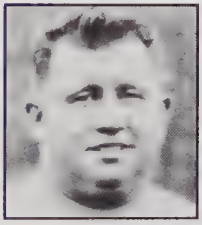
END, COACH
GONZAGA
ENSHRINED IN 1976

Flaherty played for the Giants from 1928-29 and 1931-35 and helped the Giants advance to the NFL Championship game in 1933, 1934 and 1935. He spent the 1930 season coaching at Gonzaga. Flaherty finished with an 80-37-5 record as a coach with the Boston Redskins, Washington Redskins, New York Yankees and Chicago Hornets. He introduced the screen pass in the 1937 title game when the Washington Redskins scored a 28-21 victory over the Chicago Bears. Flaherty also played for the Los Angeles Wildcats and the New York Yankees. He suggested to coach Steve Owen that the Giants wear sneakers in the icy conditions at the Polo Grounds in the 1934 championship game, known as the "Sneakers Game."

JOE GUYON

HALFBACK
CARLISLE
ENSHRINED IN 1966

Guyon played for the Giants during the championship season in 1927. His career highlight was catching a touchdown pass that gave the Giants a win over the Bears for the 1927 NFL Championship. He also played for the Canton Bulldogs in 1920, the Cleveland Indians in 1921, Oorang Indians from 1922-23, the Rock Island Independents in 1924 and the Kansas City Cowboys from 1924-25.



WILBER (PETE) HENRY

TACKLE
ENSHRINED IN 1963

Henry played for the Giants during the championship season in 1927. He was the largest player of his time at 250 pounds. Henry was the bulwark of the Canton Bulldogs' championship lines in the 1920s. He played for the Canton Bulldogs and the Pottsville Maroons in addition to the Giants.

ARNIE HERBER

QUARTERBACK
ENSHRINED IN 1966

Herber played for the Giants in 1944 and 1945. Pro football's first great long passer, Herber was the NFL passing leader in 1932, 1934 and 1936. Herber left retirement in 1944 to lead the Giants to the NFL Eastern crown. He also played for the Green Bay Packers from 1930-40, and ranks fifth in Packers annals with 64 career touchdowns.

OTHER HALL OF FAME MEMBERS WITH GIANTS EXPERIENCE

DON MAYNARD

WIDE RECEIVER
TEXAS WESTERN
ENSHRINED IN 1987

Maynard played for the Giants in 1958. He went on to play for the New York Titans from 1960-62, the New York Jets from 1963-72 and the St. Louis Cardinals in 1973. At the time of his retirement, Maynard was the all-time leading receiver in NFL history. He caught 633 passes for 11,834 yards (18.7) and 88 touchdowns. Maynard's yardage still ranks fourth all-time and his number of catches is seventh. He had at least 50 catches and 1,000 yards in five different seasons. Maynard caught eight passes for 118 yards, including the winning touchdown, against Oakland in the AFL Championship game to help the Jets advance to Super Bowl III.

HUGH McELHENNY

HALFBACK
ENSHRINED IN 1970

McElhenny played for the Giants in 1963 and helped the Giants advance to the championship game that season. His career totals include 5,281 yards rushing and 360 points. On his first play as a professional, McElhenny scored on a 40-yard touchdown run. He also played with the San Francisco 49ers from 1952-60, the Minnesota Vikings from 1961-62 and the Detroit Lions in 1964.

FRAN TARKENTON

QUARTERBACK
ENSHRINED IN 1986

Tarkenton played for the Giants from 1967-71. Originally with the Minnesota Vikings in 1961, he moved to the Giants in 1967 and back to the Vikings in 1972 in stunning trades. He retired as the NFL's record holder for career passing yards with 47,003. An elusive scrambler, Tarkenton rushed for 3,674 yards and 32 touchdowns. A four-time All-NFL and nine-time Pro Bowl selection, he led the Vikings to Super Bowl appearances in 1973, 1974 and 1976.

JIM THORPE

HALFBACK

Thorpe played for the Giants during their first season in 1925. He was a charter enshrinee into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1963. Thorpe was the biggest name in football at the time that the Giants signed him at the age of 37. He also played for the Canton Bulldogs, Cleveland Indians, Oorang Indians, Toledo Maroons, Rock Island Independents and the Chicago Cardinals. He was the first president of the American Professional Football Association in 1920.

Owns 19 team records for the Giants, including all-time records with 2,576 completions in 4,647 attempts for 33,462 yards...Owns a .597 winning percentage (95-64, including 6-4 in postseason play) as a starter over his 15-year career...Named MVP of the Super Bowl after leading the Giants to a 39-20 victory over Denver in Super Bowl XXI.

14 Y.A. Tittle

Played for the Giants from from 1961 through the 1964 season...In 1962, Tittle completed 200 passes in 375 attempts for 3,224 yards...His 33 touchdowns that season set an NFL record and his seven touchdown passes against Washington tied another mark...Had his greatest year as a pro in 1963, leading the league in passing with 221 completions in 367 attempts for 3,145 yards and 36 touchdowns.

16 Frank Gifford

Played for the Giants from 1952-64, though he voluntarily retired in 1961 season because of an injury...Made the Pro Bowl as both an offensive back and defensive back...Seven-time Pro Bowler and 1956 NFL player of the year...Holds three Giants records: Touchdowns (78), highest average gain (500 attempts) rushing (4.3 yards) and most receiving yards (5,434)...Is fifth on team's all-time rushing list with 3,609 yards and second with 367 receptions...Totaled 9,753 yards in his career.

32 Al Blozis

Made an immediate impression on the Giants after arriving in 1942 and quickly earned a starting assignment at tackle...Played in the 1944 championship game with the Giants, he then was sent almost immediately overseas where as a lieutenant in the army he was killed in action in France a brief six weeks later.

40 Joe Morrison

Was a back and an end for the Giants from 1959 through 1972...Was a dominant figure during his 14-year career with the Giants, accumulating 2,472 yards rushing with 18 touchdowns...A versatile player, Morrison played six different positions: fullback, halfback, flanker, tight end, split end and defensive back.

42 Charlie Conerly

Played for the Giants from 1948 through 1961...Represented the Giants in three Pro Bowls (1951, 1952 and 1957) and was named the NFL's Most Valuable Player in 1959...Ended his career with 1,418 completions and 19,488 yards, both Giants records at the time of his retirement.

50 Ken Strong

Played for the Giants from 1933-35, 1939 and 1944-47...At the time of his retirement, Strong was the Giants all-time leading scorer with 324 points on 13 touchdowns, 35 field goals and 141 extra points...He scored 17 points to lead the Giants to victory in the 1934 Championship game against Chicago.

56 Lawrence Taylor

Finished his 13-year career (1981-93) as the No. 2 all-time quarterback sack leader in the NFL with 132.5...Established an NFL record by appearing in 10 consecutive Pro Bowls from 1981-90...Finest statistical season was in 1986 with a career-high 20.5 sacks, 105 total tackles, five passes defensed and two forced fumbles...Earned unanimous selection as the NFL's Most Valuable Player in 1986.

GIANTS ALL-TIME ROSTER

This list is comprised of players who have been on the Giants' game-day active roster for at least one game. It does not mean they actually played in a game, but only that they were on the active roster on the day of game, even if they were inactive for that particular game. It also includes players who were on injured reserve and the physically unable to perform list and did not appear in a game.

The '49ers ended the Giants' season in dominant fashion as SF scored on its first three possessions for a 16-0 lead. The Giants only score of the day came on a PK David Treadwell 25-yard FG in the second quarter, but the Giants trailed at the half, 23-3. After allowing just seven rushing TDs the entire regular season, the Giants defense watched SF RB Ricky Watters set an NFL postseason single-game record as he scored five rushing TDs. Watters rushed for 118 yards on 24 carries, while Giants RB Rodney Hampton rushed for just 12 yards. The game marked the end of Giants LB Lawrence Taylor's 13-year career as he announced his retirement following the game. The 44 points were the most ever allowed by the Giants in a postseason game.

NFC Wild Card Game
Dec. 27, 1997 at Giants Stadium (77,710)

In a stunning collapse, the Giants watched a nine-point lead evaporate in the final two minutes of the game as the season ended in a 23-22 loss to the Minnesota Vikings in a Wild Card matchup at Giants Stadium. The Giants were in front, 22-13, at the two-minute warning, but the Vikings were at the Giants 49-yard line following a 26-yard punt by P Brad Maynard. Vikings QB Randall Cunningham completed a 19-yard pass to WR Cris Carter to get the Vikings to the Giants 30-yard line with 1:38 left to play, and then he completed a 30-yard touchdown pass to WR Jake Reed to close the gap to 22-20. Minnesota executed an onside kick on the ensuing kickoff that bounced off WR Chris Calloway and into the hands of Minnesota WR Chris Walsh at the Vikings 39. Faced with a third-and-four situation, Cunningham fired a slant pass to Carter, who turned the play into a 21-yard gain to the Giants 34-yard line. A pass interference call gave the Vikings a first down at the Giants 21 with 50 seconds left. Vikings RB Robert Smith ran up the middle for 16 yards to the Giants five to set up PK Eddie Murray's game-winning 24-yard field goal with 10 seconds remaining for a 23-22 Vikings lead.

The Giants won their ninth consecutive game against Philadelphia without scoring an offensive touchdown, thanks to a dominant defensive performance. Rookie Ron Dixon gave the Giants an instant lead when he returned the opening kickoff 97 yards for a touchdown. The Giants increased their lead to 10-0 on Brad Daluiso's 37-yard field goal on the first play of the second period. Jason Sehorn made it 17-0 when he scored on a spectacular 32-yard interception return in which he fell to the ground while tipping the ball in the air, then jumping up and grabbing the ball before racing to the end zone. Dalsuio later added a 25-yard field goal. The Giants defense held Philadelphia to 186 total yards (46 on the ground) and 11 first downs.

In one of the most dominant performances ever in a championship game, the Giants raced to a 34-0 halftime lead and crushed the Vikings to advance to their first Super Bowl in 10 years. The Giants rolled up 518 total yards and 31 first downs, while the defense limited Minnesota's heralded attack to 114 yards and nine first downs. Quarterback Kerry Collins played the finest game of his career, completing 28 of 39 passes for 381 yards and five touchdowns. Ike Hilliard caught 10 passes for 155 yards and two scores. Collins' 46-yard pass to Hilliard gave the Giants a 7-0 lead just four plays into the game. After the Giants recovered a Minnesota fumble on the ensuing kickoff, Collins hit Greg Comella for another score and a 14-0 lead. In the second period, Joe Jurevcius and Hilliard caught touchdown passes and Brad Daluiso kicked a pair of field goals. Amani Toomer closed out the scoring with a 7-yard touchdown reception. 2000-GIANTS 7, RAVENS 34

Jan. 28, 2000 at Raymond James Stadium (71,921)

For the first time in three Super Bowl appearances the Giants came up flat and lost to the Ravens. The Giants could not get untracked against Baltimore's highly-rated defense, gaining only 152 yards (66 on the ground) and picking up 11 first downs (2 rushing). Quarterback Kerry Collins struggled, completing only 15 of 39 passes for 112 yards and four interceptions. Brad Maynard punted a Super Bowl-record 11 times for a 38.4-yard average. The Giants defense played well, limiting the Ravens to 244 yards and 13 first downs. Baltimore took a 7-0 lead in the first period on a 38-yard pass from Trent Dilfer to Brandon Stokley. Matt Stover added a 47-yard field goal in the second period for a 10-0 halftime lead. The Ravens advantage grew to 17-0 when Duane Starks intercepted a Collins pass and returned it 49 yards for a touchdown early in the third period. The Giants responded with their only touchdown of the day, on Ron Dixon's 97-yard kickoff return. But Baltimore score immediately in the next kickoff, as Jermaine Lewis returned it 84 yards for a score and a 31-7 lead. Jamal Lewis, who rushed for 102 yards, scored on a 3-yard run and Stover kicked a 34-yard field goal in the fourth period.

NFC Wild Card Game
Jan. 5, 2003 at Candlestick Park (66,318)

The Giants' season ended with a shocking and heartbreaking defeat as they wasted a 38-14 third-quarter lead and fell to the 49ers. Four touchdown passes by Kerry Collins – three to Amani Toomer and one to Jeremy Shockey – a touchdown run by Tiki Barber and Matt Bryant's field goal gave the Giants what seemed to be a commanding 24-point lead with 4:27 left in the third quarter. But the 49ers mounted a quick and complete comeback. Terrell Owens caught a 26-yard touchdown pass from Jeff Garcia, who then ran 14 yards for a score. Jeff Chandler's 25-yard field goal pulled San Francisco to within 38-33. With 1:00 remaining, Garcia threw a 13-yard touchdown pass to Tai Streets. The 2-point conversion attempt failed, but the Niners had a 1-point lead. The Giants had a chance to pull the game out. After Delvin Joyce's 32-yard kickoff return, the Giants drove from their own 48-yard line to the San Francisco 23. Matt Bryant lined up for what could have been the game-winning 41-yard field goal. But Trey Junkin's snap was low and wide. Holder Matt Allen took off and threw a desperation pass toward Rich Seubert, a guard who was an eligible receiver on the play. Seubert was interfered with by Chike Okeafor, but the officials did not throw a flag and the game ended as a huge disappointment for the Giants.

THE GIANTS IN CHAMPIONSHIP GAMES

GIANTS 13, Chicago Bears 7
Led by Steve Owen, the Giants finished with an 11-1-1 record, then stunned Red Grange, John Driscoll and the Bears 13-7 at the Polo Grounds. "It was the toughest, roughest football game I ever played in," Owen would say later. With the score tied 7-7, the Bears drove to the Giants' one-yard line, but Owen and Cal Hubbard spearheaded a goal line defense which held the Bears out of the end zone. Hinkey Haines then faked a punt from his own end zone and completed a pass to Charlie Corgan for a 58-yard gain that set up the winning score and elation for Tim Mara and the Giants.

Chicago Bears 23, GIANTS 21
Jack Manders opened the scoring for the Bears before 26,000 fans in Wrigley Field, with a 16-yard field goal in the first period that ignited 60 minutes of fireworks. Manders kicked a 28-yard field goal for a 6-0 lead in the second quarter before Harry Newman hit Red Badgro for a touchdown pass and a 7-6 Giants halftime lead. Manders' third field goal regained the lead for the Bears, but Max Krause's touchdown and the conversion by Ken Strong put the Giants back in front, 14-9. A pass from Bronko Nagurski to Bill Karr gave Chicago a 16-14 lead before Strong lateraled to Newman, who then threw a touchdown pass back to Strong for a 21-16 Giant advantage late in the game. The Bears bounced back to win, however, when Nagurski's jump pass to Bill Hewitt was lateraled to Karr for the game-winning touchdown.

With the temperature at nine degrees and the Polo Grounds covered with a sheet of ice, this became the famous "Sneakers Game" when Steve Owen provided his squad with basketball shoes to open the second half, when his club faced a 10-3 deficit. The Giants responded with four touchdowns which had a crowd of 35,059 roaring its approval. The Bears had a string of 33 games without a defeat entering the game, but fell behind 3-0 on a 38-yard FG by Ken Strong. A TD by Bronko Nagurski and a field goal by Jack Manders gave the Bears their halftime lead. After taking a 13-3 lead on another Manders' field goal, the Bears were swamped by a fourth-period Giant uprising which saw Ed Danowski throw a 28-yard TD pass to Ike Frankian and Ken Strong race 42 yards for another touchdown just moments later for a 17-13 lead. Danowski and Strong later scored again to turn the game into a rout.

Detroit Lions 26, GIANTS 7
With a crowd of about 15,000 looking on, the Lions took a 13-0 lead in the first period when Leroy "Ace" Gutowsky plunged over from the 2-yard line and Earl "Dutch" Clark shook loose on a 40-yard touchdown romp. The Giants closed the gap to 13-7 in the third period when Ed Danowski connected with Ken Strong for a 42-yard touchdown pass. But the Lions' defense set up two more scores in the final period with a blocked punt and an intercepted pass. Ernie Caddel scored the first on a 4-yard slant and Buddy Parker the second on a 9-yard run.

GIANTS 23, Green Bay Packers 17
The two rivals staged a thrilling game before 48,120 fans in the Polo Grounds, the largest crowd to see a championship game at that time. With the victory, the Giants became the first team to win the championship twice since the NFL split into two divisions in 1933. The Giants blocked two punts early in the game, and capitalized on both with Ward Cuff kicking a 13-yard field goal and Tuffy Leemans blasting over on a 6-yard plunge. Arnie Herber's 50-yard TD pass to Carl Mulleneaux got the Packers on the scoreboard, but Ed Danowski hit Hap Barnard for a 20-yard TD pass and a 16-7 lead. The Packers closed to 16-14 at halftime on Clark Hinkle's 6-yard TD before taking a 17-16 lead on Paul Engebretsen's third-period field goal. The Giants scored theg ame-winning touchdown on a 23-yard pass from Danowski passed to Hank Soar.

Green Bay Packers 27, GIANTS 0
The Packers earned a measure of revenge for the previous year's defeat in a game played before 32,279 fans at Milwaukee's State Fair Grounds. Cold weather and a 35-MPH wind made throwing the football a difficult exercise, but Green Bay scored quickly on a 7-yard pitch from Arnie Herber to Milt Gantenbein. Paul Engebretsen kicked a 29-yard field goal in the third period for a 10-0 lead, and the Packers wrapped it up with Joe Laws' 20-yard touchdown reception from Cecil Isbell, a 1-yard plunge by Ed Jankowski and Ernie Smith's 42-yard field goal.

*Victory clinched the NFL Championship; there was no Championship game played at that time.

Chicago Bears 37, GIANTS 9
Attendance was only 13,341 at Wrigley Field, just two weeks after Pearl Harbor Day. The Giants led 6-3 in the first period on Tuffy Leemans' 31-yard pass to George Franck. But the Bears scored on a pair of field goals, then broke the game wide open in the second half on touchdowns by Norm Standlee (two, George McAfee and Ken Kavanaugh.

Green Bay Packers 14, GIANTS 7
The Packers took a 14-0 lead at halftime before 46,016 at the Polo Grounds on touchdowns by Ted Fritsch – the first on a 2-yard plunge and the second on a 26-yard pass from Irv Comp with Don Hutson adding the conversions. Ward Cuff scored on a 1-yard plunge on the first play of the final period for the Giants, but the Packers hung on for the triumph.

Chicago Bears 24, GIANTS 14
Sid Luckman was the big man for the Bears in this win before 58,346 at the Polo Grounds. He threw a 21-yard touchdown pass to Ken Kavanaugh to open the scoring, then ran 19 yards for a score later in the game. Dante Magnani's 19-yard pass interception accounted for the third Bear score, while the Giants scored on touchdown passes from Frank Filchock to Frank Liebel and Steve Filipowicz.

GIANTS 47, Chicago Bears 7
The Giants won their first championship in 18 years by overwhelming the Bears. Fullback Mel Triplett scored early on a 17-yard run. Ben Agajanian then added a pair of field goals for a 13-0 lead. It was 34-7 at halftime after Alex Webster crashed over for a pair of touchdowns from inside the 5-yard line. Charlie Conerly threw two touchdown passes in the second half, the first a 9-yarder to Kyle Rote, the second a 14-yarder to Frank Gifford.

Baltimore Colts 23, GIANTS 17 (OT)
Because of its drama and sudden-death conclusion, this is still called The Greatest Game Ever Played. With a crowd of 64,185 on hand in Yankee Stadium, the Giants led 3-0 on a 36-yard, first-period field goal by Pat Summerall. The Colts rallied for a 14-3 halftime advantage on a 2-yard run by Alan Ameche and Johnny Unitas' 15-yard scoring pass to Raymond Berry. The Giants scored in the third period on a 1-yard plunge by Mel Triplett that was set up by an 86-yard throw from Charlie Conerly to Kyle Rote, with Webster picking up Rote's fumble. The Giants went in front 17-14 on Conerly's 15-yard touchdown pass to Gifford in the fourth period. But the Colts tied the game with seven seconds to play on Steve Myrah's 13-yard FG and won in the overtime on Ameche's 1-yard plunge, the 13th play of a Colt drive.

Baltimore Colts 31, GIANTS 16
A sellout crowd of 57,577 was on hand at Baltimore's Municipal Stadium for the big rematch of the divisional champions. The home crowd had plenty to cheer about early in the game Johnny Unitas hit Lenny Moore for a 60-yard touchdown pass. But the Giants surged back to stop the Colt offense. With Pat Summerall kicking three field goals (23, 26 and 23 yards), the Giants led 9-7 going into the final period. But the Colts stormed back with a furious onslaught as Unitas scored on a 4-yard run, threw a 12-yard TD pass to Jerry Richardson and Johnny Sample returned an interception for another score.

Green Bay Packers 37, GIANTS 0
With a crowd of 39,029 looking on in Green Bay, Paul Hornung paced the Packers to a stunning triumph by scoring 19 points on a touchdown, three field goals and four conversions. On leave from his Army duties in Fort Riley, Kan., Hornung scored on a 6-yard slant in the second period to break a scoreless deadlock and set off a Packer splurge which accounted for 24 points in the quarter. The Giants were unable to recover from this onslaught and suffered their first shutout loss in nine seasons. Bart Starr's touchdown pass to Ron Kramer and a pair of Hornung field goals closed out the scoring in the second half.

Green Bay Packers 16, GIANTS 7
Bitter cold weather at Yankee Stadium was no deterrent to 64,892 fÂans who turned out for the championship game. A trio of field goals by Packer guard Jerry Kramer (26, 29 and 30 yards) made the difference in a game where both defensive units turned in superlative jobs. The only Giant score was a result of defensive work when Erich Barnes blocked a Max McGee punt and reserve end Jim Collier fell on the ball in the end zone.

Chicago Bears 14, Giants 10
The Bear defense turned the tide in this championship game, played in 10-degree weather in Wrigley Field. After taking an early lead on Y.A. Tittle's 14-yard touchdown pass to Frank Gifford and Don Chandler's 13-yard field goal, the Giants were then victimized by five Chicago interceptions, two of which set up the Bear scores. Larry Morris swiped the first one for a return of 61 yards, while Ed O'Bradovich's steal of a screen pass set up what turned out to be the winning score. Tittle suffered a knee injury in the first half, but gallantly returned to action in the second half, though he was hampered and hobbled by his injury.

GIANTS 39, Denver Broncos 20
Led by the brilliant record-setting passing of Phil Simms, the Giants won their first Super Bowl with a 30-point second-half onslaught before 101,063 spectators at the Rose Bowl in Pasadena. Simms played the finest game ever by a Super Bowl quarterback, completing 22 of 25 passes for 268 yards and three TDs, setting an all-time NFL playoff mark by hitting 88 percent of his passes and winning the game's MVP award. Down 10-9 at halftime, the Giants rang up 24 unanswered points to take a commanding 33-10 lead in the fourth period. Simms threw touchdown pass to tight ends Zeke Mowatt and Mark Bavaro and wide receiver Phil McConkey. Linebacker Carl Banks was a star on defense with 10 solo tackles as the Giants concluded their greatest season ever with a 17-2 record.

GIANTS 20, Buffalo Bills 19
The Giants won their second Super Bowl championship before 73,813 at Tampa Stadium by battling back from a 12-3 deficit in what many consider to be the best of all Super Bowls. Ahead 20-19 in the final moments of play, the Giants prevailed when Buffalo kicker Scott Norwood missed a 47-yard field goal attempt wide right in the final moments of the game. QB Jeff Hostetler, who replaced the injured Phil Simms late in the season, completed 20-for-32 passes for 222 yards and one touchdown. Veteran running back Ottis Anderson rushed for 102 yards and a touchdown and won the MVP honors. The Giants set an all-time Super Bowl record for time of possession with 40:33 in their ball-control offensive game plan.

Baltimore Ravens, 34, GIANTS 7
The Giants lost for the first time in three Super Bowl appearances and saw their seven-game winning streak end before 71,921 fans at Raymond James Stadium in Tampa. The Giants endured a rough evening, falling behind 10-0 at halftime and 17-0 in the third period before scoring their only touchdown on Ron Dixon's 97-yard kickoff return. But the Ravens countered immediately with Jermaine Lewis' 84-yard kickoff return, which increased Baltimore's lead to 24-7. Quarterback Kerry Collins completed 15 of 39 passes for 114 yards and tied a Super Bowl record by throwing four interceptions. Tiki Barber led the Giants in rushing (49 yards) and receiving (six catches for 25 yards). The defense played well, limiting the Ravens to 244 yards.

As the result of a 57-day players' strike, the 1982 NFL regular season schedule was reduced from 16 weeks to 9. At the conclusion of the regular season, the NFL conducted a 16-team postseason Super Bowl Tournament. Eight teams from each conference were seeded 1-8 based on their records during the season.

GIANTS TRAINING CAMP
THE UNIVERSITY AT ALBANY

Established in 1844 and designated a University Center of the State University of New York in 1962, the University at Albany today is a nationally recognized public research university with a broad mission of undergraduate and graduate education, research and public service.

Approximately 17,000 students are enrolled in nine schools and colleges offering 185 undergraduate, master's and doctoral degree programs. While UAlbany's historical roots are in the liberal arts and professional teacher education, the University's research and graduate education portfolio has transformed the institution over the past three decades. The University developed strong programs in the social and behavioral sciences, in atmospheric and environmentally related sciences, in public policy, particularly in relation to research and service needs at the state and local levels of government and in management and administration, literacy, and information science and technologies. More recently, the University has been strategically building its strength in nanosciences and na otechnology and in the life sciences. In 2001, the University established its ninth school, the School of NanoSciences and NanoEngineering, and in 2002, the University was selected as the site for an international computer chip and research development center, International SEMATECH North. All these developments have driven dramatic physical transformations across the University. In just the last six years, the University acquired a third campus, the East Campus in East Greenbush, opened its Center for Environmental Sciences and Technology Management (CESTM), built new apartment-style housing for students, opened a new sculpture studio and began construction of a new Life Sciences Research Building and a major expansion of CESTM.

The University plays a major role in the economic development of the Capital Region and New York State, particularly through CESTM and the East Campus, both places where University researchers and businesses work together. The focus of the East Campus is biotechnology and biomedical sciences, and CESTM, home to the School of NanoSciences and NanoEngineering, offers one-of-a-kind research and education in the fields of nanoelectronics, nanotechnology and advanced materials.

The University's unique character is grounded in the quality of its highly regarded faculty and national recognized programs across the arts and sciences and in the professions (business, education, criminal justice, information science, public administration, public health, and social welfare), and in the interdisciplinary and international character of much of the institution's research and curricula. (The University enrolled 923 international students during the 2000-01 academic year, setting a new record.) In addition, UAlbany is committed to being proactive in relating the research conducted by faculty and students to its various communities - local, regional, national, and global. Many of the University's initiatives and programs are supported through strategic partnerships with government and business.

UAlbany's intercollegiate athletics program for men and women competes at the NCAA Division I level. The University accepted an invitation to become a full member of the America East Conference in January 2001. Seventeen of the school's nineteen varsity teams are eligible through America East competition for conference championships and NCAA post-season play. In 2002-03, men's lacrosse captured an America East championship and secured the school's first-ever NCAA appearance, while men's track and field won the conference's indoor and outdoor team titles. Football, a Division I-AA program, has been an associate member of the Northeast Conference since 1999. The Great Danes won their first-ever NEC championship last fall and went on to beat previously undefeated Duquesne in the ECAC Football Classic.

GIANTS AROUND THE COMMUNITY

GIANTS COMMUNITY RELATIONS MISSION STATEMENT

The entire New York Football Giants organization is committed to the betterment of the lives of those, especially young people and families, who live in the New York/New Jersey metropolitan area. Since the team's inception in 1925, the Giants have a rich history of community involvement in and around New York City. The Giants Community Relations Department works as a mechanism to create and implement efficient and effective programs that work toward the organizational goal of being a productive and contributing member of the community. The Giants are appreciative of the opportunity, through an alliance with our neighbors, to give back to a community that has given so much to us.

COMMUNITY RELATIONS PROGRAMS

MEMORABILIA DONATIONS

As a means of working toward our organizational goal of being a productive and contributing member of the community, the New York Giants assists over 2,000 tri-state area charities with fundraising efforts through the donation of Giants memorabilia each year. By capitalizing on the public's passion for these items, our recipients are collectively able to generate approximately $200,000 annually.

PLAYER APPEARANCES

Our players recognize the effect they have on the people who they come in contact with. While Tuesdays are generally the only day off for our players during the season, it doesn't stop most NFL players from using the day to go to work in their communities. In fact, the volunteer rate of NFL players is so high on Tuesdays that the NFL has tagged the day as "NFL Tuesdays." On this day and several others throughout the week, members of the New York Football Giants can be found using their free time to make appearances at hospitals, schools, fundraisers, and other civic events.

In addition to in-season appearances, many players reside in our community throughout the year, making them available for appearances during the off-season. This assists us in reaching more of our neighbors through community based initiatives.

STADIUM DONATION DRIVES

The Giants recognize that due to the passion of our fans, we are lucky to be in a position to serve as a facilitator to address several needs that go unfulfilled in the greater Metropolitan area. To this end, the team designates several games throughout the season as days to host various drives. Among the stadium donation drives that the Giants currently host are: Breast Cancer Awareness Day, food drive, coat drive, Organ Donor Day, Toys for Tots drive and blood drive.

BREAST CANCER AWARENESS DAY

1999 marked the beginning of the Giants commitment to assist in raising awareness about breast cancer. As we all know, when a person is diagnosed with cancer it does not only affect them, but their entire family.

An estimated 211,300 new invasive cases of breast cancer are expected to occur among women in the United States during 2003. An estimated 39,800 women will die from breast cancer. It is estimated that 1,300 men will be diagnosed and 400 men will die of breast cancer during 2003. Breast cancer is the leading cancer site among American women and is second only to lung cancer in cancer deaths. Breast cancer is the leading cause of cancer deaths among women ages 40-59.

During the month of October, the Giants designate a home game as breast cancer awareness day. Volunteers from ZTA, a sorority whose annual project is to raise awareness about breast cancer, along with our players and coaches wives are on hand to distribute pink ribbons to our fans as they enter into the Stadium. We encourage our fans to show their support by displaying their pink ribbons.

In addition, the Giants front office and team members partake in Lee's Wear Denim to Work day each October. Employees may donate money to Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation which will enable them to wear denim to work on a designated day.

FOOD DRIVE

For the past six years, the Giants have teamed up with Allied Hoffman Moving and Storage to host a food drive at Giants Stadium prior to a game. Thanks to the generosity of our fans, close to 5,000 pounds of canned or non-perishable food is collected each year. Allied Hoffman Moving and Storage trucks pick up all food donations and distribute them to the Community Food Bank of New Jersey (a division of Second Harvest), and the Center for Food Action to benefit needy families in the Metropolitan area.

COAT DRIVE

Allied Hoffman Moving and Storage also assists the team with its annual coat drive. Fans are asked to bring gently-worn coats to receiving stations at each gate of Giants Stadium prior to a game. Each year, their donations overflow numerous large bins, helping New York Cares reach its goal of collecting coats for the year. Started in 1989, the New York Cares Coat Drive distributes collected coats to men, women and children at homeless shelters, community organizations, centers for battered women and agencies serving senior citizens.

ORGAN DONOR DAY

After the death of the great Walter Payton in 1999, it became painfully obvious to the NFL community the great need for organ donors in this country. In November, for the past two years we have dedicated a home game as organ donor day. On this day we provide our fans with information on the need for organ donors as well as allowing them to sign up to become a donor. We hope that by doing this we will assist a family that is in need of this life saving gesture.

TOYS FOR TOTS

Since the late 1970s the Giants have been hosting the United States Marine Corps and their annual Toys for Tots initiative. Each year during one of our December home games, we ask our fans to bring a new unwrapped gift to the game. The Marines are on hand to accept these gifts and then distribute them to underprivileged children during the holidays.

BLOOD DRIVE

Each year during the holiday season the New York Giants partner with New Jersey Blood Services and host a blood drive at the Stadium. During this critical time of the year when blood is needed desperately, we open up our doors to provide a venue for members of our community to donate blood to their neighbors. Donors are given juice and cookies and have their names placed in a raffle for several autographed footballs. This is a win-win for all involved.

GIANTS AROUND THE COMMUNITY

WALTER PAYTON MAN OF THE YEAR

The prestigious Walter Payton Award honors the NFL Man of the Year. It is the only NFL award that recognizes a player for his community service activities as well as his excellence on the field. Renamed in 1999 for the legendary Chicago Bears Pro Football Hall of Fame running back, the Walter Payton award has been given annually since 1970.

Each of the 32 teams elects their own Man of the Year. That players name is then submitted to the NFL's elite panel of judges including NFL Commissioner Paul Tagliabue, Sports Illustrated writer Peter King, Connie Payton (wife of the late Walter Payton), and former players Frank Gifford, Jack Kemp, John Mackey and the previous year's Award winner. The winner's designated charity receives a $25,000 donation in his name. Charities selected by the other team finalists each receive a $1,000 donation.

Former New York Giants Men of the Year include:

1996 – Michael Strahan
1997 – Rodney Hampton

ALUMNI MAN OF THE YEAR

The New York Giants are proud of their heritage and realize that much of their tradition comes from the players who have played for us throughout the years. Each year prior to the start of our season the Giants host a Kick-Off Luncheon. This luncheon benefits the John V. Mara Cancer Research Fund at St. Vincent's Hospital in NYC.

During the luncheon, awards are given to the players for their performance on the field from the season before. In addition to these awards, the Giants have created the Alumni Man of the Year Award. This award recognizes an alumni player who has demonstrated an ongoing commitment to the community in which he lives.

Past winners include: George Martin, Harry Carson, Ottis Anderson, Bart Oates, Phil McConkey, Ron Johnson and Bill Ard. These distinguished gentlemen recognize that by committing themselves to the community that they can make a difference.

ADOPT A FIRE HOUSE

The Giants recognize the extraordinary commitment that our firefighters make on a daily basis. In order to commend their efforts, the Giants decided to adopt local firehouse Rescue 1/ Squad 4, located in Jersey City, New Jersey.

Rescue 1/Squad 4 are two of the busiest fire companies in New Jersey. This house and the Jersey City Fire Department were one of the first New Jersey companies to respond to Ground Zero on September 11th, arriving before 9:30 a.m. that tragic day. Firefighters from the house are also part of New Jersey Urban Search and Rescue, which worked at Ground Zero for the first ten days following the attack on the World Trade Center.

Among the first acts of the relationship was to completely renovate the kitchen at the firehouse. The kitchen renovations were made possible by a Giants donation to the Professional Firefighters' Association of New Jersey. The new kitchen was dedicated on September 10, 2002, as Giants President and Co-CEO Wellington Mara joined Kerry Collins, Jason Sehorn, Luke Petitgout, Mike Rosenthal, Jason Whittle and Keith Hamilton in presenting a plaque to the firehouse and having lunch with the firefighters.

TOMORROWS CHILDREN'S FUND

New York Giants players have a long tradition of donating their time to local hospitals, realizing that a few hours of their time can bring smiles to the faces of young children facing adversities hard to imagine. Since the inception of the Tomorrows Children's Fund in 1987, the Giants organization and its players have visited children there on many occasions throughout the years. One of the team's major annual events is the Rookie Halloween Party, where rookie members of the Giants make a special appearance at Tomorrows Children's Fund Institute, located in the Don Imus-WFAN Pediatric Center at Hackensack University Medical Center, to deliver candy and paint pumpkins with children undergoing cancer treatment.

Tomorrows Children's Fund is a non-profit, privately funded organization that is created and governed by parents of children with cancer and blood disorders. TCF addresses the critical needs of families facing the anguish of these diseases by providing state of the art medical care, a warm, healthy and loving atmosphere for children in treatment, a wide range of services to relieve emotional and financial stress, and funding for research.

GIANTS AROUND THE COMMUNITY

TAKE THE FIELD

In January 1999, The New York Times carried a series of three articles collectively titled "Dropping the Ball", which reported on the poor state of sports and physical education in New York City's public school system. The series detailed a quarter century of budget slashing, resulting in the acute deterioration of physical education, sports programs, and athletic facilities across the five boroughs.

Most of the existing public school athletic facilities in New York City are in such a state of disrepair that they must be completely rebuilt. Giants Co-Owner and CEO Preston Robert Tisch, along with businessmen Tony Kiser and Richard Kahan, concluded that it would take a private sector effort to restore these public school athletic facilities and created Take the Field.

Take the Field is a public-private partnership that is rebuilding the athletic facilities of New York City public schools. Take the Field believes its program will contribute to significant improvements in health and academic performance and lower teen delinquency, drug use, and pregnancy among New York City's public school students.

In its first 18 months of operation, Take the Field completed 14 projects. The goal of the program is to rebuild a total of over 50 athletic facilities by 2004.

CAPS FOR KIDS

In 2002, the New York Giants officially kicked off Caps for Kids ® at Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center's (MSKCC) Department of Pediatrics, joining MSKCC in a network of hope and smiles within the pediatric cancer community. This was the first year of many that the team plans to spend the afternoon in the Pediatrics Department signing caps, taking pictures and handing out holiday treats to the MSK pediatric patients. The Giants are the fourth NFL team to implement this nationwide program geared towards children with cancer in their community.

Caps For Kids® is a non-profit organization that provides hats and scarves signed by various athletes, entertainers and other notable personalities to pediatric cancer patients who have lost their hair as a result of chemotherapy. A child with cancer can choose anyone they wish to autograph their special hat, from Tom Hanks to Britney Spears to Lance Armstrong, and CFK will procure it for that child. The Giants Head Trainer Ronnie Barnes was responsible for bringing Caps for Kids to New York City and Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center; he answered a challenge made to every NFL trainer by Tennessee Titans trainer Don Moseley--to begin a Caps for Kids® program in their community.

Caps for Kids was founded in 1993 by Dr. Stephen Heinrich, a pediatric orthopedic surgeon at Children's Hospital in New Orleans and a clinical professor at the Louisiana State University Medical Center. Dr. Heinrich was treating a young man with cancer, who was also an avid Auburn University fan. He gave the young man a hat autographed by Auburn football coach Terry Bowden and his father Bobby Bowden, the head football coach of Florida State University. After realizing how much the hat meant to his patient, and what a difference it made in the patient's morale, Dr. Heinrich began collecting hats and scarves from notable personalities to be given to all of his younger patients. Today, Caps for Kids exists at more than 64 hospitals throughout the U.S., four in Canada and one in Frankfurt, Germany.

READING INITIATIVES
READINGS IN THE PARKS

The New York Giants are committed to spreading the joy of reading among the children in our communities. For the past three years, the team has lent a helping hand to the New York City Parks Foundation and Verizon SuperPages to assist with their "Readings in the Parks" program in Central Park. Verizon Information Services donates $30,000 to fund the series of spring and summer readings, which brings together parents and children to promote literacy throughout New York City's five boroughs. Each year, several New York Giants players volunteer their time to read to the kids. In the summer of 2002, the City Parks Foundation hosted more than 50 readings. More than 10,000 attended the program, making Readings in the Parks the most extensive children's literacy program in New York City.

READ ACROSS AMERICA

Each year, the New York Football Giants are proud to participate in the National Education Association's (NEA) "Read Across America" program by visiting at least five schools in the greater Metropolitan area. The program is the largest one-day literacy celebration in the U.S., attracting upwards of 45 million participants in all 50 states.

NEA launched the Read Across America program in 1998. The nationwide reading celebration takes place each year on or around March 2, the birthday of beloved children's author Dr. Seuss, who epitomizes a love of learning.

In cities and towns across the nation, teachers, teenagers, librarians, politicians, actors, athletes, parents, grandparents, and others develop NEA's Read Across America activities to bring reading excitement to children of all ages. Governors, mayors, and other elected officials recognize the role reading plays in their communities with proclamations and floor statements. Athletes and actors issue reading challenges to young readers. And teachers and principals seem to be more than happy to dye their hair green or be duct-taped to a wall if it boosts their students' reading.

CAMPBELL'S ® CHUNKY
TACKLE HUNGER CAMPAIGN

Campbell's Chunky soup and the NFL have partnered since 1997 to coordinate and promote the Campbell's Chunky/NFL Tackling Hunger campaign. The Tackling Hunger campaign is a year-long, nationwide effort to help raise much-needed food bank donations in communities across America. To date, the Tackling Hunger campaign has generated a donation of more than 26 million pounds of food through a series of initiatives that last from training camp through the Super Bowl each NFL season. Giants' own Michael Strahan joins other Tackling Hunger co-captains Donovan McNabb, Brian Urlacher and Jerome Bettis in leading an end-of-season food drive and announces the total donation raised by the campaign.

Throughout the season, the Tackling Hunger tour bus hits the road and visits NFL stadiums across the country. In 2002, the tour bus visited Giants training camp at the University at Albany and Giants Stadium. The Tackling Hunger tour is a season-long community driven program that educates fans about the issue of hunger through fun and interactive activities. At each stop, fans walk away with ideas on how they'll be able to Tackle Hunger in their own community.

GIANTS WIVES

Giants player, coaches and front office wives make their mark on the community regularly. The wives have come to be called the "Giant Hearts Association." The following are programs/organizations the women have ongoing relationships with:

SHELTER OUR SISTERS

This shelter in Hackensack, New Jersey serves as a safe haven for the women and children who suffer the horror of domestic violence. The foundation of the Giants' relationship with the shelter lies with the wives, who last year delivered meals to the home for the entire month of October (Domestic Violence Awareness Month). The women also began renovating the house, a project that will continue – room by room – until the house is the best it can be. To commend the Giants Wives for their hard work and dedication, SOS made them their guests of honor at the SOS Inaugural Golf Classic. SOS also enabled a State of New Jersey Senate Resolution honoring and saluting the Giant Hearts Association for their tireless efforts.

HUDSON CRADLE

During the season, Giants wives make bi-monthly visits to Hudson Cradle, a home for babies who are born either with AIDS, addicted to drugs, or both. The women spend time holding the babies and they also have made donations of new baby clothing and supplies. "Hudson Cradle is an infant group home providing care for homeless infants with special needs, many who are former 'Boarder Babies' - newborn infants who are healthy enough to be discharged from a hospital, but whose families are either unwilling or unable to provide for their needs. Most of the babies are prenatally drug exposed, some are HIV positive, and some have been abused or neglected. Hudson Cradle also provides educational and support services to birth and foster parents to prepare them to live as a family."

RONALD MCDONALD HOUSE

Giants wives are a key component in the Giants' relationship with the Ronald McDonald House of New York City. They not only accompany their husbands to annual fundraising events, but they have also done fashion shows and taken other initiatives to help benefit the House.

GIANTS AROUND THE COMMUNITY

GIANTS YOUTH FOOTBALL INITIATIVES
PRESEASON HALFTIME EVENTS

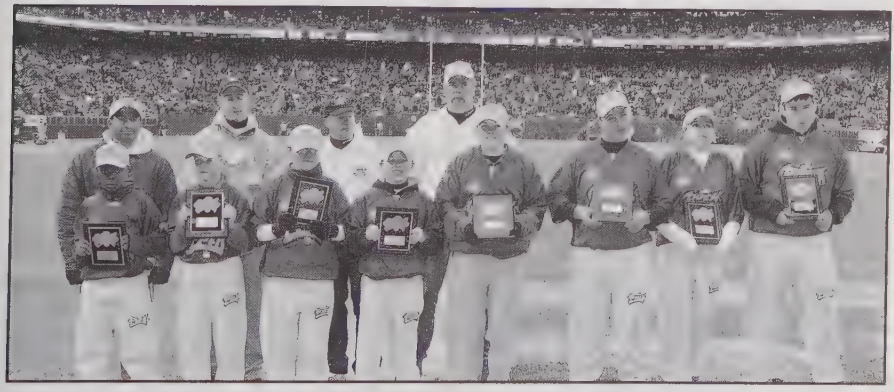
At both New York Giants 2002 preseason home games, local FLAG football teams were on display. On August 10th, the 6-8 year old and 12-14 year old teams from the Fort Lee Flag Football Association and the North Jersey Flag Football Association were showcased at halftime. Competitions were staged in each end zone giving fans a chance to see the NFL's official youth league in action. Two weeks later, during halftime of the August 29th game against Baltimore, the Giants played host again to teams from the North Jersey Flag Football Association. The participants included the 2001 Eastern Regional NFL FLAG champion in the 12-14 girls division, the Seahawks from Wayne, as well as 9-11 year olds from Kinnelon and Butler.

NFL NEW YORK FLAG FESTIVAL

On Saturday, November 17, 2002, the New York Giants in conjunction with the National Football League, New York Jets and the City of New York/Parks & Recreation teamed up to host the first annual NFL FLAG Football Festival at Van Cortlandt Park in the Bronx. Despite a day of cold and rain, over 700 boys and girls turned out for a day of clinics and competitions focused on the skills necessary to play flag football. Attendees were treated to face painters, goody bags, raffle prizes and alumni appearances by former Jet Randy Beverly and former Giant Howard Cross.

GIANTS JUNIOR PLAYER DEVELOPMENT

This off season will give way to the introduction of the Giants Junior Player Development program. As a way to improve the quality of NJ area youth football and prepare 12-14 year old boys for high school competition, the Giants are hosting a Junior Player Development site to be run by local youth coaches. One-hundred fifty boys are scheduled for a four-week/twelve-session training program that teaches every participant each position in a structured and fun manner. In addition, life skills messages and character development are integrated into all the on-field practices. The four week program is run each spring in the Giants Stadium practice bubble.



THE GIANTS FOUNDATION

MISSION STATEMENT

The Giants believe that the youth of today represent our community's future. The Giants Foundation was created to act as a network for financial and social support for disadvantaged youth and their families throughout the greater metropolitan area. All grant recipients must be 501 (c) 3 charitable organizations involved in areas such as education, health, youth-related services or civic affairs. The Giants Foundation was founded by the New York Giants Football Club.

FOUNDATION BOARD

Wellington Mara (president and Co-Chief Executive Officer for the Giants), Preston Robert Tisch (Chairman and Co-Chief Executive Officer for the Giants), John K. Mara (Executive Vice President and General Counsel for the Giants) and Jonathan Tisch (Treasurer for the Giants).

FUND RAISING – The Giants raise funds though their annual golf outing and through the sale of the Giants calendars, yearbooks and other related fundraising efforts.

GIANTS GOLF CLASSIC

May 27, 2003 marked the Twelth Annual Giants Golf Classic benefiting the Giants Foundation. Through the Giants Foundation, local charitable organizations are the benefactors of the New York Giants Golf Classic. Friends of the New York Giants, along with past and present Giants players, gathered to participate in a shotgun start format.

After 18 holes of golf on the Canoe Brook Country Club, golfers and guests attended a dinner and live auction. Live auction items included trips to the Super Bowl, a father-son trip with the team to Washington on a chartered Giants train and Giants season tickets.

The day was filled with laughs, good food, teamwork and a bit of competitiveness. Friendships were formed, stories were told and money was raised to assist Giants Foundation in administering grants to local charities.

It is a great day that many people look forward to each year.

GIANTS ACADEMY

The New York Giants joined forces with Communities in Schools to open Giants Academy in September, 1994. The school, which is located in Newark, began as a small project involving 6th, 7th and 8th grade students who were designated as "at risk" students. The program is currently housed in the Louise A. Spencer School.

Communities in Schools is a national leader in promoting and facilitating the coordinated delivery of existing health, social, education and other support services at educational sites for the benefit of at-risk youth and their families. These services are delivered in a personal and accountable manner.

The mission of New Jersey Communities in Schools is to develop public and private partnerships that connect appropriate human services with at-risk youth in addressing such critical issues as school attendance, literacy, job preparedness, teen pregnancy, drug and alcohol abuse, teen suicide and school violence.

The program has been extremely successful not only in assisting the students with social issues but academically as well. Students have now begun an outreach program that encourages the students to partake in community service oriented projects. A number of students have been awarded grants to attend private high schools on the east coast.

New York Giants players stop by the school from time to time to encourage the children to continue their hard work and commitment to live a drug and alcohol free life.

Students from Giants Academy also visit the Giants during Training Camp at the University at Albany each summer and attend a Giants home game each season. This gives the children an opportunity to leave the city for a day and visit a college campus and also experience the excitement of an NFL football game. These experiences give them an inside look at what the players must endure to prepare for the season an

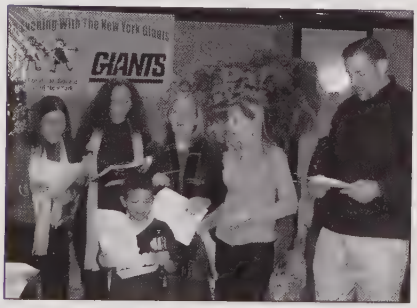
The Giants have a long tradition of working with the Ronald McDonald House of New York City, which is a temporary home to families from all over the world who have traveled to the city primarily for pediatric cancer treatment available only in New York's hospitals.

In 1998, the Giants dedicated the "Giants Room" on the House's Sports Floor. Kids who stay in this room can easily become instant Giants fans, as they are surrounded by Giants decorations, pillows, blankets, and more.

Each year, the Giants host their annual "Meet the Giants" event to benefit the Ronald McDonald House of New York City at the Park Avenue Country Club in Manhattan. Guests at the event have the chance to talk, take photos and eat dinner with the players while bidding on auction items that range from game tickets to signed memorabilia. The "Meet the Giants" event helps raise enough money each year so that families staying in the Giants Room located on the Sports Floor do not have to pay any type of fee.

The Giants also participate in an annual Halloween party at the Ronald McDonald House to help raise the spirits of the children and families staying there. Players join the kids for an evening of dinner, pumpkin carving and candy apple-making.



MY SISTERS' PLACE "GIANTS COURAGE HOUSE"

The Giants are proud of their partnership with the Ed Block Courage Award Foundation to support My Sister's Place Shelter. The relationship has been in place since 1997, when the two organizations provided key support to the recently-opened shelter, which was formally dedicated as a "Giants Courage House." The Giants' commitment to My Sister's Place includes providing financial assistance and making appearances at their annual "Mall Walk & Talk", which raises awareness about domestic violence and date-abuse.

My Sisters' Place, a Westchester County agency, assists over 1,000 women, children and teenage girls each year to fashion a safer life. Core services include shelter, hotline, support groups, counseling, housing assistance, a Life Skills program, a children's program, a teen program called SAFER, and a Legal Center. In addition, the agency provides extensive education and training to over 6,000 teens in the county about teen date abuse, training for doctors, nurses and mental health professionals, community education and a new Domestic Violence Institute.

Currently, the Foundation's Courage House National Support Network is comprised of 14 NFL teams.

FOOTBALL 101

Football 101 is an interactive educational program designed exclusively for women. The NFL developed the club-level program, which the Giants implemented in 1998, to educate women - who make up 47 percent of the NFL's fan base - on the fundamentals of football.

Football 101 "professors" include top Giants players who discuss topics such as the history of the game, offense, defense, special teams, penalties, downs, official signals, and a week in the life of an NFL player during the season. The players even share some of their football superstitions and helpful hints on enjoying a game.

Women have the chance to actively participate in the lessons, ask plenty of questions, enjoy a nice dinner, and even take a tour of the field and the locker room. Proceeds from Football 101 go to My Sister's Place/Giants Courage House, a domestic violence shelter located in Westchester, New York.

Football 201 is a chance for Football 101 graduates and other women to get a more hands-on lesson of the game. The Giants started the program in 2001 in response to the many Football 101 graduates who were looking to apply their acquired knowledge through actual on-field drills.

Women have the chance to be coached by Giants players and actually participate in drills and plays on the turf where the Giants practice!

Proceeds from Football 201 also go to My Sister's Place/Giants Courage House, a domestic violence shelter located in Westchester, New York.

GIANTS AROUND THE COMMUNITY

COMMUNITY QUARTERBACK

Funded by NFL Charities, the Giants Community Quarterback Award honors youth and community volunteers who have demonstrated leadership, dedication and commitment to bettering the community in which they live. The Community Quarterback Award was created in 2000 by the National Football League to recognize outstanding volunteers in every NFL market.

Residents in New York, New Jersey and Connecticut age 16 and older who provide volunteer services for 509/501 c 3 organizations are eligible for nomination. Nominees may only serve in a volunteer capacity and may not receive any compensation - monetary or otherwise - for their work.

The Giants, with the assistance of local media, community leaders, and team representatives choose ten finalists. Each finalist receives a grant for their organization in the amount of $1000. Two runners-up receive a grant for their organization in the amount of $2500. Finally, one team winner receives a grant of $10,000 for their organization. Winners are announced publicly each step of the way.

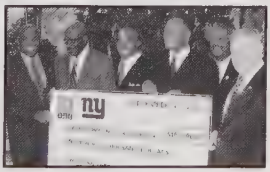
All local winners are eligible for the National Community Quarterback Award that includes finalists from every NFL market. In late December, the NFL announces a national winner who receives a $25,000 donation to the agency/organization where the national winner volunteers.

NFL GRASSROOTS PROGRAM

The NFL Grassroots program is a partnership of the National Football League and the Local Initiatives Support Corporation (LISC) which provides non-profit, neighborhood-based organizations with financing and technical assistance to improve the quality, safety and accessibility of local football fields.

Since 1998, the NFL Grassroots program has provided $8 million in grants and has helped community organizations rebuild 98 football fields in more than 50 urban neighborhoods. The NFL, NFLPA and LISC identify local nonprofit, neighborhood-based agencies in each city, which are provided with financing and technical assistance to improve the quality and safety of football fields in their local schools, parks and neighborhoods. The local groups then oversee the construction, maintenance, and programming of the fields.

The NFL and LISC issue a Request for Proposals, or an open invitation to all qualified non-profit organizations in NFL markets to submit proposals for funding. LISC makes recommendations regarding the applicants to the NFL Youth Football Fund Board of Directors. Once a decision has been made the NFL contacts the local team and they work together to make announcements.



The Giants have been awarded monies through the NFL Grassroots program to assist in the renovation of West Side Park Football Field. Once in 1998 and again in 2002. In 1998 the monies were used for the redevelopment of the actual field. This year, West Side Park's goal is to install bleachers and construct locker rooms with showers and restrooms.

The Giants are thrilled to see the efforts of the Newark Community Development Network at work.

HOMETOWN HUDDLES

Created four years ago, Hometown Huddle is a national "NFL Super Tuesday," where NFL players and coaches from each of the 32 teams simultaneously participate in various community service activities through local United Way partners.

In 2002, The New York Giants and Jets used the occasion to join hands with the NFL, the United Way of New York City, the City of New York Parks and Recreation (Manhattan Borough) and Alianza Dominica, Inc. to begin work on a long-term partnership that will bring much-needed resources to Highbridge Recreation Center in the Washington Heights section of New York City. This community was largely affected by the American Airlines flight 587 crash on November 12, 2001.

The first phase of the relationship included a day when youth from the area were invited to Highbridge Recreation Center to participate in a youth football drill experience and have lunch with players from both teams. The day concluded with the presentation of a check for $10,000 to the City of New York Parks and Recreation. The donation from the Giants and Jets will allow the Highbridge Center to hire a recreation supervisor for their after-school program. The goal of this ongoing relationship is to add a new service to the Center every year.
Coach of the Week

LOU RETTINO COACH OF THE WEEK

The Lou Rettino High School Football Coach of the Week Award was started in 1996 and is part of the Giants' continuing effort to promote youth football. Each week during the high school football season, the Giants honor one high school head coach in the greater Metropolitan area as the Coach of the Week. The selection is based on the coach's continuing commitment towards promoting youth football, developing motivated student-athletes and his overall community involvement.

The Coach of the Week Award includes a $1000 donation from the New York Giants and NFL Charities to the school's football program. At the conclusion of the season, the Giants also select a Coach of the Year, whose football program receives a $2000 donation.

The Giants elected to name the Coach of the Week Award in memory of former Union High School (NJ) coach, Lou Rettino, for his fine commitment to his student-athletes, the game of football and his community.

THE JIM FASSEL FOUNDATION

Current and former Giants join celebrities for special outing

Like many current and former professional athletes who have developed some proficiency at playing golf, former Giants linebacker Harry Carson has been invited to his share of charity tournaments and outings. So many, in fact, that Carson had a hat made up such occasions.

"It says, `I humble myself for worthy causes,"' Carson said. 'That's the reality of it. We think we can do the same things on a golf course that we can do on a football field. Sometimes we hit the ball to the ladies tee. But we keep coming back. And we keep coming back because we're challenged, and because it's a worthy cause."

Those twin motivations promoted a large group of the sporting famous to travel to the Westchester Country Club for the second annual Jim Fassel Foundation Celebrity Golf Classic. Starting the Foundation was Fassel's personal response to the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks. Its mission is to make certain that the families - those of the officers of the Fire Department of New York, the Port Authority Police Department and the New York Police Department who lost their lives - - will not be forgotten in the coming years.

Fassel's goal is to build a fund that these families can use as a resource for many years. The golf tournament raises many thousands of dollars for the foundation and, by extension, those families.

"You want to give back," said Fassel, who hit the links dressed in Giants blue and red. "I was very touched after 9/11 when I met some of the victims and their families and I knew that's where I wanted to concentrate my energy. It's taken off and it's been with a lot of help from a lot of friends of mine. They've jumped in with both feet. It's been very successful, and I want to make it better."

The tournament lineup was impressive. Current Giants in attendance included Tiki Barber, Kerry Collins, Michael Strahan, Luke Petitgout, Jeremy Shockey and Amani Toomer. Former Giants who played included Frank Gifford, Phil Simms, Mark Bavaro, Carl Banks, Jim Burt and Carson. Most of Fassel's coaching staff was there, as were general manager Ernie Accorsi and several members of the Mara family. Baseball's Bobby Valentine and Don Zimmer and basketball's Greg Anthony played. So did singer Marc Anthony. Former NFL quarterbacks Ron Jaworksi and Boomer Esiason helped the cause, as did members of the media such as Dave Anderson of the New York Times, Hank Gola of The Daily News, George Willis of The New York Post and Bob Papa, the voice of the Giants.

Fassel expects the tournament to continue to grow and raise money to help the families who lost a loved one on Sept. 11, 2001.

"Our first year, everybody was saying how smoothly it went for a first-year tournament," Fassel said. "I think we've improved it this year. There are a lot of golf tournaments and a lot of charities. People support that stuff. The bottom line is, I want them to walk away today and say, `That was as well run and as fun as any golf tournament I've ever played in.' That's what I want them to take away - that and knowing they helped us."

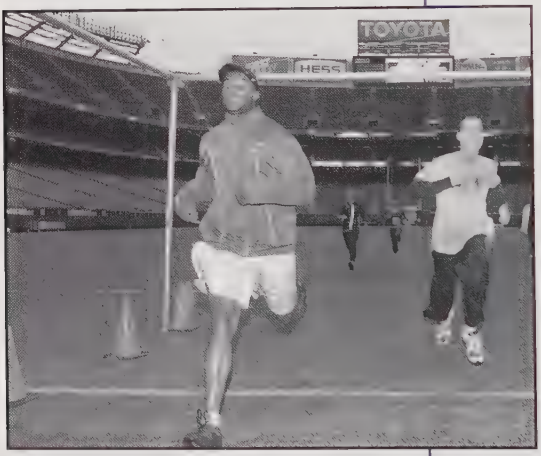
GIANTS INAUGRUAL 5K RUN

Toomer tunes up in Giants Fun Run-
WR participates in inaugural event

Rich Seitz of High Bridge, N.J. and Greta Goodman of Oakland, N.J. were the winners of the Giants inaugural 5K Fun Run on April 26, 2003, but no runner received as much attention as Amani Toomer.

The Giants record-setting split end was one of the 400 runners who participated in the race, which began in the parking lot outside of the Giants offices, continued past the Meadowlands racetrack, through the parking lots on the east end of the stadium and included two laps around the concourses of the stadium. The final 120 yards of the course were the length of the field inside the stadium.



Toomer, running the first road race of his life, finished in 40th place with a time of 21:19.

"I had a lot of fun," said Toomer, who last season set team records with 82 receptions for 1,343 yards. "I had a lot of energy left at the end of the race. I didn't really know the route, or what to expect, or I might have run a little faster in the beginning. But I really ran to enjoy the race and have a good time, and I did."

The Giants fans running with him got a kick out of his presence.

"Some of the runners were coming up to me during the race and saying, `Amani, keep up with me,'" Toomer said. "I kept my composure, though."

Seitz, a distance runner on the Rutgers track team, won the race in 15:39. Cliff Gerber of East Brunswick, N.J. was second in 16:06, while Jeremy Klapper of East Windsor, N.J. was third in 17:03.

Goodman was the women's winner in 22:09. She was followed by Devan Fitzpatrick of Greenwich, Conn., who ran the course in 22:12. Julie Fitzpatrick, Devan's mother, was third in 22:48.

The Giants, in conjunction with Athletes Business Network, hosted the race and designed the course to let runners and walkers experience the stadium and all it has to offer. All proceeds from the race benefit the Giants Foundation.

The Giants will visit the Metrodome for the third consecutive season (they will also visit there in 2004). Prior to this streak of games in Minnesota, the Giants had not played there since 1986; the teams had met eight consecutive times in Giants Stadium, including three times in the postseason. The Giants won last year's meeting in the dome, 27-20, but the Vikings lead the regular season series, 9-6. The Giants are 2-4 in games played in Minnesota, including 2-1 in the Metrodome. The Giants lead the postseason series, 2-1, including a 41-0 triumph in the 2000 NFC Championship Game. The Giants were 3-0 in domed stadiums last year and are 17-11 all-time in indoor games, including 5-4 under Jim Fassel.
